city and county initiating the annexation proposal) in a consolidated city and county government, and that such district become subject to taxation, along with the entire territory of the proposed city and county in accordance with the assessable valuation of the property of said district for the following indebtedness of said city and county of (herein insert name of the city and county initiating the annexation proposal) to wit: (herein insert in general terms, reference to any debts to be assumed and if none insert 'none')?"

Any and all incorporated cities, cities and counties, or towns, to which the foregoing proposal shall have been submitted, and a majority of whose qualified electors voting thereon shall have voted in favor thereof, together with such unincorporated territory as the city and county initiating such annexation proposal may desire to have included, the whole to form an area contiguous to said city and county, shall be created into a district by said city and county, and the proposal substantially in the form above set forth to be used when the territory proposed to be added consists wholly of only one incorporated city, city and county, or town, or wholly of unincorporated territory, shall, within said two years, be submitted to the voters of said entire district as one indivisible question.

Upon consent to any such annexation being given by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in any county or counties in which any such territory proposed to be annexed to said city and county is located, and upon the approval of any such annexation proposal by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in such city and county proposing such annexation, and also upon the approval of the proposal hereinbefore set forth by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the whole of the district so proposed to be annexed, then, the said indebtedness referred to in said proposal shall be deemed to have been assumed, and upon the date stated in such annexation proposal such district and such city and county shall be and become one consolidated city and county, to be governed by the charter of the city and county proposing such annexation, and any subsequent amendment thereto.

Whenever any proposal is submitted to the electors of any county, territory, district, city, city and county, or town, as above provided, there shall be published, for at least five successive publications, in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in any such county, territory, district, city, city and county, or town, the last publication to be not less than twenty days prior to any such election, a particular description of any territory or district to be separated, added, or annexed, together with a particular description of any debts to be assumed, as above referred to, unless such particular description is contained in the said proposal so submitted. In addition to said description, such territory shall also be designated in such notice by some appropriate name or other words of identification, by which such territory may be referred to and indicated upon the ballots to be used at any election at which the question of annexation or consolidation of additional territory is submitted as herein provided. If there be no such newspaper so printed and published in any such county, territory, district, city, city and county, or town, then such publication may be made in any newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the nearest county, city, city and county, or town where there may be such a newspaper so printed and published.

If, by the adoption of any charter, or by annexation, any incorporated municipality becomes a portion of a city and county, its property, debts and liabilities of every description shall be and become the property, debts and liabilities of such city and county.

Every city and county which shall be formed, or the territory of which shall be enlarged as herein provided from territory taken from any county or counties, shall be liable for a just proportion of the debts and liabilities and be entitled to a just proportion of the property and assets of such county or counties, existing at the time such territory is so taken.

The provisions of this constitution applicable to cities, and cities and counties, and also those applicable to counties, so far as not inconsistent or prohibited to cities, or cities and counties, shall be applicable to such consolidated city and county government; and no provision of subdivision five or six of this section shall be construed as a restriction upon the plenary authority of any city or city and county having a freeholders' charter, as provided for in this constitution, to determine in said charter any and all matters elsewhere in this constitution authorized and not inconsistent herewith.

The legislature shall provide for the formation of one or more counties from the portion or portions of a county or counties remaining after the formation of or annexation to a consolidated city and county, or for the transfer of such portion or portions of such original county or counties to adjoining counties. But such transfer to an adjoining county shall only be made after approval by a majority vote of the qualified electors voting thereon in such territory proposed to be so transferred.

The provisions of section two of this article, and also those provisions of section three of this article which refer to the passing of any county line within five miles of the exterior boundary of a city or town in which a county seat of any county proposed to be divided is situated, and to the reducing of the population of any county upon the establishment of a new county, and to the minimum population on the forming of a new county, shall not apply to the formation of, nor to the extension of the territory of such consolidated cities and counties, nor to the formation of new counties, nor to the annexation of existing counties, as herein specified.

Any city and county formed under this section shall have the right, if it so desires, to be designated by the official name of the city initiating the consolidation as it existed immediately prior to its adoption of a charter providing for a consolidated city and county government, except that such city and county shall be known under the style of a city and county.

It shall be competent in any charter framed for a consolidated city and county, or by amendment thereof, to provide for the establishment of a borough system of government for the whole or any part of the territory of said city and county, by which one or more districts may be created therein, which districts shall be known as boroughs and which shall exercise such municipal powers as may be granted thereto by such charter, and for the organization, regulation, government and jurisdiction of such boroughs: provided, that in the event of such establishment or creation of a borough or boroughs, as hereinabove permitted, the boundaries thereof shall never afterwards be changed or altered, nor shall the governmental rights, powers or jurisdiction of any such borough or boroughs be thereafter limited, extended, modified or taken away, unless and until the borough or boroughs affected by such proposed change or alteration of boundaries, or by the proposed limitation, extension, modification or taking away of governmental rights, powers or jurisdiction, as the case may be, shall each have consented thereto, by the vote of a majority of the voters in each and every such borough voting at an election or elections called and held for such purpose in each of the boroughs so affected.

No property in any territory hereafter consolidated with or annexed to any city or city and county shall be taxed for the payment of any indebtedness of such city or city and county outstanding at the date of such consolidation or annexation and for the payment of which the property in such territory was not, prior to such consolidation or annexation, subject to such taxation, unless there shall have been submitted to the qualified electors of such territory the proposition regarding the assumption of indebtedness as hereinbefore set forth and the same shall have been approved by a majority of such electors voting thereon.

7. In all cases of annexation of unincorporated territory to an incorporated city, or the consolidation of two or more incorporated cities, assumption of existing bonded indebtedness by such unincorporated territory or by either of the cities so consolidating may be made by a majority vote of the qualified electors voting thereon in the territory or city which shall assume an existing bonded indebtedness. This provision shall apply whether annexation or consolidation is effected under this section or any other section of this constitution, and the provisions of section eighteen of this article shall not be a prohibition thereof.

The legislature shall enact such general laws as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section and such general or special laws as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of subdivisions five and six of this section, including any such general or special act as may be necessary to permit a consolidated city and county to submit a new charter or charter amendment to take effect at the time that any consolidation, by reason of annexation to such consolidated city and county, takes effect, and, also, any such general law or special act as may be necessary to provide for any period after such consolidation, by reason of such annexation, takes effect, and prior to the adoption and approval of any such new charter or charter amendment.

Report read and, on motion of Senator Scott, adopted.

Bill ordered to print.

THIRD READING OF SENATE BILLS, ETC.—(OUT OF ORDER).

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 13—A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to Article XI of the Constitution of the State by adding a new section thereto, to be known as section 7½a of Article XI, relating to the consolidation of city and county government and to the framing of charters therefor and amendments to such charters.

The legislature of the State of California at its forty-second regular session, commencing the eighth day of January, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said legislature voting therefor, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California that a new section be added to article eleven of the constitution of the State of California to be known as section seven and one-half a of said article eleven, and to read as follows:

Sec. 7½a. Any county organized under the general law, and having, at the time this section takes effect, a population of two hundred thousand inhabitants or over, as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under authority of the congress of the United States, and having within its territorial boundaries one or more incorporated cities or towns, may frame a charter for a consolidated city and county government, by causing a board of fifteen freeholders, who have been for at least five years qualified electors of the county, to be elected by the qualified electors of said county, at a special election. Said board of freeholders may be so elected in pursuance of an ordinance adopted by the vote of three-fifths of all of the members of the board of supervisors of such county, declaring that public interest requires the election of such board of freeholders for the purpose of preparing and proposing a charter for a consolidated city and county, with or without a system of boroughs, with combined powers of a city and a county, as in this constitution provided for city and county government; or in pursuance of a petition of qualified electors of said county as hereinafter provided; which said petition must state the name and address of a person or persons to whom notice of the insufficiency of the petition shall be sent in the event that the petition shall not have the required number of signatures of the qualified electors signed thereto. Such petition, signed by fifteen per centum of the qualified electors of said county, computed upon the total number of votes cast therein for all candidates for governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected, praying for the election of a board of fifteen freeholders to prepare and propose a charter for a consolidated city and county government, with or without a system of boroughs, with combined powers of a city and a county, as in this constitution provided, may be filed in the office of the county clerk. It shall be the duty of the said county clerk, within twenty days after the filing of said petition, to examine the same, and to ascertain from the record of the registration of the electors of the county, whether said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors. If required by said clerk, the board of supervisors shall authorize him to employ persons to assist him in the work of examining such petition, and the board shall provide for their compensation. Upon the completion of such examination, said clerk shall forthwith attach to said petition his certificate, properly dated, showing the results of his examination, and if, by said certificate, it shall appear that said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, said clerk shall immediately present said petition to the board of supervisors, if it be in session, otherwise at its next regular meeting after the date of such certificate. If it appear by said certificate that said petition has not the required number of signatures of the qualified electors signed thereto, the said clerk shall so notify the person or persons whose name or names are mentioned therein, to whom the notification of the insufficiency of the petition shall be sent. Whereupon the petitioners shall have thirty days from and after the date of receiving the notice of insufficiency from the clerk, to present and file additional signatures. Upon the receipt of the additional signatures, the clerk shall proceed forthwith to examine the petition of additional signatures, so that such examination shall be completed within ten days from the date of his receiving same. If it appear that the number of additional signatures added to those who have not been legally rejected upon the original petition, shall total the requisite number of qualified electors necessary as provided in this section, the clerk shall forthwith attach to said petition his certificate, properly dated, showing that said petition has been signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, and said clerk shall immediately present said petition to the board of supervisors, if it be in session, otherwise at the next regular meeting after the date of such certificate. Upon the adoption of such ordinance, or the presentation of such petition, said board of supervisors shall order the holding of a special election for the purpose of electing such board of freeholders, which said special election shall be held not less than forty days nor more than ninety days after the adoption of the ordinance aforesaid or the presentation of said petition to said board of supervisors. Candidates for election as members of said board of freeholders shall be nominated by petition, substantially in the same manner as may be provided by general law for the nomination, by petition of electors, of candidates for county offices, to be voted at general elections. The election shall be conducted and the ballots canvassed and result declared substantially as are other elections for county offices, except that there shall be only one election, and the fifteen persons receiving the highest vote shall be declared the duly elected board of freeholders. All ties shall be broken by lot.

It shall be the duty of said board of freeholders within one hundred and eighty days after the result of such election shall have been declared by the board of supervisors, to prepare and propose a charter for a consolidated city and county government, and it may prescribe the existing boundary lines of the county as the territorial limits of said proposed city and county, and propose the formation of all of the incorporated cities and towns and all of the unincorporated territory within the county into a consolidated city and county government, to be governed by said charter, and to have combined powers of a city and a county, as provided in this constitution for consolidated city and county government. Or said board of freeholders may propose, in the alternative, that a lesser area than that of the whole county, to consist of those incorporated cities and towns hereinafter required to be designated and named by the board of freeholders as necessary and essential to effect consolidation, also those incorporated cities and towns, which as hereinafter provided, may by a majority vote of the qualified electors voting thereon separately, vote in favor of such consolidation, together with any unincorporated territory within the county proposed to be added, may be formed into a consolidated city and county government, to be governed by said charter, and to have combined powers of a city and a county as provided in this constitution for consolidated city and county government.

When such proposal is submitted in the alternative, the board of freeholders must designate and name as necessary and essential to effect city and county consolidation, all of the incorporated cities within the county having a population of one hundred fifty thousand inhabitants or over, as ascertained or by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States, and no consolidation shall be effected unless, as hereinafter provided, a majority of the qualified electors, voting separately thereon in each of said designated and named incorporated cities vote in favor of such proposal.

The charter proposed shall be signed by the members of the board of freeholders, or a majority of them, and be filed, one copy in the office of the county recorder, one in the office of the county clerk, and certified copies thereof duly attested by the president and secretary of the board of freeholders shall be filed in the clerk's office of each incorporated city and town in the county. The board of freeholders shall thereupon take a recess until called together by the board of supervisors as hereinafter provided. Thereupon the board of supervisors shall cause said proposed charter to be published in at least two daily newspapers of general circulation published, printed and circulated in the county, for at least six consecutive times, and shall also cause said proposed charter to be published for at least three consecutive times in a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in each of the incorporated cities and towns within the county, and if there be no daily newspaper printed, published and circulated in any of such incorporated cities and towns then once in a weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated therein; provided, however, if there be no daily or weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated in any of such incorporated cities or towns, then said publication shall be made by posting in three public places in each of said incorporated cities or towns having no such newspaper, for at least three days. All of such publication shall be completed within fifty days of the filing of the proposed charter with the county clerk. The board of supervisors shall cause to be printed in pamphlet form, at least as many copies of such proposed charter, plus an additional fifteen per cent, as there are registered electors in the county. The county clerk shall forthwith deliver to the clerk of the legislative body of each and every incorporated city or town within the county, a number of the printed copies of the proposed charter, equal at least to the number of registered electors residing in any such incorporated city or town. The county clerk shall thereupon give notice, by advertising in one and not more than two daily newspapers of general circulation published, printed and circulated in the county, and if there be a newspaper published, printed and circulated in any of such incorporated cities and towns, in one such newspaper of each said city or town, that copies of the proposed charter can be had at his office or at the office of the several city or town clerks, designating them, upon application. Upon the completion of the publication of the proposed charter as above required, and not later than fifteen days thereafter, the board of supervisors must pass an ordinance or resolution calling a separate election in each of the incorporated cities and towns within the county, for submitting the proposal for consolidation to the electors thereof. Each incorporated city or town shall be considered one separate district, and the proposal for such consolidation shall be submitted separately to the electors thereof, as hereinafter provided. The date of such election shall be fixed in the resolution or ordinance adopted by the board of supervisors, which date shall not be less than forty days nor more than ninety days from the date of the passage of such resolution or ordinance calling the election for the submission of said proposal. The separate elections held in the several cities and towns must all be held on the same day. The resolution or ordinance calling such elections shall be published for five successive days in one daily newspaper of general circulation published, printed and circulated in the county, so that the last publication shall have been completed at least five days before the date of the election. The resolution or ordinance calling such elections, shall also be published for three successive days in one daily newspaper of general circulation, published, printed and circulated in each of the incorporated cities and towns, and if there be no daily newspaper published, printed and circulated in any of such incorporated cities and towns, then twice in a weekly newspaper; provided, however, that if there be no daily or weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated in any such incorporated city or town, such publication may be made by posting in three public places in said incorporated city or town for at least three days before the date of election.

The board of supervisors must appoint election officers in the same manner and give notice of such appointment by publication, as provided by the general law for the appointment of election officers at general elections; provided, however, that the board of supervisors shall not appoint more than four election officers to each election precinct; and provided, further, that the number of precincts in each city or town comprising an election district shall not be less than the number of precincts used at the last general election. In all other respects, every such election shall be held and conducted, the returns canvassed and the result thereof declared by the board of supervisors in the same manner as provided by law for general elections.

The proposal to be submitted to the electors of each of said incorporated cities and towns shall be substantially as follows: "Shall the (herein designate by name the incorporated city or town) join with the other incorporated cities and towns within the county of therein insert name of county) together with the unincorporated territory within the said county, and form and establish a consolidated city and county (herein insert whether it is proposed to have a system of boroughs) to be known as the city and county of therein insert the name proposed) to be governed by the charter proposed by the board of freeholders, which charter has been filed in the office of the county clerk and duly published, said charter to take effect on (herein insert date mentioned in charter when city and county consolidation shall take effect)?" If the board of freeholders have proposed an alternative proposition, the ballot shall, in addition to the above proposal, state substantially, that if said principal proposal does not receive a majority vote of the electors, voting thereon, in all of the incorporated cities and towns within the county, but receives a majority vote of the electors, voting thereon in each of the incorporated cities within the county (naming them which have been designated and named as the cities necessary and essential in which a favorable vote must be had to effect consolidation of an area less than the whole of the county, then the proposition of the formation and establishment of a district into a consolidated city and county, which district shall include said named incorporated cities, also other contiguous incorporated cities and towns in which a favorable vote was had upon the proposition, and certain unincorporated territory (which district shall be the area described in the proposed amended charter), shall be thereafter submitted to the qualified electors of such district for their approval. Also there must be stated in such proposal such reference to taxation and bonded indebtedness and the liability therefor as is provided in the proposed charter.

If after the canvass of the votes and the declaration of the result by the board of supervisors, it appear that a majority of the electors in each of the incorporated cities and towns in the county, voting separately thereon at said election, have voted in favor of said proposal, the board of supervisors shall so certify such fact to the board of freeholders and set a day for the reconvening of said board of freeholders which day shall not be later than ten days after the certification by the board of supervisors. The board of freeholders shall enter the certificate of the board of supervisors in its minutes and shall have no power to change or alter in any manner any of the provisions of the charter as heretofore prepared and published. It shall thereupon adjourn.

Whereupon the said proposed charter shall be submitted by said board of supervisors to the qualified electors of the whole of said county at a special election to be held not less than thirty nor more than sixty days after the adjournment of the board of freeholders, or if there be a general election held within ninety days after the adjournment of the said board of freeholders, then at such general election.

If a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the county, at such special or general election, shall vote in favor of such proposed charter, it shall be deemed to be ratified, and shall be forthwith submitted to the legislature, if it be in session, otherwise at its next regular or special session, for its approval or rejection as a whole, without power of alteration or amendment. Such approval may be by concurrent resolution, and if approved by a majority vote of the members elected to each house, such charter shall become the charter of such consolidated city and county and shall become the organic law thereof relative to matters therein provided, and shall supersede any existing municipal charter of the cities within the county and all amendments thereof, and shall supersede all laws inconsistent with such charter relative to matters provided in such charter.

If it appear, after a canvass of the votes by the board of supervisors, that the proposal has not received a favorable vote in all of the incorporated cities and towns within the county, and the proposal submitted shall have provided in the alternative that a lesser territory than that of the whole, not less than the incorporated cities designated and set forth in the proposal as necessary and essential to effect consolidation, may form and establish a consolidated city and county government, and a majority of the electors in each of the said incorporated cities designated as necessary and essential to effect consolidation have voted in favor of such proposal, the board of supervisors shall so certify the fact to the board of freeholders, and also certify all other incorporated cities or towns in which a majority of the electors have voted in favor of such proposal. The board of freeholders shall, within fifteen days thereafter, reconvene and meet upon a day to be fixed by the board of supervisors, and shall proceed to rearrange and define the boundaries for the proposed new city and county, including therein all of the incorporated cities certified by the board of supervisors, in which a majority of the electors have voted in favor thereof, and which by the terms of the proposal were designated as necessary and essential to effect consolidation. The board of freeholders must also include in the boundaries for the new proposed city and county any unincorporated city or town having a population of less than ten thousand inhabitants, as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States, which, if such new proposed city and county is formed, would be surrounded by such area proposed to be formed into a city and county, or which is contiguous thereto and not contiguous to the largest area of the remainder of the original county from which the proposed city and county proposes to separate, notwithstanding that the result of the election in any such incorporated city or town as shown by the canvass of the votes of the board of supervisors, was unfavorable thereto. The board of freeholders may also include in the boundaries of the proposed new city and county, other incorporated cities or towns, not designated and named as necessary and essential to effect consolidation, but in each of which a majority of the electors have voted in favor of such proposal, together with such unincorporated territory within the county as it may desire, the whole to form one compact area, no part of which shall be disconnected from the remainder thereof.

No amendment or changes in the provisions or sections of the proposed charter as originally prepared, published and filed in the office of the county clerk, shall be made by the board of freeholders at its second session, except as herein provided. The board of freeholders at its second session, shall have power to change the territorial limits or boundaries in such charter as hereinbefore provided. It shall also have power to change the number, by reduction thereof, of boroughs and of the councilmanic or supervisorial districts and the number of councilmen or supervisors to be elected, and to rearrange and number said districts to conform to the area to be formed into a city and county, except that boroughs previously established by the charter, if their territory is within the area of the proposed city and county shall not be changed. It may also provide a lesser salary to be paid to any officer of the proposed city and county, if such salary is stated and fixed by the original proposed charter, and it may correct any mistake or clerical or typographical errors.

The board of freeholders shall complete its labors, as above required, within ten days after the date fixed by the board of supervisors for its second meeting unless given an additional ten days time by said board of supervisors. Within said ten days and not later than twenty days, if such time has been extended, the members of the board of freeholders, or a majority thereof, shall sign the proposed charter as amended, and file one copy thereof in the county recorder's office and two copies in the county clerk's office, one of which copies shall thereafter be filed by the county clerk, in the archives of the new city and county government, when the charter shall have been approved by the legislature.

The provisions of section two of this article, and also those provisions of section three of this article which refer to the passing of any county line within five miles of the exterior boundary of a city or town in which a county seat of any county proposed to be divided is situated, shall not apply to the formation of such consolidated cities and counties, nor to the formation of new counties or of any city and county as herein specified under any of the provisions of this section.

Within ten days after the filing of the proposed charter, as amended by the board of freeholders, with the county clerk, the whole area of the proposed new city and county shall, by resolution of the board of supervisors, be created into a district, for the purpose of submitting the proposed charter, as amended, to the electors thereof, for their approval. The question of the adoption of the proposed charter as amended, shall be submitted to the electors of the whole of the area proposed to be formed into a consolidated city and county as one proposal.

The board of supervisors shall forthwith, and not later than twenty days from the date of the resolution creating said district, pass an ordinance or resolution calling an election in the whole county, for the purpose of submitting the question of the consent of the electors of the whole county to the separation, of the district proposed in the charter, from the original county, and for the purpose of submitting the question of the adoption of the proposed charter to the electors residing within the district created, or the proposed territory described in the charter as amended, as the territorial boundaries of the proposed new city and county.

Both propositions or proposals shall be submitted at one election, as hereinafter provided. The date of such election shall be fixed in the resolution or ordinance calling such election, which date shall not be less than twenty days nor more than sixty days from the date of the passage of the resolution or ordinance calling such election.

The resolution or ordinance calling such election shall be published for five consecutive days in not less than two daily newspapers, if there be two, if not, in one daily newspaper of general circulation published, printed and circulated in the county; or if there be no such daily newspapers, then twice in at least one weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated in the county. Such resolution or ordinance shall also be published for a like time in at least one daily newspaper of general circulation published, printed and circulated within the area or territory proposed to be formed into a consolidated city and county.

The amended sections of the charter shall also be published for three consecutive days in at least one daily newspaper published, printed and circulated in the county, and if there be no daily newspaper published, printed and circulated in the county, then twice in a weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated in the county. Such amended sections of the charter shall likewise be published in at least one daily newspaper published, printed and circulated within the area or district proposed to be formed into a city and county, and if there be no such daily newspaper then twice in a weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated in such area.

The board of supervisors must appoint election officers in the same manner, and give notice of such appointment by publication, as provided by the general law for the appointment of election officers at general elections, except that no more than four election officers shall be appointed to each election precinct. In all other respects, every such election shall be conducted, the returns canvassed and the result declared by the board of supervisors in the same manner as provided by law for general elections.

The proposal to be submitted to the electors of the whole of the county and the proposals to be submitted to the electors of the district or area described in the charter as the territorial boundaries of the proposed new city and county, shall be as follows:

In the county outside of the district or area described in the charter as the territorial boundaries of the new consolidated city and county, the only proposal to be submitted to the electors thereof shall be substantially as follows:

"Shall the incorporated cities and towns (herein name them) and the unincorporated territory (if any) (herein describe the unincorporated territory) be permitted to separate from (herein name the county) and establish a consolidated city and county to be known as (herein insert name of new county) the separation to take effect on (herein name date fixed in the proposed charter for the taking effect of the new city and county government)?"

In the district created by the resolution of the board of supervisors, which shall be the area described in the amended proposed charter, the same proposal as above shall be submitted to the electors, and also shall be submitted separately the question of the establishing of the area into a new consolidated city and county and the approval and ratification of such charter, substantially in the following form: "Shall the (herein describe the territory as described in the proposed amended charter) consolidate and be formed and established into a city and county government to be known as (herein state name of city and county) (herein state whether there shall be a system of boroughs) and shall the charter prepared, published and filed in the office of the county clerk on (herein state the date upon which the amended charter as to boundaries was filed) be adopted as the charter of the consolidated city and county, to take effect (herein state date mentioned in the charter when the consolidation shall take effect)?" Also may be stated in this proposal such reference to taxation and bonded indebtedness and the liability therefor as provided in the proposed charter.

Upon consent to the separation of such district being given by a majority of the qualified electors, voting thereon, at such election, in the whole of the county, and upon the approval and ratification of such charter by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the district or area which is to be formed into a consolidated city and county, and by the approval of said charter by the legislature, as hereinbefore provided in this section for the submission of the charter to the legislature when the whole of the county is to be formed into a consolidated city and county, said charter shall be deemed adopted, and upon the date fixed in said charter such district shall be and become one consolidated city and county, and the charter shall become the organic law thereof relative to matters therein provided, and shall supersede any existing municipal charter of the cities consolidated by it, and shall likewise supersede all laws inconsistent with such charter relative to matters provided in such charter.

It shall be competent, in any charter, or amendment thereof, framed under the authority given by this section, to provide in addition to those provisions allowable by the constitution and laws of the state as follows:

1. For the merging and consolidating the cities and county into one municipal government with one set of officers; for the establishment of a borough system of government for the whole or any part of the territory of said city and county, by which one or more districts may be created thereon, which districts may be known as boroughs and shall exercise such municipal powers as may be granted by such charter, and for the organization, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of such boroughs, which organization, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction may provide for rural districts, with different powers and organization, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction from other boroughs; provided, that in the event of such establishment or creation of a borough or boroughs, as hereinabove permitted, the boundaries thereof shall never afterwards be changed or altered, nor shall the governmental rights, powers or jurisdiction of any such borough or boroughs be thereafter limited, extended, modified or taken away, unless and until the borough or boroughs affected by such proposed change or alteration of boundaries, or by the proposed limitation, extension, modification or taking away of governmental rights, powers or jurisdiction, as the case may be, shall each have consented thereto, by the vote of a majority of the electors in each and every such borough voting at an election or elections called and held for such purpose in each of the boroughs so affected.

2. For the consolidation and merging of school and high school and union high school districts into one or more school, high school and union high school district within the city and county, to be governed by one board of education and one school superintendent, and may provide separate organization, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction and powers for rural school districts, if any are established.

3. For the constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of police courts, and for the manner in which, the times at which, and terms for which the judges of such courts shall be elected or appointed, and for the qualifications and compensation of said judges and of their clerks and attaches; and for the establishment, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of municipal courts with such civil and criminal jurisdiction as by law may be conferred upon inferior courts; and for the manner in which, the time at which, and the terms for which the judges of such courts shall be elected or appointed, and for the qualifications and compensation of said judges and of their clerks and attaches; provided, such municipal courts shall never be deprived of the jurisdiction given inferior courts created by general law; provided, that in any city and county, when such municipal court has been established, there shall be no other court inferior to the superior court; and pending actions, trials, and all pending business of inferior courts within the territory of such city or city and county, upon the establishment of any such municipal court, shall be and become pending in such municipal court, and all records of such inferior court shall thereupon be and become the records of such municipal court.

4. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of the board of education or boards shall be elected or appointed, for the qualifications, compensation, and removal, and for the manner which shall constitute any one of such boards.

5. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of the board or boards of police commissioners shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, organization, compensation, and government of such boards and of the municipal police force.

6. For the manner in which and the times at which any municipal election, or borough election shall be held and the result thereof determined, and for manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of all boards of election shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, organization, compensation and government of such boards, and of their clerks and attaches, and for all expenses incident to the holding of any election.

It shall be competent in any charter framed in accordance with the provisions of this section, for any consolidated city and county, and perhaps authority is hereby granted, subject only to the restrictions of this article, to provide therein or by amendment thereto, for the powers and duties of all county, city and county, municipal and borough officers. For the manner in which, the method by which, and the terms for which the several county, city and county, municipal and borough officers, except judges of the superior court shall be elected or appointed, and for their recall and removal, and for their compensation, and for the removal of deputies, clerks and other employees that each shall serve, and for the powers and duties, compensation, method of appointment, qualifications, tenure of office and removal of such deputies, clerks and other employees.

7. It shall be competent in any charter, or amendment thereto, framed in accordance with the provisions of this section, to provide that the city and county may make and enforce all laws and regulations, and exercise all rights and powers in respect to municipal affairs and municipal officers and shall have all powers and rights appropriate to a county, city and county, and city and county subject only to the restrictions and limitations provided in such charter.

Any charter framed under the provisions of this section, which charter provides for the formation of the whole territory of the county into a consolidated city and county, may provide for the termination of the tenure of office of all county officers elected after the adoption of such charter by the elections of such county and prior to the approval of such charter by the legislature.

8. No property in any city or town or territory hereinafter consolidated into a city and county shall be taxed for the payment of any indebtedness outstanding at the time the charter takes effect and for the payment of which indebtedness the property in such city or town or territory was not, prior to the taking effect of such charter, subject to such taxation, unless there shall have been submitted to the qualified electors of such city or town or territory, at the separate election submitting the proposal in the first instance to pass the proposition providing the assumption of such indebtedness as hereinafter set forth and the same shall have been approved by a majority of such electors voting thereon.

In all cases of consolidation of two or more incorporated cities and towns, or of one or more incorporated cities or towns with unincorporated territory, into a city and county, assumption of existing bonded indebtedness by such city or town or by such such unincorporated territory or by either of the cities and towns so consolidating may be made by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the territory or city or town which shall assume an existing bonded indebtedness, and the provisions of section eighteen of this article shall not be a prohibition thereof.

Every city and county which shall be formed, under the provisions of this section, of territory which shall have been taken from the original county, shall be liable for a just proportion of the debts and liabilities and be entitled to a just proportion of the property and assets of such county existing at the time of such separation.

If the population in the territory formed into a city and county, by separation from the original county, is equal to or greater in number than two-thirds of the population of the whole of the original county at the time of the formation of such city and county, the city and county so formed and separating itself from the original county, shall be entitled to the original records and books of the original county, upon supplying to the original county certified copies of all records, documents and books properly bound and indexed, which affect or may affect the property of the county, or portion of the original county, or which it may in the future have occasion to refer to; and such certified copies so furnished and certified by the county clerk if the copies are issued from his office, and by the recorder if issued from his office, or by any other officer of the county if they be copies of records in his office, shall be competent evidence in any court proceeding or action which may thereafter be commenced.

The legislature of the state may enact such general laws as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of subdivision eight of this section.

If by the formation of a city and county, under the provisions of this section, any territory whether incorporated or unincorporated is separated from the original county, and by such separation, any of the elective officers of the original county, have by reason of such separation ceased to be residents or electors of the original county, such elective officers shall continue to serve, and be charged with all of the powers and duties of the office to which they were elected, until the expiration of the term for which they were elected, and their salaries shall be paid, by both the new city and county and the remaining portion of the original county, in proportion and in the ratio as the population of each bears to the whole population of the original county.

If under the provisions of this section, any city and county is formed which does not include the whole of the original county, and by reason of the separation of the territory comprising the new city and county, any incorporated city or town or any unincorporated territory is separated from the largest area of the remainder of the county, by reason of its exterior boundary not being contiguous thereto, the legislature shall provide for the transfer of such portion or portions to an adjoining county or counties whose exterior boundary or boundaries may be contiguous thereto, or it may transfer such portion or portions to the new consolidated city and county; provided, however, if there be formed and established under the provisions of this section, a consolidated city and county government of a lesser area than that of the whole county, and there be any incorporated city having a population of forty thousand inhabitants or over, within the county, as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States, which is not included therein, or if by the formation and establishment of any lesser area than that of the whole county into a consolidated city and county, any such incorporated city having such population is separated and detached from the largest area of the remainder of the original county, by reason of its exterior boundaries not being contiguous thereto, then such incorporated city, together with all other incorporated cities or towns or unincorporated territory in such original county, which if said new city and county is formed and established would likewise be so separated and detached, and which are contiguous to each other and form one compact area, may organize and establish a consolidated city and county government for the whole of such detached territory under the provisions of section eight of this article, by adopting a freeholders charter in accordance with the provisions of said section, and to have all of the powers conferred by said section; except, that for the purpose of the election of the members of the board of freeholders, and the organization and establishment of such consolidated city and county government, the whole of such detached area proposed to be formed into such consolidated city and county, shall be treated and considered as a city, within the meaning of section eight of this article; and except that all elections thereunder and all proceedings for the adoption of such charter shall be initiated and conducted by the governing body of the incorporated city having the largest population in such detached area. Such charter may be submitted to the electors within the area of the detached territory, for their approval, at any time subsequent to the adoption of the charter prepared by the freeholders elected by the electors of the whole of the original county, but the same shall not be ratified by the legislature of this state until after the ratification by the legislature of the charter adopted in the first instance, which provided for the formation of a lesser territory than that of the whole county into a consolidated city and county government.

If under the provisions of this section any city and county is formed, which does not include the whole of the area of the original county from which it is permitted to separate, and any remainder of the county is not transferred to another county as in this section provided, but is to continue as a county, the governor of the state shall designate and assign, from among the judges of the superior court of the original county in office at the time of the taking effect of the new city and county government, as many judges as the ratio of the population contained in the area formed by the new city and county bears to the population of the whole of the original county at the time of the approval of the charter by the legislature, and the judges so assigned shall be and become the judges of the superior court of the new city and county, to hold office during the term for which each of them shall have been elected.

Upon the approval by the legislature of any charter framed under the provisions of this section, which charter provides for the separation of any new city and county from the original county, the board of supervisors of the original county, shall, at the time and in the manner set forth in such charter so approved, pass an ordinance calling an election in the area which is consolidated into a city and county, for the purpose of nominating and electing the first officers thereunder. Said board of supervisors shall canvass the votes and declare the result of such election. The county clerk or other officer having charge of registration of electors shall furnish to the district or city and county so consolidated, the voting list and precinct registers of all the electors residing in the area of the territory wherein the election is to be held.

The provisions of this constitution applicable to cities, and cities and counties, and also applicable to counties so far as not inconsistent or prohibited to cities or cities and counties, except in the method of procedure of calling elections for the election of freeholders and the submission of the question of the formation of a consolidated city and county, shall be applicable to such consolidated city and county.

Any charter framed under the provisions of this section may be amended as provided in section eight of article eleven of this constitution.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal or alter in any way the provisions of section eight and one-half of article eleven of this constitution, providing a different method and procedure for the formation of cities and counties, wherein the initiative is taken by a city or city and county. Nor shall the provisions of this section apply to any consolidated city and county, organized as such at the time this section takes effect; nor shall the provisions of this section apply to any county, which at the time this section takes effect, had adopted a freeholders charter, and was organized and operating under such freeholders charter. The legislature shall enact such general or special laws as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section and such general or special laws, as may be necessary to effect city and county consolidation hereunder, or as may be necessary to provide for any period after such consolidation, by reason of the separation from the original county of such consolidated city and county, or to provide for the government of the remainder of the original county from which separation was had.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

During second reading of bill, the following committee amendments were offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Strike out all of the title, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

An act to amend sections one thousand five hundred sixteen, one thousand five hundred seventeen, one thousand five hundred twenty-two, one thousand five hundred twenty-three, one thousand five hundred twenty-five, one thousand five hundred thirty-six, one thousand five hundred forty-five, one thousand five hundred forty-seven, one thousand five hundred forty-nine, one thousand five hundred fifty-two, one thousand five hundred fifty-four, one thousand five hundred fifty-five, one thousand five hundred fifty-nine, one thousand five hundred sixty-five, and one thousand five hundred seventy of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to sales and conveyances of property of decedents.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

Strike out all of the bill after the enacting clause, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred sixteen of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read as follows:

1516. All of the property of a decedent shall be chargeable with the payment of the debts of the decedent, the expenses of administration, and the allowance to the family, except as otherwise provided in this code and in the Civil Code. And the said property, personal and real, may be sold in the manner prescribed in this chapter. There shall be no priority as between personal and real property for the above purposes.

Sec. 2. Section one thousand five hundred seventeen of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read as follows:

1517. The executor or administrator may sell any property of the estate of a decedent without order of court, and at either public or private sale, as the executor or administrator may determine; but no sale of such property is valid unless the same be under oath reported to and confirmed by the court, and the title to the property does not pass until such sale be so confirmed by the court.

Sec. 3. Section one thousand five hundred twenty-two of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read as follows:

1522. At any time after receiving letters, the executor, administrator, or special administrator may sell perishable and other personal property likely to depreciate in value, or which will incur loss or expense by being kept, and so much other personal property as may be necessary to pay the allowance made to the family of the decedent. The executor, administrator, or special administrator is responsible for the property, unless, after making a sworn return, and on a proper showing, the court shall approve the sale.

Sec. 4. Section one thousand five hundred twenty-three of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read as follows:

1523. If claims against the estate have been allowed, and a sale of property is necessary for their payment, or for the expenses of administration, or for the payment of legacies, the executor or administrator may sell so much of the personal property as may be necessary therefor. He may also make a sale from time to time, so long as any personal property remains in his hands, and sale thereof is necessary. If it appear for the best interests of the estate, he may, at any time after filing the inventory in like manner, and after giving notice by publication for two weeks in a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in the county, sell the whole of the personal property belonging to the estate, whether necessary to pay debts or not, provided that the court may, by order, shorten the time of notice to like publication for one week.

SEC. 5. Section one thousand five hundred twenty-five of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read as follows:

1525. In making orders and sales for the payment of debts or family allowance, such articles as are not necessary for the support and subsistence of the family of the decedent, or are not specially bequeathed, must be first sold.

SEC. 6. Article IV, section one thousand five hundred thirty-six of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read as follows:

1536. When a sale of property of the state is necessary to pay the allowance of the family, or the debts outstanding against the decedent, or the debts, expenses, or charges of administration, or legacies; or when it is for the advantage, benefit, and best interests of the estate, and those interested therein, that the real estate, or some part thereof, be sold, the executor or administrator may sell any real as well as personal property of the estate.

SEC. 7. Section one thousand five hundred forty-five of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read as follows:

1545. If the executor or administrator neglects or refuses to sell the property of the estate when it is necessary or when it is for the advantage, benefit and best interests of the estate and those interested therein, that the real estate or some portion thereof be sold, any person interested may make application to the court, that the executor or administrator be required to sell, and notice of such application must be given to the executor or administrator before the hearing.

SEC. 8. Section one thousand five hundred forty-seven of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read as follows:

1547. When a sale is to be made at public auction, notice of the time and place of sale must be posted in three of the most public places in the county in which the land is situated, and published in a newspaper, if there be one printed in the same county, but if none, then in such paper as the court may direct, for two weeks successively next before the sale; provided, however, that when it appears from the inventory and appraisement that the value of the whole estate does not exceed two hundred fifty dollars the court, or a judge thereof, may in his discretion dispense with the publication in a newspaper and order notices be posted. The lands and tenements to be sold must be described with common certainty in the notice.

SEC. 9. Section one thousand five hundred forty-nine of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1549. When a sale of real estate is to be made at private sale, notice of the same must be posted up in three of the most public places in the county in which the land is situated, and published in a newspaper, if there be one printed in the same county, if none, then in such paper as the court or judge may direct, for two weeks successively next before the day on or after which the sale is to be made, in which the lands and tenements to be sold must be described with common certainty. The notice must state a day on or after which the sale will be made, and a place where offers or bids will be received. The day last referred to must be at least fifteen days from the first publication of notice; and the sale must not be made before that day, but must be made within six months thereafter. The bids or offers must be in writing and may be left at the place designated in the notice, or delivered to the executor or administrator personally, or may be filed in the office of the clerk of the court to which the return of sale must be made, at any time after the first publication of the notice and before the making of the sale. If it be shown that it will be for the best interests of the estate the court or judge may, by an order, shorten the time of notice, which shall not, however, be less than one week, and may provide that the sale may be made on or after a day less than fifteen but not less than eight days from the first publication of the notice, in which case the notice of sale and the sale may be made to correspond with such order.

SEC. 10. Section one thousand five hundred fifty-two of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1552. The executor or administrator, after making any sale of real estate, must make a return of his proceedings to the court, which must be filed in the office of the clerk at any time subsequent to the sale. A hearing upon the return of the proceedings may be asked for in the return or by petition subsequently, and thereupon the clerk must fix the day for the hearing, of which notice of at least ten days must be given by the clerk, by notices posted in three public places in the county, or by publication in a newspaper, and must briefly indicate the land sold, and must refer to the return for further particulars. Upon the hearing the court must examine into the necessity for the sale, or the advantage, benefit and interest of the estate in having the sale made, and must examine the return and witnesses in relation to the sale, and if good reason does not exist for such sale, or if the proceedings for the sale were unfair or the sum bid disproportionate to the value and it appears that a sum exceeding such bid at least ten per cent, exclusive of the expense of a new sale may be obtained, the court may vacate the sale and direct another to be had, of which notice must be given and the sale in all respects conducted as if no previous sale had taken place. If an offer of ten per cent more in amount than that named in the return be made to the court in writing, by a responsible person, it is in the discretion of the court to accept such offer and confirm the sale to such person or to order a new sale.

SEC. 11. Section one thousand five hundred fifty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1554. If it appears to the court that there is reason for a sale upon the grounds set forth in section one thousand five hundred thirty-six of this code and that the sale was legally made and fairly conducted, and that the sum bid was not disproportionate to the value of the property sold, and that a greater sum, as above specified, can not be obtained, or if the increased bid mentioned in section one thousand five hundred fifty-two be made and accepted by the court, the court must make an order confirming the sale, and directing conveyances to be executed. The sale, from that time, is confirmed and valid, and a certified copy of the order confirming it and directing conveyances to be executed must be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which the land sold is situated. If, after the confirmation, the purchaser neglects or refuses to comply with the terms of the sale, the court may, on motion of the executor or administrator, and after notice to the purchaser, order a resale to be made of the property. If the amount realized on such sale does not cover the bid and the expenses of the previous sale, such purchaser is liable for the deficiency to the estate.

SEC. 12. Section one thousand five hundred fifty-five of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1555. Conveyances must thereupon be executed to the purchaser by the executor or administrator, and they must refer to the orders of the court confirming the sale of the property of the estate, and directing conveyances thereof to be executed, and to the record of the order of confirmation in the office of the county recorder, either by the date of such recording, or by the date, volume, and page of the record, and such reference shall have the same effect as if the orders were at large inserted in the conveyance. Conveyances so made convey all the right, title, interest, and estate of the decedent, in the premises, at the time of his death, if prior to the sale, by operation of law or otherwise, the estate has acquired any right, title, or interest in the premises, other than or in addition to that of the decedent at the time of his death, such right, title, or interest also passes by such conveyances.

SEC. 13. Section one thousand five hundred fifty-nine of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1559. Any executor or administrator may enter into a contract with any bona fide real estate agent to secure a purchaser for any real property belonging to an estate, which contract shall provide for payment to such agent out of the proceeds of sale to any purchaser secured by him of a commission, the amount of which must be fixed and allowed by the court upon confirmation of the sale. If a sale to a purchaser obtained by such agent is returned to the court for confirmation and said sale be confirmed to such purchaser, such contract shall be binding and valid as against the estate for the amount so fixed and allowed by the court.

By the execution of any such contract no personal liability shall attach to the executor or administrator, and no liability of any kind shall be incurred by the estate unless an actual sale is made and confirmed.

SEC. 14. Section one thousand five hundred sixty-five of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1565. If a decedent, at the time of his death, was possessed of a contract for the purchase of lands, his interest in such land and under such contracts may be sold by his executor or administrator, in the same manner as if he had died seized of such land, and the same proceedings may be had for that purpose as are prescribed in this chapter for the sale of lands of which he died seized, except as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 15. Section one thousand five hundred seventy of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1570. At any sale of lands upon which there is a mortgage or lien, the holder thereof may become the purchaser, and his receipt for the amount due him from the proceeds of the sale is a payment pro tanto. If the amount for which he purchased the property is insufficient to defray the expenses and discharge his mortgage or lien, he must pay to the court, or the clerk thereof, an amount sufficient to pay such expenses.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

During second reading of bill, the following committee amendments were offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Beginning with line 1, page 1, of the printed bill, strike out line 1 and all following it, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SECTION 1. Section seven of an act entitled "An act to define and regulate the business of banking," approved March 1, 1909, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7. No foreign corporation shall transact a banking business in this state without first complying with all the requirements of the laws of this state relative to banks as defined in this act, and without having assigned to its business in this state the amount of paid-up capital and surplus required by this act for the transaction of such business within this state. No foreign banking corporation shall transact business in this state until such corporation has made the assignment of capital required by this section and has received a certificate from the superintendent of banks; provided, that a foreign banking corporation shall not be permitted to accept deposits of money in this state but may receive a certificate from the superintendent of banks to transact in this state only the business of buying or selling, paying or collecting bills of exchange, or of issuing letters of credit or of receiving money for transmission or transmitting the same by draft, check, cable or otherwise, or of making loans; and provided further, that those foreign banking corporations that now have power to do a banking business in this state and which now receive deposits of money shall be permitted to continue to accept money on deposit. Any foreign banking corporation transacting business in this state shall become subject to the supervision of the state superintendent of banks. Every foreign banking corporation, including those which were on January second, nineteen hundred thirteen, transacting business in this state, which receives any deposits or transacts any other banking business or transacts its business in such a manner as might lead the public to believe that its business is that of a bank shall conduct all its business in accordance with the statutes governing incorporated banking institutions organized under the laws of this state. The capital of any such foreign banking corporation assigned to its business in this state and all funds and deposits of money received by any such corporation in this state or for or in connection with its business in this state and all accounts and transactions of said business transacted by any such foreign corporation in this state shall be kept separate and apart from the general business, assets and accounts of such foreign corporation in the same manner as if the business of such foreign corporation conducted within this state was that of a separate and independent corporation organized under the laws of this state for the purpose of doing a banking business and all of the provisions of this act affecting investments, loans of money, receiving deposits and conducting business in any respect shall be deemed to apply to such assigned capital, investments, loans, deposits, assets, funds and business in the same manner as if such assigned capital, investments, loans, deposits, assets, funds and business were that of such separate and independent corporation; provided, that loans may be made by any such foreign corporation based on its entire paid-up capital and surplus in case such foreign corporation shall have assigned to its business in this state a paid-up capital and surplus as above provided equal to twenty per centum of the deposit liability of such branch agency or office to residents of this state. Such funds and investments or loans thereof shall be appropriated solely to the security and payment of such deposits, and shall not be mingled with the investments of the capital stock or other money or property belonging to such corporation or be liable for the debts or obligations thereof. All income received from the investment of said funds over and above such funds as may be paid to depositors as interest or shall be carried to the surplus fund, as provided in section twenty-one of this act, shall accrue as profits to the corporation and may be transferred to its general funds. No such foreign corporation shall transact any banking business in this state until it has executed and filed with the superintendent of banks a written instrument appointing such superintendent or his successor in office, its true and lawful attorney, upon whom all process issued by authority of or under any law of this state may be served, with the same effect as if such corporation was formed under the laws of this state and had been lawfully served with process therein. Such service upon such attorney shall be deemed personal service on such corporation. The superintendent of banks shall forthwith forward by mail, postage prepaid, a copy of every process served upon him under the provisions of this section, addressed to the manager or agent of such corporation, at its principal place of business in this state. For each copy of process, the superintendent of banks shall collect the sum of two dollars, which shall be paid by the plaintiff or moving party at the time of the service, to be recovered by him as a part of his taxable costs if he succeed in the suit or proceeding. No foreign corporation shall have or exercise in this state the power to receive deposits of trust moneys, securities or other personal property from any person or corporation or any of the powers specified in section six of this act, nor have or maintain an office in this state for the transaction of, or transact, directly or indirectly, any such or similar business, except that a trust company incorporated in another state may have or exercise in this state such powers as are permitted to foreign corporations by the provisions of section ninety of this act and may be appointed and may accept appointment and may act in this state as executor of or trustee under the last will and testament of any deceased person, upon giving the bond required in such cases of individuals unless waived by the last will and testament making such appointment and by taking and subscribing an oath for faithful performance of such trust by the president, vice-president, secretary, manager or trust officer of said corporation; provided, that such superintendent of banks, for the time being, shall be attorney of such foreign corporation qualifying or acting in this state as such executor or trustee, upon whom process against such foreign corporation may be served in any action or legal proceeding against such executor or trustee affecting or relating to the estate or property represented or held by such executor or trustee, or any act or default of such foreign corporation in reference to such estate or property, and it shall be the duty of any such foreign corporation so qualifying or acting to file in the office of said superintendent of banks a copy of its articles of incorporation, or of the statute chartering such corporation, certified by its secretary under its corporate seal, together with the postoffice address of its home office, and a duly executed appointment of said superintendent of banks as its attorney to accept service of process as above provided, and said superintendent of banks, when any such process is served upon him, shall at once mail the papers so served to the home office of such corporation; and provided, further, that no foreign corporation which may have or exercise in this state such powers as are permitted to foreign corporations by the provisions of section ninety of this act or having authority to act as executor of or trustee under the last will and testament of any deceased person shall establish or maintain, directly or indirectly, any branch office or agency in this state, or shall in any way solicit, directly or indirectly, any business as executor or trustee therein, and that for any violation of this proviso, the court having jurisdiction of such executor or trustee in said proceeding may in its discretion, revoke the right of such foreign corporation thereafter to act as executor or trustee therein; provided, that nothing in this act shall limit or affect the right of any foreign corporation doing a banking business in this state, to lend within this state, moneys of such corporation which do not form a part of the moneys, deposits or assets of such corporation assigned or belonging to its business in this state.

This section shall not be construed to prohibit foreign banking corporations, which do not maintain an office in this state for the transaction of business, from making loans in this state secured by mortgages on real property, nor from accepting assignments of mortgages covering real property situated in this state, nor from making loans through correspondents which are engaged in the business of banking in this state under the laws of this state.

SEC. 2. Section eight of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 8. Every corporation, at the time it applies for a certificate of authority to do a banking business, must file with the superintendent of banks a certified copy of its articles of incorporation, or of the statute chartering such corporation, a certified copy of its by-laws, and also a certified copy of all instruments amending or altering such articles of incorporation or charter or by-laws. Thereafter a certified copy of each amendment or certificate designed to increase or decrease the capital stock, to change the number of the directors, to amend the articles of incorporation, to change the principal place of business, or the name of such corporation, or to effect any other organic change shall likewise be so filed before such instrument takes effect. There must also be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks before he shall issue his certificate a certified copy of the affidavit required by section two hundred ninety a of the Civil Code. Each certification required by the provisions of this section other than that of by-laws must be by the secretary of state.

SEC. 3. Section nine of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 9. No bank in this state, or any officer or director thereof, shall hereafter open or keep an office other than its principal place of business, without first having obtained the written approval of the superintendent of banks to the opening of such branch office, which written approval may be given or withheld in his discretion, and shall not be given by him until he has ascertained to his satisfaction that the public convenience and advantage will be promoted by the opening of such branch office; provided, that no bank or any officer or director thereof, shall open or maintain any such branch office unless the capital of such bank, actually paid in, in cash, shall exceed the amount required by this act by the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars for each branch office opened and maintained in the place where its principal business is transacted; and provided, that for each branch office opened or maintained by any bank, other than a bank transacting only the business described in section six of this act, in any place in this state other than the place where the principal business of such bank is transacted, the capital of such bank, actually paid in, in cash, shall exceed the amount required by this act in the sum required by this act for every bank hereafter organized in the place where such branch office is to be opened or maintained, exclusive of the capital required for a trust department; and, provided also, that for each branch office opened or maintained by any corporation which has power to transact only such business as is described in section six of this act or in section four hundred fifty-three of the Civil Code, in any place in this state other than the place where the principal business of such corporation is transacted, the capital of such corporation, actually paid in, in cash, shall exceed the amount required by this act in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars; and provided, further, that no branch office may be discontinued without the previous written approval of the superintendent of banks.

Every bank, before it opens a branch office, shall obtain the certificate of authority of the superintendent of banks for the opening of each of said branch offices. The applicant shall pay for such certificate a fee of fifty dollars; provided, however, that, in order to encourage saving among the children of the schools of this state, a bank may, with the written consent of and under regulations approved by the superintendent of banks and, in the case of public schools, by the board of education or board of school trustees of the city or district in which the school is situated, arrange for the collection of savings from the school children by the principal or teachers of such schools or by collectors. The principal, teacher or person authorized by the bank to make collections from the school children shall be deemed to be the agent of the bank and the bank shall be liable to the parent for all deposits made with such principal, teacher or other person, the same as if the deposits were made by the pupil directly with the bank. Every bank and every such officer or director violating the provisions of this section shall forfeit to the people of the state the sum of one hundred dollars for every day during which any branch office hereafter opened shall be maintained without such written approval.

SEC. 4. Section ten of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 10. No person shall be eligible for election as director of a bank having a capital stock unless he is a stockholder of the bank, owning, in his own right, shares thereof of the par value of at least five hundred dollars; and every person elected to be director who, after such election, shall cease to be the owner in his own right of the amount of such stock aforesaid, or shall hypothecate or in any way pledge such stock as security for any loan or debt shall immediately notify the superintendent of banks in writing of such sale or hypothecation and such director may be removed from the office of director by the superintendent of banks; provided, however, that any executor or executrix, administrator or administratrix holding shares of a bank of the par value of five hundred dollars, in his or her representative capacity shall be eligible for election as a director thereof. If a bank be organized without capital stock, no person shall be eligible as a director thereof unless he is both a member and a depositor of such bank.

SEC. 5. Section twelve c of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 12c. Any corporation organized under the laws of any country or state other than this state which has complied with all of the laws of this state pertaining to foreign corporations and is not engaged in the business of banking or receiving money on deposit in this state may lend money or buy and sell bonds in this state and, for that purpose, may maintain offices in this state, and sue and be sued in this state under its proper corporate name, notwithstanding any prohibitions contained in this act as to the use of any words in the name, signs or advertising matter of corporations not under the supervision of the superintendent of banks; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit any representative of any foreign banking corporation from maintaining an office in this state as the office of a representative and not the place of business of a bank or trust company, nor to prohibit such representative from making use of any other sign at the place where such representative's office is maintained having thereon words indicating that such office is the place of business of a representative of a foreign bank or trust company;

And provided, further, that any representative of a foreign bank maintaining an office within this state may make use of such foreign bank's letterheads, circulars and other printed matter in the transaction of business as such representative.

And provided, further, every representative of any foreign bank or trust company before opening an office as a representative shall have received a license from the superintendent of banks to open such representative's office. Such license may be issued upon application to the superintendent of banks and the payment of an annual license fee of $50 and may be refused or revoked by the superintendent of banks at his discretion.

SEC. 6. Section thirteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 13. No corporation, domestic or foreign, other than a corporation formed under or subject to the banking laws of this state or of the United States, except as permitted by such laws, or other than an express company as hereinafter defined in this section, shall by any implication or construction be deemed to possess the power of carrying on the business of discounting bills, notes or other evidences of debt, of receiving deposits, of buying and selling bills of exchange, or of issuing bills, notes or other evidences of debt for circulation as money, or of engaging in any other form of banking; nor shall any such corporation, except an express company having contracts with railroad companies for the operation of an express service upon the lines of such railroad companies, or a transatlantic steamship company, or a transpacific steamship company, or a telegraph company, or a telephone company, possess the power of receiving money for transmission or of transmitting the same, by draft, traveler's check, money order or otherwise.

SEC. 7. Section twenty of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 20. Every commercial bank shall maintain total reserves against its aggregate deposits, exclusive of state, county and municipal deposits for the repayment of which bonds have been deposited as security, as follows:

1. Eighteen per centum of such deposits if such bank has its principal place of business in a city having a population of one hundred thousand or over.
2. Fifteen per centum of such deposits, if such bank is located in a city having a population of fifty thousand or over and less than one hundred thousand.
3. Twelve per centum of such deposits if such bank is located elsewhere in the state.

At least one-third of the total reserves shall be maintained as reserves on hand and shall consist of gold coin, gold bullion, United States gold certificates or United States notes; in addition thereto, at least one-sixth of the total reserves shall be maintained as reserves on hand and shall consist of gold coin, gold bullion, United States gold certificates, United States notes or any form of currency authorized by the laws of the United States, and the remainder of the total reserves required by the provisions of this section shall be maintained as reserves on deposit or as reserves on hand; such reserves on hand to consist of gold coin, gold bullion, United States gold certificates, United States notes or any form of currency authorized by the laws of the United States.

If any bank shall have become a member of a federal reserve bank, it may maintain as reserves on deposit with such federal reserve bank such portion of its total reserves as shall be required of members of such federal reserve bank.

If any bank shall not maintain the total reserves required the superintendent of banks may impose a penalty upon it, based upon the length of time such encroachment upon its total reserves amounting to one per centum or more of its aggregate deposits shall continue, at the following rates:

1. At the rate of six per centum per annum upon any such encroachment not exceeding two per centum of such deposits.
2. At the rate of eight per centum per annum upon any additional encroachment in excess of two and not exceeding three per centum of such deposits.
3. At the rate of ten per centum per annum upon any additional encroachment in excess of three and not exceeding four per centum of such deposits.
4. At the rate of twelve per centum per annum upon any additional encroachment in excess of four per centum of such deposits.

The superintendent of banks shall, in his discretion, upon the nomination of any bank, designate a depository or depositories for the reserves on deposit of such bank provided for by this act. Except as otherwise provided in this section, such depository shall be a bank or national banking association located in this state. Every reserve depository, which has its principal place of business in a judicial township or in a city located in this state in which the population is less than fifty thousand, shall have at all times as its total reserves an amount equal to the total reserves required by the provisions of this section for every bank which has its principal place of business in a city having a population of fifty thousand or over and less than one hundred thousand. But no bank or national banking association shall hereafter be designated as a depository of any such reserves unless it shall have a combined capital and surplus of not less than the following amounts:

1. Two hundred fifty thousand dollars, if located in a city which has a population of three hundred thousand or over;
2. Two hundred thousand dollars, if located in a city which has a population of one hundred thousand or over and less than three hundred thousand;
3. One hundred fifty thousand dollars, if located in a city which has a population of fifty thousand or over and less than one hundred thousand;
4. One hundred thousand dollars, if located elsewhere in the state.

Such depository may also be a banking corporation with a capital and surplus of one million dollars or more, located in the cities of New York, Chicago, Boston, St. Louis, or Philadelphia.

If the total reserves of any bank shall be less than the amount required by this section, such bank shall not increase its liabilities by making any new loans or discounts, otherwise than by discounting bills of exchange on sight, or by paying any dividends from profits until the full amount of its total reserves has been restored.

The superintendent of banks may notify any bank whose total reserves shall be below the amount herein required, to restore such total reserves; and, if it shall fail for thirty days thereafter to restore such total reserves, such bank shall be deemed insolvent and may be proceeded against under the provisions of this act; provided, that all deposits of money herein permitted or required shall comply with the provisions of section forty-three of this act.

The term, "reserves on hand," when used in this act, means the reserves against deposits kept, pursuant to the provisions of this act, in the vault of any bank or in any safety deposit box in any other bank in this state, said box to be under the exclusive control of the depositing bank.

The term, "reserves on deposit," when used in this act, means the reserves against deposits maintained by any bank pursuant to this act in reserve depositories, or in a federal reserve bank of which such bank is a member, and not in excess of the amount authorized by this act.

The term, "total reserves," when used in this act, means the aggregate of reserves on hand and reserves on deposit maintained pursuant to the provisions of this act.

The term, "reserve depository," when used in this act, means a bank, trust company or banking corporation designated by the superintendent of banks on the nomination of the depositing bank as a depository for reserves on deposit.

SEC. 8. Section 28 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 28. Every bank in this state must, on all its window signs and in advertising, and on letterheads and other stationery on which its business is transacted, use the word "savings" if it conducts a savings business, or the word "trust" if it conducts a trust business, and the word "commercial" if it conducts a commercial business. Every bank, which maintains a branch office, must on all window signs and in advertising, and on letterheads and other stationery on which the business of said branch office is transacted, use in letters and type, equal in prominence to that used in its corporate name, the word "branch" and the name of the place where its principal business is located.

SEC. 9. Section thirty-one a of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 31a. Any bank incorporated under the laws of this state may consolidate with one or more banks incorporated under the laws of this state, its capital stock, properties, trusts, claims, demands, contracts, agreements, obligations, debts, liabilities and assets of every kind and description, upon such terms and in such manner as may be agreed upon by their respective boards of directors, a copy of which agreement must be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks; provided, that such agreement shall be subject to the approval of the superintendent of banks and shall not be valid until such approval be obtained; provided, further, that no such consolidation shall take effect until such agreement shall have been ratified and confirmed in writing by the stockholders of the respective banks holding of record at least two-thirds of the issued capital stock of their respective banks, or such agreement may be submitted to the stockholders of each of such corporations at a meeting thereof to be called upon notice specifying the time, place and object thereof, addressed to each stockholder at his last known post-office address and deposited in the post office, postage prepaid, at least two weeks prior to the date fixed for said meeting, and published for at least two successive weeks, prior to the date of said meeting, in a newspaper in each of the counties of the state in which any of such banks shall have its principal place of business, and if such agreement shall be approved at each of such meetings of the respective stockholders separately by the vote or ballot of the stockholders owning at least two-thirds of the stock of each such bank, the same shall be the agreement of such banks. In case of such consolidation "articles of incorporation and consolidation" must be prepared, setting forth:

First—The name of the new corporation;

Second—The purpose for which it is formed;

Third—The place where its principal business is to be transacted;

Fourth—The term for which it is to exist, which shall not exceed fifty years;

Fifth—The number of its directors (which shall not be less than three) and the names and residences of the persons appointed to act as such until their successors are elected and qualified;

Sixth—The amount of its capital stock and the number of shares into which it is divided;

Seventh—The amount of stock actually subscribed, and by whom;

Eighth—The names of the constituent corporations;

Said articles of incorporation and consolidation must be signed and countersigned by the president and secretary of each constituent corporation and sealed with their corporate seals. There must be annexed thereto the approval of the superintendent of banks and memoranda of the ratification and confirmation thereof by the stockholders of each constituent corporation, which must be respectively signed and acknowledged by stockholders representing at least two-thirds of the capital stock of their respective corporations. When completed as aforesaid said articles must be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which is located the principal place of business of the new corporation, and a copy of the articles of incorporation and consolidation certified by such county clerk must be filed in the office of the secretary of state, who must issue, over the great seal of the state, a certificate that a copy of the articles of incorporation and consolidation containing the required statement of facts has been filed in his office. The secretary of state must file in his office a duplicate of the certificate hereinbefore provided for and copies thereof, duly certified by the secretary of state, shall have the same force and effect in evidence as the original. A copy of the articles of incorporation and consolidation, certified by said secretary of state, must be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks, and also in the office of the county clerk of any county in which were filed the original articles of incorporation of either of the constituent corporations. When the superintendent of banks issues the certificate of authorization provided for by section one hundred twenty-eight of this act the new or consolidated corporation shall be a body politic and corporate by the name stated in the certificate, and for the term of fifty years, unless it is, in the articles of incorporation and consolidation, otherwise stated and thereupon each constituent corporation named in the articles of incorporation and consolidation must be deemed and held to have become extinct in all courts and places, and said new corporation must be deemed and held in all courts and places to have succeeded to all their several capital stocks, properties, trusts, claims, demands, contracts, agreements, assets, choses and rights in action of every kind and description, both at law and in equity, and to be entitled to possess, enjoy, and enforce the same and every thereof, as fully and completely as either and every of its constituents might have done had no consolidation taken place. Said consolidated or new corporation must also, in all courts and places, be deemed and held to have become subrogated to its several constituents and each thereof, in respect to all their contracts and agreements with other parties, and all their debts, obligations, and liabilities, of every kind and nature, to any persons, corporations, or bodies politic, whomsoever, or whatsoever, and said new corporation must sue and be sued in its own name in any and every case in which any or either of its constituents might have sued or might have been sued at law or in equity had no such consolidation been made. Nothing in this section contained shall be construed to impair the obligation of any contract to which any of such constituents were parties at the date of such consolidation. All such contracts may be enforced by action or suit, as the case may be, against the consolidated corporation, and satisfaction obtained out of the property which, at the date of the consolidation, belonged to the constituent which was a party to the contract in action or suit, as well as out of any other property belonging to the consolidated corporation, and the stockholders of each constituent corporation so entering into such agreement shall continue subject to all the liabilities, claims and demands existing against them at or before such consolidation to the same extent as if the same had not been made. The right of said new corporation to increase or decrease its capital stock, to change the number of its directors, to amend its articles of incorporation, to change its principal place of business, or its name, or to effect any other organic change shall be governed by the general corporation laws of this state and by the bank act, and the procedure to effect any such change shall be that defined by the general corporation laws and the bank act.

The superintendent of banks shall transmit to the secretary of state a duplicate of the certificate of authorization hereinbefore referred to and the secretary of state shall file the same in his office. The superintendent of banks shall also file a duplicate of such certificate in his own office.

SEC. 10. Section thirty-five of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 35. No bank shall purchase any contract arising from the sale of real estate or any note or bond in which contract, or note, or bond any director, officer, employee, or controlling stockholder of such bank is personally or financially interested, directly or indirectly, for his own account, for himself, or as the partner or agent of others, without the previous consent in writing of the superintendent of banks.

SEC. 11. Section forty-one of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 41. No officer, director, agent, or other employee of any bank shall directly or indirectly, for his own personal benefit, purchase, or be interested in the purchase of any of such bank's obligations or assets for a less sum than shall appear upon the face of any such obligations or assets to be the value thereof except with the previous consent of all the directors of said bank, such consent to be evidenced by a resolution adopted by said directors. A certified copy of said resolution shall immediately be transmitted to the superintendent of banks. Every person violating any provision of this section, shall for each offense forfeit to the people of the state, twice the face value of any such obligations or assets so purchased.

SEC. 12. Section forty-three of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 43. No bank shall deposit any of its funds in any other bank unless such other bank has been nominated as a depository for its funds by the vote of a majority of the directors, or trustees of the bank making the deposit, and such other bank has been designated by the superintendent of banks as such depository. The superintendent of banks may in his discretion revoke such a designation.

SEC. 13. Section forty-five of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 45. Interest unpaid, although due or accrued, on debts owing to any bank, shall not be included in calculation of its profits previous to a dividend; nor shall any bank, except with the previous written consent of the superintendent of banks, enter or at any time carry on its books any of its assets at a valuation exceeding its actual cost to such bank.

Sec. 14. Section sixty-five of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 65. No loan shall be made, for himself or as agent or partner of another, directly or indirectly, to any director or officer of any savings bank by such bank, or on the endorsement, surety or guaranty of any such officer or director, except that loans may be made to any corporation in which any director or officer of such savings bank may own or hold a minority number of shares of stock, upon authorization of a majority of all the directors of such savings bank and the affirmative vote of all directors of such savings bank present at the meeting authorizing such loan: provided, however, that such loan shall in all other respects conform to and comply with all other provisions of this act. Such interested director or officer shall not vote or participate in any manner in the action of the board on such loan. Such authorization shall be entered upon the records or minutes of such savings bank. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the corporate name of the borrower, the name of each director or officer of such bank who is a member, stockholder, officer, or director of the corporation to which such loan is made, the amount of stock held by him in such borrowing corporation, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of security given therefor and the fact of final payment, when made, shall be forthwith reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such savings bank to the superintendent of banks. No loan may be made to any corporation, a majority of the stock of which is owned or controlled by any one or more of the directors or officers of such savings bank, except with the previous consent of the superintendent of banks.

A loan may be made to any agent or employee, other than an officer or director, of any savings bank by such bank upon authorization of a majority of all the directors of such savings bank and an affirmative vote of all directors of such savings bank present at the meeting authorizing such loan: provided, however, that such loan shall in all respects conform to and comply with all other provisions of this act. Such authorization shall be entered upon the records or minutes of such savings bank. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the name of the borrower, the nature of his employment, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of the security given therefor, and the fact of final payment, when made, shall be forthwith reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such savings bank to the superintendent of banks. Any officer or director of any savings bank, who knowingly procures a loan from such savings bank, contrary to the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a felony. In case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank, to report to the superintendent of banks, as herein provided, any of the facts so required to be reported, or in case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank, to report to the superintendent of banks any loan made contrary to the provisions of this section, the bank shall be liable therefor and shall forfeit to the people of the State of California twenty-five dollars per day for each day, or part thereof, during which such neglect or failure continues.

This section shall not apply to any loan made to a religious corporation, club, or other membership corporation of which one or more directors, officers, agents or employees of such savings bank may be members or officers, but in which they have no financial interest.

Sec. 15. Section sixty-eight of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 68. Every savings bank or savings department of a bank, shall at all times maintain total reserves equivalent to five per centum of the aggregate amount of its deposits exclusive of state, county and municipal deposits for the repayment of which bonds have been deposited as security; at least two and one-half per centum of such deposits shall be maintained as reserves on hand, one-half of which shall consist of gold coin, gold bullion, United States gold certificates or United States notes and one-half of which shall consist of gold coin, gold bullion, United States gold certificates, United States notes or any other form of currency authorized by the laws of the United States and two and one-half per centum of such deposits may be maintained as reserves on hand and may consist of bonds of the United States or of gold coin, gold bullion, United States gold certificates, United States notes or any other form of currency authorized by the laws of the United States or may be maintained as reserves on deposit subject to call with any reserve depositary provided for in section twenty of this act; provided, however, that no savings bank or savings department shall be required to maintain reserves on hand in excess of four hundred thousand dollars, and when such reserves on hand reach that amount, the balance of total reserves necessary to make up the five per centum may be kept as reserves on deposit subject to call with any reserve depositary provided for in section twenty of this act. No new loan shall be made during any deficiency in the total reserves. Deposits with any commercial bank, or commercial department of a bank, on open account, as provided in this section, shall be permitted, and shall not be construed as loans. Not more than five per centum of the deposits of any savings bank shall be deposited with any one bank, except with the consent of the superintendent of banks. Not more than fifteen per centum of the deposits of any savings bank shall be deposited with all commercial banks, except with the consent of the superintendent of banks. No savings bank or savings department shall receive deposits of other banks other than savings deposits and such deposits shall not be treated or considered as a part of the reserves on deposit of such depositing bank; provided, the sum so deposited shall not exceed thirty per centum of the paid-in capital and surplus of the depositing bank nor more than fifteen per centum of the paid-in capital and surplus of the depository bank.

SEC. 16. Section eighty of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 80. No commercial bank shall make any loans, directly or indirectly, to any person, firm, copartnership or corporation, in an amount which, including therein any extension of credit to such person, firm, copartnership or corporation, by means of letters of credit, or by acceptance of drafts for, or the discount or purchase of the notes, bills of exchange or other obligations of, such person, firm, copartnership or corporation, shall exceed the following percentage of its capital and surplus.

1. Ten per centum without security, except where such capital stock and surplus is not more than twenty-five thousand dollars, in which event an amount not to exceed twenty per centum of such capital stock and surplus may be loaned without security, and where such capital stock and surplus is greater than twenty-five thousand dollars and does not exceed fifty thousand dollars, a sum not exceeding five thousand dollars may be loaned without security. Nothing herein shall prohibit any commercial bank from taking or receiving any kind, character or amount of security whatsoever, either real or personal, for the protection of any loan made under the provisions of this subdivision, but no such loan or any part thereof shall be considered or construed as a secured loan unless the whole thereof is loaned upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of such loan; or.

2. Fifteen per centum, in addition to the amount that may be loaned under the provisions of subdivision one of this section, upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of such loan so secured; provided, the total amount which can be loaned under subdivisions one and two hereof can not exceed twenty-five per centum in all; provided, however, that a separate note or notes shall be taken for the unsecured loans and a separate note or notes shall be taken for the secured loans; and the secured and unsecured loans shall not be combined in any way within one note, or notes; or.

3. Twenty-five per centum upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of its loans so secured; provided, however, that when secured loans to this amount or any amount in excess of fifteen per centum are made, then no unsecured loans shall be permitted in addition to such secured loans; or.

4. Forty per centum, provided such loans are upon commercial or business paper actually owned by the person negotiating the same to such bank, and are endorsed by such person without limitation; provided, however, that in addition to the amounts permitted to be loaned by subdivisions one, two or three of this section, an amount may be loaned on the securities fixed by subdivision four of this section, which taken with the amounts so permitted by said subdivisions one, two or three will not exceed forty per centum; provided, also, that the restrictions under this section shall not apply to bills of exchange or drafts, with bills of lading attached, drawn in good faith against actual existing values; provided further, that any commercial bank, having first obtained in writing the consent of the superintendent of banks so to do and under such conditions and regulations as may be prescribed by him, may accept drafts or bills of exchange drawn upon it running for a period not longer than six months, but no commercial bank shall accept such drafts or bills of exchange in an amount greater at any time in the outstanding aggregate than one-half of its capital and surplus; but such acceptance or acceptances must be drawn by a person, firm, copartnership or corporation engaged in agricultural, industrial or commercial business directly connected with the production, manufacture, purchase, sale or consignment of the goods involved in the transaction in which the acceptance originated; provided, however, that no such acceptance or acceptances to any one person, firm, copartnership or corporation shall exceed ten per centum of the capital and surplus of such bank.

Loans which are made upon security available for loans in a savings bank may be made in a commercial bank upon the same margin of security as is permitted to savings banks anything in this section to the contrary notwithstanding, and all such loans shall be deemed to be secured loans within the meaning of this section.

In computing the total liabilities of any person to a commercial bank there shall be included all liabilities to the bank of any copartnership or unincorporated association of which he is a member, and any loans made for his benefit or for the benefit of such copartnership or unincorporated association; of any firm, copartnership or unincorporated association to a commercial bank there shall be included all liabilities of its individual members and all loans made for the benefit of such copartnership or unincorporated association or any member thereof; and of any corporation to a commercial bank there shall be included all loans made for the benefit of the corporation.

Sec. 17. Section eighty-three of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 83. No loan shall be made for himself or as agent or partner of another, directly or indirectly, to any officer of any commercial bank by such bank or on the indorsement, surety, or guaranty of any such officer; provided, that a loan may be made to a corporation of which any officer of a commercial bank, proposing to make such loan, is a minority stockholder, director, officer, agent or employee. Loans to any director, agent or employee, other than an officer, or to any firm, copartnership or corporation of which any director, agent or employee other than an officer is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee, or to any person, firm, copartnership or corporation on the indorsement, surety, or guaranty of any such director other than an officer, agent or other employee, can be made by any commercial bank; and provided, further, that a loan may be made or a line of credit may be given to any member of an advisory board or body of a commercial bank, not otherwise an officer of such bank, or a loan may be made to any firm, copartnership or corporation of which any member of such advisory board or body is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee, or to any person, firm, copartnership, or corporation on the indorsement, surety, or guaranty of any such member of such advisory board or body upon such conditions as are herein fixed for a loan, directly or indirectly, or a line of credit and the report thereof, to any director of such bank. Loans herein authorized can be made only on authorization of or confirmation within thirty days after making such loan, by a majority of all the directors of such bank and the affirmative vote of all directors of such bank present at the meeting authorizing or confirming such loan. Such interested director shall not vote or participate in any manner in the action of the board on such loan. The board of directors of any such bank may fix the total amount of credit that may at any one time during the twelve months next succeeding be given to any director, agent, or other employee, other than an officer, or to any firm, copartnership, or corporation in which any director, agent, or other employee other than an officer is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee or to any corporation of which any officer of a commercial bank, proposing to fix such total amount of credit, is a minority stockholder, director, officer, agent or employee, and any or all loans made within or up to the total amount of such authorized credit may at any time during said twelve months, be renewed from time to time, in whole or in part, by the officers of the bank without any further vote or action on the part of the board of directors. Each such authorization shall be entered upon the records or minutes of said bank. No director shall vote or participate in any manner in such action of the board fixing the total amount of credit that may at any one time be given to himself or to any firm, copartnership or corporation in which he is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the name of the director, agent or employee, obtaining such loan, or the name of the firm, copartnership or corporation in which such director, agent or employee is interested or the name of the corporation, of which any officer of a commercial bank is a minority stockholder, director, officer, agent or employee, obtaining such loan, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of security given therefor, if any, and the fact of final payment when made shall forthwith be reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such bank to the superintendent of banks. In case a loan is made to a corporation there shall be reported in the same manner the name of each director and officer of such bank who is a member, stockholder, director, officer or employee of such borrowing corporation and the amount of stock held by him in such borrowing corporation. All of the provisions of this section relating to reports shall apply to the granting of credit and all loans made under any credit given and payments made thereon shall also be reported immediately after the same are made. In case of a loan made without the previous authorization of the directors, the fact of making such loan shall forthwith be reported and the action of the board of directors, in confirming or refusing to confirm such loan within thirty days thereafter, and the fact of final payment when made shall be reported in the same manner as herein required for loans made under previous authorization. Any officer, director, agent, or employee of a commercial bank, who knowingly procures a loan from such commercial bank contrary to the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a felony. In case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank, to report to the superintendent of banks, as herein provided, any of the facts so required to be reported, or in case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank, to report to the superintendent of banks any loan made contrary to the provisions of this section, the bank shall be liable therefor and shall forfeit to the people of the State of California twenty-five dollars per day for each day, or part thereof, during which such neglect or failure continues.

This section shall not apply to any loan made to a religious corporation, club, or other membership corporation of which one or more directors, officers, agents or employees of such commercial bank may be members or officers but in which they have no financial interest.

Sec. 18. Section ninety of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 90. Any corporation which has been or shall be incorporated under the laws of this state, which is authorized by its articles of incorporation to act as executor, administrator, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, depository or trustee, under appointment of any court or by authority of any law of this state, or as trustee for any purpose permitted by law, which has its principal place of business in a city in which the population does not exceed one hundred thousand persons and which has a capital of not less than one hundred thousand dollars actually paid in, in cash, assigned to or available for the purpose of conducting business in any such capacity, or trust business of any character permitted by law, and which has made with the state treasurer the deposit of money or securities of the character and in the amount required by the terms of section ninety-six of this act, and which has received from the superintendent of banks the certificate of authority required by the terms of section one hundred twenty-seven of this act, to transact such business, and any corporation which has been or shall be incorporated under the laws of this state, which is authorized by its articles of incorporation to act as executor, administrator, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, depository or trustee, under appointment of any court or by authority of any law of this state, or as trustee for any purpose permitted by law, which has its principal place of business in a city in which the population exceeds one hundred thousand persons and which has a capital of at least two hundred thousand dollars actually paid in, in cash, assigned to or available for the purpose of conducting business in any such capacity, or trust business of any character permitted by law, and which has made with the state treasurer the deposit of money or securities of the character and in the amount required by the terms of section ninety-six of this act, and which has received from the superintendent of banks the certificate of authority required by the terms of section one hundred twenty-seven of this act, to transact such business, may act, or may be incorporated by any court to act, in any such capacity in like manner as an individual and when so qualified shall be known as a trust company. Any such trust company may, as provided in this act, accept or receive any deposit of money or personal property authorized, directed or permitted to be made with any such corporation by any court or law of this state, and may accept and execute any trust provided for in this act, or permitted by any law of this state, to be taken, accepted or executed by an individual. Any such trust company, if located in a city the population of which does not exceed one hundred thousand persons must segregate that portion of its capital and surplus assigned to or available for its trust business and must apportion and set aside at least fifty thousand dollars of such paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all private trusts accepted by it and must also apportion and set aside at least fifty thousand dollars of such paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all court trusts accepted by it and whenever such trust company shall, under the provision of sections ninety-six and ninety-eight of this act, be required to make the first additional deposit of securities with the state treasurer, such trust company must also apportion and set aside an additional fifty thousand dollars of paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all private trusts accepted by it and must also apportion and set aside an additional fifty thousand dollars of paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all court trusts accepted by it, and any such trust company, if located in a city, the population of which exceeds one hundred thousand persons, must segregate that portion of its capital and surplus assigned to or available for its trust business and must apportion and set aside at least one hundred thousand dollars of such paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all private trusts accepted by it and must also apportion and set aside at least one hundred thousand dollars of such paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all court trusts accepted by it; provided, that no such trust company shall at any time be required to apportion and set aside any portion of its surplus as security for the faithful performance and execution of such private trusts, nor shall it be prohibited from so doing; and provided, further, that the respective amounts of capital or capital and surplus so apportioned and set aside shall be treated in all respects as the separate capital or capital and surplus of each respective kind or class of business, as though the same were conducted by separate and distinct corporations, and each shall be kept, held, used and disposed of wholly for the exclusive benefit, protection and security of the respective classes of trust business to which the same were respectively so apportioned and set aside. In all cases in which it is required that an executor, administrator, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, depository or trustee, shall qualify by taking and subscribing an oath, or in which an affidavit is required, it shall be a sufficient qualification by such corporation if such oath be taken and subscribed or such affidavit made by the president, vice president, secretary, manager, trust officer, assistant trust officer or regularly employed attorney thereof, and such officer or employee shall be liable for the failure of such trust company to perform any of the duties required by law to be performed by an individual acting in like capacity and subject to like penalties; provided, any such appointment as guardian shall apply to the estate only, and not to the person. A foreign corporation may be authorized to act in this state as trustee for the following purposes:

- (1) To deliver bonds, and receive payment therefor.
- (2) To deliver permanent bonds in exchange for temporary bonds of the same issue.
- (3) To deliver refunding bonds in exchange for these of a prior issue or issues.
- (4) To register bonds, or to exchange registered bonds for coupon bonds, or coupon bonds for registered bonds.
- (5) To pay interest on such bonds, and to take up and cancel coupons representing such interest payments.
- (6) To redeem and cancel bonds when called for redemption, or to pay and cancel bonds when due.
- (7) The certification of registered bonds for the purpose of exchanging registered bonds for coupon bonds.
- (8) To act as trustee under any mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument securing notes or bonds issued by any corporation.

Sec. 19. Section ninety-eight of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 98. Whenever any trust company, the principal place of business of which is located in a city the population of which does not exceed one hundred thousand persons, receives from court trusts accepted by it, trust funds, as herein defined, to the amount of five hundred thousand dollars, it shall forthwith notify in writing the superintendent of banks of such fact, and within thirty days thereafter shall deposit with the state treasurer additional money or securities of the character mentioned and defined in section ninety-six of this act, approved as therein provided, in the amount of fifty thousand dollars; and whenever any trust company receives from court trusts such funds to the amount of one million dollars it shall further notify in writing the superintendent of banks of such fact and within thirty days thereafter shall deposit with the state treasurer additional money or securities of the character mentioned and defined in section ninety-six of this act, approved as therein provided, in the amount of fifty thousand dollars; and for each additional five hundred thousand dollars of such trust funds thereafter received by any trust company from court trusts a similar notification in writing shall forthwith be given to the superintendent of banks, and a further deposit in the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars of such money or securities, or of securities provided for in section ninety-seven of this act likewise approved, shall be made, within thirty days thereafter, by such trust company with said state treasurer, until five hundred thousand dollars of such securities have been so deposited. The treasurer shall give his receipt for any money or securities so deposited and each and all of such deposits of money or securities, shall be held by said state treasurer for the sole benefit of the beneficiaries of the class of business for the security and protection of which same were deposited. The state shall be responsible for the custody and safe return of any money or securities so deposited with said state treasurer. The term "trust funds" when used in this section shall be deemed to mean and shall mean personal property and cash, whether received with the original trust property or as rent, income or proceeds thereof, or otherwise, in connection with the trust, and shall not be deemed to include and shall not include real property. Any trust company failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall forfeit to the State of California one hundred dollars a day for each day during which such failure or default shall continue. Upon making a request in writing to the superintendent of banks, any such trust company shall be entitled to withdraw from the state treasurer, from time to time, a sufficient amount of such securities so that at all times the amount of such securities so deposited shall conform to the requirements of this act, and so that at no time shall such trust company be required to have on deposit with the state treasurer an amount of securities in excess of the requirements of this act. Upon receiving such request in writing, and satisfactory proof of the facts warranting such withdrawal, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of banks to forthwith deliver to the state treasurer a written order directing the withdrawal of said securities so as to conform with the provisions of this section, and it shall be the duty of the state treasurer to comply with such written order. The validity or legality of any act or proceeding done or taken by any such trust company, relating to or in connection with the administration of any such trusts, shall not be affected or impaired by the neglect or failure of such trust company, or of any officer or employee thereof, to comply with any of the provisions of this act, but all such acts and proceedings done or taken prior to the revocation of its certificate of authority to do such business by the superintendent of banks, under the provisions of this act, or the revocation by any court or judge thereof of the appointment, order or decree theretofore entered in such trust matter shall be as valid and effective for all purposes as if any such neglect or failure had not occurred.

Sec. 20. Section one hundred twenty-eight of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 128. When the certified copy of articles of incorporation of any bank shall have been filed with the secretary of state, and application made for the issuance of a certificate to do business as a bank, the superintendent of banks, provided he has not withheld granting his certificate for any of the reasons set forth in section one hundred twenty-seven hereof, shall ascertain, from the best sources of information at his command, whether the character and general fitness of the persons named as stockholders are such as to command the confidence of the community in which such bank is proposed to be located, and, if so satisfied, he shall, within sixty days after such application has been made to him, issue, under his hand and official seal, the certificate of authorization required by this act. The superintendent of banks shall file a duplicate of such certificate in his own office.

SEC. 21. Section one hundred thirty-nine of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 139. It shall be the duty of the board of directors of every bank to examine fully, or to cause a committee of at least three of its members, none of whom shall be an officer of the bank, to examine fully into the books, papers and affairs of the bank of which they are directors, and particularly into the loans and discounts thereof, with a special view to ascertaining the value and security thereof, and of the collateral security, if any given, in connection therewith, and into such other matters as the superintendent of banks may require; such examination to be made at least once a year, but no such or subsequent yearly examination shall be made within three months of the next preceding examination. Such directors shall have power to employ such assistance in making such examinations as they may deem necessary. Within thirty days after the completion of such examination, a report in writing thereof, sworn to by the directors making the same, shall be made by the board of directors of such bank, and placed on file with the records of said bank, and shall be subject to examination by the superintendent of banks.

Such report shall particularly contain a statement of the assets and liabilities of the bank examined, as shown by its books, together with any deductions from the assets, or additions to liabilities, which such directors or committee, after such examination, may determine to make. It shall also contain a statement, in detail, of loans, if any, which in their opinion are worthless or doubtful, together with their reasons for so regarding them; also a statement of loans made on collateral security, which in their opinion are insufficiently secured, giving in each case the amount of the loan, the name and market value of the collateral, if it has any market value, and, if not, a statement of that fact, and its actual value as nearly as possible. Such report shall also contain a statement of deposits, of the names and amounts of such as they consider worthless or doubtful, and a full statement of such other matters as affect the solvency and soundness of the bank.

If the directors of such bank shall fail to make such examination or fail to cause it to be made, or shall fail to file such report of such examination in the manner and within the time specified, the superintendent of banks shall have authority to make or cause to be made an extra examination of such bank, at the expense of such bank.

Whenever the board of directors of any bank may determine by resolution, duly entered in its minutes, that a special examination shall be made or caused to be made by the superintendent of banks in lieu of the examination herein required to be made by the board of directors of such bank, a certified copy of such resolution shall be transmitted to the superintendent of banks, whereupon it shall be the duty of the superintendent of banks to make or cause to be made a special examination of the affairs of such bank in lieu of the examination of such bank by the board of directors thereof. Such special examination shall be made at such time as the superintendent of banks may determine but in any event such examination shall be made within sixty days after the receipt by the superintendent of banks of the resolution hereinbefore referred to. The cost of making such examination shall be a charge against the bank for which such examination is made.

Upon the completion of such examination the superintendent of banks shall cause a report thereof in writing to be prepared and delivered to the board of directors of such bank at such time as may be fixed by the superintendent of banks, but not later than thirty days after the completion of such examination.

SEC. 22. Section one hundred forty-two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 142. Every official report made by the superintendent of banks and every report duly verified of an examination made, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated, for all purposes in any action or proceedings wherein the superintendent of banks is a party.

SEC. 23. Section one hundred forty-five of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 145. The powers, privileges, duties and restrictions conferred and imposed upon any corporation or individual existing and doing business under the laws of this state are hereby abridged, enlarged or modified as each particular case may require to conform to the provisions of this act, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in their respective articles of incorporation or charters. All the provisions of this act shall apply with equal force and effect to all corporations which are now doing or which may hereafter do a banking business in this state, except where express exception or exemption may be made herein, and to such other persons, associations, copartnerships or corporations who shall, by violating any of its provisions, become subject to the penalties provided herein. The legality of investments heretofore made, or title to property heretofore acquired or conveyed through transactions heretofore had by any bank pursuant to any provision of law in force when such investments were made or transactions had, shall not be affected by the provisions of this act, except that any such investments made prior to July 1, 1909, when not complying with the provisions hereof, shall be changed to conform hereto; but such change shall be made gradually and in such manner as to prevent loss or embarrassment in the business of such bank, or unnecessary loss or injury to the borrowers on such security; provided, that the legality of any investments heretofore lawfully made, pursuant to the provisions of this act as it existed on and subsequent to July 1, 1909, shall not be affected by the provisions of this section.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

Amend the title on line 4 after the word "forty-five", strike out all of the title and insert in lieu thereof the following: "SIXTY-five, sixty-eight, eighty, eighty-three, ninety, ninety-eight, one hundred twenty-eight, one hundred thirty-nine, one hundred forty-two, and one hundred forty-five of an act entitled 'An act to define and regulate the business of banking,' approved March 1, 1909, designated the 'Bank Act,' all relating to the definition and regulation of the business of banking."

Amendment adopted.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 11—Relative to the presentation and due recognition of Ireland and Poland as accredited belligerents at the next peace conference of world powers.

WHEREAS, The president of this republic in a recent address before the senate of the United States proclaimed in no uncertain terms the right of small nationalities to govern themselves; and

WHEREAS, It is one of the fundamental principles of this nation that all governments should derive their just powers from the consent of the governed; and

WHEREAS, At present there are two nations in Europe who are not being and have not been governed according to this principle and whose struggle for freedom has excited the sympathy and admiration of lovers of liberty the world over; be it, therefore

Resolved, That having stated the foregoing we do endorse what our chief executive declared in his recent address before congress "that no world's peace can last or ought to last which does not recognize and accept the principle that governments derive all their just powers from the consent of the governed" and since the Irish and Polish peoples are not governed by right teaching or the principles laid down by our chief magistrate; be it further

Resolved, That we urge the president to use his best endeavors to obtain for Ireland and Poland representation and due recognition as accredited belligerents at the next peace conference of world powers; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the president, Woodrow Wilson, and that copies be given to the press.

No territory which will not be so benefited, or which is not contiguous to said lighting district, or which is not described in said petition shall be included in said district.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THIRTEEN.

On page 3, after line 6 add the following:

Sec. 2. Said act approved March 20, 1909, as amended is hereby amended by adding a new section to be numbered 18b and to read as follows:

Sec. 18b. Upon the annexation of all or of any portion of the territory embraced in any such lighting district to an incorporated city or city and county, all funds paid into the county treasury to the credit of the lighting fund of such district, if the whole of such district shall be so annexed, shall be turned over by the board of supervisors of such district to the treasurer of said incorporated city, or city and county, and administered by the legislative body of said incorporated city, or city and county; said legislative body shall have all of the powers and perform all of the duties granted to or imposed upon the board of supervisors of the county in which such district is located and of the board of supervisors of said district, and shall carry out the provisions of this act as to such district to the same purpose and extent as if originally constituted, under the provisions of this act, the governing body thereof. Upon the expenditure of the funds and the discharge of the obligations and liabilities of any such lighting district, the whole of which has been annexed to an incorporated city, or city and county, such district shall ipso facto be dissolved with the same force and effect as if dissolved under the provisions of section eighteen of this act. In the event of the annexation of a portion of the territory embraced in any such lighting district to an incorporated city, or city and county, such proportionate part of the funds collected for the benefit of such district and remaining unexpended as the area of the territory so annexed bears to the total area of said district, shall be paid over to the treasurer of such incorporated city, or city and county, in the manner hereinabove provided, and administered by the legislative body of such city, or city and county, until the same are expended, for the benefit of the portion of such district so annexed. Upon the expenditure of such funds in the manner required in this act the territory of such district so annexed shall be deemed to be withdrawn from said lighting district and thereafter the remaining territory embraced in said district and not so annexed shall, upon a resolution adopted by the board of supervisors of the county in which such territory is located, be and become a lighting district within the meaning of this act and so remain until dissolved as provided in this act.

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and third reading.

Senate Bill No. 115—An act to amend the Penal Code by adding thereto a new section to be numbered 349d, relating to the fraudulent sale of foreign-grown or foreign-produced walnuts.

Senate Bill No. 345—An act to amend sections 61 and 67 of an act entitled "An act to define and regulate the business of banking," approved March 1, 1909, designated the "Bank Act," relating to the definition and regulation of the business of banking.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

During second reading of bill, the following committee amendment was offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1, line 4 of the printed bill, strike out line 4 and all following it, and insert in lieu thereof, the following:

Sec. 61. Any savings bank may purchase, hold and convey real or personal property as follows:

1. The lot and building in which the business of the bank is carried on; furniture and fixtures, vaults and safe deposit vaults and boxes necessary or proper to carry on its banking business; such lot and building, furniture and fixtures, vaults and safe deposit vaults and boxes shall not, in the aggregate, be carried on the books of such bank as an asset to an amount exceeding its paid up capital and surplus; and hereafter, the authority of a two-thirds vote of all of the directors shall be necessary to authorize the purchase of such lot and building, or the construction of such building.

2. Such as may have been mortgaged, pledged or conveyed to it in trust for its benefit in good faith, for money loaned in pursuance of the regular business of the corporation.

I. A closed first mortgage or deed of trust; or

II. A first mortgage or deed of trust containing provisions restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to meet the earning requirements specified in the respective subdivisions of this paragraph applicable to such corporation after providing the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or

III. A refunding mortgage or deed of trust providing for the retirement of all prior lien mortgage debts of said corporation, and restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to meet the earning requirements specified in the respective subdivisions of this paragraph applicable to such corporation after providing the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or

IV. An underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust of property which forms a part of the operating system of the corporation then owning such property. In the case of bonds secured by an underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust, the net income required by this section shall be based exclusively upon the income, maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes, and mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust, or if such income, maintenance charges or operating expenses can not be definitely ascertained on the common proportionate share of such property in the general income, maintenance charges, operating expenses, and taxes of the corporation then owning such property, then on the mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust, provided however, that if the payment of the bonds issued by some underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust shall be guaranteed or assumed by the corporation then owning the property securing the same, such bonds shall be legal investments for savings banks, if the net income of such corporation from all sources shall equal the amount of such bonds, and notwithstanding any insufficiency of the income derived from the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust to meet the requirements of this section.

No savings bank shall purchase the bonds of any railroad corporation showing less than twenty per centum of its gross receipts from passenger revenues.

The term "railroad corporation" when used in paragraph (1) of subdivision (3) of this section shall have the meaning defined in the Public Utilities Act.

(a) Bonds of any street railroad corporation, or of any gas, water, telephone, light, power, light and power, gas, light and power, electric, telephone, telegraph, or telephone and telegraph corporation, or of any other public utility incorporated under the laws of the State of California; and

(1) Operating exclusively in the State of California, provided said corporation has had, for the period herein fixed, net earnings amounting to one and one-half times the interest on all its outstanding mortgage indebtedness; or

(2) Operating its property in part within the State of California, provided said corporation has had, for each of its two fiscal years next preceding such investment, net earnings amounting to one and one-half times the interest on all its outstanding mortgage indebtedness; or

(3) The payment of which is guaranteed, both as to principal and interest, by a public utility corporation meeting the requirements of either subdivision (1) or (2) of paragraph (a) of this section, provided that such guaranteeing corporation has had for the period required in the respective subdivisions of this paragraph relating thereto, net earnings amounting to at least one and one-half times the interest on all of said guaranteeing corporation's outstanding mortgage indebtedness, and, in addition thereto, sufficient, taken with the earnings of all corporations whose bonds it has guaranteed, to qualify as investments for savings banks, as in this section provided, all such guaranteed bonds; provided, that the excess of income of any corporation whose bonds have been so guaranteed over the amount required by this section for such corporation, shall not apply to or be included in determining the income so required.

In determining the income of any corporation specified in paragraph (a) of Subdivision (3) of this section, there shall be included the income of any corporation or corporations out of which it shall have been formed through consolidation or merger, and of any corporation the entire business and income producing property of which the corporation issuing such bonds has wholly acquired.

All bonds authorized for investment by paragraph (a) of subdivision (3) of this section must be secured by a mortgage or deed of trust which is at the time of making such investment, either

I. A closed first mortgage or deed of trust; or

II. A first mortgage or deed of trust containing provisions restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to meet the earning requirements specified in the respective subdivisions of this paragraph applicable to such corporation after including the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or

III. A refunding mortgage or deed of trust providing for the retirement of all prior lien mortgage debts of said corporation and restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to meet the earning requirements of such corporation after including the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or

IV. An underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust of property which forms a part of the operating system of the corporation then owning said property. In the case of bonds secured by an underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust, the net income required by this section shall be based exclusively upon the income, maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes and mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust or, if such income, maintenance charges or operating expenses can not be definitely ascertained, on the proper proportionate share of such property in the general income, maintenance charges, operating expenses and taxes of the corporation then owning such property and on the mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust; provided, however, that if the payment of the bonds secured by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust shall be guaranteed or assumed by the corporation then owning the property securing the same, such bonds shall be legal investments for savings banks, if the net income of such corporation from all sources shall equal the amount herein required, notwithstanding any insufficiency of the income derived from the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust to meet the requirements of this section.

The terms, "street railroad corporation," "pipe line corporation," "gas corporation," "electrical corporation," "telephone corporation," "telegraph corporation," "water corporation," and "public utility," when used in paragraph (g) of subdivision (3) of this section, shall each have the meaning defined in the "Public Utilities Act."

(b) Notes or bonds secured by first mortgage or deed of trust or other first lien upon real estate, improved or unimproved; provided, that the entire note or bond issue shall not exceed sixty per centum of the market value of such real estate, or such real estate with improvements, taken as security; and provided, further, in case the said note or bond issue is created for a building loan on real estate, that at no time shall the entire outstanding note or bond issue exceed sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate and the actual cost of the improvements thereon taken as security.

In determining the market value of any real estate under the provisions of paragraph (b) subdivision (3) of this section where such real estate, improved or unimproved, consists of oil or other mineral or timber land, the value represented by such oil or other mineral or timber shall not be included in fixing such market value. Nothing herein contained shall prevent savings banks from making loans secured by mortgage or deed of trust upon lands wherein redwood timber is included in fixing the market value thereof.

(i) Collateral trust bonds or notes when secured by either:

(1) Deposit of bonds authorized for investment by this section of a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued; or

(2) Deposit of bonds authorized for investment by this section and other securities of a combined market value at least twenty per centum in excess of the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued; provided, that the par value of said collateral trust bonds or notes shall in no case exceed the market value of that portion of the security represented by bonds authorized for investment by this section.

(3) Deposit of any notes or bonds authorized for investment by this section and other securities of a combined market value of at least thirty per centum in excess of the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued; provided, that the par value of such collateral trust bonds or notes issued shall in no case exceed the market value of that portion of the security represented by notes or bonds authorized for investment by this section; provided, further, that the collateral pledged consist of bonds authorized for investment by this section of the market value of at least seventy-five per centum of the par value of such collateral trust bonds or notes issued.

(j) Bonds legal for investment by savings banks in the states of New York or Massachusetts; provided, however, that as to bonds of the character specified in paragraph (c) of subdivision (3) of this section, such bonds shall also conform to the requirements of such paragraph.

(k) Notes or bonds secured by mortgage or deed of trust, payment of which is guaranteed by a policy of mortgage insurance, and mortgage participation certificates, issued by a mortgage insurance company in accordance with the provisions of chapter eight of title two of part four of division first of the Civil Code.

"Net earnings" as used in this section shall be deemed to mean the amount remaining after deducting from the gross earnings all taxes, maintenance charges and operating expenses except depreciation charges, sinking fund charges and interest on indebtedness.

Unless herein otherwise expressly provided the period for which any corporation must have "net earnings" sufficient to qualify its bonds as an investment for savings banks under this section shall be either the fiscal year of such corporation next preceding the investment therein by any savings bank or twelve consecutive months in the fourteen months next preceding such investment.

No notes, bonds, or other securities shall be deemed to come within or conform to the requirements of either of paragraphs (f), (g), (h), or (i) of subdivision (3) of this section, unless such notes, bonds or other securities shall, in the manner provided in this act, have been certified by the superintendent of banks to come within and fully conform to the requirements of one or the other of said paragraphs: provided, however, that any bank may, without such certification by the superintendent of banks, purchase any note or bond or issue of notes or bonds provided for in said paragraph (h), whenever such purchase constitutes the entire amount of notes or bonds executed by the makers thereof and secured by the same real estate, and provided, further, that notes, bonds or other securities, the payment of which is secured by any mortgage or deed of trust executed on or before September 1, 1913, and now owned by any savings bank in this state, if otherwise in full conformity with the requirements of this section, need not be so certified by the superintendent of banks, in order to be legal as investments for savings banks.

The legality of investments heretofore lawfully made pursuant to the provisions of this section, or of any law of this state as it existed on and subsequent to July 1, 1909, shall not be affected by any amendments to this section or this act; nor shall any such amendments require the changing of investments once lawfully made under this act.

Any bonds authorized by this section as a legal investment for savings banks may be carried on the books of said bank at their investment value, based on their market value at the time they were originally bought, unless the superintendent of banks shall require any or all of the bonds which may thereafter have a market value less than the original investment value to be written down to such new market value which shall be done gradually if practicable and in such manner as he may determine; or he may, by a plan of amortization to be determined by him, require such gradual extinction of premium as will bring such bonds to par at maturity.

No savings bank shall hereafter purchase or loan money upon any bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, issued by any "public utility," subject to the jurisdiction, regulation or control of the railroad commission of this state under the provisions of the "public utilities act," approved December 23, 1911, and acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, unless each such bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness was either:

(a) Issued prior to the taking effect of the "public utilities act"; or

(b) Issued under authority of the railroad commission, in accordance with the provisions of said act; or

(c) A note issued for a period not exceeding twelve months, in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (b) of section fifty two of said act.

No provision of this act, and no act or deed, done or performed under or in connection therewith, and no finding made or certificate issued under any provision thereof, shall be held or construed to obligate the State of California to pay, or be liable for the payment of, or to guarantee in any manner whatsoever, the regularity or the validity of the issuance of any stock or bond certificate, or bond, note, or other evidence of indebtedness certified under any provision of this act, by the superintendent of banks.

It shall not be lawful for any individual, firm, association, bank, trust company, stock company, copartnership or corporation to advertise by newspaper or circular or in any other manner that any securities are legal investments for savings banks in this state or to use any advertisement which might lead the public to believe that any securities conform to the requirements of law relating to investments by savings banks unless such securities are such as are specified in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (j), or (k) of subdivision (3) of this section or shall, in the manner provided in this act, have been certified by the superintendent of banks to come within and fully conform to the requirements of one or the other of paragraphs (f), (g), (h), or (i) of subdivision (3) of this section or unless such advertisement shall have been approved in writing by the superintendent of banks prior to publishing, circulating or otherwise issuing the same. Any individual, firm, association, bank, trust company, stock company, copartnership or corporation who shall advertise any securities in violation of the provisions of this paragraph shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Sec. 2. Section sixty-one a of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 61a. The superintendent of banks shall have power, when any issue of bonds or securities is presented to him for that purpose, to investigate and ascertain whether such bonds or securities come within and fully conform to all the requirements of paragraphs (f), (g), (h), or (i) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act, or of either of said paragraphs. He may also investigate and ascertain for what period of time, and upon what conditions, any franchise granted to or held by any corporation issuing any such bonds or securities will remain in force, and any other facts or conditions bearing upon the value or sufficiency of such bonds. The superintendent of banks may accept and act upon the opinions and appraisements of any attorneys, engineers, or appraisers which may be presented by such person or corporation so applying, and the reports of any of the executive officers of the corporation issuing such bonds or securities, on any question of fact concerning or affecting such bonds or securities, the security thereof, the franchise conditions herein mentioned, or the financial condition of the corporation issuing the same. In lieu of or in addition to such opinions, appraisements and reports, the superintendent of banks may, if he deems proper, have any or all such matters passed upon and certified to him by attorneys, engineers, appraisers or accountants of his own selection at the expense of the applicant. If the superintendent of banks shall find from such investigation that the bonds or securities so presented come within and fully conform to all the requirements of any of said paragraphs of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act, and is satisfied from such investigation as to such franchise conditions, he shall so certify unless for any reason he shall be of the opinion that such bonds are not a safe or proper investment for savings banks, and in such event or if such bonds shall fail to meet the requirements of this act such certificate must be refused. The superintendent of banks also shall have power to investigate and ascertain the status and sufficiency as investments for savings banks of any bonds specified in paragraph (c) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act. If upon such investigation it shall be determined in the opinion of the superintendent of banks that any bonds specified in said paragraph (c) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act constitute a proper investment for savings banks he shall so certify.

Any certificate issued by the superintendent of banks under authority of the provisions of this section may be revoked at any time in his discretion. Any certificate issued in relation to notes or bonds specified in paragraphs (f), (g), or (i) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act shall expire not later than three months after the end of the then current fiscal year of the corporation issuing such notes or bonds.

The actual expense of investigating any issue of bonds or securities so presented shall be paid by the person, district or corporation presenting the same for investigation, and the superintendent of banks, before making such investigation, may require a cash deposit of such amount as he may deem necessary to cover such expense. The superintendent of banks shall keep an official list of all bonds and securities certified by him.

SEC. 3. Section sixty-seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 67. 1. No savings bank shall loan money except on adequate security of real or personal property, and no such loan shall be made for a period longer than ten years. No such loan shall be made on unsecured notes; provided, that a savings bank may discount or purchase bankers' acceptances of which the acceptor is a bank or trust company having a paid in capital of one million dollars. Said bankers' acceptances shall be bills of exchange of the kind and character defined and made eligible under the federal reserve act and the then current regulation of the federal reserve board for discount or for purchase in the open market by a federal reserve bank; provided, however, that no savings bank shall at any time acquire by discount or purchase an amount of such bankers' acceptances greater than five per centum of its deposits nor shall any savings bank acquire, directly or indirectly, by discount or purchase, any such bankers' acceptances from any one acceptor in an amount which shall exceed five per centum of the capital and surplus of such bank; and provided, that a savings bank may discount or purchase a bill which must comply with the following requirements:

(a) It must be a bill issued by a solvent individual or firm or corporation engaged in mercantile or manufacturing business in the United States that makes statements of its condition duly ascertained and certified to by a certified public accountant. Copy of such a certified statement shall be on file in the office of the savings bank discounting or purchasing such bill in a file maintained for such purpose. Said statement shall have been issued within the preceding twelve months and shall consist of a balance sheet showing quick assets, slow assets, permanent or fixed assets, current liabilities and accounts, short term loans, long term loans, capital and surplus. Accompanying said balance sheet shall be a copy of a statement from the borrower concerning the following:

(1) The nature of the business.
 (2) All contingent liabilities such as endorsements or guarantees.
 (3) Particulars respecting any mortgage debts and whether there is any lien on current assets.

(4) The maximum and minimum liabilities of the individual, firm or corporation during the twelve months previous to the date of audit.

(b) It must be issued by an individual, firm or corporation whose net worth is not less than two and one-half times the amount of its outstanding liabilities.

nor less than two hundred thousand dollars. The quick assets of said individual, firm or corporation, consisting of merchandise, finished, raw, and in the process of manufacture, accounts receivable, bills receivable and cash, shall not be less than two times its outstanding quick liabilities as shown by said statement.

(c) It must have a maturity of not more than six months.

(d) It must have arisen out of actual commercial transactions; that is, be a bill which has been issued or drawn for industrial or commercial purposes or the proceeds of which have been or are to be used for such purpose.

No bill shall be eligible for discount or purchase by a savings bank, the proceeds of which have been used or are to be used for any of the following purposes:

(1) For permanent or fixed investments of any kind such as lands, buildings, machinery, including therein additions, alterations or other permanent improvements except such as are properly to be regarded as costs of operation.

(2) For investments of a merely speculative character whether made in goods or otherwise.

(3) Must not have been issued for carrying or trading in stocks, bonds or other investment securities.

(4) Must not be a bill of any individual, firm or corporation which has under pledge or hypothecation any of its personal assets, or which has any contingent liability arising from the rediscount of bills receivable, or from accommodation endorsements of such individual, firm, or corporation.

The word "bill" when used in this section shall be construed to include notes, drafts or bills of exchange and the word "goods" shall be construed to include goods, wares or merchandise.

Any savings bank purchasing or discounting such paper shall have in a file maintained for the purpose, letters from banks and merchants or mercantile reports bearing upon the credit and standing of the person, firm, copartnership or corporation whose paper is under discount.

No savings bank shall at any time acquire by discount or purchase an amount of such commercial paper greater than five per centum of its deposits nor shall any savings bank acquire, directly or indirectly, by discount or purchase, any such commercial paper of any one person, firm, copartnership or corporation in an amount which shall exceed five per centum of the capital and surplus of such bank.

2. No savings bank shall invest or loan an amount greater than fifty per centum of its actual paid-up capital and surplus on any one bond issue of the class specified in paragraph (b) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act, nor more than five per centum of its assets on any one bond issue of any other class, except bonds of the United States, of the State of California, bonds for which the faith and credit of the United States or of the State of California are pledged, or bonds of any county, city and county, city or school district in this state, or bonds of any irrigation district such as are legal for investment by savings banks.

3. No savings bank shall loan money:

(a) On bonds of the character specified in paragraph (a), (b), (c), and (d) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act, or on bonds of the character specified in paragraph (e) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act the principal and interest of which are to be paid in whole or in part by taxes levied upon the property in the district issuing such bonds, unless such bonds shall have a market value at least ten per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(b) On bonds of the character specified in paragraphs (f) and (g) or on bonds or notes of the character specified in paragraph (h) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act, or on bonds of the character specified in paragraph (c) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act other than those specified in the preceding paragraph of this section, unless such bonds or notes shall have a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(c) On bonds legal for investment by savings banks in the states of New York or Massachusetts, unless such bonds shall have a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(d) On personal property unless such personal property shall have a market value at least fifty per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(e) On other bonds, or on the capital stock of any corporation, unless such bonds or stock shall have a market value at least fifty per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; provided, however, that no loan shall be made upon the capital stock of any bank unless such bank has been in existence at least two years and has earned and paid a dividend on its capital stock.

4. No savings bank shall make any loan on the security of real estate, except it be a first lien, and in no event to exceed sixty per centum of the market value of any real estate taken as security except for the purpose of facilitating the sale of property owned by such savings bank; provided, that a second lien may be accepted to secure the repayment of a debt previously contracted in good faith; and provided, also, that any savings bank holding a first mortgage or deed of trust on real estate may take or purchase and hold or loan upon another and immediately subsequent mortgage or deed of trust thereon, but all such loans shall not exceed in the aggregate sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate securing the same; provided, further, that a savings bank may loan not to exceed ninety per centum of the face value of a note or bond secured by a first mortgage or deed of trust on real estate, but in no event shall any such loan exceed ninety per centum of sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate covered by said mortgage or deed of trust.

5. No savings bank shall loan to any one borrower on the security of the capital stock of any corporation an amount exceeding ten per centum of the capital stock and surplus of such savings bank; provided, that all loans on the capital stock of any one corporation shall not exceed in the aggregate twenty-five per centum of the capital stock and surplus of such savings bank. No savings bank shall purchase, invest or loan its capital, surplus or the money of its depositors, or any part of either, in mining shares or stock.

Any president or managing officer who knowingly consents to a violation of any provision of this section shall be guilty of a felony.

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and third reading.

THIRD READING OF SENATE BILLS, ETC.—(OUT OF ORDER).

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 26—A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of said State by adding to Article XX thereof a new section, to be numbered section 22, relative to health insurance.

Resolution read.

AMENDMENT FROM FLOOR.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Strike out all of the printed bill after the enacting clause and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SECTION 1. Section three thousand four hundred eighty of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3480. Whenever in any reclamation district in this state, now formed or which may hereafter be formed, any assessment has been levied and assessed upon the lands of said district, and remains unpaid in whole or in part, where in the judgment and opinion of the board of trustees of said district it would be for the best interest of said district or the landowners therein to issue bonds for the purpose of obtaining money to pay the costs of reclamation, the indebtedness of the district, or any other legal charge, or when a petition signed by the owners of more than one-half of the land in the district is filed with the secretary of the board, the board of trustees of such district shall by order entered upon the records of said board, order a special election to be held at some place in said district to be designated by said board of trustees, at which said special election shall be submitted to the owners of land in said district the question of whether or not bonds of said district shall be issued in an amount equal to the amount of such assessment, or the part of such assessment remaining unpaid, which said amount shall be entered by said board of trustees in its records and stated by them in the order for such special election.

For all purposes of this article relating to signing petitions and by-laws and voting at any election of reclamation districts the last assessment list of the said reclamation district on the equalized assessment roll for the year last preceding, in each county wherein any land of the district is situated shall be sufficient evidence of ownership and of value of lands in the district as hereinafter provided. Guardians, executors, administrators and other persons holding land in a trust capacity under appointment of court may sign such petitions or by-laws or may vote without obtaining special authority therefor.

Notice of such special election must be given by the board of trustees by posting notices thereof in at least three public places in the district at least twenty-one days prior thereto, and also by publication for the same length of time in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any portion of said district may be situated; and such notice must specify the time and place of holding such election, the aggregate face value of bonds proposed to be issued and the names of three landholders of the district to act as a board of election. Affidavits of the publication and posting of such notice must be filed with the county clerk of the county in which said district or the greater part thereof is situated (therein designated as the main county), together with a copy of said order calling the election, certified by the president of the board of trustees.

At such election each owner of lands in the district shall be entitled to vote in person or by proxy and shall have the right to cast one vote for each dollar's worth of real estate owned by him in the district, such value and ownership thereof to be determined from the next preceding assessment roll of the county or counties in which the lands of said district are situate, and the board of trustees of the district shall, prior to the election, cause to be prepared and certified by the proper officer and furnished to the board of election, a true and correct copy of the said next preceding assessment roll of the said county or counties, which said certified roll shall be used by the said board of election in determining the number of votes each voter is entitled to cast. Executors, administrators, special administrators and guardians may cast the votes of the estates represented by them.

No person shall vote by proxy at such election unless authority to cast such vote shall be evidenced by an instrument in writing, duly acknowledged and certified in the same manner as grants of real property and filed with the board of election. The ballots cast at such election shall contain the words: "Bonds, yes," or the words "Bonds, no," and also the name of the person casting the ballot with the number of votes cast by him. A list of the ballots cast shall be made by the board of election, containing the name of each voter, and, if the ballot be cast by proxy, the name of the person casting it, and the number of votes cast by each, and whether the same be cast for or against the issuing of the bonds.

If any person appointed as a member of the board of election shall fail to attend at the opening of the polls, the voters then present may appoint in his place any landholder of the district. Each member of such board of election, must, before entering upon his duties take and subscribe an official oath, which oath may be administered by an officer authorized to administer oaths or by any landholder in the district. The polls shall be kept open from ten o'clock a.m. of the day of election until four o'clock p.m. At the close of the polls the board of election shall at once proceed to canvass the votes and declare the result and shall forward a certificate showing such result and the number of votes cast for and against issuing of bonds, to the county clerk of the main county, and shall deliver a duplicate thereof to the board of trustees of the district, and shall also deliver to the said county clerk of the main county all ballots cast at such election and all documents and papers used at such election. Any person interested may contest such election within twenty days after such filing of said certificate with the said county clerk by bringing suit in the superior court of the main county; otherwise the declaration of the result by the board of election shall be final and conclusive.

If a majority of the votes cast at such election are in favor of the issuance of bonds, the board of trustees of the district shall cause bonds in the amount stated in the order for the election to be executed and delivered, together with the assessment list, to the treasurer of said main county. Said bonds shall be of the denomination of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each; they shall be signed by the president of the board of trustees of the district and attested by the county auditor of said main county, and shall be numbered consecutively in the order of their maturity, and shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum, payable semiannually on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year at the office of said county treasurer upon the presentation of the proper coupons therefor. Coupons for each installment of interest shall be attached to said bonds and shall bear the facsimile signature of the county auditor. The principal of said bonds shall be made payable on the first day of July, or the first day of January, and in such years as the trustees may prescribe, but said bonds shall be payable serially within twenty years from their date in the manner following, to wit:

(1) Not less than ten per centum of the aggregate face value of bonds issued shall be payable within ten years from their date.

(2) Not less than ten per centum of the aggregate face value of bonds remaining unpaid at the end of ten years shall be payable each year beginning with the eleventh year from their date, until the whole amount of said bonds has been paid. Said bonds shall be substantially in the following form:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

COUNTY OF _____

No. _____ Denomination _____

RECLAMATION DISTRICT No. _____

Reclamation District No. _____, for value received hereby acknowledges itself indebted to and promises to pay to the holder hereof at the office of the treasurer of said _____ county, in the State of California, on the first day of _____ 19____, the sum of $ _____, in gold coin of the United States of America, with interest thereon in like gold coin from date hereof until paid, at the rate of _____ per cent, per annum, payable at the office of said treasurer semiannually on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year on presentation and surrender of the interest coupons hereto attached. This bond is one of a series of _____ bonds of like tenor and effect, except as to denomination and maturity, numbered from _____ to _____ inclusive, amounting in the aggregate to _____ thousand dollars, issued in accordance with section three thousand four hundred eighty of the Political Code of the State of California pursuant to an election held in said reclamation district on the _____ day of _____, 19____, authorizing its issuance, and is based upon and secured by an assessment levied on the lands in said district, and filed in the office of the county treasurer of said county of _____ on the _____ day of _____, 19____, and the said reclamation district does hereby certify and declare that said election was duly called and held upon due notice, and the result thereof was duly canvassed and ascertained, in pursuance of and in strict conformity with the laws of the State of California applicable thereto, and that all of the acts and conditions and things required by law to be done, precedent to and in the issue of said bonds have been done and have been performed in regular and in due form and in strict accordance with the provisions of the law authorizing the issuance of reclamation bonds.

In testimony whereof, the said district, by its board of trustees, has caused this bond to be signed by the president of said board and attested by the auditor of said county of _____ with his seal of office affixed this _____ day of _____, 19____.

President of said board.

Attest: _____

Auditor of the county of _____ State of California.

And the interest coupons may be substantially in the following form:

No. _____ $ _____
The county treasurer of _____ county, California, will pay to the holder hereof on the _____ day of _____, 19____, at his office in said county of _____ the sum of $ _____ in gold coin of the United States out of the funds of Reclamation District No. _____ for interest on bond of said district numbered _____.

County auditor.

The treasurer of said main county shall place the bonds prepared pursuant to this act to the credit of the district. Thereafter when directed by resolution of the trustees of the district, the treasurer of said county may sell the whole or any designated number of said bonds for the best price obtainable therefor, but in no event for less than ninety per cent of the face value of said bonds and the accrued interest thereon. Before making a sale of said bonds, notice shall be given by the said county treasurer by publication at least once a week for two weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in said main county, that he will sell a specified amount of said bonds, and stating the day, hour and place of such sale, and asking sealed proposals for the purchase of said bonds, or any part thereof. At the time appointed the county treasurer shall open the bids and award the bonds to the highest responsible bidder. He may, and upon written request of a majority of the trustees must, reject any and all bids. Any sale by the county treasurer and delivery of the bonds thereunder shall be conclusive evidence in favor of the purchaser and all subsequent holders of the bonds that such sale was made upon due authority and notice. The proceeds of sale of said bonds shall be placed in the county treasury to the credit of said district, and a proper record of such transaction shall be made upon the books of said county treasurer. At any time within thirty days after said bonds shall have been delivered to the treasurer of the county, an action may be commenced in the superior court of said main county by the trustees of said reclamation district in its name against the lands in said district and all persons owning the same or interested therein, to have it determined that said bonds are a legal obligation of such reclamation district, and in the event no such action is brought then the same may be commenced by any landowner in the district within thirty days thereafter. It shall be sufficient to describe said lands as all lands in the district (naming it) without a more specific description. The summons shall be published once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending. Within thirty days after the first publication of summons any owner of land in such district, or any person interested, may appear and answer the complaint, which answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of said bonds. The default of all defendants not so appearing may be entered. Such action shall be given precedence in hearing and trial over all other civil actions in such court, and judgment rendered declaring such matter so contested either valid or invalid. Any party not in default may have the right to appeal to the supreme court within thirty days after entry of judgment. Judgment for the plaintiff in such proceedings shall be considered as a judgment in rem and shall be conclusive against said district and against all lands therein and all owners thereof and other interested persons.

The board of trustees of said district may draw warrants upon the said county treasurer against the funds provided by sale of bonds, which said warrants shall be approved by the board of supervisors of said main county.

All moneys collected by any county treasurer upon any assessment upon which bonds shall have been issued, including all moneys derived from sale of land for delinquent installments, or from redemption thereof, or from sale of lands bought by the treasurer at any such sale, shall be by such treasurer forthwith paid into the main county treasury to the credit of the bond fund of such reclamation district, and shall be used exclusively for the payment of principal and interest of said bonds issued on such assessment.

The bonds of reclamation districts issued pursuant to this act may be lawfully purchased, or received in pledge for loans by banks, trust companies, insurance companies, guardians, executors, administrators and special administrators, or by any public officer or officers of this state or of any county, city or county or other municipal or corporate body within this state having or holding funds which they are allowed by law to invest or loan.

If the trustees deem it advisable they may order a special election to be held prior to making an assessment, to determine whether or not bonds shall be issued for an amount to be stated in the order for such election, but no bonds shall, in such instance, be issued until an assessment for the amount of the bonds authorized at such election shall have been made and filed with the county treasurer.

The lien of any unpaid assessment upon which bonds shall have been issued shall continue until all said bonds shall have been paid in full, and if for any reason any part of such principal or interest of said bonds shall remain unpaid after enforcement of said assessment as in this article provided, the board of supervisors of the main county shall order an additional or supplemental assessment to be made as provided in section three thousand four hundred fifty nine, sufficient to pay such unpaid principal and interest; which additional or supplemental assessment shall be enforced and collected in the same manner as the original assessment.

If any district having authorized the issuance of a series of bonds shall issue an additional series of bonds based on another assessment, the dates of maturity of such additional series of bonds shall be such that the latest maturities thereof shall not exceed thirty years and the earliest maturity of bonds of such additional series shall be later than the latest maturity of bonds of any earlier series. All provisions of this section relative to the original issue of bonds shall apply to such additional series of bonds so far as applicable and also so far as applicable shall affect existing reclamation districts as well as those hereafter formed.

Any district which has issued bonds of different denominations, may, by an order entered in its minutes, upon request of holders thereof, and upon the deposit of the bonds issued and outstanding with the board of trustees, issue to the holders of such deposited bonds, bonds of the district in the same form but in different denominations, but having the same aggregate face value and maturity. Such bonds shall be executed by all of the persons who are required by law to execute the original bonds for which such exchange is made, and the said bonds so deposited shall be the same as canceled by the treasurer of the main county and the board of trustees of the district.

Whenever in any reclamation district in the state a bond issue of said district has been authorized prior to this amendment then the provisions of this section hereby amended in respect to the manner of procedure by which the assessments are called in to meet payments on account of principal or interest of such bonds, and also the provision herein contained by which the assessment shall continue in full force and effect as constituting a lien upon the several tracts of land within said district under the provisions of section three thousand four hundred sixty-three of this code until the principal and interest of all bonds issued on the basis of said assessment shall have been paid in full, shall apply to and inure to the benefit of the bonds which may have been issued by any reclamation district in this state prior to the date of the enactment of this amendment.

Upon a sale of any of the bonds provided herein the county treasurer of the main county is hereby authorized to accept in payment for said bonds, either in whole or in part, outstanding warrants of such district at their face value, together with the accrued interest thereon.

Where bonds of the district have been authorized to be issued on such assessments the treasurer shall at the end of said period of thirty days make entry upon said list of all such assessments which have been paid, and thereafter all unpaid assessments shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum until the bonds issued thereon shall have been fully paid and discharged, and the interest due at any time on said unpaid assessments may be called without calling any installment of the said assessment. The word installment as used in this section shall be construed as applying to interest as well as the principal as the case may be.

The amount, in excess of the fund in the treasury applicable thereto, necessary to pay the installment of interest and of principal due each year thereafter until all of said bonds have been paid shall be due and payable ninety days before each of the interest payment dates hereinbefore mentioned. And in addition thereto there shall be due and payable fifteen per cent of the amount thereof to cover possible delinquencies, which shall be due and payable and shall be collected and paid into the bond fund, together with the amounts herein provided for. Such installment, together with such additional amount of fifteen per cent, shall be delinquent thirty days thereafter. The county treasurer of each county wherein lands of the district are situate shall collect all of said amounts when and as the same are due and payable and shall place the same in the bond fund to be disbursed in the manner hereinafter provided. Said county treasurer shall thereupon cause to be published once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in said county a notice substantially in the following form:

(Name of reclamation district.) Notice is hereby given that an installment of assessment (describing it) of (amount or proportion thereof including interest thereon or only for interest) is payable within thirty days from (date) by all assessed landowners of said district in the county of (name of county) to the treasurer of said county. All or any part of said installment or interest which shall remain unpaid on the (day fixed) will be delinquent, together with accrued interest thereon, with twenty per cent of such installment and interest added as penalty.

Dated (date).

(Signed)

Treasurer of _____ county.

If no newspaper is published in said county, such publication shall be made in a newspaper published in an adjoining county. If any part of such installment or any interest thereon shall remain unpaid at the expiration of thirty days from the date of said order, it shall become delinquent and twenty per cent of the unpaid amount of said installment and interest shall be added thereto and collected by said treasurer. When any installment shall have become delinquent, said treasurer shall within ten days publish once a week for two weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in said county (or if no newspaper is published therein, then in a newspaper published in an adjoining county), a notice containing a description of each parcel of land assessed in the district in said county wherein such installment is delinquent, as such description appears on the assessment list, the name of the person to whom it is assessed, to unknown owners if such is the fact; the amount of the installment delinquent on such parcel, the amount of interest thereon reckoned to the day of sale, the amount of said twenty per cent penalty thereon, and a notice that each of said parcels will be sold at public auction by said county treasurer in front of the courthouse of said county, at a specified day and hour which shall not be less than thirty days nor more than sixty days from the date of delinquency, to pay said delinquent installment, with said accrued interest and penalty. At the time stated in said notice, the county treasurer shall sell each parcel of land described in said notice to the highest bidder, unless prior thereto he shall have received payment in full of said delinquent installment together with such interest and penalty. No bid for any parcel shall be accepted less than the aggregate sum then due on said installment thereon, with interest and penalty, and such sale shall be made for cash (except the treasurer may receive from any purchaser at their face value in lieu of cash, bonds of said district or their interest coupons, issued on said assessment and then matured or to mature within sixty days after such sale). Any bond or coupon so received in payment shall be by the treasurer forthwith canceled and filed in the office of the treasurer of the county wherein the greater part of the land of the district is situated, hereinafter called the main county. If the entire amount of any such bond or coupon tendered in payment shall not be required to complete payment of the purchase money, the treasurer shall endorse thereon as paid, the amount of such purchase money credited thereon. If no bid is made for any parcel at such sale equal to the amount of the installment delinquent thereon, with interest and penalty, the treasurer shall bid in and sell said parcel to himself and his successors in office, as trustee of the bond fund of said district, as purchaser, for the amount of said installment, interest and penalty. The treasurer shall execute to each purchaser, including himself as trustee, a certificate of sale, and shall record a duplicate in the county recorder's office. Any person interested in the said property may redeem the same at any time within one year after the date of sale, by paying to the county treasurer for such purchaser a sum equal to the purchase price stated in the certificate, with interest thereon at the rate of twelve per cent per annum from the date of sale to such redemption. If no redemption shall be made within one year, the treasurer upon demand and surrender of such certificate of purchase, shall execute to the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, a deed of conveyance of the parcel of land described in such certificate, which deed shall convey to the grantee therein named the said land free and clear of all encumbrances, except state, county and municipal taxes, and except any portion of any reclamation assessment remaining unpaid at the date of said sale; each installment whereof may be called and collected as herein provided, except that no parcel sold and conveyed to the district shall thereafter be subject to sale by the treasurer for delinquent installments. Every deed by a county treasurer purporting to be executed under this section shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of the matters therein recited, and of ownership by the grantee of the lands therein described. The treasurer of the main county shall credit to the bond fund of the district all money collected by him by sale or otherwise, upon assessments against which bonds shall have been issued, including interest and penalties, and all moneys received by him from treasurers of other counties upon account of such assessments, and he shall likewise credit to said fund the amounts of purchase money paid in bonds or coupons on sales made for said assessment by himself or reported to him by any other treasurer. Each treasurer shall charge to the general fund of the district, or to its bond fund if he has no money to the credit of its general fund, the expense of publication of notices and of recording certificates of sale. The treasurer of any county other than the main county shall without delay account for and transmit to the treasurer of the main county all money collected by him upon any assessment by sale or otherwise, deducting his expenses of publication and recording and shall also transmit all canceled bonds and coupons received in payment on any delinquent sale, and a memorandum of all sums endorsed as paid upon account of purchase money on any bonds or coupons, specifying the same. All moneys collected by any treasurer upon account of an assessment on which bonds shall not have been issued shall be similarly accounted for and transmitted to the treasurer of the main county, and shall be credited by him to the general fund of the district. Any parcel of land bid in and purchased by a treasurer as aforesaid, as trustee of the bond fund of the district, may be sold and conveyed by him or his successor in office at any time after the expiration of said redemption period of one year, at public or private sale and with or without notice, to any person paying him the amount for which said parcel was bid in by said treasurer at delinquent sale, with interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum, compounded yearly, from the date of said delinquent sale, and also the amount of all subsequent installments then delinquent, with accrued interest and penalties thereon. Such payment may be made either in cash or in matured bonds and coupons issued on said assessment, taken at their face value, and the treasurer shall execute a deed to such purchaser upon such sale, conveying said property free of encumbrance except state, county and municipal taxes, and the unpaid balance of said assessment. If any land so held by a county treasurer as trustee of the bond fund of a district shall remain unsold after the final installment of the assessment shall have been collected by payment or sale, then each such treasurer shall sell all said land so held by him at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, upon two weeks published notice, and shall deposit the proceeds of such sale in the treasury of the main county, to the credit of the bond fund of the district. Any balance remaining in such bond fund, after payment in full of the principal and interest of all outstanding bonds of the district, shall be by the treasurer transferred to the general fund of the district.

In the event that ownership of any property in the district is changed after the making of the last assessment roll for the district, the owner thereof shall be entitled to vote thereon upon production of the original or of certified copy of the record thereof in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property is situate. Any person not legally qualified to vote who shall make any false statement in respect to his right to vote shall incur all of the penalties provided in the Penal Code of the State of California for persons illegally voting at elections.

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and third reading.

Senate Bill No. 731.—An act to amend sections 3446, 3447, 3449, 3452, 3453, 3454, 3455, 3456, 3457, 3459, 3460, 3462, 3463, 3465, 3466 and 3491, and to repeal sections 3467 and 3468, of the Political Code, and relating to swamp and overflowed, salt marsh and tidelands.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS

During second reading of bill, the following committee amendments were offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 4 of the printed bill, in line 12, after the word "district" insert the words "or a duly authorized representative of a corporation which is an owner of record."

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 5 of the printed bill, strike out lines 36 and 37, and on page 6 of the printed bill, strike out lines 1, 2 and 3, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

(4) To receive from the reclamation board any money allowed on account of uncollected assessments previously levied on lands purchased by said board for rights of way, and to distribute said money among the landowners of said district in proportion to their payments on the last assessment roll or place the same in the county treasury to the credit of said district.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE.

On page 6 of the printed bill, strike out lines 4 to 20, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

(5) To create by order duly entered in the minutes of the board of trustees a revolving fund. No warrant for creation or replenishment of this fund shall be paid by the county treasurer unless a bond in double the amount of said fund, signed by the members of the board of trustees with sureties and conditioned as security for the safety and proper disbursement of said fund, approved by the board of supervisors, shall be on file with the county treasurer. Said fund shall be disbursed by checks or drafts, signed by at least two members of the board of trustees or some person by unanimous vote of the board of trustees authorized to do so. The board of trustees shall within thirty days after any payment from this fund file the vouchers therefor in the office of the county treasurer retaining a duplicate thereof in the office of the secretary of the board of trustees. The board of trustees shall have authority by order entered in the minutes of said board to issue warrants for the creation and replenishment of said fund. No warrant for the replenishment of said fund shall be approved by the board of supervisors or paid by the county treasurer, except to the extent that proper vouchers for previous legal disbursements from said fund have been filed with the county treasurer as hereinbefore provided. Said fund shall not exceed the sum of two thousand dollars. The order creating said revolving fund must receive the unanimous vote of the board of trustees.

Any landowner within the district may maintain an action for the benefit and in behalf of the reclamation district in the superior court of the county in which the district, or any part thereof is situated against any member or members of the board of trustees for any improper disbursement of the funds of the district made with his or their consent and also against the members of the board of trustees and their sureties upon the said bond for any improper disbursement from said revolving fund.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR.

On page 9 of the printed bill, strike out all of line 11, after the word "transacted", and all of lines 12 and 13.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE.

On page 9 of the printed bill, strike out lines 16 to 36, inclusive, and on page 10 of the printed bill, strike out lines 1, 2 and 3, and insert in lieu thereof the following: 3455. The board of trustees of any reclamation district must report to the board of supervisors of the county within which the district, or the greater part thereof, is situate, by filing with the county clerk of said county, two copies of the original plan or plans of the works of reclamation and two copies of every new, supplemental, or additional plan, if any, together with the estimates of the cost of the contemplated works of the district, including incidental expenses, maintenance and repair necessary for the reclamation of the lands of the district in pursuance of any such plan or plans. The term "works of reclamation" as used in this chapter shall include not only such public works and equipment, as are necessary for the unwatering of lands in reclamation districts, but shall also include such like works as may be necessary to water or irrigate the same lands in such districts.

If and when a district is located in whole or in part within the Sacramento and San Joaquin Drainage District, the said county clerk shall, within five days after said two copies of such plans are filed with him, certify to one of said copies and transmit the same to the secretary of the reclamation board.

Upon receipt of said certified copy of said plan or plans, the secretary of the reclamation board shall immediately set a date when the reclamation board will hold a meeting for considering objections, if any, to said plans. All such hearings by the said reclamation board shall be held in the court house of the county seat of the county within which the district, or the greater part thereof is situate, not less than fifteen, nor more than sixty days after the day the secretary of the reclamation board received a certified copy of the said plans. Notice of said hearing before the said reclamation board shall be given by the secretary of said board by publishing a notice of such hearing once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published within said district, then in the county seat of the county within which the said district or the greater part thereof, is situate. Said notice shall be in substantially the following form:

"Notice to the landowners of reclamation district _____. Notice is hereby given to the landowners of reclamation district No. _____ that there has been filed with the county clerk of the county of _____ and with the secretary of the reclamation board, original (supplemental or new, as the case may be) plans for the reclamation of lands of said district; that the reclamation board will hold a meeting in the court house in the city of _____, county of _____, State of California, on the _____ day of _____, A. D. 191____, at _____ o'clock, at which time any interested party may appear and object to the said plans."

At said hearing the reclamation board shall hear such evidence as may be offered with respect to said plans, and thereafter shall approve, modify, amend or reject the said plans; provided, however, that the said reclamation board shall not have the power to modify, amend or reject any plans so submitted on the ground that said plans provide for a levee which in their judgment is of excessive strength either in height, slopes or crown width. The reclamation board shall have power to continue or adjourn the said hearing from time to time and shall have authority to cause such investigation and report of said plans to be made by the engineers connected with the reclamation board or by such other competent authority as said board shall deem necessary.

When the said reclamation board shall have taken action approving, modifying, or rejecting any such original supplemental or new plan of reclamation after a hearing as herein provided, such action shall be final, and thereafter the sufficiency of said plans shall not be subject to attack either before the reclamation board or in any court; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the board of trustees of any district from at any time filing with the county clerk of the county within which the district, or the greater part thereof, is situate, two copies of any amendatory, additional or supplemental plan of reclamation. In the event any such amendatory, additional or supplemental plan of reclamation is filed with the said clerk, a certified copy thereof shall be transmitted to the secretary of the reclamation board, who shall set the time for hearing, and thereafter the same proceedings shall be had and with like effect with respect to said amendatory, additional or supplemental plan as is herein provided for the original plan.

The said plan or plans and estimates may include any levees or other reclamation works already constructed or in course of construction and payments therefor may be made to the person or persons who constructed the same, or to the grantee of the lands for the benefit of which such levees or other works of reclamation were constructed by the owner of such lands, and no trustee shall be disqualified to make or approve such plans or estimates because of his ownership of any levee or other reclamation works included in such plan, or the cost of which is embraced in said estimates, but he shall be disqualified to vote for the issuance of any warrant or order to himself in payment therefor.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SIX.

Insert the word "construction" after the words "sum for the" in line 32, page 12, of the printed bill.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SEVEN.

On page 13 of the printed bill, in line 18, after the words "funds for" insert the word "construction".

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER EIGHT.

On page 16 of the printed bill, after line 14 insert the following:

The warrants of reclamation districts issued pursuant to this act may be lawfully purchased, or received in pledge for loans by banks, trust companies, insurance companies, guardians, executors, administrators and special administrators, or by any public officer or officers of this state or of any county, city or city and county or other municipal or corporate body within this state having or holding funds which they are allowed by law to invest or loan.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER NINE.

On page 20 of the printed bill, strike out lines 1 and 2 and insert in lieu thereof the following:

Any person may pay the amount of the charge assessed against any tract of land to the state treasury in gold coin of the United States or in warrants of the district drawn by order of the trustees thereof, and approved by the board of supervisors of the county.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TEN.

On page 20 of the printed bill, in line 5, after the word "days" insert "unless bonds shall have been authorized".

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ELEVEN.

Strike out all of section 18 of said act.

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and third reading.

Senate Bill No. 334—An act providing for reciprocal and inter-exchanges of indemnities, prescribing regulations therefor and fixing a license fee, and repealing an act entitled "An act defining certain classes of contracts for the exchange of indemnity, prescribing regulations therefor and fixing a license fee," approved December 24, 1911.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

During second reading of bill, the following committee amendment was offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1, line 1, beginning with the word "Individuals" strike out all down to and including the word "repealed" on page 5, line 6, and insert in lieu thereof:

Individuals, partnerships and corporations of this state, hereby designated subscribers, are hereby authorized to exchange reciprocal or interinsurance contracts with each other, or with individuals, partnerships and corporations of other states, territories, districts and countries, providing insurance among themselves from any loss which may be insured against under other provisions of law, except life insurance.

SEC. 2. Such contracts may be executed by an attorney, agent or other representative herein designated as attorney, duly authorized and acting for such subscribers under powers of attorney, and such attorney may be a corporation. The principal office of such attorney shall be maintained at such place as is designated by the subscribers in the power of attorney. The power of attorney may further provide for the right of substitution and revocation and impose such restrictions upon the exercise of the power granted as may be agreed upon by the subscribers, and may further provide for the exercise of any right reserved to the subscribers, directly or through a board or other body to be selected under such rules or regulations as the subscribers may adopt.

SEC. 3. Such subscribers so contracting among themselves shall, through their attorney, file with the insurance commissioner a declaration verified by the oath of such attorney, or where such attorney is a corporation, by the oath of the duly authorized officers thereof, setting forth:

(a) The name of the attorney and the name or designation under which such contracts are issued, which name or designation shall not be so similar to any name or designation adopted by any attorney or by any insurance organization in the United States writing the same class of insurance, prior to the adoption of such name or designation by the attorney, as to confuse or deceive.

(b) The location of the principal office.

(c) The kind or kinds of insurance to be effected.

(d) A copy of each form of policy, contract or agreement under or by which insurance is to be effected.

(e) A copy of the form of power of attorney under which such insurance is to be effected.

(f) That applications have been made for insurance upon at least one hundred separate risks aggregating not less than one million dollars represented by executed contracts or bona fide applications to become concurrently effective; or in case of employer's liability or workmen's compensation insurance, covering a total pay roll of not less than one million dollars.

(g) That there is in the possession of such attorney and available for the payment of losses, assets conforming to the requirements of section six hereof.

(h) A financial statement under oath in form hereinafter prescribed for the annual statement.

(i) The instrument authorizing service of process as provided for in this act.

(j) Certificates showing deposits of funds or securities.

SEC. 4. Concurrently with the filing of the declaration provided for by the terms of section three of this act, the attorney shall file with the insurance commissioner:

(a) An instrument in writing executed by him for said subscribers, conditioned that upon the issuance of certificate of authority provided for in this act, action may be brought in the county in which the property or person insured thereunder is located and service of process may be had upon the insurance commissioner in all suits in this state arising out of such policies, contracts or agreements, which service shall be valid and binding upon all subscribers exchanging at any time reciprocal or interinsurance contracts through such attorney. Three copies of such process shall be served and the insurance commissioner shall file one copy, forward one copy to said attorney by registered mail addressed to the attorney at the principal office as fixed in the certificate filed, and shall return one copy with his admission of service. A judgment rendered in any such case where service of process has been so made shall be valid and binding against any and all such subscribers as their interests appear and such judgment may be satisfied out of the funds in the possession of the attorney belonging to such subscribers or otherwise.

(b) A bond in favor of the people of the State of California, executed by the said attorney, with two sureties to be approved by the insurance commissioner, in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars, conditioned that the attorney will faithfully perform the duties imposed upon him under the said powers of attorney and faithfully account for moneys handled by him thereunder; such bond may be sued upon by any subscriber suffering loss through violation of the conditions thereof and liability thereunder may be enforced by any individual subscribers or any number of subscribers, in one and the same action; provided, however, that where the power of attorney executed by the subscribers or the rules and regulations adopted by the association for the conduct of its business thereunder, provide for the bonding of the attorney, a certified copy of the bond executed in accordance with such powers of attorney or rules and regulations, shall be filed with the insurance commissioner in lieu of any other bond required under this act.

Sec. 5. There shall be filed with the insurance commissioner by such attorney whenever the insurance commissioner shall so require, a statement under oath of such attorney showing the maximum amount of indemnity upon a single risk, and, except as to workmen's compensation insurance, no subscriber shall assume on any single risk an amount greater than ten per cent of the net worth of such subscriber where the liability assumed exceeds the amount of one premium deposit.

Sec. 6. There shall at all times be maintained as assets, a sum in cash or securities of the kind designated by the laws of the state where the principal office is located for the investment of funds of insurance companies, equal to one hundred per cent of the net unearned premiums or deposits collected and credited to the accounts of subscribers, or assets equal to fifty per cent of the net annual deposits collected and credited to the accounts of subscribers on policies having one year or less to run and pro rata on those for longer periods, in addition to which there shall be maintained as a reserve in cash or such securities, assets sufficient to discharge all liabilities on all outstanding losses arising under policies issued, the same to be calculated on the basis of net premiums or deposits as in this section defined, unless otherwise provided by law, and in accordance with the laws of the state relating to similar reserves for companies insuring similar risks.

For the purpose of computing said reserves and assets, net deposits shall be construed to mean the advance payments of subscribers after deducting therefrom the amount specifically provided in the subscribers' agreement for expense. If at any time the assets so held in cash or such securities, exclusive of loss reserves herein provided for, shall be less than required above, or be less than twenty-five thousand dollars, the subscribers, or their attorney, shall make up the deficiency within thirty days after notice from the insurance commissioner so to do.

Where the subscribers are grouped, by industries or otherwise, under any rule or agreement which exempts the funds of one group from liability, in whole or in part, for the payment of losses or expenses chargeable against other groups, each independent group must maintain the reserve herein specified and comply with the requirements of subdivision (f) of section three hereof, relative to the number and amount of risks to be assumed.

Sec. 7. Such attorney shall, within the time limited for filing the annual statement by insurance companies transacting the same kind of business, make a report, under oath, to the insurance commissioner for each calendar year, showing the financial condition of affairs at the office where such contracts are issued, and shall at any time furnish such additional information and reports as may be required; provided, however, that the attorney shall not be required to furnish the names and addresses of any subscribers except in case of an unpaid final judgment. The assets, business affairs and records of such organization, shall be subject to examination by the insurance commissioner at any reasonable time, and such examination shall be at the expense of the organization examined. The right of examination herein granted shall include the right to examine the records containing the names and addresses of the subscribers, but any information obtained therefrom shall be regarded as confidential and the disclosure thereof, except under order of court, shall constitute a breach of official duty. Where the principal office of the attorney is located in another state, the insurance commissioner may, in lieu of the examination provided for in this section, accept a certified copy of the report of examination made by the insurance department of the state where the principal office is located, or by the insurance department of any other state.

Sec. 8. Any corporation now or hereafter organized under the laws of this state shall, in addition to the rights, powers and franchises specified in its articles of incorporation, have full power and authority to enter into insurance contracts of the kind and character herein mentioned. The right to enter into such contracts is hereby declared to be incidental to the purposes for which such corporations are organized and as fully granted as the rights and powers expressly conferred.

Sec. 9. Upon compliance with the requirements of this act, the insurance commissioner shall issue a certificate of authority or a license to the attorney authorizing him to make such contracts of insurance, which license shall specify the kind or kinds of insurance to be effected and shall contain the name of the attorney, the location of the principal office and the name of the designation under which such contracts of insurance are issued. Such license shall be renewed annually upon a showing that the standard of solvency required herein has been maintained and all fees and taxes required have been paid.

Sec. 10. Any attorney who shall exchange any contracts of insurance of the kind and character specified in this act, or any attorney or representative of such attorney, who shall solicit or negotiate any applications for same without the attorney first complying with the foregoing provisions, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. For the purpose of organization, and upon issuance of permit by the insurance commissioner, powers of attorney and applications for such contracts may be solicited without compliance with the provisions of this act, but no attorney, agent or other person shall make any such contracts of insurance until all of the provisions of this act shall have been complied with.

Sec. 11. In addition to the foregoing penalties and where not otherwise provided, the penalty for failure or refusal to comply with any or all of the terms and provisions of this act, upon the part of the attorney, shall be the refusal, suspension or revocation of certificate of authority on license by the insurance commissioner after due notice and opportunity for hearing has been given such attorney so that he may appear and show cause why such action should not be taken.

Sec. 12. In lieu of all other taxes, licenses or fees whatever, state or local, such attorney shall pay annually on account of the transaction of such business in this state, the same fees as are paid by mutual companies transacting the same kind of business, and an annual tax upon the gross premiums or deposits collected from subscribers in this state during the preceding calendar year, after deducting therefrom deposit returns or cancellations, consideration for reinsurance and all amounts returned to subscribers or credited to their accounts as savings; such tax to be computed at the same rate as fixed by law for the taxation of mutual companies transacting the same kind of business.

Sec. 13. The attorney may insert in any form of policy prescribed by the laws of this state any provisions or conditions required by the plan of reciprocal or inter-insurance provided that same shall not be inconsistent with or in conflict with any law of this state. Such policy in lieu of conforming to the language and form prescribed by such law shall be held to conform thereto in substance if such policy includes a provision or endorsement reciting that the policy shall be construed as if in the language and form prescribed by such law. Any such endorsement shall first be filed with the insurance commissioner.

Sec. 14. Except as herein provided, the making of contracts as herein provided for and such other matters as are incident thereto shall not be subject to the laws of this state relating to insurance unless they are therein specifically mentioned. This section shall not be construed however, as depriving the insurance department of the state of examination of and supervision over reciprocal or inter-insurance exchanges, their agents and brokers, of the right to hold and conduct hearings in the manner and under the same procedure as provided by law in the case of mutual or other insurance companies but such right is hereby expressly recognized and confirmed.

Sec. 15. All laws or parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Amendment adopted.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SIX.

On page 2, commencing with line 29, strike out down to and including line 9, on page 3, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

Fourth—The board of school trustees or the city board of education shall make such rules as will insure such physical examination of the pupils in the public schools under their jurisdiction as may reasonably be made without laying hands upon the pupil; provided, that this shall not be construed to prevent the reasonable physical inspection of the eye, throat and nose for defects or disease, but no medicines or remedies, except the external application of antiseptics in accidents and emergencies, shall be applied by the school authorities nor shall any apparatus be applied to the pupil without the consent of one of the parents, guardian or other party having legal control of the pupil, excepting further that whenever any said physical inspector shall publicly state in any schoolroom or before any school in regular session that in his judgment based on information and belief that there is special need of throat inspection to guard against diphtheria, scarlet or other fever, measles, smallpox and similar diseases, then and in that event said pupils, their teacher or some teacher being present, shall allow an inspection of mouth and throat and they shall allow the insertion of a swab for the purpose of taking a culture; provided, that any child objecting shall have the right of refusal until the following day at least, when the parent or guardian of such pupil may be present at such examination.

When a physical defect is noted, in the opinion of any such physical inspector, and he considers there is a remedy, he shall indicate the defect privately in writing to the parents or guardian or other legally constituted authority over such pupil, stating in definite terms his observation and tentative opinion and asking the consent of such authority to determine in its or their presence the truth of his conclusions, but the method of cure shall be left entirely to such constituted authority over the pupil.

The physical inspector shall not give the names of any pupil having or supposed to have any physical defect, to any one other than the governing school board or constituted authority over the pupil, but he shall make such reports to the governing school board as it may ask for, and in such detail as said board shall determine.

The physical inspector or nurse may visit the home of any pupil, with the consent of the parent or guardian or other legal authority over such pupil, to confer concerning defects found, but he shall not recommend either method or physician or institution, other than to advise consulting some competent authority.

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and third reading.

Senate Bill No. 541—An act to amend section 1858 of the Political Code, relating to the number of teachers each school is entitled to and to the apportionment of school funds.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Amend the title of the bill by striking out all words in said title after the words "relating to" in the second line and insert in lieu thereof the following: "The apportionment of the elementary school funds and the counting of attendance in the elementary and secondary schools of the state."

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 2, strike out all of lines 1 to 6 inclusive and insert in lieu thereof the following words: "of average daily attendance; and in districts".

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE.

On page 2, line 20, strike out the word "seven" and insert in lieu thereof the word "five".

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR.

On page 2, lines 26 and 27, beginning with the word "one" on line 26, strike out all to and including the word "employed" on line 27 and insert in lieu thereof the following: "further, that fifty dollars additional shall be apportioned to each district which is a part of any union or joint union district in his county".

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE.

On page 2, line 32, strike out the semicolon and insert in lieu thereof a period.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SIX.

On page 2, beginning with line 33, strike out all reading matter down to and including line 36 and insert in lieu thereof the following: "In any newly organized school district where school was not maintained during the school year in which it was organized the county superintendent shall require the teachers and principals or principals of the school district or districts from which the newly organized district was formed to report to him as a part of their annual reports, the names and attendance records of all pupils residing in said new district and attending school in the old district or districts during the school year in which the new district was organized. The county superintendent shall determine the average daily attendance and the teacher allowance for the newly organized district from those reports and shall deduct from the old districts the average daily attendance credited to the new district. In case it shall appear that none of the pupils residing in the newly formed district attended school during the year in which said district was organized in the district or districts from which said district was organized, then the superintendent shall apportion six hundred dollars to the newly formed school district for the purpose of maintaining school therein during the school year next succeeding the school year in which it was organized.

Fifth. A minimum full day's attendance on the regular full-time elementary day school as hereby established, is, for a pupil of the first, second, or third grade, two hundred minutes, and for a pupil of the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, or eighth grade, two hundred forty minutes, of actual attendance for any given day upon school sessions, exclusive of interruptions. When a pupil is absent from the first, second, or third grade of a regular full-time day school, for any day, session, or part of a session, five per cent of a day's absence must be recorded for each full ten-minute period of absence; and when a pupil is absent from any other grade of said elementary school for any day, session or part of a session, five per cent of a day's absence must be recorded for each full twelve-minute period of absence; provided, however, that such record may not for any one day exceed one hundred per cent. The actual attendance of a pupil upon a regular full-time day school for any given length of time shall be the number of days school was actually taught during such time less the sum of his absences. The actual time in minutes that pupils are in attendance upon evening schools and the special day and special evening classes of day schools of elementary and secondary grade shall be kept. A full day's attendance upon such schools or classes shall be four sixty-minute hours. Units of average daily attendance in elementary schools shall be construed to be the quotient arising from dividing the total number of days of pupils' attendance in the regular full-time day and evening elementary schools including the special day and evening classes of the elementary schools of the district for the school year by the number of days school was actually taught in the regular elementary day schools of the district during said year; and units of average daily attendance in secondary schools shall be construed to be the quotient arising from dividing the total number of days of pupils' attendance in the regular full-time secondary schools, the evening secondary schools, the special day and evening classes of secondary schools, and the part-time vocational courses of the district for the school year by the number of days school was actually taught in the regular secondary day schools of the district during said year.

Sixth—Subject to the provisions of this code, the state board of education shall adopt uniform regulations governing the keeping of attendance in all secondary schools. In adopting regulations governing the keeping of the attendance of pupils upon the part-time vocational courses provided for in section one thousand seven hundred fifty c of this code, the state board may, in its discretion, provide that the time spent by a pupil in practical vocational work shall be counted in making up each six-hour minimum daily unit of attendance.

Seventh—Where a school in a district maintaining more than one school is closed for a part of a term by order of a city or county board of health or of the state board of health, on account of contagious disease, or where such school has been closed on account of fire, flood or other public disaster, the average daily attendance of said school shall be estimated separately and added to the average daily attendance of the other schools of the district. The units of average daily attendance of said school shall be determined by dividing the total number of days of pupils' attendance upon such school including the special day and evening classes and the part-time vocational courses by the number of full-day sessions actually maintained in such school during the year; provided, that where such number is less than one hundred twenty days the divisor shall be one hundred twenty.

Eighth—Whenever in any school year, prior to the receipt by the school districts of any county, or city and county of this state, of their state, county, or city and county, or special or high school fund, the school districts of that county, or city and county shall not have sufficient money to their credit to pay the lawful demands against them, the county or city and county superintendent shall give the treasurer of said county or city and county, an estimate of the amount of school money that will next be paid into the county or city and county treasury, stating the amount to be apportioned to each district. Upon the receipt of such estimate it shall be the duty of the treasurer of said county, or city and county, to transfer from any fund not immediately needed to pay the claims against it, to the proper school fund an amount not to exceed ninety per cent of the amount estimated by the superintendent, and he shall immediately notify the superintendent of the amount so transferred. The funds so transferred to the school fund shall be retransferred by the treasurer to the fund from which they were taken, from the first money paid into the school fund after the transfer.

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and third reading.

Senate Bill No. 1134—An act to amend section 131 of the Civil Code of the State of California, which relates to judgment in an action for divorce, and repealing section 132 of said Civil Code, which relates to the same subject.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following messages from the Governor were received and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
STATE OF CALIFORNIA.To the Senate of the State of California:

In accordance with section 16, of Article IV, of the Constitution, I return to you herein without my approval Senate Bill 701.

It is my judgment that the insuring of State property should not be extended in this particular direction at this time. The State Board of Control has recommended that I do not approve this bill.

For these reasons, therefore, I veto this bill.

WM. D. STEPHENS, Governor.

Dated: SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 6, 1917.

The question being: Shall Senate Bill No. 701 become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
STATE OF CALIFORNIA.To the Senate of the State of California:

In accordance with section 16, of Article IV, of the Constitution, I return to you herein without my approval Senate Bill No. 333, relating to the compensation of fish and game commissioners.

I have received from the Hon. F. M. Newbert, president of the State Fish and Game Commission, a communication wherein is set forth among other things the following statement:

"We recognize the changed conditions that now confront you in the management of the affairs of the state. While the salaries proposed are only nominal, we do not care to place you in the position of putting upon a salary basis a commission which has heretofore been unpaid. We, therefore, at this time desire to suggest that the State Fish and Game Commission will endorse your judgment if you see fit to veto this bill."

I wish to express a word of approval of this attitude on the part of the fish and game commissioners. It is explained that this proposed salary would only cover approximately the expenses of each member. I recognize this fact, and in no sense is my action to be regarded as a criticism of the commissioners. I feel constrained at this time, however, not to establish any new salaries except in cases of imperative necessity.

For this reason, therefore, I veto this bill.

WM. D. STEPHENS, Governor.

Dated: SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 6, 1917.

PETITIONS.

The following petitions were presented and ordered printed in the Journal:

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7, 1917.

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of California.

GENTLEMEN: Inclosed please find resolutions adopted by the San Francisco Labor Council, representing 50,000 organized workers in San Francisco, expressing their loyalty and support of the national and state governments in prosecuting this rightful war to a successful termination.

Respectfully,

[SEAL]

JOHN A. O'CONNELL, Secretary.

WHEREAS, The government of the United States for more than two years has submitted, in the interest of peace, to the numerous wrongs heaped upon it by the Imperial German government; and

WHEREAS, The President and Congress of the United States have declared that a point has been reached in our affairs where peace is no longer possible owing to the fact that the German government is now waging war upon us, destroying our commerce and taking the lives of our citizens while engaged in the peaceful pursuit of their legitimate activities; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the San Francisco Labor Council, in regular session assembled this 6th day of April, 1917, pledges its loyal and united support to the nation and the state in this hour of trial, and invites the constituted authorities to call upon it for any service that it may be possible for it to render to our common country in the interest of justice and freedom and humanity; and be it further

Resolved, That we express our faith and confidence in the high purposes that have governed President Woodrow Wilson in his conduct of the nation's affairs during the trying years of the great world conflict, and assure him of our readiness to follow his lead in the efforts to maintain the rights of humankind; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to the President, the members of the California delegation in Congress, the Governor and the Legislature of the State of California.

Adopted by the San Francisco Labor Council.

Attest: [SEAL]

JOHN A. O'CONNELL, Secretary.

By Senator Brown:

SACRAMENTO, April 5, 1917.

Mr. W. E. Brown, Senate.

DEAR SIR: I received a telegram from the city clerk of the city of Los Angeles containing the following resolution, with a request that a copy of the same be transmitted to you:

At a meeting of the city council of the city of Los Angeles, held the 4th day of April, 1917, the following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, The Senate has adopted Senate Bill No. 715, known as the Remedial Loan Association Bill, which would permit usurers to charge 42 per cent interest per annum on chattel mortgages; and

WHEREAS, The enactment of such a law would be a heavy burden on the poor of the State who, through misfortune or necessity, are forced to borrow money on chattel mortgages; and

WHEREAS, This council has heretofore gone on record in favor of the enactment of Senator Brown's bill, which would restrict the amount of interest that might be collected on a chattel mortgage to 12 per cent a year; and

WHEREAS, The Assembly has not yet adopted the Remedial Loan Association Bill, which would be a decided step backward in the regulation of usury in the State of California; now therefore, the city council of the city of Los Angeles does hereby

Resolved, That the Senate of the State of California is hereby requested to rescind its action in approving the Remedial Loan Association Bill providing for the collection of 42 per cent per annum interest in chattel mortgage loans and that it substitute therefor Senator W. E. Brown's bill to limit the practice of usury which the Remedial Loan Association Bill would encourage; and be it further

Resolved, That the Assembly of the State of California be urgently requested to adopt Senator Brown's Anti-Usury Bill instead of the measure heretofore adopted by the Senate.

Wherefore, the Senate and Assembly will receive the overwhelming endorsement and approval of the vast majority of the voters and municipalities of the State of California, is the opinion of the said city council.

[Signed] CHAS. L. WILDE, City Clerk.

HOWARD ROBERTSON,

Assistant City Attorney of the City of Los Angeles.

Approved June 10, 1913.

Bill read second time.

AMENDMENTS FROM FLOOR.

During second reading of bill, the following amendments were offered, and their adoption moved by Senator Purkitt:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out all of lines 2 to 8, inclusive, of the title and insert in lieu thereof the following:

To amend the title and sections two, four, five, seven, nine, twelve, eighteen, twenty and twenty-six of an act entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and organization and management of county water districts, and to provide for the acquisition of water rights or construction thereby of waterworks and for the acquisition of all property necessary therefor, and to provide for the distribution and sale of water by said districts," approved June 10, 1913, and to add thereto a new section to be numbered twenty-eight.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out all of lines 1 to 12, and all of pages 2, 3 and 4, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SECTION 1. The title of the act entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and organization and management of county water districts, and to provide for the acquisition of water rights or construction thereby of waterworks and for the acquisition of all property necessary therefor, and to provide for the distribution and sale of water by said districts," approved June 10, 1913, is hereby amended to read as follows:

An act to provide for the incorporation and organization and management of county water and power districts, and to provide for the acquisition of water rights or construction thereby of waterworks and power plants, and for the acquisition of all property necessary therefor, and also to provide for the distribution and sale of water and electricity by said districts.

Sec. 2. Section two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. The people of any county, or city and county, or portion of a county, or city and county, whether such portion includes unincorporated territory or not, in the State of California, having a population of not less than five hundred inhabitants, may organize a county water district under the provisions of this act by proceeding as herein provided.

Sec. 3. Section four of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 4. At an election to be held within such water district under the provisions of this act and the laws governing general elections not inconsistent herewith, the county water district thus organized shall proceed within ninety days after its formation to the election of a board of directors (which board of directors shall consist of five members). All directors shall hold office until the election and qualification of their successors. The term of office of directors elected under the provisions of this act shall be four years from and after the date of their election; provided, that the directors first elected after the passage of this act shall hold office only until the election and qualification of their successors as hereinafter provided. The election of directors of such county water district shall be in every fourth year after its organization, on the fourth Tuesday in March, and shall be known as the general water district election. A second election shall be held, when necessary, as hereinafter provided, on the third Tuesday after such general election, and shall be known as the second water district election. All other elections which may be held by authority of this act, or of the general laws, shall be known as special water district elections.

Sec. 4. Section five of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5. (1) The mode of nomination and election of all officers of such water district to be voted for at any water district election, shall be as follows and not otherwise.

(2) The name of a candidate shall be printed upon the ballot when a petition of nomination shall have been filed in his behalf in the manner and form and under the conditions hereinafter set forth.

(3) The petition of nomination shall consist of not less than twenty-five individual certificates, which shall read substantially as follows:

PETITION OF NOMINATION.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
COUNTY OF _____

ss.

Pres. No.

I, the undersigned, certify that I do hereby join in a petition for the nomination of _____, whose residence is at No. _____ street, for the office of _____ of the _____ county water district to be voted for at the water district election to be held in the _____ county water district on the _____ day of _____, 19____; and I further certify that I am a qualified elector residing within said district, and am not at this time a signer of any other petition nominating any other candidate for the above named office, or, in case there are several places to be filled in the above named office, that I have not signed more petitions than there are places to be filled in the above named office; that my residence is at No. _____ street, _____, and that my occupation is _____.

(Signed) _____

_____ being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the person who signed the foregoing certificate and that the statements therein are true and correct.

(Signed) _____

Subscribed and sworn to before me this _____ day of _____, 19____.

Notary Public or Verification Deputy.

The petition of nomination of which this certificate forms a part shall, if found insufficient, be returned to _____ at No. _____ street, _____, California.

(4) It shall be the duty of the county clerk to furnish upon application a reasonable number of forms of individual certificates of the above character.

(5) Each certificate must be a separate paper. All certificates must be of uniform size as determined by the county clerk. Each certificate must contain the name of one signer thereto and no more. Each certificate shall contain the name of one candidate and no more. Each signer must be a qualified elector residing within said district, must not at the time of signing a certificate have his name signed to any other certificate for any other candidate for the same office, nor, in case there are several places to be filled in the same office, signed to more certificates for candidates for that office than there are places to be filled in such office. In case an elector has signed two or more conflicting certificates, all such certificates shall be rejected. Each signer must verify his certificate and make oath that the same is true, before a notary public or a verification deputy, as provided for in this section. Each certificate shall further contain the name and address of the person to whom the petition is to be returned in case said petition is found insufficient.

(6) Verification deputies, under this section, must be qualified electors of such county water district, and shall be appointed by the county clerk upon application in writing, signed by not less than five qualified electors of such county water district. The application shall set forth that the signers thereto desire to procure the necessary signatures of electors for the nomination of candidates for office in said county water district at an election therein specified, and that the applicants desire the person or persons whose names and addresses are given appointed as verification deputies, who shall upon appointment be authorized and empowered to take the oath of verification of the signers of petitions of nomination. Such verification deputies need not use a seal, and shall not have power to take oaths for any other purposes whatsoever, and their appointments shall continue only until all petitions of nomination, under this section, shall have been filed by the county clerk.

(7) A petition of nomination, consisting of not less than twenty-five individual certificates for any one candidate, may be presented to the county clerk not earlier than forty-five days nor later than thirty days before the election. The county clerk shall endorse thereon the date upon which the petition was presented to him.

(8) When a petition of nomination is presented for filing to the county clerk, he shall forthwith examine the same, and ascertain whether or not it conforms to the provisions of this section. If found not to conform thereto, he shall then and there in writing designate on said petition the defect or omission or reason why such petition can not be filed, and shall return the petition to the person named as the person to whom the same may be returned in accordance with this section. The petition may then be amended and again presented to the clerk as in the first instance. The clerk shall forthwith proceed to examine the petition as hereinbefore provided. If necessary, the board of supervisors shall provide extra help to enable the clerk to perform satisfactorily and promptly the duties imposed by this section.

(9) Any signer to a petition of nomination and certificate may withdraw his name from the same by filing with the county clerk a verified revocation of his signature before the filing of a petition by the clerk, and not otherwise. He shall then be at liberty to sign a petition for another candidate for the same office.

(10) Any person whose name has been presented under this section as a candidate may, not later than thirty days before the day of election, cause his name to be withdrawn from nomination by filing with the county clerk a request therefor in writing, and no name so withdrawn shall be printed upon the ballot. If, upon such withdrawal, the number of candidates remaining does not exceed the number to be elected, then other nominations may be made by filing petitions therefor not later than twenty-five days prior to such election.

(11) If either the original or amended petition of nomination be found sufficiently signed as hereinbefore provided, the clerk shall file the same twenty-five days before the date of the election. When a petition of nomination shall have been filed by the clerk it shall not be withdrawn or added to and no signature shall be revoked thereafter.

(12) The county clerk shall preserve in his office for a period of two years, all petitions of nomination and all certificates belonging thereto, filed under this section.

(13) Immediately after such petitions are filed, the county clerk shall enter the names of the candidates in a list, with the offices to be filled, and shall not later than twenty days before the election certify such list as being the list of candidates nominated as required by the provisions of this act, and the board of supervisors shall cause said certified list of names and the offices to be filled, to be published in the proclamation calling the election at least ten successive days before the election in at least one but not more than three newspapers of general circulation published in the county in which such municipal water district is located. Such proclamation shall conform in all respects to the general state law governing the conduct of general elections now or hereafter in force, applicable thereto, except as otherwise herein provided.

(14) The county clerk shall cause the ballots to be printed and bound and numbered as provided by said general state law, except as otherwise required in this act. The ballots shall contain the list of names and the respective offices as published in the proclamation and shall be in substantially the following form:

GENERAL (OR SPECIAL) DISTRICT ELECTION.

-----, COUNTY WATER DISTRICT.

(Inserting date thereof.)

Instructions to Voters: To vote, stamp or write a cross (x) opposite the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote. All marks otherwise made are forbidden. All distinguishing marks are forbidden and make the ballot void. If you wrongly mark, tear or deface this ballot, return it to the inspector of election, and obtain another.

(15) All ballots printed shall be precisely on the same size, quality, tint of paper, kind of type, and color of ink, so that without the number it would be impossible to distinguish one ballot from another, and the names of all candidates printed upon the ballot shall be in type of the same size and style. A column may be provided on the right hand side for questions to be voted upon at municipal water district elections, as provided for under this act. The names of the candidates for each office shall be arranged in alphabetical order, and nothing on the ballot shall be indicative of the source of the candidacy or of the support of any candidate.

(16) The name of no candidate who has been duly and regularly nominated, and who has not withdrawn his name as herein provided shall be omitted from the ballot.

(17) The offices to be filled shall be arranged in the following order: "For director vote for (giving number)."

(18) Half-inch square shall be provided at the right of the name of each candidate wherein to mark the cross.

(19) Half-inch spaces shall be left below the printed names of candidates for each office equal in number to the number to be voted for, wherein the voter may write the name of any person or persons for whom he may wish to vote.

(20) The county clerk shall cause to be printed sample ballots, identical with the ballot to be used at the election, and shall furnish copies of the same on application to registered voters at his office at least five days before the date fixed for such election, and shall mail one such ballot to each voter entitled to vote at such election, so that all of said sample ballots shall have been mailed at least three whole days before said election.

(21) In case there is but one person to be elected to an office, the candidate receiving a majority of the votes cast for all the candidates for that office shall be declared elected; in case there are two or more persons to be elected to an office, as that of director, then those candidates equal in number to the number to be elected, who receive the highest number of votes for such office shall be declared elected; provided, however, that no person shall be declared elected to any office at such first election unless the number of votes received by him shall be greater than one-half the number of ballots cast at such election.

(22) If at any election held as above provided there be any office to which the required number of persons was not elected, then as to such office the said first election shall be considered to have been a primary election for the nomination of candidates and a second election shall be held to fill said office. The candidates not elected at such first election, equal in number to twice the number to be elected to any given office, or less if so there be, who receive the highest number of votes for the respective offices at such first election, shall be the only candidates at such second election; provided, that if there be any person who, under the provisions of this subdivision, would have been entitled to become a candidate for any office, except for the fact that some other candidate received an equal number of votes therefor, then all such persons receiving such equal number of votes shall likewise become candidates for such office. The candidates equal in number to the persons to be elected who shall receive the highest number of votes at such second election shall be declared elected to such office.

(23) The said second election, if necessary to be held, shall be held three weeks after the first election.

(24) All the provisions and conditions above set forth as to the conduct of an election, so far as they may be applicable, shall govern the second election, except that notice of election need be published twice only; and provided, also, that the same precincts and polling places shall, if possible, be used.

(25) If a person elected fails to qualify, the office shall be filled as if there were a vacancy in such office, as hereinafter provided.

(26) No informalities in conducting county water district elections shall invalidate the same if they have been conducted fairly according to the provisions of this act or of the general laws.

SEC. 5. Section seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7. Every incumbent of an elective office, whether elected by popular vote for a full term, or elected by the board of directors to fill a vacancy, is subject to recall by the voters of any county water district organized under the provisions of this act, in accordance with the recall provisions of the general laws of the state applicable to officers of counties.

SEC. 6. Section nine of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 9. The board of directors shall act only by ordinance or resolution. The yeas and nays shall be taken upon the passage of all ordinances or resolutions and entered upon the journal of the proceedings of the board of directors. No ordinance or resolution shall be passed or become effective without the affirmative votes of at least a majority of the members of the board. The enacting clause of all ordinances passed by the board shall be in these words: "Be it ordained by the board of directors of _____ county water district as follows:". All resolutions and ordinances shall be signed by the president of the board of directors and attested by the secretary.

Each of the members of the board of directors shall receive for each attendance at the meetings of the board five dollars per day as compensation for his services when in actual attendance upon said board; and mileage at the rate of fifteen cents per mile, one way only from his residence by the nearest practicable route to the place of meeting of said board. No director, however, shall receive pay for more than four meetings in any calendar month and shall receive no other compensation: provided, that said board shall, upon the petition of at least fifty freeholders within such district thereafter, submit to the electors at any general election a schedule of salaries and mileage fees to be paid hereunder, to said directors. Such petition must be presented to the board not less than twenty nor more than forty days prior to a general election, and the result of such election shall be determined and declared in all respects as other elections are determined and declared under this act. Any vacancy in the board of directors shall be filled by the remaining directors.

SEC. 7. Section twelve of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 12. Any county water district incorporated as herein provided, shall have power:

1. To have perpetual succession;
2. To sue and be sued, except as otherwise provided herein or by law, in all actions and proceedings in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction;
3. To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure;
4. To take by grant, purchase, gift, devise, or lease, hold, use, enjoy, and to lease or dispose of real and personal property of every kind, within or without the district, necessary to the full exercise of its powers;

5. To acquire, by purchase, lease, or otherwise, water rights, waterworks, canals, conduits, reservoirs, storage sites, watersheds, works, machinery, lands, rights and privileges, useful or necessary to convey, supply, store, or otherwise, make use of water for irrigation, power, or other useful purpose and to operate and maintain such water rights, waterworks, canals, conduits, reservoirs, storage sites, watersheds, works, machinery, lands, rights and privileges, for the uses aforesaid, for the benefit of the district;

6. To store water for the benefit of the district; and to conserve water for future use and to appropriate, acquire and preserve water and water rights and for this purpose to sue, intervene and compromise, in the name of the district, and assume the costs of litigation involving the ownership of waters or water rights within the district and those used and useful for the purpose of the district or of any of the lands situated therein.

7. To lease of and from any person, firm, or public or private corporation, with the privilege of purchase, or otherwise, existing water rights, waterworks, canals, or reservoir systems, and to carry on and maintain the same; also to sell power; also to sell water, or the use thereof, for irrigation, power, or other useful purposes, and whenever there is a surplus, of water or power, to sell, or otherwise dispose of the same, to municipalities, or towns, or corporations, or to consumers, located within or without the boundaries of the district.

8. To have and exercise the right to eminent domain in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use, to take any property necessary to supply the district or any portion thereof with water or electricity, whether such property be already devoted to the same use or otherwise, and may condemn any existing water rights, canals, reservoirs, storage sites, watersheds, waterworks or system, or any portion thereof owned by any person, firm or corporation; provided, that property and water rights of municipal corporations shall not be subject to the provisions of this section. In proceedings relative to the exercise of such right, the district shall have the same rights, powers and privileges as a municipal corporation;

9. To borrow money and incur indebtedness and to issue bonds or other evidences of such indebtedness, also to refund or retire any indebtedness or lien that may exist against the district or property thereof.

10. To cause taxes to be levied for the purpose of paying any obligation of the district and to accomplish the purposes of this act in the manner herein provided.

11. To make contracts, to employ labor and to do all acts necessary for the full exercise of the foregoing powers.

SEC. 8. Section eighteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 18. The board of directors shall have the power to construct works across any stream of water, watercourse, street, avenue, highway, railway, canal, ditch or fume which the route of said works may intersect or cross, provided such works are constructed in such manner as to afford security for life and property, and said board of directors shall restore the crossings and intersections to their former state as near as may be, or in a manner not to have impaired unnecessarily their usefulness. Every company whose right of way shall be intersected or crossed by said works shall unite with said board of directors in forming said intersections and crossings and grant the rights therefor. The right of way is hereby given, dedicated and set apart to locate, construct and maintain said works over and through any of the lands which are now or may be the property of this state, and to have the same rights and privileges appertaining thereto as have been or may be granted to municipalities within this state.

County water districts may acquire the right to use water belonging to this state, to locate and use reservoir sites upon lands owned by the state, in the same manner and to the same extent as may be done by other corporations, whether public or private.

SEC. 9. Section nineteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 19. The board of directors shall fix all water and power rates and through the general manager collect the charges for the sale and distribution of water and power to all consumers.

SEC. 10. Section twenty of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 20. The board of directors in the furnishing of water or power, may fix such rates as will pay a revenue to the district, pay the operating expenses of the district, provide for repairs and depreciation of works owned or operated by it, pay the interest on any bonded, or other debt, incurred by the district, and, so far as possible, provide a sinking or other fund for the payment of the principal of such debt as it may become due; and any surplus revenue received by the district, may upon ordinance providing therefor, be placed in the county treasury, and the same shall be kept in a separate fund and used for making public improvements to the water district. The expenditure of such surplus so deposited shall be in the hands of the county officials.

SEC. 11. Section twenty-six of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 26. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as repealing or in anywise modifying the provisions of any other act relating to water or the supply of water to, or the acquisition thereof by counties or municipalities within this state. The term "municipality," as used in this act, shall include a consolidated city and county, city or town, and shall be understood and so construed as to include, and is hereby declared to include, all corporations heretofore organized and now existing and those hereafter organized for municipal purposes within such water district. The term "county" shall be understood and construed to include "city and county." The word "district" shall apply, unless otherwise expressed or used, to a water district formed under the provisions of this act, and the word "board" and the words "board of directors" shall apply to the board of directors of such district.

SEC. 12. There is hereby added to said act a new section to be numbered twenty-eight and to read as follows:

SEC. 28. This act, as amended, shall apply to and govern all county water districts heretofore organized under the provisions of this act.

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and third reading.

Senate Bill No. 13—An act to add a new section to the Political Code, to be numbered 2939, prohibiting the employment of minors under eighteen years of age, from driving or operating vehicles engaged in carrying passengers, freight, or express matter, milk or foodstuffs, ice or fuel, building materials, or supplies of any kind or character whatever, on the public streets or highways of the State of California, and providing penalties therefor.

Bill read second time, ordered engrossed, and on file for third reading.

Senate Bill No. 437—An act to amend an act entitled "An act prohibiting the issuance as payment for wages of any evidence of indebtedness unless the same is negotiable and payable without discount, and providing that the same must be payable on demand," approved March 1, 1911, and as amended by act approved June 5, 1915.

Bill read second time, ordered engrossed, and on file for third reading.

Senate Bill No. 620—An act to amend section 1 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the registration of factories, workshops, mills and other manufacturing establishments," approved June 2, 1913.

Bill read second time, ordered engrossed, and on file for third reading.

Senate Bill No. 1035—An act to make lawful certain agreements between employees and laborers and to limit the issuing of injunctions in certain cases.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

During second reading of bill, the following committee amendments were offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1 strike out lines 3 and 4 of the title and insert in lieu thereof the following: "laborers, to define the cases in which injunctions may and may not issue, to prescribe the procedure in trials for contempt and to secure the right of jury trial in all such cases."

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1 of the printed bill, in line 7, after the figure "2" strike out the words "No restraining order or injunction shall be granted" and all of lines 8 to 16, inclusive; also strike out lines 1 to 37, inclusive, on page 2 and insert in lieu thereof the following:

No restraining order or injunction shall be granted by any court of this state, or any judge or judges thereof, in any case between an employer and employees, or between employers and employees, or between employers, or between persons employed and persons seeking employment, involving, or growing out of, a dispute concerning terms or conditions of employment, unless necessary to prevent irreparable injury to property, or to a property right of the party making the application, for which injury there is no adequate remedy at law, and such property or property rights must be described with particularity in the application, which must be in writing and sworn to by the applicant, or by his agent or attorney.

SEC. 3. No restraining order or injunction shall prohibit any person or persons, whether singly or in concert, from terminating any relation of employment, or from ceasing to perform any work or labor, or from recommending, advising, or persuading others by peaceful means so to do; or from attending at any place where such person or persons may lawfully be, for the purpose of peacefully obtaining or communicating information or from peacefully persuading any person to work or to abstain from working; or from ceasing to patronize, or to employ any party to such dispute, or from recommending, advising, or persuading others by peaceful means and lawful means so to do; or from paying or giving to or withholding from, any person engaged in such dispute, any strike benefits or other moneys or things of value; or from peacefully assembling in a lawful manner, and for lawful purposes; or from doing any act or thing which might lawfully be done in the absence of such dispute by any party thereto; nor shall any of the acts specified in this section be considered or held to be violations of the law of this state.

SEC. 4. Whenever it shall be made to appear to the superior court, or a judge thereof, by the return of a proper officer on lawful process, or upon the affidavit of some creditable person, or by information filed by any district attorney, that there is reasonable ground to believe that any person has been guilty of a contempt, the court or judge thereof, may issue a citation requiring the said person so charged to show cause upon a day certain why he should not be punished therefor, which citation, together with a copy of the affidavit or information, shall be served upon the person charged, with sufficient promptness to enable him to prepare for and make return to the order at the time fixed therein. If upon or by such return, in the judgment of the court, the alleged contempt be not sufficiently purged, a trial shall be directed at a time and place fixed by the court; provided, however, that if the accused, being a natural person, fail or refuse to make return to the citation to show cause, an attachment may issue against his person to compel an answer, and in case of his continued failure or refusal, or if for any reason, it be impracticable to dispose of the matter on the return day, he may be required to give reasonable bail for his attendance at the trial and his submission to the final judgment of the court. Where the accused is a corporation, an attachment against its property may be issued, upon like refusal or failure to answer.

SEC. 5. In all cases within the purview of this act, such trial may be by the court, or, upon demand of the accused, by a jury; in which latter event the court may impanel a jury from the jurors then in attendance, or the court or the judge thereof in chambers may cause a sufficient number of jurors to be selected and summoned, as provided by law, to attend at the time and place of trial, at which time a jury shall be selected and impaneled as upon a trial for misdemeanor; and such trial shall conform, as near as may be, to the practice in criminal cases prosecuted by indictment or upon information.

SEC. 6. If the accused be found guilty, judgment shall be entered accordingly, prescribing the punishment, either by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. Such fine shall be paid to the State of California, or to the complainant, or other person injured by the act constituting the contempt, or may, where more than one person is so damaged, be divided, or apportioned among them as the court may direct, but in no case shall the fine to be paid to the State of California, exceed, in case the accused is a natural person, the sum of one thousand dollars, nor shall such imprisonment exceed the term of six months; provided, that in any case the court, or a judge thereof, may for good cause shown, by affidavit or proof taken in open court or before such judge thereof and filed with the papers in the case, dispense with the citation to show cause, and may issue an attachment for the arrest of the person charged with contempt; in which event such person, when arrested, shall be brought before such court, or a judge thereof, without unnecessary delay and shall be admitted to bail in a reasonable sum for his appearance to answer to the charge or for trial for the contempt, and thereafter the proceedings shall be the same as provided herein in case the citation had issued in the first instance.

SEC. 7. The labor of a human being is not a commodity or article of commerce. Nothing contained in the antitrust laws shall be construed to forbid the existence and operation of labor, agricultural, or horticultural organizations, instituted for the purpose of mutual help, and not having capital stock or conducted for profit, or to forbid or restrain individual members of such organizations from lawfully carrying out the legitimate objects thereof, nor shall such organizations, or the members thereof, be held or construed to be illegal combinations or conspiracies in restraint of trade, under the antitrust laws.

SEC. 8. In all cases where persons are charged with contempt of court for the violation of writs of injunction, issued within the purview of this act, unless such contempt be committed in the immediate presence of the court, the accused shall have the right to a jury trial upon demand, and, in case a jury trial be demanded, such jury shall be selected and impaneled as in criminal cases, and the trial shall conform as nearly as may be to the practice of the superior court in criminal cases.

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and third reading.

Senate Bill No. 462—An act regulating the manner of preparation or manufacture of egg products which are used in the preparation of foods intended for human consumption, and providing penalties for violations of the provisions thereof.

Bill read second time, ordered engrossed, and on file for third reading.

Senate Bill No. 176—An act adding a new section to the Political Code, to be numbered 3245a, relating to hours of employment of state employees.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

During second reading of bill, the following committee amendments were offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Strike out line 4 of the title and insert in lieu thereof the following: "labor of females employed in state hospitals".

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

Strike out all of line 4 after the word "No" and all of lines 5 and 6 and insert in lieu thereof the following: "female employee of any state hospital shall be required or permitted to work more than eight hours in any one day nor more than six days per week, except in a case of extreme emergency. The period of labor of such employee during any one day shall fall within nine consecutive hours. Any superintendent or other official who has any such employee under his control or direction and violates any of the provisions hereof shall forfeit one day's pay for every such violation. When complaint is made to the State Board of Control that there has been a violation of the provisions hereof, it shall be the duty of such board to immediately investigate such complaint. If, after hearing duly had, the State Board of Control is satisfied that such violation has occurred, it shall be the duty of such board to certify to the State Controller the name of the official and the number and times of the violation of the provisions hereof. It shall be the duty of the State Controller after receiving such notice to deduct from the salary warrant of the offending official for the current month an amount equal to one day's pay of such official for each violation so certified."

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, ordered engrossed, and on file for third reading.

Senate Bill No. 534—An act providing for the resettlement of franchise rights and the granting of a resettlement franchise in counties and municipalities, and providing conditions for the granting of such franchises by legislative or other governing bodies, and repealing conflicting acts.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

During second reading of bill, the following committee amendments were offered:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Beginning with page 1, line 2 of the title, strike out all of the title following the words "An Act" and insert in lieu thereof the following:

Providing for the resettlement of franchise rights of and the granting of a resettlement franchise to any person, firm or corporation actually engaged in operating a street, suburban or interurban railroad in cities or cities and counties having at the effective date of this act a freeholders' charter adopted under the provisions of section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the State of California, which charter provides for the resettlement of franchise rights of and the granting of resettlement franchises to any person, firm or corporation engaged in operating a public utility in such a municipality, and providing conditions for the granting of such franchises by legislative or other governing bodies of such city or city and county.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

Strike out all after the enacting clause and insert the following:

SECTION 1. The board of supervisors, the board of trustees or common council, or other governing or legislative body of any city or city and county having at the effective date of this act a freeholders' charter adopted under the provisions of section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the State of California, and which charter provides for the resettlement of and the granting of a resettlement franchise to any person, firm or corporation engaged in operating a public utility in such city or city and county, is hereby empowered to provide for a general resettlement of the franchise rights and to grant a resettlement franchise to any person, firm or corporation actually engaged in operating a street, suburban or interurban railroad in said city or city and county, upon written application therefor, and upon such terms and conditions as are in this act provided, and may, in such resettlement of any such franchise impose other and additional terms and conditions not in conflict herewith.

SEC. 2. Every such resettlement franchise which is granted shall be granted after such publication and upon such notice as the governing or legislative body shall by resolution determine, or failing such determination after such publication and upon such notice as is or shall be prescribed by law for the enactment of ordinances by such governing or legislative body. After the final passage of such franchise, the same shall be referred and submitted to the vote of the electors of the city or city and county at the general or special election next ensuing not less than twenty days after the final passage of such ordinance, or if no general or special election is to be held in the city or city and county within a period of not less than twenty days and not more than ninety days after such final passage, the said governing or legislative body may call a special election for the purpose of submitting said ordinance to the electors as aforesaid, said special election to be held not less than thirty days and not more than sixty days after such final passage. No such resettlement franchise shall go into effect until it shall have been so submitted to the electors of the city or city and county and receive the approval of a majority of the electors voting thereon; and provided, further, that such resettlement franchise shall not be effective unless accepted in writing by the grantee of such resettlement franchise.

SEC. 3. Every such resettlement franchise, permit or privilege shall confer upon the grantee thereof the right to occupy the roads, streets, highways, avenues, boulevards, lanes, alleys, courts, places and pathways of the city or city and county, particularly set out in the terms and conditions of such franchise, permit or privilege, for the purpose of conducting, operating and maintaining thereon a street, suburban or interurban railroad, subject always to the right of the city or city and county to acquire and possess the property of said grantee; provided, however, that said grantee shall pay to the city or city and county such a percentage of the net revenue annually collected from any and all sources under and by virtue of such franchise, permit or privilege, as shall be fixed in such franchise. What constitutes such annual net revenue shall be provided in such franchise.

SEC. 4. The legislative or governing body may in such resettlement franchise provide that any new franchise granted to the holder of such resettlement franchise shall be considered as part of such resettlement franchise.

SEC. 5. The legislative or governing body may in such resettlement franchise provide that in case of consolidation or annexation to the city or city and county of any territory not now included in said city or city and county at the date said resettlement franchise is granted, any franchise to operate such street, suburban or interurban railroad, or any part thereof, held or claimed by the holder of such resettlement franchise in or for any portion of such consolidated or annexed territory shall thereupon be surrendered to the city or city and county, and that the rights and obligations of such resettlement franchise shall thereupon automatically extend to such additional territory, and that a valuation for the purpose of public acquisition of the properties used and useful, or, in the discretion of the city or city and county, prospectively useful, in the operation of such street, suburban or interurban railroad in the area so consolidated or annexed, and not included in the original valuation already fixed in such resettlement franchise shall be added to the original compensation of such resettlement grantee at a valuation for the purposes of public acquisition fixed by the railroad commission of the State of California or its successors in interest, and otherwise determined as provided in this act.

SEC. 6. Every resettlement franchise shall provide that the grantee thereof shall surrender the franchises or rights, owned or claimed by the grantee to occupy such portion of the roads, streets, highways, avenues, boulevards, lanes, alleys, courts, places and pathways as it is proposed such street, suburban or interurban railroad shall thereafter occupy under the provisions of such resettlement franchise, and that the grantee shall accept in lieu thereof the rights and privileges granted by such resettlement franchise as a franchise for the continued operation of such street, suburban or interurban railroad within the limits of the city or city and county or such portion thereof as had theretofore been operated under the franchise or franchises surrendered.

SEC. 7. Every such resettlement franchise, permit or privilege shall be granted for an indeterminate period, subject always to the right of the city or city and county to acquire and possess the property of the grantee. Every resettlement franchise shall be granted upon the express condition that the city or city and county may, at a valuation for the purpose of public acquisition, fixed and determined as hereinafter provided, either assume ownership by purchase, take over and possess the property used and useful, or, in the discretion of the city or city and county prospectively useful, of the franchise grantee, his or its successors or assigns, upon giving said grantee written notice of its intention to purchase and take over said property, which written notice shall be given only when authorized by ordinance of the legislative or governing body of the city or city and county. The valuation for the purpose of public acquisition of such property used and useful, or, in the discretion of the city or city and county, prospectively useful, and owned by the grantee at the time application is made for such resettlement franchise, permit or privilege, shall be fixed by the railroad commission of the State of California, or its successors in interest. The valuation of such property, as fixed by the railroad commission of the State of California, may be set forth in said resettlement franchise, permit or privilege, in which case a readjustment from time to time of this valuation by the addition of the cost of extensions and betterments and by the deduction of the value of property sold or abandoned, and of the amount of depreciation sustained by the property used or useful, or prospectively useful, of the franchise grantee shall be made in such manner as may in said resettlement franchise be provided. All expenses of such valuation by the railroad commission of the State of California, or its successors in interest shall be paid by the city or city and county to the railroad commission of the State of California, or its successors in interest.

SEC. 8. Said resettlement franchise shall provide that the grantee thereof, its successors or assigns, shall never claim before any court or other public authority in any proceeding of any character any value for said resettlement franchise, permit or privilege in excess of the amount originally paid for the same by the grantee thereof to the public authority granting the same.

SEC. 9. Any resettlement franchise may be amended from time to time by ordinance passed by the governing or legislative body of the city or city and county and ratified by the electors of the city or city and county in the manner herein prescribed for the passage of such resettlement franchise in the first instance, and not otherwise; provided, that no such amendment shall be effective unless accepted in writing by the grantee of such resettlement franchise.

SEC. 10. The legislature hereby declares that this act is passed subject to the continued power of the State of California in the exercise of its police power or otherwise through the instrumentality of the railroad commission of the State of California or other agency to provide at any and all times for the supervision and regulation of public utilities notwithstanding any franchise, permit or privilege or any provision thereof granted under this act, or any part thereof.

Nothing herein contained, nor any provision of any franchise granted hereunder shall be deemed to prevent a city or county from acquiring at any time the property of any public utility through the exercise of the right of eminent domain under the then constitution and laws, and the legislature hereby declares it to be against the policy of the state for any city or county to contract away, either for a term or in perpetuity, the right to exercise the right of eminent domain in respect to any public utility.

SEC. 11. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of the act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Amendment adopted.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out all of lines 1 to 13, inclusive, and all of pages 2 to 16, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SECTION 1. That there be and is hereby created a cattle protection board, to be appointed by the governor of the State of California, which shall consist of three members, two of whom shall be identified with and experienced in the cattle industry of the State of California and the other shall be the state veterinarian. Said board shall elect one of their number chairman. The members of said board shall each receive ten dollars per day for the time by him necessarily employed in discharging the duties required in this chapter; provided, however, that in no one year shall the board be in session more than sixty days, except upon the call of the governor.

The members of said board shall hold office during the pleasure of the governor. Said board is hereby authorized to appoint a secretary, counsel, inspectors, and such clerks as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and fix the salaries of said appointees. Such per diem and expenses of said members of the cattle protection board, as well as the salaries and expenses of all appointees of said board, including all other additional expenses incurred by enforcement of this act as hereinafter provided, shall be paid out of the cattle protection fund which fund is hereinafter provided.

Said board is hereby authorized, and it is made its duty, to exercise a general supervision over, and protect the cattle of this state from theft and to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes and intent of this act.

SEC. 2. Every person owning cattle in this state except as hereinafter provided shall adopt a brand with which to brand his cattle; provided, such brand be not similar to the brand heretofore adopted by any other person, except by special permit issued by the cattle protection board. Said board shall cause said brands to be recorded in books kept for that purpose. The recording of a brand shall consist of depicting in the brand book a facsimile of the design of the brand adopted, together with an entry in said book bearing a statement of the name, residence, and post-office address of the person adopting the same, the date the brand was presented for record, the place upon the animal where the brand is proposed to be used, the number of the district and a statement of the location of the range whereon such animals are to range. Before any such record shall be made, proof shall be made that the person applying to have such brand recorded is the owner thereof and entitled to use the same.

The said board may divide the state into a number of districts. Said districts may be changed from time to time, so that all of the persons engaged in raising cattle within the State of California may adopt and record a brand, without requiring that any one brand shall be adopted or recorded in any two contiguous districts; provided, however, that where cattle in two or more contiguous districts are owned by one person, said person shall have the right to the use of said brand in contiguous districts.

SEC. 3. The sum of two dollars shall be paid to said board for the recordation of any brand; for the right to the continued use of said brand, under the provisions of this act, the owner thereof shall before the first day of January of each year after its recordation transmit to the board the sum of one and one-half dollars. A failure to make such payment shall forfeit the right to use said brand.

When the right to any brand recorded hereunder shall have become forfeited, said brand shall not be recorded by any other person until after the expiration of one year from the date of the forfeiture thereof.

SEC. 4. No person shall brand any cattle in this state with a brand that has not been recorded under the provisions of this act, nor use any device to obliterate a brand.

SEC. 5. Upon the sale or transfer of any range cattle in this state, the actual delivery of such animal shall be accompanied by a written bill of sale, giving the number, kind and marks and brands of each animal, which bill of sale shall be signed by the party giving the same and acknowledged by him before two subscribing witnesses who have been freeholders of the county for at least two years.

SEC. 6. It is hereby expressly provided that the provisions in this act relative to marks and brands shall not in any particular apply to registered purebred cattle or purebred cattle which can be identified as being entitled to registration, or cows actually used for dairy purposes.

SEC. 7. It shall be unlawful for any person to slaughter any cattle or offer for sale, barter or exchange the meat thereof, unless he shall have a license therefor issued in accordance with the provisions of this act, except as herein otherwise provided.

Every person slaughtering cattle as a business shall do so in a designated slaughterhouse, and before he shall begin the business of slaughtering cattle or selling the meat thereof, he shall first procure from the board a license to carry on such business, under the conditions and upon the payment of the fees herein provided for. After procuring such license and before engaging in such business he shall execute a bond to the State of California, in the penal sum of one thousand dollars ($1000.00) to be approved by the secretary of the board, conditioned that such person shall not slaughter, sell or expose for sale any cattle or the meat thereof, without first being the legal and equitable owner thereof, or being authorized to so slaughter, sell or expose for sale such animal, or the meat thereof, by such owner, and that in case he shall violate any of the provisions hereof, he shall pay therefor double the value of such animal. The amount so recovered shall be paid as follows: One-half to the owner of such animal and the remaining one-half to the cattle protection fund.

Said board shall grant to every applicant thereof, who complies with all the provisions of this act a license to slaughter cattle and sell the meat thereof for the unexpired portion of the calendar year in which said license is granted. Every applicant for such a license shall pay to said board the following animal fee which shall be paid in advance: For applicants who slaughter less than ten head per month, one dollar per annum. For applicants who slaughter more than ten head and less than fifty head per month, ten dollars per annum. For applicants who slaughter more than fifty head per month, twenty-five dollars per annum. For a shorter term than one year a proportionate part of said fee shall be paid. The applicant for such license shall state in his application where his slaughterhouse is located, and during the term of such license he shall not slaughter any cattle at any other place than that specified in his license. If the holder of a license desires to change the location of his slaughterhouse, he shall apply to said board to have such license transferred and the board may reissue such license without any additional fee.

Every holder of such a license shall, at the expiration of each calendar month, make a written report and send the same by registered mail to said board. Such report shall include the following:

- (a) The number and sex of the cattle slaughtered in such establishment during the calendar month just past.
- (b) The names and addresses of persons from whom said cattle were purchased or otherwise obtained.
- (c) The brands and marks on said cattle.
- (d) The dates on which said cattle were purchased or otherwise obtained and the dates on which said cattle were slaughtered.

Said statement shall be signed by such licensee or his duly authorized agent. Upon failure or neglect of said licensee or his duly authorized agent for a period of fifteen days to file such a statement in the manner as herein provided, the said board shall issue the power and it shall be its duty to forfeit the license of such licensee; and thereafter it shall be unlawful for the owner of said slaughtering establishment, or for any other person to slaughter and sell the meat thereof in said establishment until a new application is made by him to said board, accompanied by a fee of twenty-five dollars; provided, however, that said board shall have the power and it shall be its duty to refuse to renew the license of any slaughterer who has knowingly slaughtered cattle without the consent of the owner thereof.

SEC. 8. Every butcher, butcher or retailer of meats, purchasing the meat of any domestic animal, must enter in a book to be kept for that purpose and exhibit the same, or document, the name of the person from whom said meat was purchased or otherwise obtained, the date of said purchase and the quantity so purchased.

It shall be unlawful for any peddler or retailer of meat, or person in control of any butcher shop, to purchase the meat of any slaughtered bovine animal from any person not known to him to be licensed under the provisions of this act.

Any person who fails on demand to inform any officer of this state where and from whom he has obtained any meat of any bovine animal that he has in his possession, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Nothing in this act shall be construed as to prohibit an owner of property, or a ranchman located on a definite property as a tenant, lessee or purchaser under contract, from slaughtering cattle in small numbers on said premises, and using, giving away or selling the meat of such cattle; such person shall keep such records and keep the hides for the stated length of time and comply with all the provisions of this act; provided, that such person shall not be required to take out a license.

SEC. 9. The hides of all such cattle slaughtered by the owner thereof, or removed from any cattle which have died from any cause, shall be retained in the possession of the owner where the same may be inspected, with the brands attached thereto, and without any alteration or disfiguration thereof, for a period of at least fifteen days after the death of said cattle.

Every ranchman, who so slaughters cattle on such premises, shall keep a record in a book to be kept for that purpose of all the cattle so slaughtered by him, with a description thereof, including all the marks and brands of such slaughtered cattle, the date of slaughter, and shall at the end of each month, make a true and correct copy of such record and send the same by registered mail to the office of the cattle protection board, and shall likewise exhibit the said record on demand of any officer of this state.

SEC. 10. No cattle except cattle shipped for slaughter and which have been inspected as herein provided prior to shipment, shall be slaughtered until they shall have been first inspected and certified to as being the property of the person slaughtering same or causing same to be slaughtered or being duly authorized by the owner thereof to slaughter said cattle; provided, that any person licensed hereunder to slaughter cattle after twenty-four hours notice in writing, addressed to the local inspector demanding his presence at a specified time and place for the purpose of inspecting such cattle for slaughtering, may, without the certificate of inspection of said inspector slaughter said cattle, providing he makes a written statement designating the general description of the animal or animals slaughtered, such as the age, color, weight, etc., and specifying in detail the earmarks and brands of such animal or animals; and provided, further, that he retain the hides of such animal or animals for at least fifteen days thereafter as hereinbefore provided.

SEC. 11. It shall be unlawful for any common carrier to receive any cattle, or the hides of any cattle, for transportation to points within or without this state until such carrier shall have been furnished with duplicate certificates signed by an inspector, showing in the case of cattle the brands and earmarks of such cattle, the number of cattle of each earmark and brand, the names of shipper and consignee and also the origin and destination of said cattle. In the case of cattle hides, the certificates shall state the number of hides, the names of shipper and consignee and also the origin and destination of said hides. One copy of said certificate shall be mailed forthwith by the agent or other person in control of the common carrier at the point at which said cattle are received for shipment, to the consignee.

SEC. 12. It shall be the duty of inspectors to inspect all cattle for marks and brands which are offered for transportation to any common carrier at the loading stations thereof.

If upon such inspection cattle shall be found not belonging to the shipper, all such cattle shall be taken by the inspector and dealt with in accordance with the rules of the board in such cases made.

Inspectors must inspect all cattle subject to inspection immediately, and when inspected, the one in charge thereof shall at once pay to the inspector therefor the sum of five cents per head, whereupon the inspector shall certify that said cattle have been inspected.

SEC. 13. It shall be the duty of the said board to prepare volumes for the recordation of said marks and brands, and to keep a true record of all its official transactions. When cattle or the hides thereof have been shipped or slaughtered, each record thereof must be entered under the name of the owner of said mark or brand, and must be entered in such a manner as to disclose under the record of each particular mark or brand, the number of cattle bearing any other marks or brands. An index shall be kept of unrecorded brands, as well as of those that have been recorded under the provisions hereof.

SEC. 14. Any person, not being the owner, or having the right of possession, of any cattle, who shall be found driving such cattle off its usual range, without the consent of the owner thereof, shall be guilty of grand larceny.

SEC. 15. The secretary of the cattle protection board, at least as often as once each month, shall report to the state controller the total amount of fees collected, and at the same time he shall pay into the state treasury the entire amount of such receipts. All such receipts shall be credited to the cattle protection fund, which fund is hereby created, and shall be held subject to the uses of the cattle protection board, as defined in this act.

SEC. 16. The term "range" for the purpose of the interpretation and application of this act shall be understood to mean the enclosed or unenclosed lands outside of cities, towns and villages in this state, whether of the public domain or in private ownership, upon which by custom, license or otherwise, cattle are kept or permitted to roam and feed.

The term "person" wherever used includes every person, persons, firm, association or corporation.

The term "cattle" wherever used includes every kind of animal of the bovine species.

SEC. 17. Any person violating any provisions of this act shall, unless otherwise specifically designated herein, be guilty of a misdemeanor.

All officers and employees except clerical help whose duties are prescribed in this act, are hereby exempted from the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for a general system, based upon investigation as to merit, efficiency and fitness, for appointment to and holding during good behavior of office, and employment under state authority and, in that behalf, to create a state civil service commission, to prescribe its powers and duties, to make the wilful violation of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor, to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith in so far as they may be inconsistent with the provisions of this act and to make an appropriation therefor," approved June 16, 1913.

SEC. 18. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Amendment adopted.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 26.

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of said State by adding to Article XX thereof a new section, to be numbered section 22, relative to health insurance.

The Legislature of the State of California at its regular session commencing on the eighth day of January, 1917, two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two houses of said Legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes an amendment to the Constitution of the State of California by adding to Article XX thereof a new section, to be numbered section 22, to read as follows:

Sec. 22. It is hereby declared to be the policy of the State of California to make special provision for the health and welfare and support during illness of any and all persons, and their dependents, whose incomes, in the determination of the Legislature, are not sufficient to meet the hazards of sickness and disability, and for the general industrial welfare in this connection. The Legislature may establish a health insurance system applicable to any or all such persons, and for the financial support of such system may provide for contributions, either voluntary or compulsory, from each of the following, namely, from such persons, from employers, and from the State by appropriations.

The Legislature may confer upon any commission or court, now or hereafter created, such power and authority as the Legislature may deem requisite to carry out the provisions of this section.

PETITIONS.

The following petitions were presented and ordered printed in the Journal:

To the Senate Fish and Game Committee, Sacramento.

GENTLEMEN: At a meeting of the Woman's Civic Club of Pacific Grove held on April 2, 1917, the following motion was passed:

That it is the belief of the Woman's Civic Club that in the abalone controversy both sides have some rights and that an adjustment can be made whereby the abalone can be protected and at the same time the commercial interests need not be destroyed.

That the interests of the whole people would be best served by prohibiting commercial fishing for abalones from Seaside to the Carmel River, and allowing commercial fishing below that point.

That Assembly Bill No. 242 should be amended by striking out District No. 18.

MRS. EVA W. BARKER, President.

MRS. W. V. GRIMES, Secretary.

TAXPAYERS' LEAGUE, OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA.

WHEREAS, Certain amendments to Senate Bill No. 884 have been proposed by the Public Utility District Committee; and

WHEREAS, We believe their amendment essential for safeguarding the people's rights; and

WHEREAS, We believe a public utility district should be formed by the East Bay Committees as soon as the said bill shall have been properly amended; now therefore, be it

Resolved, That the executive committee of the Taxpayers' League, Inc., respectfully requests the Legislature of the State of California to pass said amendment.

Above resolution passed at the regular meeting of Taxpayers' League, Thursday evening, March 29, 1917.

CHAS. S. KONIGSBERG, Assistant Secretary.

Also:

To the Honorable The Legislature of the State of California:

WHEREAS, Representatives of organized labor and of this council have visited Sutter County and investigated the merits of the eastern location of the Sutter by-pass, and from such investigations are satisfied that the location of said by-pass upon what is known as the eastern location is an injustice and a menace to a large and prosperous farming community, which is not only endangered by such change but will also be taxed in large sums for the construction and maintenance of levees; and

WHEREAS, A bill has been introduced in the Assembly by Assemblyman Tarke, known as Assembly Bill No. 877, to correct this injustice; therefore be it

Resolved, By the San Francisco Labor Council that we hereby endorse said Tarke bill and request those friendly to labor to show their good will toward the farmers of a prosperous district by casting their votes in favor of said bill;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted for presentation to the Assembly and Senate and a copy forwarded to each member of the San Francisco delegation of both houses.

I hereby certify that the foregoing resolution was adopted at a regular meeting of the San Francisco Labor Council held in the city of San Francisco on the 6th day of April, 1917.

A. W. BROUILLET, President.

JOHN A. O'CONNELL, Secretary.

COMMUNICATION.

The following communication was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

REPORT OF ADVISORY ROAD COMMITTEE.

To the Honorable State Senate and State Assembly, Forty-second Session, 1917:

Chapter 777, Statutes 1913. Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 31, Senate Resolution, Report of Standing Committee, Contingent Expenses.
Senate Journal, May 6, 1915.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE—(RESUMED).

ON CONTINGENT EXPENSES.

SENATE CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, May 6, 1915.

MR. PRESIDENT: Your Committee on Contingent Expenses, to which was referred the following resolution:

WHEREAS, At the session of the Legislature of 1913, there was provided an Advisory Committee to confer with the State Engineer and the State Board of Control regarding location, construction and maintenance of state roads other than state highways constructed under and by virtue of the "State Highway Act" of California, which committee was appointed and has reported its investigations and findings to this session of the Legislature; and,

WHEREAS, Because of lack of funds, said committee was unable to cover all of the sections which should be considered in the determination of a complete road policy for the State; and,

WHEREAS, Three members of the committee of four so appointed are members of this body, and because of the study and knowledge gained, under the original resolution, should logically complete the investigation; therefore,

Resolved, That said three members of the Senate constitute an Advisory Committee to confer with the State Engineer and the State Board of Control to complete the investigation regarding the location, construction and maintenance under and by virtue of the "State Highway Act" of California and report back with recommendations to the forty-second session of the Legislature;

Resolved, That the sum of twelve hundred dollars is hereby made available for the purpose of defraying the expenses of such committee, to be paid from the Contingent Fund of the Senate, and the State Controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant in favor of the chairman of said committee for such expenditures as the same may be certified to him from time to time by the chairman of said committee, and the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay the same;

Has had the same under consideration, and respectfully reports the same back and recommends that it be adopted.

BEBAN, Chairman.

Resolution read.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution.

The roll was called and the resolution adopted by the following vote:

AYES. Senators Anderson, Beban, Benedict Benson, Broad, Brown, Butler, Campbell, Chandler, Cogswell, Cohn, Crowley, Finn, Flaherty, Flint, Gerdas, Irwin, Jones, Kehoe, King, Maddux, Mott, Owens, Purkitt, Scott, Shesater, Strobridge, Stuckenbruck, Thompson, Tyrrell, and Wolfe—31.

NOES. None.

Agreeable to the provisions of the above quoted resolution, the examination referred to was continued, and we respectfully submit the following:

On September 11, 1916, Senators F. F. Cogswell of El Monte, California, W. F. Chandler of Fresno, California, and B. F. Rush of Suisun, California, P. J. Tehaney, secretary of and representing the State Board of Control, and W. F. McClure, State Engineer, left Sacramento at 2 p.m. in a Winton Six automobile owned and driven by Mr. C. C. Kratzer, for Truckee by the way of Auburn and Emigrant Gap.

The old county road from Emigrant Gap, Placer County, to the west end of Donner Lake, in Nevada County, was taken over as a state road by legislative enactment, approved March 13, 1909 (Chapter 224, Statutes 1909), at which time an appropriation of $15,000 was made for survey and improvement. During the forty-first session (1915) of the Legislature, the old county road from Emigrant Gap westerly to Auburn and the old county road from the west end of Donner Lake by the way of Truckee to McKinneys on the west side of Lake Tahoe were made state roads by special enactment. (Chapters 203 and 478, Statutes 1915.) We found this road in fairly good condition, but noted many places which should be improved by added cutting and filling in order to obtain a more uniform grade and wider road-bed. We noted some very dangerous grade crossings over the Southern Pacific Railroad Company's tracks. We heartily approve of the elimination of these crossings by separation of grades as far as possible, in line with special report and recommendations of the Railroad Commission, contained in their reports Nos. 18 and 28.

Because of repeated effort to secure and finance a state road from Truckee to the California-Nevada state line, we spent the next day, September 12th, in examination of the territory. We visited Verdi, by the way of the steep Dog Valley grade, and are convinced that a better road should be furnished. From Truckee to Boca the present county road is good, but the Dog Valley grade from a point near the state line for a distance of two and one-half miles northwesterly is steep and difficult. The suggestion of a road down the Truckee River from Boca to a point on the state line a short distance up river from Verdi as referred to by measures introduced during past sessions of the Legislature appeals to us as deserving serious consideration.

From Truckee we traveled northerly through the counties of Nevada, Sierra and Plumas, and into Lassen County to Richer. The county roads traversed were, in the main, in good condition. By an act of the Legislature, approved April 22, 1911 (Chapter 498, Statutes 1911), a county road beginning on the northern boundary line between Lassen and Shasta counties in the northeast corner of township 37 north, range 6 east, Mount Diablo base and meridian, and running thence to the Lassen-Modoc County line in township 38 north, range 8 east, a distance of twenty-nine miles, was declared a state road. Five thousand dollars was appropriated for improving the road, and since that time some additional moneys from the Motor Vehicle Fund have been spent in maintenance.

The route followed by this road is mapped as a prospective portion of the highway lateral between the Sacramento Valley and Alturas, the county seat of Modoc County, to be constructed by funds provided by bonds voted for on November 7, 1916. We drove over this Lassen County state road, and found it in very good condition.

The State Engineer called our attention to an appropriation made by the 1915 session of the Legislature (Chapter 765, Statutes 1915), of $20,000 for a road in Surprise Valley across a shallow lake, stating that the amount had proven insufficient by about $3,000 to properly complete the work. This road is so remote from centers of population and the demand for improvement so insignificant in comparison with other demands for state aid that we did not consider it of sufficient importance to warrant a trip into eastern Modoc County. It was not made a state road.

We next proceeded by the way of Lookout, Malin, Merrill, Klamath Falls, Dorris, Klamath Hot Springs, Ager and Hornbrook to Yreka, the county seat of Siskiyou County. Effort having been made to secure state aid for a road down the Klamath River Valley, we continued our journey from Yreka to the Klamath River, thence down the valley of the Klamath River over and along a narrow, choppy county road to Happy Camp. This road should be improved and we are willing to recognize the merit of the proposal of securing state aid for continuing the road from Happy Camp southerly to the Humboldt County line, it being our understanding that if this were done, Humboldt County would cheerfully make connection and thus furnish a desirable road between the coast region territory of Humboldt Bay and north central California.

Scott Valley, Siskiyou County, desires better connection with the mining districts of Trinity County and the south. Scott Mountain, however, is a serious barrier. The present road is next to impassable and your committee believes the project of improving a road over this mountain one of merit.

Our course from the Siskiyou-Trinity County line was by the way of Trinity Center, Weaverville and Hayfork to Peanut, thence by the way of the Trinity-Humboldt state road to Mad River near the Trinity-Humboldt County line, thence to Bridgeville, Humboldt County. The road from the west end of the Trinity-Humboldt state road to Bridgeville is very poorly located, very steep and crooked and the proposal to change location and get state aid for construction down the valley of the Van Dusen River appears to us both practicable and reasonable.

From Bridgeville we traveled by the way of Fort Seward, Cummings, Laytonville and Willits, to Ukiah. From Ukiah we traveled through Lake County, by the way of Blue Lakes and Lakeport to the town of Lower Lake.

Chapter 283, Statutes 1915, provides for a state highway from Rumsey, in Yolo County, following generally the meanderings of Cache Creek to the town of Lower Lake in Lake County and appropriated $3,000 for the location and survey of said highway.

Agreeable to the provisions of said Chapter 283, survey was made during December, 1915, and January, 1916.

The result of this survey indicates that the topography of the country between Lower Lake and Rumsey is such that the valley of Cache Creek is the only route which affords a good grade. The elevation of Rumsey, above sea level, is 420 feet, and the elevation of Lower Lake is 1,500 feet above sea level. The grade of Cache Creek between the two towns is a nearly uniform down grade of one-half of one per cent. The distance between Rumsey and Lower Lake is thirty-five miles by the survey.

State Engineer McClure reports that the survey was but preliminary and that for the greater part of the distance the material is of such character that the maintenance of a road in the canyon would be very expensive. The mountain sides are very steep, and in general composed of very soft material. Mr. McClure doubts the wisdom of the construction of a road on the survey made, and recommends that if additional state aid be desired, further examination should be made with the hope of finding a location over territory affording more stable materials for a road bed.

We traveled from Lower Lake to Rumsey by way of a steep mountain road, located for most of the distance from three to five miles south of the valley of Cache Creek.

This is the last project examined by your committee, and we reached Sacramento on the night of September 21st.

Signed:

PRESCOTT F. COGSWELL,

B. F. RUSH,

P. J. TEHANEY,

State Board of Control.

W. F. CHANDLER,

W. F. MCCLURE,

AMENDMENT NUMBER SEVEN.

On page 4, after line 17 of the printed bill as amended March 28, 1917, insert the following:

SEC. 5. Section sixteen of said act, approved March 13, 1909, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 16. After said report has been adopted, the board of trustees, if they consider the total sum to be raised for the payment of the cost of such improvements too great to be properly expended in one year, or too great to be raised in one year by assessment against the property in such storm-water district, may by order entered upon their minutes, provide that the total sum assessed shall be raised in any number of equal annual installments, not exceeding ten. When the board has adopted the report and determined the number of equal annual installments in which such assessment shall be raised, they shall cause their clerk to forward to the tax collector of the county in which such district is situated, who shall file the same in his office, a certified copy of the report, assessment and plat as adopted and confirmed by said board of trustees, together with a certified copy of the order of said board, fixing the number of equal annual installments in which such assessment is to be raised, and the county tax collector shall enter said assessments upon the county assessment roll in the same manner as county taxes. From and after such entry upon the county assessment roll, the first year's installment of the amount assessed thereon against each parcel of land shall become due and payable immediately, and the total amount assessed against each parcel of land shall constitute a lien thereon; and thereafter installments of the assessment for the succeeding years shall become due and payable on the first Monday of October of each year; provided, that any or all subsequent installments of the assessment on any parcel of land may, at the option of any person desiring to pay the same, be paid at any time after the first installment becomes due and payable. If the district is situated in two or more counties, a certified copy of said report, assessment, plat and order of the board of trustees shall be filed with the tax collector of each county in which any part of said district is situated, and thereafter each tax collector shall enter the assessments upon the assessment-roll of his county and proceed as to the property in said district within his own county in the manner hereinafter directed, and the assessment on the property in said county shall be collected in the manner hereinafter directed.

SEC. 6. Section seventeen of said act, approved March 13, 1909, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 17. Within one month after the filing of such certified copy of said report, assessment, plat and order with the tax collector, and the entry of the same upon the county assessment roll, said tax collector shall give notice by ten days' publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in said district, or if there is none, in a newspaper of general circulation published in his county, that the assessment roll of _____ storm-water district of _____ county, has been filed in his office, and entered upon the county assessment roll, with the date of such entry; that the amounts entered thereon are due and payable; that if not paid on or before the first Monday in January next ensuing, the same will become delinquent and will be collected in the same manner as delinquent taxes. If the first Monday in January next ensuing is less than three months from the date of filing the assessment roll with the tax collector, the date, to be stated in the notice, shall be three months after such entry upon the county assessment roll. The tax collector shall note on the county assessment roll all assessments paid, with the dates of payment, giving receipts as in the case of payments of taxes, and shall pay all money collected into the county treasury at the same time and in the same manner as money collected for taxes paid into such treasury. All collections of subsequent installments of the assessment shall be made in the same manner as above set forth, and the tax collector shall annually (after the first year), immediately after the first Monday of October give notice as above directed that the (giving the number) annual installment of the assessments of said district is now due and payable, and that if not paid on or before the first Monday of January next ensuing, the same will become delinquent and will be collected in the same manner as delinquent taxes, and the same proceedings shall be had thereon as upon the collection of the first assessment. If said district is situated in two or more different counties, all moneys collected on account of such assessment shall be paid into the treasury of the county in which said district was organized.

Sec. 7. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered twenty-six a and to read as follows:

Sec. 26a. Whenever the board of trustees deem it necessary for the district to incur a bonded indebtedness, it shall, by resolution, so declare and state the proposition to be submitted to the electors, the purpose for which the proposed debt is to be incurred, the amount of debt to be incurred, the maximum term the bonds proposed to be issued shall run before maturity, which shall not exceed twenty years, and the maximum rate of interest to be paid, which shall not exceed six per cent per annum, payable semiannually. The board of trustees shall fix a date upon which an election shall be held, for the purpose of authorizing said bonded indebtedness to be incurred. It shall be the duty of the board of trustees to provide for holding such special elections on the day so fixed and in accordance with the general election laws of the state, so far as the same shall be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. Such board of trustees shall give notice of the holding of such election, which notice shall contain the resolution adopted by the board of trustees of the district, boundaries of precincts, the location of polling places, and the names of the officers selected to conduct the election, who shall consist of one judge, one inspector and one clerk in each precinct. Such notice shall be published for two weeks in at least one newspaper, and not more than two newspapers published in such district, which newspaper or newspapers shall be designated by the board of trustees; and if there is no newspaper printed in such district, then by publication for two weeks in one newspaper published in the county in which such district is situated, or by posting such notice in three public places therein, at least two weeks before the date of such election. All the expenses of holding such election shall be borne by the district. The returns of such election shall be made, the votes canvassed by said board of trustees on the first Monday following said election, and the results thereof ascertained and declared in accordance with the general election laws of the state, so far as they may be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. The secretary of the board of trustees, as soon as the result is declared, shall enter in the records of such board a statement of such results. No irregularities or informalities in conducting such election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have otherwise been fairly conducted. In all respects not otherwise provided for herein, said election shall be called, managed and directed as is by law provided for general elections in this state applicable thereto.

Sec. 8. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered twenty-six b and to read as follows:

Sec. 26b. If from such returns it appears that more than two-thirds of the votes cast at such election were in favor of and assented to the incurring of such indebtedness, then the board of trustees may, by resolution, at such time or times as it deems proper, provide for the form, denomination and execution of such bonds and for the issuance of any part thereof, and may sell or dispose of the bonds so issued at such time or times and in such manner, either in cash in lawful money of the United States, or its equivalent, as it may deem to be to the public interest, but for not less than the par value thereof; said bonds shall be signed by the president and clerk of said district and the seal of the district shall be affixed.

Sec. 9. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered twenty-six e and to read as follows:

Sec. 26e. Any bonds issued by any district, under the provisions of this act, are hereby given the same force as bonds issued by any municipality, and shall be exempt from all taxation within the State of California.

Sec. 10. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered twenty-six d and to read as follows:

Sec. 26d. Any bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be a lien upon the property of the district and the lien of the bonds of any issue shall be a preferred lien to that of any subsequent issue. Said bonds, and the interest thereon, shall be paid by revenue derived from an annual assessment upon the real property of the district; and all the real property in the district shall be and remain liable to be assessed for such payments.

Sec. 11. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered twenty-six e and to read as follows:

Sec. 26e. The board of trustees of each storm water district shall annually during the month of August estimate the amount of money which will be needed to pay the interest and such portion of any bond issue maturing prior to the preceding August, and certify such amount to the board of supervisors of the county or counties in which said district lies. Such board or boards of supervisors shall, at the time of making the levy of taxes, for county purposes for that year, levy a tax upon the real property in their county in said district, sufficient in amount to raise the sum estimated by the board of trustees to be necessary. When the district is in two or more counties, the amount to be raised upon the part of the district in each county shall be in proportion to the assessed valuation of the several portions of the districts in the respective counties. Said tax, when levied, shall be entered upon the assessment roll and collected in the same manner as the state and county taxes. When the same is collected, it shall be placed in the treasury of the county in which said district is organized, to the credit of the bond fund of said district, and shall be used only for the purpose for which it is raised.

AMENDMENT NUMBER EIGHT.

On page 4 of the printed bill, in line 18, strike out the figure "5" and insert in lieu thereof the figure "12".

AMENDMENT NUMBER NINE.

On page 4 of the printed bill, in line 36, strike out the period and insert in lieu thereof a semicolon and the following: "provided, that if at the time of the dissolution, or disincorporation of said district, there be any outstanding bonded or other indebtedness of such district, then taxes for the payment of such bonded or other indebtedness shall be levied and collected, the same as if such district had not been dissolved and disincorporated, but for all other purposes, such district shall be deemed dissolved and disincorporated from the time of the forwarding of said copy of such entry to said board of supervisors".

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 30—A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California to amend section 21 of Article XX of the Constitution, relative to workmen's compensation.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 30.

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California to amend section 21 of Article XX of the Constitution, relative to workmen's compensation.

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring. That the Legislature of the State of California, at its forty-second regular session commencing on the eighth day of January, nineteen hundred seventeen, two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two Houses of the said Legislature voting therefor, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California that section 21 of Article XX of the Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 21. The Legislature is hereby expressly vested with plenary power, unlimited by any provision of this Constitution, to create, and enforce a complete system of workmen's compensation, by appropriate legislation, and in that behalf to create and enforce a liability on the part of any or all persons to compensate any or all of their workmen for injury or disability, and their dependents for death incurred or sustained by the said workmen in the course of their employment, irrespective of the fault of any party. A complete system of workmen's compensation includes adequate provisions for the comfort, health and safety and general welfare of any and all workmen and those dependent upon them for support to the extent of relieving from the consequences of any injury or death incurred or sustained by workmen in the course of their employment, irrespective of the fault of any party; also full provision for securing safety in places of employment; full provision for such medical, surgical, hospital and other remedial treatment as is requisite to cure and relieve from the effects of such injury; full provision for adequate insurance coverage against liability to pay or furnish compensation; full provision for regulating such insurance coverage in all its aspects, including the establishment and management of a state compensation insurance fund; full provision for otherwise securing the payment of compensation; and full provision for vesting power, authority and jurisdiction in an administrative body with all the requisite governmental functions to determine any disputes or matters arising under such legislation, to the end that the administration of such legislation shall accomplish substantial justice in all cases expeditiously, inexpensively, and without incumbrance of any character; all of which matters are expressly declared to be the social public policy of this State, binding upon all departments of the state government.

The Legislature is vested with plenary powers, unlimited by any other provision of this Constitution, to provide for the settlement of any disputes arising under such legislation by arbitration, or by an industrial accident commission, by the courts, or by either, any, or all of these agencies, either separately or in combination, and may fix and control the method and manner of trial of any such dispute, the rules of evidence and the manner of review of decisions rendered by the tribunal or tribunals designated by it. The Legislature may combine in one statute all the provisions for a complete system of workmen's compensation, as herein defined.

Nothing contained herein shall be taken or construed to impair or render ineffectual in any measure the creation and existence of the industrial accident commission of this State or the state compensation insurance fund, the creation and existence of which, with all the functions vested in them, are hereby ratified and confirmed.

COMMUNICATION.

The following communication was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

ATASCADERO, SAN LUIS OBISPO COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, March 16, 1917
Hon. E. S. Rigdon, Senatorial District No. 17.

DEAR SIR: We, the organization of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Atascadero, in San Luis Obispo County, and the undersigned citizens, earnestly request you to defend the honor and respectability of the citizens of California by vigorously opposing Amendment No. 26, which, if enacted, would prohibit the voters of the State to legislate in regard to the controlling, regulation, or prohibition of the liquor traffic; and Assembly Bill No. 54, which would license and permit prostitution. Such legislation would be an open insult to the conscience of California citizens.

SEC. 2. Upon this act becoming effective the governor shall appoint a competent civil engineer as the head of the department of engineering, and such person shall be known as the state engineer. The state engineer shall devote his entire time to the services of the state and shall not actively engage in any other pursuit while serving as such state official. He shall have charge of all the engineering and structural work of the department.

Sec. 2. Section six of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 6. The department of engineering, by and through the state engineer, shall have power to appoint two assistant engineers, a secretary, one state architect, one assistant state architect, a general superintendent for the architectural division, one mechanical engineer, one architectural designer, one structural engineer, an auditor, one electrical engineer, one estimator, one specification writer, one engineer's draftsman, three architectural draftsmen, two clerks, two stenographers, a blueprint pressman, a janitor, and such additional assistance as the advisory board may, in its judgment, deem necessary, and to fix their salaries and compensation, which officers and appointees shall hold office at the pleasure of the appointive power, and who must be confirmed by the advisory board before proceeding with their duties. Such officers and employees shall devote their entire time to the service of the department.

Sec. 3. Section seventeen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 17. The highway engineer shall receive not to exceed the sum of ten thousand dollars per annum; the state engineer shall receive the sum of five thousand dollars per annum; each assistant engineer shall receive the sum of three thousand dollars per annum; the secretary shall receive the sum of three thousand dollars per annum; the state architect shall receive the sum of four thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; the assistant state architect shall receive the sum of three thousand dollars per annum; the general superintendent for the architectural division shall receive the sum of three thousand dollars per annum; the mechanical engineer shall receive the sum of two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum; the architectural designer shall receive the sum of two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum; the structural engineer shall receive the sum of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; the auditor shall receive the sum of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; the electrical engineer shall receive the sum of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; the estimator shall receive the sum of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; the specification writer shall receive the sum of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; the engineer's draftsman shall receive the sum of two thousand dollars per annum; two architectural draftsmen shall receive the sum of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, each; one architectural draftsman shall receive the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; two clerks shall receive the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars each, per annum; two stenographers shall receive the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars each, per annum; the blueprint pressman shall receive the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; the janitor shall receive the sum of nine hundred dollars per annum. Such salaries shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as are the salaries of other state officers. The highway engineer shall furnish the state with a bond in the sum of twenty thousand dollars; the two assistant engineers and the state architect shall each furnish the state with a bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars; and the secretary shall furnish the state with a bond in the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of their duties. Such bonds must be approved by the governor of the State of California, and filed in the office of the secretary of state. Each of the three appointed members of the advisory board shall receive the sum of three thousand six hundred dollars per annum. Each and every one of the above-mentioned officers shall take the oath of office as prescribed for other state officers. The members of the advisory board, the state engineer and other officers and employees of the department of engineering shall be allowed their necessary traveling expenses while engaged in the discharge of their duties within the state. Every employee of the department of engineering who is entrusted with moneys belonging to the state and who is not already required by law to furnish an official bond shall file a bond if the said department shall so require in such an amount as the department shall deem to be expedient with two sufficient sureties thereon or with a surety company of recognized standing for the faithful performance of his trust, which bond must be approved by the state board of control and filed with the state treasurer. The premium or charge for every such bond, if given by a surety company, shall be paid by said department out of the particular fund under its control, from which fund the moneys are withdrawn and placed in the custody of the bonded employee or out of that fund to which the services of such employee directly pertain.

In civil actions tried by a jury the party or parties to the action who shall announce that a trial by jury is required shall pay the trial jury their per diem fees as jurors but shall recover the fees so paid, except in actions to recover the possession of personal property where the value of the property recovered amounts to less than three hundred dollars and in actions for the recovery of money or damages where the recovery is less than three hundred dollars, as costs from the party or parties against whom the verdict is rendered. For that purpose the party or parties to the action who shall announce that a trial by jury is required shall be required during the trial to deposit daily with the clerk of the court, at or before the time the case each day is called for trial, the amount of money necessary to pay in full the trial jury fees, for such day. Out of the total sum of money so deposited the clerk shall pay daily to each trial juror the fees to which he shall be entitled as provided by law. Clerks of courts of record shall keep an account of all moneys received for trials by each juror during the term, and if the sum so received by such juror shall not amount to the jury fees provided by law per day, he shall deliver to such juror a certificate of the time for which he is entitled to receive pay, which shall be paid out of the county treasury as other county dues. If in any trial in a civil case the jury be for any cause discharged without finding a verdict, the fees of the jury shall be paid by the party who shall have announced that a trial by jury is required, but may be recovered as costs if he afterwards obtain judgment; and until they are paid no further proceedings shall be allowed in the action. On the first day of each regular meeting of the board of supervisors the clerks of courts of record shall file with the clerk of the board of supervisors of their respective counties a detailed statement, containing a list of the jurors, and the amount of fees earned by each juror and paid out of the county treasury. No allowances shall be made to any clerk for any service performed by him, until the statement required by this section shall have been filed as aforesaid.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 13—Relative to the emancipation of Russia from autocratic rule.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 13.

Relative to the emancipation of Russia from autocratic rule.

WHEREAS, The liberty-loving Russian people have freed themselves from the chains of despotic power, and have overthrown and ended the rule of autocratic monarchs, which for centuries has impeded their progress and development, and has prevented them from enjoying the full pursuit of happiness to which they are entitled; and

WHEREAS, The liberty-loving people of the United States, through their government, were the first to give recognition to the new sister republic across the Pacific ocean; and

WHEREAS, The change in the Russian form of government has established a new unity of sympathy and interest between the people of these two great republics, and has more closely cemented the former ties of friendship, which has so long existed between them; and

WHEREAS, The two great harbors of San Francisco and Vladivostok, opening upon the same ocean, constitute the natural doors of communication between Russia and the United States, through which their trade passes; and

WHEREAS, The State of California, because of its geographical position, is most directly and vitally concerned in the commercial and industrial life and welfare of the new Russian republic, and is deeply concerned in the glorious future of the Russian people; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and Assembly of the State of California, jointly. That the legislature of the State of California extends its congratulations to the new Russian government, and to the Russian people upon their splendid victory over the ancient tyranny which bound them, and offers them the hand of republican fellowship; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Russian duma, and to the Russian chamber of commerce in Vladivostok and Petrograd.

COMMUNICATION.

The following communication was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

LOS ANGELES, April 7, 1917.

To the Honorable Senate of the State of California:

The undersigned respectfully protests against the passage of Senate Bill No. 744, creating the office of State Fire Marshal, and especially against the provisions contained in said proposed bill with regard to the regulation of storing, handling and transporting of crude petroleum.

The undersigned is largely engaged in the production of petroleum and considers that the making of stringent regulations with regard to the same as proposed in this bill would greatly hamper this company in the carrying on of its business. There appears to be no good reason why crude petroleum and its products should be treated in the proposed bill as gun powder, dynamite and explosives generally.

The oil industry is one of the chief elements of the wealth in California, and in it are engaged a very large number of responsible companies and individuals, and its production and storage is confined to places where the only risk of fire is to the oil operator himself, who makes use of all reasonable regulations without the necessity of hampering by legislation his action in this matter. We submit that the proposed bill will naturally result in impossible burdens and restrictions of a growing character not common to other industries.

It will be noticed that the bill proposes to invade cities and towns where efficient organizations already exist for modern fire protection, and the result of the enactment of the bill would be the duplication of regulations in a matter which should be left entirely in the hands of the local authorities.

We respectfully submit on behalf of the oil operators and those who buy, transport, store and sell crude petroleum that this entire bill should be defeated, and that in any event, even if there is a creation of any such unlimited powers, we respectfully ask that the oil industries be exempted from any such provisions, and that the words "crude petroleum or any of its products, explosives or inflammable fluids or compounds" found in section 5, lines 3 and 4, page 5, of the bill be stricken out, and that the oil industries be omitted from all of the provisions of any such act.

It is easy to conceive that millions of dollars may be required to be spent for no appreciable benefit to satisfy the ideas of any special skilled or unskilled fire marshal. This ought not to be made probable or possible.

Respectfully,

MORRIS ALBEE, Secretary.

WESTERN UNION OIL COMPANY.

C. P. BAGG, President.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY J. W. KAVANAGH AT THE DESK.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1, after the words "An Act" of the title, strike out the balance of the title and insert in lieu thereof the following: "providing for the regulation and supervision of companies, brokers, agents, and sales of securities as the same are therein defined, and to prevent fraud in the sale of securities; providing for the enforcement of said act and penalties for the violation thereof; and creating a state corporation department and the office of commissioner of corporations".

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1, line 1 after "Section 1.", strike out the balance of the line and all of lines 2 through 13, and on page 2 all of lines 1 through 21, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SECTION 1. This act shall be known as the "Corporate Securities Act."

SEC. 2. Words use in this act in the present tense include the future as well as the present; words used in the masculine gender include the feminine and neuter, and in the neuter, the masculine and feminine; the singular number includes the plural, and the plural the singular; "writing" includes "printing" and "typewriting"; "oath" includes "affirmation"; the word "county" includes "city and county"; and "territory" includes "district." The following words have in this act the signification attached to them in this section, unless otherwise apparent from the context:

1. The word "department" means the "state corporation department" created by this act.

2. The word "commissioner" means the "commissioner of corporations."

3. The word "company" includes all domestic and foreign, private corporations, associations, joint stock companies, and partnerships, of every kind, and also trustees, as hereinafter defined; excepting therefrom:

(a) All national banking associations and other corporations organized and existing under and by virtue of the acts of the congress of the United States;

(b) All public utilities subject to the jurisdiction, control, and regulation of the railroad commission of this state and to the public utilities act;

(c) All corporations transacting a banking or insurance business within this state;

(d) All corporations, associations, or societies transacting business under the supervision, examination, and license of the bureau of building and loan supervision; and

(e) Every corporation organized under the laws of this state exclusively for the purposes provided in any of the following titles, to wit: XIa, XII, XIIa, XIV, XXI, and XXII of Part IV, division first, of the Civil Code, and in accordance with the provisions of such titles.

4. The word "trust" as used in this act includes all voluntary trusts, as the same are defined in the Civil Code, expressly created by or declared in an instrument in writing, other than a will or a judicial writ, order, decree, or judgment, to carry on any business or to secure the payment or repayment of money.

5. The word "trustee," except as hereinafter used in subdivision 9 of this section, includes only persons or companies executing trusts as hereinbefore defined.

6. The word "security" includes:

(a) All shares or other interests or rights into which the capital, capital stock, or property, of companies or rights of stockholders or members thereof, are divided, including all treasury shares and shares of their own capital stock, purchased or otherwise acquired by companies upon delinquent assessment sales or in any other lawful manner, and all certificates and other instruments issued by them or their authority, evidencing or representing such shares, interests, or rights;

(b) All bonds, debentures, and evidences of indebtedness issued by any company; and

(c) Any instrument issued or offered to the public by any company, evidencing or representing any right to participate or share in the profits or earnings or the distribution of assets of any business carried on for profit; excepting therefrom the following:

1. Bills of exchange and promissory notes not offered to the public by the drawer, maker, or underwriter thereof, and all mortgages and deeds of trust of property situated in this state, executed to secure the payment thereof; and

2. Any security listed in any standard manual of information, as to which the commissioner shall first make and file his written finding to the effect that such security is fully and accurately described in such manual and that a sale thereof will not, in his opinion, work a fraud upon the purchaser thereof; provided, that if such finding shall thereafter be vacated or set aside, such security shall not thereafter be deemed to be included within this exception.

7. A "sale," within the meaning of this act, includes every contract by which, for a pecuniary consideration, called a price, one transfers to another an interest in property, and also an exchange, a pledge, a hypothecation, and any transfer in trust or otherwise as security for the performance of an obligation, and also any issue of any security by a company; and the word "sell," as used in this act, includes every act by which such sale is made.

8. The word "agent" as used in this act means and includes every person or company employed or appointed by a company or a broker who shall, within this state, either as an employee or otherwise, for a compensation, sell, offer for sale, negotiate for the sale of, or take subscriptions for any security of any company of its own issued offered for sale by it.

9. The word "broker" as used in this act includes every person or company, other than an agent, who shall, in this state, engage, either wholly or in part, in the business of selling, offering for sale, negotiating for the sale of, or otherwise dealing in any security or securities issued by others, or of underwriting any issue of securities or of purchasing such securities with the purpose of reselling them or of offering them for sale to the public for a commission or at a profit; excepting therefrom the following:

(a) Any owner of any security who is not the issuer or an underwriter thereof, who sells or exchanges the same for his own account; provided, that such sale or exchange is not made in the course of repeated and successive transactions of like or similar character by him;

(b) Any trustee who, in such capacity, lawfully disposes of any property;

(c) Any company transacting a banking or insurance business in this state, selling a security for an owner thereof or a broker, other, than an underwriter thereof, at a commission of not more than two per cent of the par or face value thereof; provided, such sale is not made in the course of repeated and successive transactions of like or similar character by such company;

(d) One, not the issuer, who disposes of securities to a broker or to a purchaser who, as a part of his regular business, purchases such securities;

(e) Any pledge holder selling, in good faith and not for the purpose of avoiding the provisions of this act, and in the ordinary course of business, a security pledged with him as security for a bona fide debt.

10. The words "actual fraud," as used in this act, are defined in section 1572 of the Civil Code.

SEC. 3. No company shall sell, offer for sale, negotiate for the sale of, or take subscriptions for any security of its own issue until it shall have first applied for and secured from the commissioner a permit, authorizing it so to do. Such application shall be in writing, shall be verified as provided in the Code of Civil Procedure for the verification of pleadings, and shall be filed in the office of the commissioner. In such application the applicant shall set forth the names and addresses of its officers, the location of its office, an itemized account of its financial condition, the amount and character of its assets and liabilities, a detailed statement of the plan upon which it proposes to transact business, a copy of any security it proposes to issue, a copy of any contract it proposes to make concerning the same, a copy of any prospectus or advertisement, or other description of such securities, then prepared by or for it for distribution or publication, and such additional information concerning the company, its condition and affairs as the commissioner may require. If the applicant is a partnership or an unincorporated association or joint stock company, it shall file with its application a copy of its articles of partnership or association, and all other papers pertaining to its organization. If the applicant is a trustee, it shall file with its application a copy of all instruments by which the trust is created and in which it is accepted, acknowledged, or declared. If the applicant is a corporation, it shall file with its application a copy of all minutes of any proceedings of its directors or stockholders or members relating to or affecting the issue of such securities, and also a copy of its articles of incorporation and of its by-laws and of any amendments thereto. If the applicant is a corporation or association organized under the laws of any other state, territory, or government, it shall also file with its application a certificate, executed by the proper officer of such state, territory, or government not more than thirty days before the filing of such application, showing that such applicant is authorized to transact business in such state, territory, or government; and also, in such form as the commissioner may prescribe, its written instrument, irrevocably appointing the commissioner and his successor in office its true and lawful attorney upon whom all process in any action or proceeding against it may be served, with the same effect as if said corporation or association were organized or created under the laws of this state and had been lawfully served with process therein.

SEC. 4. Upon the filing of such application, it shall be the duty of the commissioner to examine it and the other papers and documents filed therewith, and he may, if he deems it advisable, make or have made a detailed examination, audit, and investigation of the applicant and its affairs. If he finds that the proposed plan of business of the applicant is not unfair, unjust, or inequitable, that it intends to fairly and honestly transact its business, and that the securities that it proposes to issue and the methods to be used by it in issuing or disposing of them are not such as, in his opinion, will work a fraud upon the purchaser thereof, the commissioner shall issue to the applicant a permit authorizing it to issue and dispose of securities, as therein provided, in this state, in such amounts and for such considerations and upon such terms and conditions as the commissioner may in said permit provide. Otherwise, he shall deny the application and refuse such permit and notify the applicant in writing of his decision. Every permit shall recite in bold type that the issuance thereof is permissive only and does not constitute a recommendation or endorsement of the securities permitted to be issued. The commissioner may impose such conditions as he may deem necessary to the issue of such securities, and shall have the power to establish such rules and regulations as may be reasonable or necessary to insure the disposition of the proceeds of such securities in the manner and for the purposes provided in such permit, and may, from time to time for cause, amend, alter, or revoke any permit issued by him, or temporarily suspend the rights of the applicant under such permit.

SEC. 5. No person or company shall act as an agent or broker until such person or company shall have first applied for and secured from the commissioner a certificate, then in effect, authorizing such person or company so to do. Every such certificate shall expire on the 31st day of December next after its issuance, unless sooner revoked. To secure such certificate, the applicant shall make and file in the office of the commissioner an application therefor in writing, verified by or in behalf of the applicant. In such application, the applicant shall set forth, in addition to such other information as may be required by the commissioner:

1. The name and address of the applicant, and, if it be a corporation, association, or joint stock company, the name and address of each of its managing officers and agents, and, if it be a partnership, the name and address of each of the partners;
2. A succinct statement of facts showing that the applicant, and its managing officers and agents, if it be a corporation, or members, if it be a partnership, have a good business reputation;
3. If the applicant is a broker, the general plan and character of the business of the applicant.

For filing such application, the applicant shall pay a fee as hereinafter provided. If the applicant is a corporation or association organized under the laws of any other state, territory, or government, it shall file with its application a copy of its articles of incorporation or association, together with a certificate executed by the proper officer of such state, territory, or government not more than thirty days before the filing of such application, showing that such applicant is authorized to transact business in such state, territory, or government, and also, in such form as the commissioner may prescribe, its written instrument, irrevocably appointing the commissioner and his successor in office its true and lawful attorney upon whom all process in any action or proceeding against it, arising out of or founded upon the actual fraud of such applicant in the sale of securities within this state, may be served, with the same effect as if said corporation or association were organized or created under the laws of this state and had been lawfully served with process therein.

Sec. 6. The commissioner shall examine such application, and shall make such further investigation of the applicant and its affairs as he shall deem advisable. If, from such examination, the commissioner shall be satisfied of the good business reputation of the applicant and of its officers or members, if any, he shall issue such certificate. Otherwise, he shall refuse the same and deny the application and notify the applicant of his decision. The commissioner may at any time revoke any broker's or agent's certificate issued by him if he shall find that the holder thereof is of bad business repute, or has violated any provision of this act, or has engaged, or is about to engage in any fraudulent transaction.

Sec. 7. No person, partnership, association, or corporation shall issue, circulate, or publish any advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, or circular concerning any security, to be issued by any company, that such person, partnership, association, or corporation desires or proposes to sell, until the company proposing to issue such security shall have first secured from the commissioner a permit authorizing it to issue or sell such security; nor shall any company, broker, or agent, or any other person, issue, circulate, or publish any advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, or circular concerning any security sold or offered for sale by it, unless the name of the company, broker, agent, or person issuing, circulating, or publishing the same shall be subscribed thereto, and a true copy thereof shall have been first filed in the office of the commissioner, or deposited in a United States post office, properly enclosed in a sealed envelope, addressed to the commissioner at Sacramento, California, with the postage duly prepaid thereon; nor shall any company, broker, or agent, or any other person, issue, circulate, or publish any such advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, or circular after notice in writing given to it by the commissioner that, in his opinion, the same contains any statement that is false or misleading or otherwise likely to deceive a reader thereof.

Sec. 8. Every company authorized by the commissioner to sell securities shall thereafter, at such times as it may be required by the commissioner, make and file in the office of the commissioner a report, setting forth, in such form as the commissioner may prescribe, the securities sold by it under the authority of any permit issued by him, the proceeds derived therefrom, the disposition of such proceeds and such other information concerning its property, officers, or affairs, relating to or affecting the value of such securities, as the commissioner may require.

Sec. 9. Every broker shall, at such times as it may be required by the commissioner, make and file in the office of the commissioner a true and correct statement concerning any security sold or offered for sale by such broker, showing the name and location of the principal office of the issuer of such security; the names of its managing officers, if it is a corporation, or of its members, if it is a partnership; its assets, liabilities, and issued capital stock, at the close of its fiscal year then last ended, or at a later date; its gross income, expenses, and fixed charges for the year next preceding such date, or for such time as such issuer of such security has transacted business, if for less than one year, and the approximate price at which such broker has sold or proposes to sell such security, together with such other information, of which the broker may have knowledge, as the commissioner may require.

Sec. 10. All papers, documents, reports, and other instruments in writing filed with the commissioner under this act shall be open to public inspection; provided, that if, in his judgment, the public welfare or the welfare of any company, broker, or agent demands that any portion of such information be not made public, he may, in his discretion, withhold such information from public inspection for such time as in his judgment is necessary. The commissioner may at any time give, issue, or make public any information concerning any company or any contracts, stocks, bonds, or other securities sold or offered for sale within this state, if in his judgment the giving, issuing, or publishing of the same will be of public interest or advantage or will tend to prevent the fraudulent sale of such securities.

Sec. 11. Every order, decision, permit or other official act of the commissioner shall be subject to review, in accordance with the provisions of chapter one of title one of part three of the Code of Civil Procedure; and any party aggrieved by any such order, decision, or permit of the commissioner may appeal therefrom to the superior court of the county of Sacramento, by serving upon the commissioner a notice of such appeal, a demand in writing for a certified transcript of all the papers on file in his office affecting or relating to such decision, and the payment of the fee therefor, within sixty days after the making of any such order, permit, or decision.

Thereupon, the commissioner shall, within ten days, make and certify such transcript, and the appellant shall, within five days thereafter, file the same and the notice of appeal with the clerk of said court. Upon the hearing of such appeal, the burden of proof shall lie upon the appellant, and the court shall receive and consider any pertinent evidence, whether oral or documentary, concerning the action of the commissioner from which the appeal is taken, but shall be limited to a consideration and determination of the question whether there has been an abuse of discretion on the part of the commissioner in making such order, decision, or permit.

SEC. 12. Every security issued by any company, without a permit of the commissioner authorizing the same then in effect, shall be void, and every security issued by any company, with the authorization of the commissioner but not conforming in its provisions to the provisions, if any, which it is required by the permit of the commissioner to contain, shall be void.

SEC. 13. Every company which shall directly or indirectly issue or cause to be issued any security contrary to the provisions of this act, or of the constitution of this state, or in nonconformity with a permit of the commissioner authorizing the same, or which applies the proceeds from the sale thereof, or any part thereof, to any purpose other than the purpose or purposes, if any, specified in such permit, or to any purpose specified in such permit in excess of any amount limited in such permit to be used for such purpose, shall be guilty of a public offense and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars.

SEC. 14. Every officer, agent, or employee of any company, and every other person, who knowingly authorizes, directs, or aids in the issue or sale of, or issues or executes, or sells, or causes or assists in causing to be issued, executed, or sold, any security, in nonconformity with a permit of the commissioner then in effect authorizing such issue, or contrary to the provisions of this act, or of the constitution of this state, or who, in any application to the commissioner, or in any proceeding before him, or in any examination, audit, or investigation made by him or his authority, knowingly makes any false statement or representation, or who, with knowledge of its falsity, files or causes to be filed in the office of the commissioner any false statement or representation concerning such company or the property which it then holds or proposes to acquire, or concerning its officers or its financial condition or other affairs, or concerning its proposed plan of business, or who, with knowledge of the falsity of any such statement or representation, issues, executes, or sells, or causes to be issued, executed, or sold, any security, without first informing the commissioner of the falsity of such statement in writing, or who, directly or indirectly, knowingly applies, or causes or assists in causing to be applied, the proceeds, or any part thereof, from the sale of any security to any purpose contrary to the provisions of the permit authorizing the issue of such security, or to any purpose specified in such permit in excess of any amount limited in such permit to be used for such purpose, or who, with knowledge that any security has been issued or executed in violation of any of the provisions of this act, sells or offers the same for sale, or who, with knowledge that any advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, or circular concerning any security contains any statement that is false, or misleading or otherwise likely to deceive a reader thereof, issues, circulates, or publishes the same, or shall cause the same to be issued, circulated, or published, or who, in any other respect, wilfully violates or fails to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or who, in any other respect, wilfully violates or fails, omits, or neglects to obey, observe, or comply with any order, permit, decision, demand, or requirement, or any part or provision thereof, of the commissioner under the provisions of this act, is guilty of a public offense and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five years, or in a county jail not exceeding two years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 15. There is hereby created a state corporation department. The chief officer of such department shall be the commissioner of corporations. He shall be appointed by the governor and hold office at the pleasure of the governor. He shall receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars, to be paid monthly out of the state treasury upon a warrant of the controller. He shall within fifteen days from the time of notice of his appointment take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office and file the same in the office of the secretary of state and execute to the people of the state a bond in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars with corporate security or two or more sureties, to be approved by the governor of the state, for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office.

SEC. 16. The commissioner shall employ such clerks and deputies as he may need to discharge in proper manner the duties imposed upon him by law. The attorney general shall render to the commissioner opinions upon all questions of law, relating to the construction or interpretation of this act or arising in the administration thereof, that may be submitted to him by the commissioner, and shall act as the attorney for the commissioner in all actions and proceedings brought by or against him under or pursuant to any of the provisions of this act. Neither the commissioner nor any of his clerks or deputies shall be interested in any company which shall have applied for or secured a permit to sell securities, or in any broker, or agent as a director, stockholder, officer, member, agent, or employee. Such clerks and deputies shall perform such duties as the commissioner shall assign to them. He shall fix the compensation of such clerks and deputies, which compensation shall be paid monthly, on the certificate of the commissioner and on the warrant of the controller, out of the state treasury. Each deputy shall, within fifteen days after his appointment, take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office, and file the same in the office of the secretary of state.

SEC. 17. The commissioner shall at all times have the power to administer oaths and to make an examination or investigation of the books, records, accounts, and other papers, and of the business of any company, broker, or agent permitted or authorized by him to sell securities, to make dividends, to create debts, to divide, withdraw, or pay to the stockholders, or any of them, any part of its capital stock, or to increase or reduce its capital stock. In any examination, audit, or investigation made or hearing conducted by him, he shall have the power to take the testimony of any witness and to issue subpoenas requiring the attendance upon such examination, audit, investigation, or hearing in any part of the state of witnesses and the production of books, documents, and other things under their control, and in any such case to take or cause to be taken the deposition of any witness residing within or without this state. All of the provisions of chapter two of title three of part four of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the means of production of evidence out of court, shall be applicable to any examination, investigation, or hearing under this act. No person shall be excused from testifying or from producing any book, document, or other thing under his control upon any such examination, audit, investigation, or hearing upon the ground that his testimony, or the book, document, or other thing required of him, may tend to incriminate him, or may have a tendency to subject him to punishment for a felony, or to a penalty or forfeiture; but no person shall be prosecuted, punished, or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any act, transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he shall have been so compelled to testify under oath, or to produce such documentary or other evidence; provided, that no person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution or punishment for perjury if committed by him in his testimony. The authority to make or conduct any such examination, audit, investigation, or hearing, including the authority to administer oaths, and to subpoena witnesses and take their testimony, may be delegated by the commissioner to any deputy or examiner appointed by him for that purpose. Such appointment shall be made by an instrument in writing, signed by the commissioner under his official seal, and upon such examination, audit, investigation, or hearing, the same shall be produced by such deputy or examiner at any time upon demand therefor.

SEC. 18. In any action or proceeding commenced or prosecuted in this state against any corporation or association which shall have appointed the commissioner its attorney, as provided in section three of this act, and in any action or proceeding commenced or prosecuted in this state, arising out of or founded upon the actual fraud of any corporation or association which shall have appointed the commissioner its attorney, as provided in section five of this act, service of process may be made upon the commissioner. In any such case, the commissioner shall forthwith forward by mail, postage prepaid, to the person designated by such corporation or association by an instrument in writing duly executed by it and filed with the commissioner, at the address stated in such instrument, or, if no such designation has been made, to the secretary of such corporation or association at its last known post-office address, a copy of such process; whereupon, and upon the payment of the fee herein provided for, service of such process upon such company shall be deemed to be complete and to be personal service upon such corporation or association, with the same effect as if said corporation or association were organized or incorporated under the laws of this state and had been lawfully served with process therein. The certificate of the commissioner, under his official seal, of such service, shall be competent and sufficient proof thereof.

SEC. 19. The commissioner shall have his principal office in the city of Sacramento, and may establish branch offices in the city and county of San Francisco, and in the city of Los Angeles, and he shall from time to time obtain the necessary furniture, stationery, fuel, light, and other proper conveniences for the transaction of the business of the department; the expenses of which shall be paid out of the state treasury on the certificate of the commissioner and the warrant of the controller.

SEC. 20. The commissioner shall charge and collect the following fees:

1. For filing any application for a permit to issue securities: ten dollars, plus—
One twentieth of one per cent of the amount of any excess of the aggregate value of the securities sought to be issued over twenty thousand dollars and not exceeding fifty thousand dollars;

One twenty-fifth of one per cent of such amount in excess of fifty thousand dollars and not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars;

One fiftieth of one per cent of such amount in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars; and

One one-hundredth of one per cent of such amount in excess of five hundred thousand dollars.

The value of such securities shall be deemed to be their par or face value, if they have a par or face value; otherwise, the price at which the company proposes to sell or issue the same, or the value, as alleged in the application, of the consideration (if other than money) to be received in exchange therefor.

2. For filing any application for a permit or other authority to make dividends, create debts, or to divide, withdraw, increase, reduce, or pay to the stockholders, or any of them, the capital stock, or any part thereof; the same amount that would otherwise be chargeable or collectible if such application were for a permit to issue securities; provided, that in any such case the value shall be determined by the amount of dividends made, debts created, or capital stock divided, withdrawn, increased, reduced, or paid.

3. For filing any application for a broker's certificate: five dollars.

4. For filing any application for an agent's certificate: one dollar.

5. For any examination, audit, or investigation: ten dollars per day or fraction thereof, if made by the commissioner, or the actual amount of the salary or other compensation, not exceeding ten dollars per day, paid to any deputy or other employee of the commissioner, if made by a deputy or other employee, for each day or fraction thereof that such commissioner, deputy, or other employee shall necessarily be absent from his office for the purpose of making such examination, audit, or investigation, plus the actual amount of traveling expenses reasonably incurred in the performance of such work.

6. For copies of papers and records not required to be certified or otherwise authenticated by the commissioner: ten cents for each folio.

7. For certified copies of official documents, orders, and other papers filed in his office: for making and mailing copies of process served upon him under the provisions of section eighteen of this act, and for transcripts on appeal: fifteen cents for each folio and one dollar for each certificate under seal affixed thereto.

8. For certificate of service and mailing of process served upon the commissioner under the provisions of section eighteen of this act: two dollars.

No fees shall be charged or collected for copies of papers, records, or official documents furnished to public officers for use in their official capacity or for the reports of the commissioner in the ordinary course of distribution; but the commissioner may fix a reasonable charge for publications issued under his authority.

All fees charged and collected under this section shall be paid at least once each week, accompanied by a detailed statement thereof, into the treasury of the state to the credit of a fund to be known as the "corporation commission fund," which fund is hereby created.

SEC. 21. All moneys which shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the "corporation commission fund" are hereby appropriated to be used by the commissioner in carrying out the provisions of this act; and the controller shall draw his warrant on said fund from time to time in favor of the commissioner for the amounts expended under his direction, and the treasurer shall pay the same. The commissioner may, with the consent of the board of control, withdraw from said fund a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars, to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. The commissioner must account for the sum withdrawn for said revolving fund at any time upon demand of the board of control.

SEC. 22. The commissioner shall adopt a seal bearing the following inscription: "Commissioner of Corporations, State of California." The seal shall be affixed to all writs, orders, permits, and certificates issued by him, and to such other instruments as he shall direct. All courts shall take judicial notice of said seal.

SEC. 23. The commissioner may execute in duplicate any order, finding, or permit issued by him, and each of such parts shall be deemed to be an original. An original of every such order, finding, or permit shall be retained and preserved by him in his office. Copies of all documents, orders, and permits made, executed, or issued by the commissioner, and of all papers filed in his office, when certified by the commissioner under his official seal, shall be received in evidence in all cases in like manner and with the same effect as the originals. Any order or permit issued by the commissioner, or a copy thereof certified by the commissioner under his official seal, to be a true copy of the original order or permit, may be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which is located the principal place of business of the company affected thereby or in which is situated any property of such company, and such record shall impart notice of such order or permit, and of all its provisions, to all persons. A certificate under the seal of the commissioner that any such order or permit has not been amended, altered, revoked, or suspended may also be recorded in the same offices and with like effect.

SEC. 24. Every official report made by the commissioner, and every report, duly verified, made to him by any deputy, clerk, or other person employed by him, of any examination, audit, or investigation made by him or under his direction, and copies of such reports, certified by the commissioner, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated for all purposes in any action or proceedings wherein any company, broker, agent, or the commissioner is a party.

SEC. 25. Neither this act nor any provision hereof shall be deemed to prohibit subscriptions for shares of a corporation made prior to the incorporation thereof and set forth in its articles of incorporation; but such subscriptions shall be deemed to have been made and accepted upon the condition that such corporation, when incorporated, shall with reasonable diligence apply for and secure from the commissioner a permit authorizing the issue of the shares so subscribed for, in accordance with such subscriptions. The directors or trustees named in the articles of incorporation may, prior to the issue of any shares, organize by the election of a president, who must be one of their number, a secretary and a treasurer; and such directors, or a majority of them, or such president and secretary may, in the name of and in behalf of the corporation, present an application to the commissioner as herein provided.

SEC. 26. This act, in so far as it does not add to, take from, or alter an act entitled "An act to define investment companies, investment brokers, and agents; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof; to provide penalties for the violation thereof; to create the office of commissioner of corporations, and making an appropriation therefor," approved May 28, 1913, as amended by an act entitled "An act to amend section three of an act entitled 'An act to define investment companies, investment brokers, and agents, to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof; to provide penalties for the violation thereof; to create the office of commissioner of corporations, and making an appropriation therefor,' approved May 28, 1913," approved June 3, 1915, shall be construed as a continuation thereof.

All decisions, orders, rules, findings, certificates, or permits heretofore made or issued, and acts done by the commissioner, shall continue in force and have the same effect as if they had been lawfully made, issued, or done under the provisions of this act.

This act shall not affect any appeal pending from any decision of the commissioner, or any proceeding to which he, in his official capacity, is a party, but the same may be prosecuted or defended with the same effect as if this act had not been passed. Any examination, audit, or investigation undertaken, commenced, or prosecuted prior to the taking effect of this act may be conducted to a final determination in the same manner and with the same effect as if it had been undertaken, commenced, or prosecuted under the provisions of this act, and in the manner herein provided. No action or proceeding, either civil or criminal, or course of action arising under any law of this state shall abate by reason of the passage of this act, but actions or proceedings may be commenced and prosecuted upon such causes in the same manner and with the same effect as if this act had not been passed.

SEC. 27. Neither this act nor any provision hereof shall apply to or be construed as a regulation of commerce with foreign nations or among the several states, except in so far as the same may be permitted under the provisions of the constitution and the acts of the Congress of the United States.

SEC. 28. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

SEC. 29. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Senate Bill No. 894—An act to amend section 1754 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California, relating to the bonds of guardians.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1, commencing with line 4, strike out all of the balance of the bill and insert in lieu thereof the following:

1754. Before the order appointing any person guardian under this chapter takes effect, and before letters issue, the court must require of such person a bond to the minor with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the judge, and in such sum as he shall order, conditioned that the guardian will faithfully execute the duties of his trust according to law, and the following conditions shall form a part of such bond without being expressed therein:

(1) To make an inventory of all the estate, real and personal, of his ward, that comes to his possession or knowledge, and to return the same within such time as the court may order.

(2) To dispose of and manage the estate according to law and for the best interest of the ward, and faithfully to discharge his trust in relation thereto, and also in relation to the care, custody, and education of the ward.

(3) To render an account on oath of the property, estate, and moneys of the ward in his hands, and all proceeds or interests derived therefrom, and of the management and disposition of the same, within three months after his appointment, and at such other times as the court directs, and at the expiration of his trust to settle his accounts with the court, or with the ward, if he be of full age, or his legal representatives, and to pay over and deliver all the estate, moneys, and effects remaining in his hands, or due from him on such settlement, to the person who is lawfully entitled thereto. Upon filing the bond, duly approved, letters of guardianship must issue to the person appointed. In form the letters of guardianship must be substantially the same as letters of administration, and the oath of the guardian must be endorsed thereon that he will perform the duties of his office as such guardian according to law.

If the surety is a corporation the bond shall be in the following form:

Whenever the term "main county" is used herein, it shall be held to mean the county wherein the petition for formation of the district has been filed.

SEC. 2. The board of supervisors of any county in this state is hereby vested with jurisdiction, power and authority, that the conditions stated in this act are found to require to protect, conserve or improve, which may be entirely within, incorporated territory or partly within incorporated and partly within unincorporated territory, and within or without, of any water and partly within the county in which said work is located for all or any of these objects and purposes:

(a) Of preventing floods;

(b) Of regulating stream and water channels by changing, widening and deepening the same;

(c) Of preventing or of filling or of draining wet, swamp and overflowed lands;

(d) Of preventing or aiding the deposit of detritus and silt;

(e) Of regulating the flow of streams;

(f) Of constructing canals;

(g) Of forestation or reforestation;

(h) Of spreading and sinking flood water;

(i) Of diverting in whole or in part eliminating water courses; and incident to such purposes and to enable their accomplishment, to straighten, widen, deepen, divert, or change the course or terminus of, any natural or artificial water course;

(j) To build reservoirs, canals, levees, walls, embankments, bridges, dams, by-passes or spreading basins; or sinking wells or sinking basins; to maintain, operate and repair any of the constructions herein named;

(k) To conserve flood waters and to dispose of waters which have been conserved, for purposes of irrigation;

(l) To construct and maintain levees and embankments for the prevention of damage by floods to real or personal property or real and personal property and to do all things for the fulfillment of the purposes of this act.

SEC. 3. Petition. Before any board of supervisors shall call an election to determine whether a district shall be established, and before a district shall be established as outlined in section two hereof, a petition shall be filed in the office of the clerk of said board of supervisors signed either by fifty freeholders, or by a majority of the freeholders, or by the owners of more than half of the property, in either acreage or assessed value, according to the last assessment roll, within the limits of the territory proposed to be organized into a conservancy district under this act.

The petition shall set forth:

First—The proposed name of said district.

Second—The necessity for the proposed work and that it will be conducive to the public health, safety, convenience or welfare.

Third—A general description of the purpose of the contemplated improvement, and of the territory to be included in the proposed district. Said description of the territory to be included need not be given by metes and bounds, or by legal subdivisions, but it shall be sufficient if a generally accurate description is given of the territory to be organized as a district. Said territory need not be contiguous, provided it be so situated that the public health, safety, convenience or welfare will be promoted by the organization as a single district of the territory described.

Fourth—Said petition shall pray for the organization of the district by the name proposed.

No petition with the requisite signature shall be declared null and void on account of alleged defects, but the board of supervisors may at any time prior to the hearing thereof permit the petition to be amended in form and substance to conform to the facts, by correcting any errors in the description of the territory to be included, or in any other particular. Several similar petitions or duplicate copies of the same petition for the organization of the same district may be filed and shall together be regarded as one petition. All such petitions filed prior to the hearing on said petition shall be considered by the board of supervisors the same as though filed with the petition first placed on file.

In determining when a majority of landowners have signed the petition the board of supervisors shall be governed by the names as they appear upon the last tax assessment roll prior to one day before the filing of said petition, which shall be prima facie evidence of such ownership.

SEC. 4. At the time of filing the petition, or at any time subsequent thereto and prior to the time of the hearing on said petition, a bond shall be filed running to the board of supervisors of the county in which the petition is filed, with security approved by the board of supervisors, sufficient to pay all the expenses connected with the proceeding in case the said board of supervisors refuses to organize the district. If at any time during the proceeding the said board of supervisors shall be satisfied that the bond first executed is insufficient in amount, it may require the execution of an additional bond within a time to be fixed to be not less than ten days distant, and upon failure of the petitioners to execute the same the petition shall be dismissed.

SEC. 5. Immediately after the filing of such petition, the clerk of the board of supervisors with whom such petition is filed shall cause notice by publication to be made of the pendency of the petition and of the time and place of the hearing thereon and of the hearing of objections to the formation of such district. The board of supervisors of the county in which the petition was filed, shall thereafter, for all purposes of this act, except as hereinafter otherwise provided, maintain and have original and exclusive jurisdiction coextensive with the boundaries and limits of said district and of lands and other property proposed to be affected by said district; provided, that where said district lies in more than one county the board of supervisors of the county where the petition is filed shall forthwith notify the board or boards of supervisors of other counties in which said district is situated by directing a letter and transmitting the same by mail to the clerk or clerks of said board or boards notifying said board or boards of that fact and setting a day for a joint meeting with said board or boards, whereupon said boards shall meet jointly for the purpose of hearing said petition and objections thereto, if any, and for the transaction of business, in the chambers of the board with whom said petition was filed; provided, that said meetings from time to time may be continued, by mutual agreement, whereupon said boards shall sit conjointly thereafter for all purposes of this act, except as hereinafter otherwise provided, and maintain and have original and exclusive jurisdiction extensive with the boundaries and limits of the district and of lands and other property proposed to be included in said district or affected by said district without regard to the usual limits of their jurisdiction. A majority of the members of the joint board shall constitute a quorum; provided, that in the event that the board of supervisors of any county in which a portion of the district lies, after having been given due notice, as herein provided, of the hearing for the formation of such district, who shall after having been given said notice fail to appear and participate as a member, or members, of said joint board, shall be considered to have waived all right to participate in the deliberations of said board, and a majority of the supervisors representing the other county or counties in which said district lies, shall thereby automatically constitute the joint board of supervisors and shall have all jurisdiction and powers provided for said joint board of supervisors under this act. The clerk of the board of supervisors with whom the petition is filed, and all officers of the board with whom the petition is filed, shall be clerk and officers of the boards sitting jointly as herein specified. The act of the clerk of said board of supervisors transmitting said letter of notification shall be deemed the act of said board of supervisors so notifying. At the day set for said hearing all objections to said petition shall be heard by said board or joint board. Said board or joint board shall have and it is hereby given full discretion to approve or deny said petition by a majority vote of its members present. Its decision in the matter shall be final and conclusive except as to the matters hereinafter stated. Objections to said petition need not be in writing, but the determination of said board shall be in writing and entered upon the minutes of said board.

Said board shall at said hearing, if it approve said petition, determine what land or lands within said proposed district will be benefited by said proposed improvements, and said board may in its discretion change or alter the boundaries of said proposed district to conform to the needs of the district; provided, that they shall include therein only such land as will in their judgment be benefited by the proposed work or improvement, and provided, that they shall not include therein land not included within the proposed boundaries of the district set forth in the petition; and provided, that said board shall at said hearing or adjourned hearing define the boundaries of the proposed district. The findings of such board shall be conclusive upon the genuineness and sufficiency of the signatures to the petition and of the notice of the hearing.

Sec. 6. Said board or joint board of supervisors, unless said petition be denied, must, if said lands of said district lie wholly within the county, within ten days after the termination of a hearing upon said petition, otherwise within thirty days after the termination of a hearing upon said petition, call an election within the proposed district for the determination of the question, whether such proposed district shall or shall not be organized and also to elect five persons who shall act as directors of the district for the ensuing term in case such district be organized, shall divide said district into convenient precincts and fix a polling place in each, and shall appoint three qualified electors in each precinct of said district to conduct said election; which election must be held within forty days from the date of said order.

Said election shall be called by posting notice thereof in three of the most public places in such county in said proposed conservancy district, and by publication in a daily or weekly paper in each of said counties, if there be one, at least once a week for not less than fifteen days. Said notices must specify the time, place or places and purposes of said election, give the boundaries of the said proposed conservancy district as determined at the hearing of the petition, designate the respective election precincts and the polling place in each and the election officers and the hours during which the polls will be kept open; provided, that the polls must be opened not later than eight o'clock a.m., and kept open until seven o'clock p.m.

It shall be the duty of the board of supervisors to order placed upon the ballot the names of candidates for the position of director of the district who shall have been endorsed by a petition to said board of supervisors containing the names of ten or more electors of the district, petitioning that the names of candidates designated in the petition be placed upon the ballot to be voted on at such election; provided, however, that such petitions be filed with the board of supervisors calling said election within fifteen days after the first publication of the notice calling said election.

Said election shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of this state, except as herein otherwise provided, without reference to form of ballot or manner of voting, except that the ballots shall contain the words "for the formation of a conservancy district," and "against the formation of a conservancy district," and the voter shall write or print or stamp a cross after the words that indicate his choice, and that said ballot shall also contain the names of all candidates for the position of director of the district with instruction to the voter to vote for five of the candidates for said position whose names appear upon such ballot.

Every qualified elector, resident within the proposed district for the period requisite to enable him to vote at a general election, shall be entitled to vote at the election above provided for.

It shall be the duty of the election officers to publicly canvass the votes immediately after the close of the election, and to make a report of the result of said election to the board of supervisors within five days subsequent to the holding thereof, who shall as soon as practicable proceed to canvass said returns.

If a majority of the votes cast at said election shall be in favor of a conservancy district, the said board of supervisors shall, by resolution, establish said conservancy district and proceed as herein otherwise stated.

If a majority of the votes cast shall be against the conservancy district, the board of supervisors shall by order so declare, and shall thereafter dismiss said proceedings by order and proceed to adjudge the cost against the signers of the petition or their bondsmen; no other proceedings shall be taken for the formation of a similar district until the expiration of one year from said election.

If the majority of votes cast at such election shall be in favor of a conservancy district, the board of supervisors shall canvass the returns of said election for the position of directors for the district and having determined upon the five candidates duly elected as directors shall by resolution declare them to be so duly elected and declare them to be the directors of the district for the ensuing term and certificates of election shall be issued to them.

The fact of the presentation of the petition and the order establishing the conservancy district and the order declaring the five directors elected, shall be entered in the minutes of the board of supervisors of the main county, and shall be conclusive evidence of the due presentation of a proper petition, and that each of the petitioners was at the time of the signing the same and presentation of the petition an assessed freeholder in the proposed district, and of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind and nature provided for by this act, and of the existence and validity of the district. Should the office of any of said directors elected become vacant before his term of office expires, the same shall be filled by the board of directors for the unexpired term. On the expiration of the terms of said directors elected as herein specified, the supervisors shall again call an election in accordance with the provisions of this section to fill the offices so becoming vacant.

In said resolution establishing the district the board shall give said district a corporate name, which may or may not be the name designated in said petition, by which in all proceedings it shall thereafter be known, and thereupon the district shall be a political subdivision of the State of California, a body corporate with all the powers of a corporation, and shall have power

1. To have perpetual succession and existence.
2. To sue and to be sued in the name of said district in all actions and proceedings in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction.
3. To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure.
4. To take by grant, purchase, gift, devise or lease, to hold, use, enjoy, and to lease or dispose of real or personal property of every kind within or without such district necessary to the full exercise of its powers.

After an order is entered by the board of supervisors establishing the district, such order shall be deemed final and binding upon the property within the district and shall finally and conclusively establish the regular organization of the said district against all persons except the State of California upon suit commenced by the attorney general. Any such suit must be commenced within three months after said decree declaring such district organized as herein provided and not otherwise.

Upon the election and qualification of a board of directors as herein provided said board of directors shall designate the place where the office or principal place of business of the district shall be located, which shall be within the corporate limits of the district if practicable, and which may be changed by order of said board of directors from time to time. The regular meetings of the board of directors shall be held at such office or place of business, but for cause entered of record may be adjourned to any other convenient place. The official records and files of the district shall be kept at the office so established.

SEC. 7. Within thirty days after the said district has been duly established the clerk of the main county shall transmit to the secretary of state, and to the county recorder and the county clerk in each of the counties having lands in said district, copies of the resolution establishing said district. The same shall be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state in the same manner as articles of incorporation are now required to be filed and recorded under the general law concerning corporations, and shall also be filed in the office of the county clerk of each county in which a part of the district may be, where they shall become permanent records; and the recorder in each county shall receive a fee of one dollar for filing and recording the same, and the secretary of state shall receive for filing and for recording said copies such fees as are now or hereafter may be provided by law for like services in similar cases. The expenses required for filing papers and all other incidental expenses to the organization of the district shall be paid from the general fund of the main county and shall be refunded by the district on demand.

SEC. 8. Each director before entering upon his official duties shall take and subscribe to an oath before a qualified officer that he will honestly, faithfully and impartially perform the duties of his office, and that he will not be interested directly or indirectly in any contract let by said district, which said oath shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the board of supervisors of the main county. Upon taking the oath, the board of directors shall choose one of their number president of the board, and shall elect some suitable person secretary, who may or may not be a member of the board. Such board shall adopt a seal, and shall keep a record of all its proceedings, minutes of all meetings, certificates, contracts, bonds given by employees or contractors and all corporate acts, which record book shall be open to the inspection of all owners of property in the district, as well as to all other interested parties.

SEC. 9. A majority of the directors shall constitute a quorum, and a concurrence of at least three directors in any matter within their duties herein prescribed shall be valid as the act of the board.

SEC. 10. The secretary shall be the custodian of the records of the district and of its corporate seal and shall assist the board of directors in such particulars as said board may direct in the performance of its duties. It shall be the duty of the secretary to attest, under the corporate seal of the district, all certified copies of the official records and files of the district that may be required of him by the provisions of this act, or by any person ordering the same and paying the reasonable cost of transcription. And any portion of the record so certified and attested shall prima facie import verity. The board of directors shall also employ a chief engineer who may be an individual, copartnership, or corporation; an attorney, attorneys, and such other agents and assistants as may be needful; and may provide for their compensation, which, with all other necessary expenditures, shall be taken as a part of the cost of the improvement. The employment of the secretary, engineer and attorney for the district shall be evidenced by agreements in writing, which, so far as possible, shall specify the amounts to be paid for their services.

SEC. 11. Upon their qualification, and after their organization, the board of directors shall cause to be prepared a plan by the engineer of the district employed for this purpose, for the improvements for which the district was created. Such plan shall include such surveys, maps, profiles, plans and other data and descriptions as may be necessary to set forth properly the location and character of the work, and the location and extent of the property benefited or taken or damaged, with estimates of cost and with specifications for doing the work. In case the board of directors finds that any former survey made by any other district, or in any other manner, is useful for the purposes of the district, the board of directors shall have the power to acquire such data and records of surveys as may be useful to it, and shall pay therefor an amount not to exceed the value of such data and records to said district. The plan herein referred to may include any improvement work already done for conservancy or flood control purposes or any of the purposes contemplated by this act, by any person, firm, corporation, private or public, or any district or municipality, and if so the board of directors shall have power to acquire the same and pay therefor an amount not to exceed the appraised value thereof as appraised by the board of appraisers hereafter referred to.

Upon the completion and filing of such plan, the board shall cause notice by publication to be given as provided in section one herein in each county of said district, of such completion of said plan, and shall permit the inspection thereof at their office by all persons interested. Said notice shall fix the time and place for the hearing of all objections to said plan not less than twenty days nor more than thirty days after the last publication of said notice; any person interested in property within the district may object to such plan. All objections to said plan shall be in writing and filed with the secretary of said board at his office not more than one day before the time of such hearing. Said objection shall specify the features of the plan objected to. At the time specified in said notice, the board of directors shall meet at the office of said district, and hear said objections and adopt, reject or refer back said plan for modification to the engineer of said district. If said plan be referred back to said engineer said meeting shall be continued from time to time until such modified plan shall be reported by said engineers. The state engineer shall be invited to be present in person or by representative at said hearing or any continuation thereof and may approve, reject or modify said plan, his actual expenses to be borne by the district. Before final approval of the official plan the same shall have had the written approval of the state engineer whose duty it shall be to pass upon the feasibility of the plan, its proper adaptation to a general flood control plan of the stream system or systems of which it may be a part as well as the safety of the works to be constructed and until such approval shall have been received such official plan may not be adopted. After said hearing before the board of directors and their approval, and after said plans have been approved or modified and approved by the state engineer, the said board shall adopt said plan as approved, or as modified and approved, as the official plan of the said district. If said board of directors shall reject said plan, then said board shall proceed as in the first instance under this section to prepare another plan. Upon final adoption of said official plan, a record of such adoption shall be entered upon the minutes of the board and shall be filed with the secretary together with the approval of the state engineer.

SEC. 12. The board of directors shall have full power and authority to devise, prepare for, execute, maintain and operate any or all works or improvements necessary or desirable to complete, maintain, operate and protect the improvement outlined by the official plan. They may secure and use men, materials and equipment under the supervision of the chief engineer or other agents, or they may in their discretion let contracts for such works, either as a whole or in part, to the lowest responsible bidder after publication calling for bids as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 13. The board of directors of any district organized under this act, or their employees or agents, including contractors, and their employees, and the members of the board of appraisers and their assistants may upon first obtaining an order of court enter upon lands within or without the district in order to make surveys and examinations to accomplish the necessary preliminary purposes of the district, or to have access to the work, being liable, however, for actual damage done, but no unnecessary damage shall be done. Any person or corporation preventing such entrance shall be guilty of misdemeanor, punishable by fine not exceeding fifty dollars.

SEC. 14. In order to effect the protection from damage by flood waters or the drainage, reclamation or irrigation of the land and other property in the district, and to accomplish all other purposes of the district, the board of directors is authorized and empowered, subject to the laws of this state, to clean out, straighten, widen, alter or deepen the course or terminus of any conduit, pipe line or ditch, drain, sewer, river, water course, wash, pond, lake, creek or natural stream, to plant trees for the protection of the same or to forest or reforest lands for the conservation of flood water, to establish settling basins, shafts or tunnels for sinking water and to construct dams in or out of said district; to fill, abandon or alter any ditch, drain, sewer, river, water course, wash, pond, lake, creek or natural stream, and to concentrate, divert or divide the flow of water in or out of said district; to construct and maintain main and lateral conduit pipe lines or ditches, sewers, canals, levees, dikes, dams, sluices, revetments, reservoirs, holding basins, floodways, pumping stations and siphons, and any other works and improvements deemed necessary to construct, preserve, operate or maintain the works herein provided for, and subject to approval of general plan therefor by the officer or officers in charge of such highways to construct or enlarge or cause to be constructed or enlarged any and all public bridges that may be needed in or out of said district; to construct or elevate roadways and streets in the manner herein provided; to construct any and all of said works and improvements across, through or over any public highway, canal, railroad right of way, track, grade, fill or cut, in or out of said district, as herein provided; to remove or change the location of any fence, building, railroad, canal, or other improvements in or out of said district as herein provided; and shall have the right to hold, encumber, control, to acquire by donation, purchase or condemnation, to construct, own, lease, use and sell real and personal property, and any easement, riparian right, railroad right of way, canal, sluice, reservoir, settling basin, holding basin, mill dam, water power, wharf, or franchise in or out of said district for right of way, holding basin or for any necessary purpose, or for material to be used in constructing and maintaining said works and improvements, open new roads, streets and alleys, or change the course of an existing one, as herein provided, and may dispose of waters conserved for irrigation as herein provided; provided, however, that the powers in this act vested in said board of directors are vested subject to the conditions, restrictions and limitations imposed by the public utilities act of the State of California and the act of the State of California creating the water commission, and subject to the powers therein vested in the said railroad commission and the said water commission of this state; and provided, further, that the approval of the officer or officers in charge of public highways be first had before any public highway, alley, lane, or bridge or appurtenance thereto be in any manner interfered with.

SEC. 15. When it is determined to let the work by contract, contracts in amounts to exceed one thousand dollars shall be let after notice calling for bids shall have been published, once a week for three consecutive weeks completed on date of last publication, in at least one newspaper of general circulation within said district, or in case there is no such newspaper within the district, then within the county where the work is to be done, and the board may let said contract to the lowest or best bidder who shall give a good and approved bond, with ample security, conditioned on the carrying out of the contract, or the board may reject all bids and readvertise for the same. But said contract shall not be let to another than the lowest responsible bidder unless upon a hearing before the board of directors, and with notice to all parties interested, an order be obtained therefor. Such contract shall be in writing, and shall be accompanied by or shall refer to official plans and specifications for the work to be done, prepared by the engineer of said district in accordance with said final plan. Said contract shall be approved by the board of directors and signed by the president of the board and by the contractor, and shall be executed in duplicate; provided, that in case of sudden emergency when it is necessary in order to protect the district, the advertising of contracts may be waived upon the unanimous consent of the board of directors in writing.

SEC. 16. Said board, where necessary for the purposes of this act, shall have a right of eminent domain subject to the rights and powers vested in the railroad commission of this state.

SEC. 17. Said board shall also have the right, subject to the powers and rights vested by law in the state railroad commission, to condemn for the use of the district any land or property within or without said district.

SEC. 18. Where necessary, in order to secure the best results from the execution and operation of the plans of the district, or to prevent damage to the district by deterioration or misuse, or by the pollution of the waters, of any water course therein, the board of directors may make regulations for and may prescribe the manner in which existing ditches or other works shall be adjusted to or connected with the works of the district or any water course therein; and when not in conflict with local or state health regulations may prescribe the manner in which the water courses of the district may be used for sewer outlets or for disposal of waste; provided, however, that the consent of the properly constituted local or state health officer or officers be first obtained.

SEC. 19. The board of directors, subject to such regulations as may be imposed by law, shall have power and authority to improve in alignment, section, grade or in any other manner any water course, and they may require the removal, widening, lengthening, deepening, raising or other change of any public or private road, bridge or railroad bridge or any aqueduct or telephone, telegraph, gas, oil, sewer, water or other pipe lines or any other construction over, along, across, under or through such water course; provided, however, that no change shall be made in any public bridge, highway, ditch or other public structure without the consent of the public officer or officers in charge of the same be first had and obtained. In case such change is made necessary in any such structure by the failure of such bridge or other structure to permit the free flow of the water in such stream in time of flood, then the owner of any such construction shall make such change without cost to the district, or without any claim for damages against the district, except that the district shall pay the cost of excavating the earth for the enlargement of any channel or for placing earth for the filling of any channel where such excavation or filling is required as a part of plans of the district in making the changes outlined in this section, but the district shall not be required to make such fill or excavation unless it would be necessary to the plans of the district if the bridge or other construction did not exist; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall deprive any owner of property of due process of law in determining the amount of damages due him for property damaged or taken for the uses herein stated; and provided, further, that in all things where the railroad commission of this state is empowered to act by the laws of this state their sanction to any act must first be had.

SEC. 20. In case it is necessary to pass any dredge boat or other equipment through a bridge or grade of any railroad company or other corporation, county or municipality, the board of directors shall give twenty days' notice to the owner of said bridge or grade that the same shall be removed temporarily to allow the passage of such equipment or that an agreement be immediately entered into in regard thereto. The owner of said bridge or grade shall keep an itemized account of the cost of the removal, and, if necessary, of the replacing of said bridge or grade, and said actual cost shall be paid by the district. In case the owner of said bridge or grade shall refuse to provide for the passage of said equipment, the board of directors may remove such bridge or grade at the expense of the district after proceeding according to law so to do, interrupting traffic in the least degree consistent with good work and without delay or unnecessary damage; provided, that, where required by law, the consent of the railroad commission of the state is first obtained. In case they shall be impeded from doing so, the owner of said bridge or grade shall be liable for damage for the resulting delay. Nothing in this act specified to be done affecting any public bridge or highway shall be undertaken without first obtaining the consent in writing of the officer or officers of the county or city or state having supervision of such bridge or highway in which such improvement is contemplated.

SEC. 21. The board of directors shall also have the right to establish and maintain stream gages, rain gages, a flood warning service with telephone or telegraph lines or telephone or telegraph service, and may make such surveys and examinations of rainfall and flood conditions, stream flow and other scientific and engineering subjects as are necessary and proper for the purposes of the district, and they may issue reports of their findings.

SEC. 22. The board of directors shall also have the right and authority to enter into contracts or other arrangements with the United States government or any department thereof, with persons, railroads or other corporations, with public corporations, and the state government of this or other states, with protection, flood control, drainage, conservation, conservancy, levee or other improvement districts, in this or other states, for cooperation or assistance in constructing, maintaining, using and operating the works of the district or the waters thereof, or for making surveys and investigations or reports thereon; and may purchase, lease or acquire land or other property in adjoining states in order to secure outlets or for other purposes of this act, and may let contracts or spend money for securing such outlets or other works in adjoining states.

SEC. 23. Wherever the organization of or the improvements made by the district increase the supply of water in the stream or stream system such increase may be subject to appropriation by the district, and the rights to such increase where lawfully appropriated may be leased, sold, or assigned by the district in return for reasonable compensation, subject, however, to such regulation and control as may be reposed by law in water commission or other office, agency or department of the State of California.

Persons, corporations, municipalities, or other parties desiring to secure use of the waters lawfully appropriated by the district for protection against flood damage, or water courses of the district, or of the district rights therein, which may have been acquired by appropriation under the laws of this state, may, subject to the regulations and conditions authorized by law to be imposed by the state water commission, make application to the board of directors for lease, purchase, or permission for such use. Such application shall conform to the rules and regulations of the state water commission and state the purpose and character of such use, the period and degree of continuity of such use, the amount of water desired and the place of use and the means of conveyance. Where it is not possible nor reasonable to grant all applications, preference shall be given to domestic and municipal water supply. All other applications shall be granted in the order of their filing and shall be granted subject to the applicable provisions of the said water commission act and to said public utility act and other acts of the State of California now in force.

The board of directors shall not permanently sell, lease, assign, permit or otherwise part with the control by the district of the use of the waters thereof, and rates for light, power or other services charged by vendors, assignees, lessees or licensees of such board of directors shall be subject at all times to revision and control by state law. Assignments, leases, sales or permissions may be made for periods of not greater than twenty-five years. At the termination of the period of such assignments, sales, leases or permissions, they shall be renewed for a reasonable period not to exceed fifteen years, on the condition that a new determination is made of a reasonable charge therefor, as herein provided; unless there are other applications on file, the granting of which would result in filling a greater need or in a more reasonable use. In case such applications are on file, they shall have preference.

The board of directors may make regulations, subject always to the applicable provisions of the said water commission act and the said public utilities act of the State of California, and other act or acts of said state, for the determination and measurement of the increased, or better, or more convenient use of, or benefit from the water supply of the district, for the purpose of determining rates of compensation, and for the purpose of securing to all parties interested the greatest and best use of the water thereof. A copy of such regulations shall be transmitted to the state water commission for its approval and to the railroad commission of the State of California, accompanied by a request for the fixing of rates by said commission for said district. Said commission shall thereupon proceed to fix said rates in the manner provided by law and report the same to said board of directors. In case of failure of any user to pay for use in the manner specified by order of the court, the board may compel payment, and may enforce further use until such payment is made. The rights under any lease or sale shall not extend to a change of use, or of place, time or manner of use, except in so far as is specifically stated in the lease or other agreement.

All money received as compensation under the provisions of this section shall be added to the maintenance fund of the district and used for defraying the expenses thereof.

As a basis for assessment of benefits due to a greater, better, or more convenient use of, or benefit from, the waters of the district the directors of the district may themselves cause a determination to be made or may avail themselves of data in the hands of the said state water commission of the conditions of the water supply and of the water-courses of the district as they were before the improvements were made, or as they existed at any subsequent time, and they may petition the state water commission to make a determination of all rights, property, easements, or other interests in the waters, or the water-courses of the district, such determination being based upon records of greatest and least flow, upon the evidence of use, or evidence of legal rights, and upon any other evidence and records which may be available, and upon receipt of such petition it shall become the duty of the state water commission to immediately proceed to ascertain the same and to report to said board of directors their findings. Upon the completion of such determination and the receipt of a report thereof by them, the directors of the district shall make their report thereon and file the same with the secretary of said district. Thereupon notice shall be given of the pendency of said report and a hearing thereon, which notice and hearing shall conform as nearly as possible to the notice and hearing on appraisals of benefits and of land to be taken. Upon the determination of the matter by the board of directors, its findings shall be conclusive, and shall be the basis of any future assessment: provided, that in case any party shall thereafter establish in court or through the action of the state water commission any right or property in the waters of the district, or the use thereof, which has not been adjudicated, the existence of such right, or the failure to adjudicate it, shall not affect the operation of this provision nor the findings of the board of directors thereon in any other particular.

The appraisal of benefits made by the appraisers of the district shall not include benefits for such greater, better or more convenient use of, or benefit from the waters of the district, but the compensation for such use or benefits shall be made according to the provisions of this section.

SEC. 24. At any suitable time after having taken their oath of office, the board of directors shall appoint three appraisers whose duty it shall be to appraise the lands or other property within and without the district to be acquired for rights of way, reservoirs and other works of the district, and to appraise all benefits and damages accruing to all lands within or without the district by reason of the execution of the official plan. Said appraisers shall be freeholders residing within the State of California, who may or may not own lands within said district. Each of the appraisers shall, before taking up his duties, take and subscribe to an oath that he will faithfully and impartially discharge his duties as such appraiser, and that he will make a true report of such work done by him. The said appraisers shall at their first meeting elect one of their own number chairman, and the secretary of the board of directors or his deputy shall be ex officio secretary of said board of appraisers during their continuance in office. A majority of the appraisers shall constitute a quorum, and a concurrence of the majority in any matter within their duties shall be sufficient for its determination. Said appraisers shall continue to hold their office until dismissed by the board of directors, and the board of directors shall fill all vacancies in the board of appraisers, or may appoint a new board for subsequent appraisals, as occasion may require. Such new board, if appointed, shall fill all the requirements of the board of appraisers of the district, and perform its duties.

SEC. 25. When the official plan is adopted and filed with the secretary of the district and said appraisers have been appointed he shall at once notify the board of appraisers, and they shall thereupon proceed to appraise the benefits of every kind to all real property within or without the district, which will result from the organization of said district and the execution of the official plan; and also to appraise the damages sustained and the value of the land and other property necessary to be taken by the district for which settlement has not been made by the board of directors. In the progress of their work, they shall have the assistance of the attorney, engineers, secretary and other agents and employees of the board of directors.

The board of appraisers shall also appraise the benefits and damages, if any, accruing to property or interests in properties of cities, counties and other public corporations, and to the State of California.

Before appraisals of compensation and damages are made, the directors of the district may report to the appraisers the parcels of land or other property, or any other works to be done, included within the powers granted under the act they may wish to purchase and for which they may wish appraisals to be made, both for easement and for purchase in fee simple. The board may, if it deems best, specify in case of any property the particular purpose for which and the extent to which an easement in the same is desired, describing definitely such purpose and extent. The appraisers shall appraise all damages which may, because of the execution of the official plan, accrue to real or other property either within or without the district, which damages shall also represent easements acquired by the district for all the purposes of the district, unless otherwise specifically stated. Upon such appraisals being confirmed by the board of directors, the board of directors of the district shall have the option of paying the entire appraised value of the property and acquiring full title to it (in fee simple), or of paying only the cost of such easement for the purposes of the district. The appraisers in appraising benefits and damages shall consider only the effect of the execution of the official plan. The appraisers in making appraisals shall give due consideration and credit to any other works or other systems of reclamation already constructed, or under construction, which form a useful part of the work of the district according to the official plan. Where the appraisers return no appraisal of damages to any property, it shall be deemed a finding by them that no damage will be sustained.

SEC. 26. If the appraisers find the lands or other property not embraced within the boundaries of the district will be affected by the proposed improvement, or should be included in the district, they shall appraise the benefits and damages to such land, and shall file notice with the board of directors of the appraisal which they have made upon the lands beyond the boundaries of the district.

SEC. 27. The board of appraisers shall prepare a report of its findings which shall be arranged in tabular form and bound in book form, and which shall be known as the conservancy appraisal record. Such record shall contain the name of the owners of property appraised as it may appear on the last assessment roll of the county, a description of the property appraised, the amount of benefits appraised, the amount of damages appraised, and the appraised value of land or other property which may be taken for the purposes of the district. They shall also report any other benefits or damages or any other matter which in their opinion should be brought to the attention of the board of directors. No error in the names of the owners of real property or in the descriptions thereof shall invalidate said appraisal or the levy of assessments or taxes based thereon, if sufficient description is given to identify such real property.

When their report is completed, it shall be signed by at least a majority of the appraisers and filed with the secretary.

SEC. 28. Upon the filing of the report of the appraisers, the secretary of the district shall give notice thereof by publication. Said notice shall be substantially as in form six of the schedules hereto attached. It shall not be necessary for said secretary to name the parties interested.

It shall not be necessary to describe the separate lots or tracts of land in giving said notice, but it shall be sufficient to give such descriptions as will enable him, the owner, to determine whether or not his land is covered by such description. For instance, it will be sufficient to state "all land lying in block _____ of the town of _____" or, "all land abutting on _____ street in the town of _____" or "all land lying west of _____ river and east of _____ railroad in _____ township," or any other general description pointing out the lands involved and identifying the same.

Where lands in different counties are mentioned in said report it shall not be necessary to publish a description of all the lands in the district in each county, but only of that part of the said lands situate in the county in which publication is made.

SEC. 29. Any property owner may accept the appraisals of benefits and of damages and of lands to be taken made by the appraisers, or may acquiesce in their failure to appraise damages, and shall be construed to have done so unless he shall, within ten days after the last publication provided for in the preceding section, file objections to said report. All objections shall be heard by the board of directors, beginning not less than twenty nor more than thirty days after the last publication provided for herein, and determined in advance of other business so as to carry out liberally the purposes and needs of the district. The board of directors, if it deems necessary, may alter or amend said report in accordance with such objection or any of them, or may return the report to the board of appraisers for their further consideration and amendments, and enter its order to that effect. If, however, the appraisal roll as a whole is referred back to the appraisers, the board of directors shall not resume the hearing thereof without due notice, as for an original hearing thereon.

SEC. 30. If it appears to the satisfaction of the board of directors after having heard and determined all said objections that the estimated cost of constructing the improvement contemplated in the official plan is less than the benefits appraised, then the said board shall approve and confirm said appraisers' report as filed or as so modified and amended. In case the board of directors shall find that the benefits appraised are less than the estimated total costs, it shall report the fact to the board of supervisors who shall disorganize the district after having provided for the payment of all expenditures by an order of said board abandoning all proceedings.

SEC. 31. If after the approval of the appraiser's report the said board of directors deems it necessary to proceed by condemnation to acquire for the district property to carry out the official plan of the district, it may proceed so to do, under and by virtue of the laws of the State of California, and the passage of a resolution by said board that the lands to be acquired are for a public use shall be conclusive of that fact.

SEC. 32. The board of directors may at any time before the conclusion of the hearing thereon and the approval by the state engineer, when necessary to fulfill the objects for which the district was created, alter or add to the official plan as in section 11 provided, and when such alterations or additions are formally approved by the said board and by the state engineer and are filed with the secretary, they shall become parts of the official plan for all purposes of this act. Where such alterations or additions in the judgment of the said board neither materially modify the general character of the work, nor materially increase resulting damages for which the board is not able to make amicable settlement, nor increase the cost more than ten per cent, no reappraisal shall be necessary. In case the proposed alterations or additions in the opinion of the board materially modify the resulting damages or materially reduce the benefits, for which the board of directors is not able to make amicable settlement, or materially increase the benefits in such a manner as to require a new appraisal, or increase the cost more than ten per cent, the board of directors shall direct the board of appraisers (which may be the original board or a new board appointed by the board of directors) to appraise the property to be taken, benefited or damaged, by the proposed alterations or additions. Upon the completion of the report thereon by the board of appraisers notice shall be given and a hearing had on their report in the same manner as in the case of the original report of the board of appraisers; provided, that where only a few landowners are affected, the secretary of the district may, on order of the board of directors, if found by them to be more economical and convenient, give personal notice to such landowners of the hearing of the report of said appraisers, instead of notice by publication; and provided, that when the only question at issue is additional damages or reduction of benefits to property, due to modifications or additions to the plans, the board of directors may, if they find it practicable, make settlements with the owners of the property damaged or benefited, instead of having appraisals made by the board of appraisers. In case such settlements are made, notice and hearing need not be had. After bonds have been sold, in order that their security may not be impaired, no reduction shall be made in the aggregate amount of benefits appraised against property in the district.

SEC. 33. No fault in any notice or other proceedings shall affect the validity of any proceeding under this act except to the extent to which it can be shown that such fault resulted in a material denial of justice to the property owner complaining of such fault if any appraisal of benefits shall be declared ineffectual by any court.

The board of directors may render a finding as to the amount of benefits to said property, and appraise the proper benefits accordingly, and thereupon said land shall be assessed according to such benefits.

SEC. 34. The moneys of every conservancy district organized hereunder shall consist of four separate funds: (1) Preliminary fund, by which is meant the proceeds of the ad valorem tax authorized by this act and such advancements as may be made from the general county funds as provided in this act; (2) bond fund, by which is meant a fund raised by the issuance and sale of bonds of the district; (3) improvement warrant fund, by which is meant the proceeds of levies made against the special assessment of benefits equalized and confirmed under the provisions of this act; and (4) maintenance fund, which is a special assessment to be levied annually for the purpose of upkeep, administration and current expenses as hereinafter provided. It is intended that the cost of preparing the official plan, the appraisal (except as paid out of the preliminary fund) and the entire cost of construction and superintendence, including all charges incidental thereto, and the cost of administration during the period of construction, shall be paid out of the bond fund.

No vouchers shall be drawn against the preliminary fund (except for advances from the general county funds) or against the maintenance fund until a tax-levying resolution shall have been properly recommended by the board of directors and passed by the board of supervisors and duly entered upon its records; no bonds shall be issued against the bond fund until a tax-levying resolution shall have been properly recommended by the board of directors and passed by the board of supervisors and duly entered upon its records; no moneys shall be transferred from the improvement warrant fund except by order of the board of supervisors, upon recommendation of the board of directors.

SEC. 35. If the district is not organized, then the costs of publication and other official costs of the proceedings shall be collected by the county from the petitioners or their bondsmen, paid into the county treasury and there held in a separate fund against which warrants may be audited and drawn on the order of the board of supervisors, as other warrants of the county are audited and drawn. Upon the organization of the district, the board of supervisors shall make an order indicating a preliminary division of the preliminary expenses between the counties included in the district in approximately the proportions of interest of the various counties as may be estimated by said board of supervisors. And the board of supervisors of each respective county shall issue an order to the auditor of its respective county to issue his warrant for the pro rata amount to be paid that county, upon the treasurer of his county to reimburse the county having paid the total cost; provided, however, that the joint board of supervisors shall first determine at a previous meeting the pro rata amount to be borne by each county and shall determine the same upon a basis of the assessed value of property benefited in the district in each county.

Expenses incurred thereafter prior to the receipt of money by the district from taxes or assessments, bond sales, or otherwise, shall be paid from the general funds of the respective counties proportionately upon the order of the board of supervisors, and shall be paid upon certification of the clerk of the board of supervisors of such order, specifying the amount and purpose of the claims to the auditor of each county, who shall thereupon at once issue his warrant to the treasurer of his county. Upon receipt of funds by the district from the sale of bonds or by taxation or assessment the funds so advanced by the counties shall be repaid.

As soon as any district shall have been organized under this act, and a board of directors shall have been elected and qualified, such board of directors shall recommend to the board of supervisors and the board of supervisors shall have the power and authority to levy upon the property within the district an assessment not to exceed three-tenths of a mill on the assessed valuation thereof as a level rate to be used for the purpose of paying expenses of organization, for surveys and plans, and for other incidental expenses which may be necessary up to the time money is received from the sale of bonds or otherwise. This assessment shall be certified to the auditors of the various counties having property within the district and by them to the respective treasurers of their counties. If such items of expense have already been paid in whole or in part from other sources, they may be repaid from the receipts of such levy, and such levy may be made although the work proposed may have been found impracticable or for other reasons is abandoned. The tax collector shall at once proceed to collect said assessment and the collection of such assessment levy shall conform in all matters to the collection of taxes and assessments for the district outlined in this act, and the same provisions concerning the nonpayment of taxes shall apply. In case a district is disbanded for any cause whatever before the work is contracted, the data, plans and estimates which have been secured shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors with which the petition thereupon was filed, and shall be matters of public record available to any person interested.

SEC. 36. If any warrant issued by the board of directors is presented for payment and is not paid for want of funds in the treasury, that fact with the date of refusal shall be endorsed on the back of such warrant, and said warrant shall thereafter draw interest at the rate of six per cent, until such time as there is money in the treasury of said district sufficient to pay the amount of said warrant with interest.

SEC. 37. At any time after the adoption of the original official plan, the board of directors may adopt and enter on their minutes a resolution estimating the amount of money needed to perform said plan, and specifying the aggregate face amount of bonds to be issued therefor, and the rate of interest to be paid thereon, not exceeding six per cent per annum from their date until paid, payable semiannually, and the amount of principal to be paid yearly, and requesting the board of supervisors to issue and sell such bonds on behalf of the district; and thereupon it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors to issue and sell such bonds accordingly. All bonds issued under this act shall mature serially in equal annual amounts of not less than one-fourth part of the aggregate principal in each year, and their principal and interest shall be made payable at the county treasurer's office of the main county; in United States gold coin. The board of supervisors by an order entered upon its minutes shall prescribe the form of said bonds, and of the interest coupons attached thereto; the denominations of the bonds, which shall be not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars; the dates of payment of principal and interest, and the serial numbering of the bonds and coupons. Said bonds shall be signed on behalf of the district by the chairman of the board of supervisors of the main county and by the auditor of said county, and the coupons shall be signed by the engraved or lithographed facsimile signature of such auditor, and when so signed said bonds and coupons shall be delivered for safe keeping to the county treasurer of said main county, who shall deliver them to the purchaser or purchasers thereof on receipt of the purchase price. If any officer signing shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of the bonds to the purchaser, such signature shall nevertheless be valid and effectual. Said bonds shall be sold in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors, but for not less than par, and the proceeds of sale thereof, including any premium received at such sale, shall be deposited in the county treasury to the credit of the construction fund of the district. Payments from said fund shall be made by the county treasurer upon demands signed by the president and secretary of the district and approved by resolution of the board of directors, each of which demands shall recite that it is drawn in payment of work to be done under said official plan, or for expense incidental thereto. Bonds issued under this act shall constitute a continuing lien upon all property within the district. The board of supervisors shall levy a tax each year upon the taxable property in such district, sufficient (when added to the district bond fund in the county treasury available therefor) to pay the annual interest on said bonds, and also such part of the principal thereof necessary to be collected as will become due before the collection of the next general tax levy. Such tax shall be levied and collected on such property in each county containing any part of the district at the time and in the same manner as the general tax levy for county purposes, and when collected shall be paid by the treasurer of each county into the county treasury of the main county to the credit of the district bond fund, to be used for the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds and for no other purpose. The treasurer shall pay therefrom the principal and interest of said district bonds in the manner provided by law for payment of county bonds.

The provisions of the Political Code prescribing the manner and effect of levying, equalizing and collecting taxes, the sale of property for delinquency, and the redemption from such sale, and the duties of the several county officers in respect thereto, so far as they do not conflict with the specific provisions of this act, are hereby adopted and made applicable to the levy and collection of said taxes for the payment of bonds. Such officers shall be liable on their official bonds for the faithful discharge of the duties imposed on them by this act.

If at the time the bonds are ready to be issued, the board shall be of the opinion that such bonds can not advantageously be issued and sold in whole, the board may sell parts only of the entire issue or may pledge all or part of said issue as collateral to a loan, but no partial sale or pledge shall be made without the order of the board made and entered of record, and no pledge shall be made at a greater margin than at the rate of one hundred dollars of bond principal for ninety dollars of loan.

The district may secure the payment of loans from the United States government in the same manner as it may secure the payment of bonds, and the board of directors may make any necessary regulations to provide for such payments.

This act shall, without reference to any other act of the legislature of California, be full authority for the issuance and sale of the bonds in this act authorized, which bonds shall have all the qualities of negotiable paper under the law merchant, and when executed and sealed and certified to by the state treasurer in conformity with the provisions of this act, and when sold in the manner prescribed herein and the consideration therefor received by the district, shall not be invalid for any irregularity or defect in the proceedings for the issue and sale thereof, and shall be incontestible in the hands of bona fide purchasers or holders thereof for value. No proceedings in respect to the issuance of any such bonds shall be necessary except such as are required by this act. Whenever the owner of any coupon bond issued pursuant to the provisions of this act shall present such bond to the treasurer of the district with a request for the conversion of such bond into a registered bond, the said treasurer shall cut off and cancel the coupons of any such coupon bond so presented and shall stamp, print or write upon such coupon bond so presented, either upon the back or the face thereof, as may be convenient, a statement to the effect that the said bond is registered in the name of the owner and that thereafter the interest and principal of said bond are payable to the registered owner. Thereafter and from time to time, such bond may be transferred by such registered owner in person or by attorney duly authorized on presentation of such bond to the treasurer of the district and the bond again registered as before, a similar statement being stamped, printed or written thereon. Such statement stamped, printed or written upon any such bond may be substantially in the following form:

This bond is registered pursuant to the statutes in such case made and provided, in the name of (here insert name of owner), and the interest and principal thereof are hereafter payable to such owner.

Treasurer ----- conservancy district.

If any bond shall be registered as aforesaid, the principal and interest of such bond shall be payable to the registered owner. The treasurer of the district shall enter in a register of said bonds to be kept by him or in a separate book, the fact of the registration of such bond and the name of the registered owner thereof, so that said registry or book shall at all times show what bonds are registered and the name of the registered owner thereof.

SEC. 38. All bonds issued hereunder shall be legal investments for all trust funds, and for the funds of all insurance companies, banks, both commercial and savings, and trust companies, and for the state school funds, and whenever any money or funds may, by law now or hereafter enacted, be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts, or municipalities in the State of California, such money or funds may be invested in the said bonds of conservation districts, and whenever bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts, or municipalities may by any law now or hereafter enacted be used as security for the performance of any act, bonds of conservation districts under the limitations in this act provided may be so used.

SEC. 39. Upon the adoption of the report of appraisers hereinbefore referred to, the board of directors shall certify said report to the board of supervisors. The board of supervisors shall levy against the respective parcels of property within the district the sums set forth in said report of appraisers assessed to the respective parcels of property as therein set forth for special benefits. The board of supervisors shall thereupon issue what shall be known as improvement warrants, under the provisions of this act, to represent such special assessments against each parcel of land in the form and manner and with the effect in this act provided. Said improvement warrants shall be numbered consecutively, their said numbers corresponding with the numbers given to the respective parcels of land as shown upon the map accompanying the general plan, and shall be deemed to refer to said map. The respective special assessments so levied, as evidenced by said improvement warrants, shall bear the same rate of interest per annum from the date of the issuance of the said warrants until paid as is borne by the district bonds hereinbefore authorized to be issued, and said interest, together with a sum equal to the first installment of principal, plus one per cent of said principal, shall be paid semiannually at the treasury of said district. Said assessments shall be apportioned by said board of supervisors over a period of twenty-six years, both principal and interest payable at the office of the treasury of said district. The said improvement warrants issued to evidence said assessments shall be attested by the seal of said district, and shall be signed by the secretary of the board of directors, and shall be a lien for the amount indicated on the face of such warrants, viz., the amount of said special assessment, together with accrued interest, if any, against the specific parcels of land to which the said improvement warrants respectively refer. Payment of the annual installment of the principal of said assessment, as evidenced by said improvement warrants, together with accrued interest, shall be due on the first day of July and January of each year, and the first payment shall be due on the first day of July next following the date of the issuance of such improvement warrant. In case of default in the payment of any installment of the principal provided for in said improvement warrant, or interest accrued on deferred payments, then and in that event the entire remaining unpaid installments shall become immediately due and payable, and the same and all liens which are security therefor, may be collected and enforced as in this act provided. Said improvement warrants shall be in the following, or substantially the following form, and of effect as therein stated:

IMPROVEMENT WARRANT No. _____ OF _____ CONSERVANCY DISTRICT _____

8 (Date) _____
This improvement warrant, known as and numbered _____ Improvement Warrant No. _____ of the _____ Conservancy District, is issued to represent an assessment for benefits to the amount of $ _____ levied in the _____ Conservancy District, State of California. The amount herein stated is the amount assessed in said assessment against the lot or parcel of land numbered _____ in the report of appraisers on file herein, and in the diagram attached thereto, and which said amount has been divided into fifty-two equal installments of principal, one installment of which, together with accrued interest, is to be paid semiannually, and which said amount, except as indicated on the back hereof, remains unpaid, and until entirely paid, with accrued interest, is a first lien upon the property affected thereby, and as the same is described herein and in said recorded assessment with its diagram, to wit, the lot or parcel of land in the _____ Conservancy District, County of _____, State of California, described as follows: _____

The term of this improvement warrant is twenty-six years from July 1, 19____, and at the expiration of said time the whole sum then unpaid together with accrued interest, shall be due and payable, but on the first days of July and January of each year after the date hereof, an even semiannual proportion of its principal is due and payable until the whole is paid, with accrued interest, at the rate of _____ per cent per annum. The interest on deferred payments is payable semiannually, on the first days of July and January in each year hereafter until paid, the first of which is due for the interest from date to the first day of July, 19____, and thereafter the interest payments are for the interest due on all deferred payments. Should default be made in the first or any succeeding payments of principal, or in any payment of interest by the owner of said lot or parcel, or any one in his behalf, the district is entitled to declare the whole unpaid amount to be due and payable, and thereupon have a right to collect the same and to enforce all liens which are security therefor, as by law provided, and as in the case of unpaid state and county taxes.

Secretary of the Board of Directors of the _____ Conservancy District _____

Amounts due on said improvement warrants shall be payable to the district treasurer, and no mistake or error in the description in said warrant or in the description of the lot or parcel of land assessed shall affect the validity of the lien of any improvement warrant, unless the mistake or error is such that the said lot or parcel of land can not be identified, and in such event, the same, by order of the board of directors, may be corrected upon application to the treasurer and to the officers or board who or which made the assessment to represent which such warrant is issued.

SEC. 40. The treasurer of the district shall enter in a book kept for that purpose in his office a record of each improvement warrant issued hereunder, specifying the date of its issue, the amount for which issued, its duration, and a description of the lot or parcel against which issued. Payments of principal and interest on account of any warrant issued hereunder shall be made to the treasurer of the district, who shall keep a separate account of all such payments, entering the same in the record herein required to be kept, and credit the same on the back of the warrant, and place the same in appropriate funds for the payment of principal and interest of the improvement warrants on account of which paid.

SEC. 41. Such warrants issued hereunder shall by their issuance be conclusive evidence of the regularity and validity of all proceedings thereto. The amount due upon any such improvement warrant shall be a lien upon the lot or parcel described in such improvement warrant, superior to all other liens, charges and encumbrances until paid, except the liens of prior assessments and of municipal, state and county taxes and taxes levied to pay off the principal and interest of the bonds heretofore referred to.

SEC. 42. The proceeds derived from the payments of such improvement warrants shall be paid into what shall be known as the improvement warrant fund of the district, to represent, and shall represent, assessments for which said improvement warrants were issued. Upon recommendation of the board of directors, and upon order of the board of supervisors, proceeds received from the payment of the principal and interest of such improvement warrants shall be employed for the purpose of retiring the bonds of the district hereinbefore first authorized to be issued, and for no other purpose.

SEC. 43. Whenever, through the default of the owner of any lot or parcel of land against which any such improvement warrant or warrants is or are issued to represent the assessment and interest against such lot or parcel of land, payment of the principal or of the interest is not made when the same has become due, the treasurer of the district, upon order of the board of supervisors, shall proceed to advertise and sell said lot or parcel of land as herein provided, and provided there is money in any available fund so to do, the board of directors, in the name of the district, may buy in said lot or parcel of land. Thereupon the whole improvement warrant or its unpaid remainder, together with accrued interest, shall become due and payable immediately, and on the day following shall become delinquent.

SEC. 44. If the payment of principal or interest of any improvement warrant issued shall become delinquent, as hereinbefore provided, the said treasurer shall publish twice in a newspaper of general circulation to be designated by him, published in the city where his office is situated, a notice which must contain the date and number of the delinquent improvement warrant, a description of the property mentioned in said warrant, and the name of the owner of such property, if known, and if unknown, the fact shall be so stated, the amount due thereon, and a statement that unless the amount of said improvement warrant and the interest due thereon, together with the cost of publication of such notice are paid, the real property described in said improvement warrant will be sold at public auction on a day to be therein fixed, which shall not be less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the day of the first publication of said notice, and the place of such sale, which must be the office of the said treasurer. A like notice shall be served upon any such owner, if known, either personally or by depositing the same in the post office at such city, addressed to such owner at his address if known, with the postage thereon prepaid. At any time prior to the sale, the owner or person in possession of any real estate offered for sale under the provisions of this act, may pay the whole amount of said improvement warrant then due, with costs, and said improvement warrant and the assessment evidenced thereby shall thereupon be canceled; but in case such payment is not made by such owner or person in possession, or by someone in behalf of such owner, or of the person in possession, the property subject thereto shall be sold at public auction, first, preferably to the district; secondly, if the district does not bid therefor, to the bidder offering to pay the amount due on the warrant with costs for the least portion of such lot or parcel of land offered for sale.

SEC. 45. The district treasurer, before the day of sale hereinafter provided for, must file with the secretary of the board of directors a copy of the publication, with an affidavit of the publisher of such newspaper or someone in his behalf attached thereto, that it is a true copy of the same, and that the publication was made in a newspaper, stating its name and place of publication, and the date of each appearance in which such publication was made, which affidavit is prima facie evidence of all the facts stated therein.

SEC. 46. The treasurer of the district must collect, in addition to the amount due on such improvement warrant, the cost of the publication of such notice, and fifty cents for the certificate of sale delivered to the purchaser as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 47. The treasurer of the district, before delivering any certificate of sale, must, in a book kept in his office for that purpose, enter the date, number and series of the improvement warrant, a description of the land sold corresponding with the description in the certificate, the date of sale, purchaser's name, the amount paid, regularly number the descriptions on the margins of the book, and put a corresponding number on each certificate. Such book must be open to public inspection during office hours when not in actual use, and he shall enter on the records and on the improvement warrant the words, "Canceled by sale of the property," giving the date of such sale.

SEC. 48. Immediately on the sale, the purchaser shall become vested with the lien on the property so sold to him to the extent of his bid, and is only divested of such lien by the payment to the treasurer of the district of the purchase money, including costs herein provided for, with interest thereon at the rate of one per cent per month from date of sale.

SEC. 49. A redemption of the property sold may be made by the owner of the property or any party in interest within twelve months from the date of purchase, or at any time prior to the application for a deed, as hereinafter provided. Redemption must be made in lawful money of the United States, and when made to the treasurer of the district he must credit the amount paid to the person named in his certificate and pay it on demand to him or his assignees.

SEC. 50. On receiving the certificate of sale, the secretary must file it and make an entry in a book similar to that required of the treasurer of the district, the fee for which shall be fifty cents, and on presentation of the receipt of the treasurer of the district for the total amount of the redemption money, the secretary must, without charge, mark the word "Redeemed," the date, and by whom redeemed, on the margin of the book where the entry of the certificate is made.

SEC. 51. If the property is not redeemed within the time allowed by the provisions of this act for its redemption, the treasurer of the district or his successor in office, upon application of the purchaser, or his assignee, must make to said purchaser or his assignee a deed to the property, reciting in the deed substantially the matter contained in the certificate, and that no person has redeemed the property during the time allowed for its redemption. The treasurer shall be entitled to receive from the purchaser two dollars for making said deed, which shall be deposited in the treasury of the district for the use of the district after payment has been made therefrom for the acknowledgment of said deed; provided, however, that the purchaser of the property, or his assignee or agent, must thirty days prior to the expiration of the time of the redemption, or thirty days before his application for a deed, serve upon the owner or agent of the property purchased, if named in such certificate of sale, and upon the party occupying the property if the property is occupied, a written notice, stating that said property, or a portion thereof, has been sold to satisfy the improvement warrant lien, and stating the date of sale, the number, the amount then due, and the time when the right of redemption will expire, or when the purchaser will apply for a deed, and the owner of the property shall have the right of redemption indefinitely until such notice shall have been given and such deed applied for, upon the payment of the fees, penalties and costs in this act required. In case of unoccupied property, a similar notice must be posted in a conspicuous place upon the property at least thirty days before the purchaser applies for a deed, and no deed to the property sold in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be issued by the treasurer of the district to the purchaser of such property until such purchaser shall have filed with such treasurer an affidavit showing that the notice hereinbefore required to be given has been given as herein required, which said affidavit shall be filed and preserved by the said treasurer as other records kept by him in his office. Such purchaser shall be entitled to receive the sum of fifty cents for his services of such notice and the making of such affidavit, which sum of fifty cents shall be paid by the redemptioner at the time and in the same manner as the other sums, costs and fees are paid.

SEC. 52. The deed, when duly acknowledged or proven, shall be conclusive evidence of all things which the improvement warrant upon which it is based is conclusive evidence and prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings subsequent to the issue of the warrant, and conveys to the grantee the absolute right to the lands described therein, free of all encumbrances except the lien for said county and municipal taxes and taxes levied for the purpose of paying the principal and interest of the bonds of the district hereinbefore referred to.

SEC. 53. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to deprive any person or persons whose land has been assessed, as evidenced by said improvement warrants, of the privilege of paying off and having said warrant canceled by the payment of the principal and accrued interest of said warrant at any time when payment may be made during the life of said warrant.

SEC. 54. To maintain, operate and preserve the reservoirs, ditches, drains, dams, levees, settling basins or settling wells, canals or other improvements made pursuant to this act and to strengthen, repair and restore the same, when needed, and for the purpose of defraying the current expenses of the district, the board of directors may recommend, and the board of supervisors upon such recommendation may upon the substantial completion of said improvements and on or before the first day of September in each year thereafter, levy an assessment upon each tract or parcel of land and upon property within the district, subject to assessments under this act, to be known as a "conservancy maintenance assessment." Said maintenance assessment shall be apportioned upon the basis of the total appraisal of benefits accruing for original and subsequent construction, and shall be levied, collected, audited and deposited in each county in which lands of said district are situate, in the same manner as county taxes are levied, collected, audited and deposited; provided, however, that said funds shall be deposited to the credit of the "conservancy maintenance assessment fund," hereby established.

The amount of the maintenance tax paid by any parcel of land shall not be credited against the benefits assessed against such parcel of land; but the maintenance tax shall be in addition to any tax that has been or can be levied against the benefit assessment.

SEC. 55. Whenever the owners or representatives of twenty-five per cent or more of the acreage or value of the lands in the district shall file a petition with the clerk of the district, stating that there has been a material change in the values of the property in the district since the last previous appraisal of benefits, and praying for readjustment of the appraisal of benefits for the purpose of making a more equitable basis for the levy of the maintenance assessment, the said clerk shall give notice of the filing and hearing of said petition in the manner hereinbefore provided.

Upon hearing of said petition if said board of directors shall find there has been a material change in the value of property in said district since the last previous appraisal of benefits, the board of directors shall order that there be a readjustment of the appraisal of benefits for the purpose of providing a basis upon which to levy the maintenance assessment of said district. Thereupon the board of directors shall compel performance of the duties required by this act of any of the officers or persons mentioned in this act.

SEC. 58. If any county tax collector or other person entrusted with the collection of these assessments refuses, fails or neglects to make prompt payment of the tax or any part thereof collected under this act to the treasurer of said district upon his presentation of a proper demand, then he shall pay a penalty of ten per cent on the amount of his delinquency; such penalty shall at once become due and payable and both he and his securities shall be liable therefor on his official bond.

SEC. 59. Any surplus funds in the treasury of the district may be used, upon resolution of the board of directors, for retting lands, reducing the rate of assessment to purchase lands sold for taxes or assessments, as heretofore provided, or for accomplishing any other of the legitimate objects of the district.

At least once a year, or oftener if the board of supervisors shall so order, the board of directors shall make a report to the board of supervisors of its proceedings and an accounting of receipts and disbursements to that date which shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors. Thereupon the board of supervisors shall order the auditing of said accounts by public accountants of recognized standing who shall file their report thereon with the clerk of the board of supervisors.

SEC. 60. Each member of the board of directors shall receive not to exceed ten dollars a day and his necessary traveling expenses, when away from home, for the time actually employed in performing his duties. Each appraiser shall receive not to exceed ten dollars a day and his expenses for the time actually employed in his duties.

SEC. 61. The same land, if conducive to public health, safety, convenience or welfare, may be included in more than one district and be subject to the provisions of this act for each and every district in which it may be included. Provided, that no district shall be organized under this act in whole or in part within the territory of a district already organized under this act until the board or joint boards of supervisors determine whether the public health, safety, convenience or welfare demand the organization of an additional district, or whether it demand that the territory proposed to be organized into an additional district shall be added to the existing district; and in case the proceedings concerning two or more such districts are before the board of supervisors of two or more counties, such determination shall be as provided in the next section.

SEC. 62. In case any district or districts are being organized within, or partly within and partly without, the same territory in which some other district or districts have been or are being organized, the board of supervisors of every such county in which such districts have been or are being organized shall confer at the earliest convenient moment after they ascertain the possibility of a conflict in jurisdiction, the sitting to be had in the county having the largest assessed valuation in the proposed district or districts, anything to the contrary herein stated notwithstanding.

At such conference, the several supervisors shall determine to what extent the several districts should be consolidated, or to what extent the boundaries should be adjusted in order to most fully carry out the purposes of this act, and they shall by suitable orders make such determination effective. At such conferences, the decision of the majority of the supervisors shall be necessary for the determination of any matter.

The provisions of this, and of the preceding section shall not operate to delay or to interrupt any proceeding under this act until the question of jurisdiction has been finally determined by the court or courts.

SEC. 63. Whenever it is desired to construct improvements wholly within any district organized under this act, which improvements will affect only a part of said district, for the purpose of accomplishing such work, subdistricts may be organized upon petition of the owners of real property, within the district, which petition shall fulfill the same requirements concerning the subdistricts as the petition outlined in this act is required to fulfill concerning the organization of the main district, and shall be filed with the clerk of the same board of supervisors, and shall be accompanied by a bond as provided for in this act in the first instance. All proceedings relating to the organization of such subdistricts shall conform in all things to the provisions of this act relating to the organization of districts, including also the provision in regard to holding an election excepting as to an election of directors. Whenever the board of supervisors shall by its order duly entered of record declare and decree such subdistricts to be organized, the clerk of said board shall thereupon give notice of such order to the directors of the district, who shall thereupon act also as directors of the subdistrict. Thereafter, the proceedings in reference to the subdistrict shall in all matters conform to the provisions of this act, with the same officers, directors and appraisers; except that in appraisal of benefits and damages for the purposes of such subdistricts, in the issuance of bonds, in the levying of assessments or taxes, and in all other matters affecting only the subdistrict, the provisions of this act shall apply to this subdistrict as though it were an independent district, and it shall not, in these things, be amalgamated with the main district.

The board of directors, board of appraisers, chief engineer, attorney, secretary and other officers, agents and employees of the district shall, so far as it may be necessary, serve in the same capacities for such subdistrict, and contracts and agreements between the main district and the subdistrict may be made in the same manner as contracts and agreements between two districts. The distribution of administrative expense between the main district and subdistrict shall be in proportion to the interests involved and the amount of service rendered, such division to be made by the board of directors with an appeal to the board of supervisors establishing the district. This section shall not be held to prevent the organization of independent districts for local improvements under other laws within the limits of a district organized under this act.

SEC. 64. The board of directors shall have the right to police the works of the district, and in times of great emergency may compel assistance in the protection of such works, and shall, also, have the right to prevent persons, vehicles or live stock from passing over the works of the district in any manner which would result in damage thereto.

SEC. 65. The wilful destruction, injury or removal of any bench marks, witness marks, stakes or other reference marks, placed by the surveyors or engineers of the district or by contractors in constructing the works of the district, shall be a misdemeanor, punishable by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars.

SEC. 66. All persons and corporations shall be liable for damages done to works of the district by themselves, their agents, their employees, or by their live stock, in the same manner, and punishable in the same manner as persons and corporations are liable for damage committed to property or works belonging to private persons.

SEC. 67. Districts may be formed under the provisions of this act for forestation and reforestation of the lands leased or owned by said district or upon federal or state lands upon receiving proper permits therefor, when deemed necessary for and incidental to the conservation or control of flood waters against damage by floods, by a substantial compliance with the terms of this act. But no such district in its construction or operation shall in any manner interfere with works for the prevention of floods, or the drainage of lands, or materially diminish their protective value. And the board of supervisors organizing such district for the conservation of water by forestation or reforestation solely, shall require a statement in the petition and proof of the effect that the organization and operation of the same will not materially interfere with any works or plans for flood prevention or the drainage or protection of lands, but will assist in preventing such damage. Nor shall any improvement under this act deprive the owners of lands lying upon any streams of water, of the ordinary flow in said stream without compensation therefor.

Subject to the above, the board of directors shall have the same powers as are herein conferred generally by its provisions so far as applicable.

SEC. 68. In any and every case where a notice is provided for in this act, if the board of directors finds for any reason that due notice was not given, the board of directors shall not thereby lose jurisdiction, and the proceeding in question shall not thereby be void; but the board of directors shall in that case order due notice to be given, and shall continue the hearing until such time as such notice shall be properly given, and thereupon shall proceed as though notice had been properly given in the first instance.

In case any individual appraisal or appraisals, assessment or assessments, or levy or levies, shall be held void for want of legal notice, or in case the board may determine that any notice with reference to any land or lands may be faulty, then a petition may be filed with the board of directors asking that the board of directors order notice to the owner of such land or lands given and set a time for hearing as provided in this act. And in case the original notice as a whole was sufficient, and was faulty only with reference to publication as to certain tracts, only the owners of and persons interested in those particular tracts need be notified by such subsequent notice. And if the publication of any notice in any county was defective or not made in time, publication of the defective notice need be had only in the county in which the defect occurred.

SEC. 69. All cases in which there arises a question of the validity of the organization of conservancy districts shall be advanced as a matter of immediate public interest and concern, and heard in all courts at the earliest practicable moment.

SEC. 70. This act being necessary for securing the public health, safety, convenience or welfare, and being necessary for the prevention of great loss of life and for the security of public and private property from floods and other uncontrolled waters, it shall be liberally construed to effect the control and conservation and drainage of the waters of this state.

SEC. 71. In case any section or sections or part of any section of this act shall be found to be unconstitutional, the remainder of the act shall not thereby be invalidated, but shall remain in full force and effect.

SEC. 72. All existing laws of the state and parts of laws relating to drainage, flood control, protection from storm waters, irrigation and subjects of which this act treats, shall not be in any other way affected by this act, but this act shall be treated and shall be in effect an alternative act thereto.

SEC. 73. For the sake of convenience:

(a) In any orders of the board of supervisors, the words, "the board of supervisors now here finds that it hath jurisdiction of the parties to and of the subject matter of this proceeding," shall be equivalent to a finding that each jurisdictional fact necessary to confer plenary jurisdiction upon the board of supervisors beginning with the proper signing and filing of the initial petition to the date of the order to meet every legal requirement imposed by this act, has been conferred.

(b) No other or further evidence of the legal disposition of the special assessment to the payment of the bonds shall be required than the passage of a bonding resolution by the board of directors recommending to the board of supervisors the issuance of bonds in accordance therewith.

(c) In the preparation of any assessment or appraisal roll the usual abbreviations employed by engineers, surveyors and draftsmen may be used.

(d) Where properly to describe any parcel of land it would be necessary to use a long description, the appraisers after locating the land generally, may refer to the book and page of the public record of any instrument to which the land is described which reference shall suffice to identify for all the purposes of that act the land described in the public record so referred to.

(e) It shall not be necessary in any notice required by this act to be published to specify the names of the owners of the lands or of the persons interested therein, but any such notice may be addressed, "to all persons interested" with like effect as though such notice named by name every owner of any lands within the territory specified in the notice and every person interested therein, and every holder, actual or inchoate.

(f) Every district declared to be a conservancy district in accordance with this act shall thereupon become a political subdivision and a public corporation of the State of California, invested with all the powers and privileges conferred upon such districts by this act.

Nothing in this act stated shall be construed to limit or abridge the rights and powers now vested in the railroad commission of the State of California, the water commission of the State of California, any other commission, officer or agency created by law, and all things herein enumerated to be done shall be performed subject to and in compliance with the authority now vested or hereafter to be vested by law in such commission, officer or agency, anything appearing herein notwithstanding.

SEC. 74. The following forms may suffice to illustrate the character of the procedure contemplated by this act, and if substantially complied with those things being changed which do meet the requirements of the particular case should be changed, such procedure shall be held to meet the requirements of this act.

An act to amend the vehicle act, approved May 10, 1915, by repealing sections ten, eighteen, twenty-three, thirty-three and forty-two thereof, and by amending sections one, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, eleven, thirteen, fifteen, seventeen, twenty, twenty-two, twenty-four, twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight, thirty-two, thirty-four, thirty-five and thirty-seven thereof, said amendments to provide for the regulation of the use and occupation of the public highways by vehicles and otherwise, for the registration and identification of motor and other vehicles, and for the payment of registration fees therefor; to provide for the licensing of persons operating motor vehicles, and for the payment of license fees therefor; to prohibit the operation of any motor vehicle without the consent of the owner thereof; to limit the power of local authorities to enact or enforce ordinances, rules or regulations in regard to matters embraced within the provisions of this act; to provide for the organization and conduct of the motor vehicle department created by said act, and to provide for the disposition of registration and license fees, fines and forfeitures collected under the provisions of said act; to provide for carrying out the objects of said act and of said amendments thereto, and to make appropriation therefor; to provide for the printing and distribution of said act as amended, and to provide for the time that said amendments shall go into effect.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out lines 1 to 8, inclusive, also all of pages 2 to 45, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SECTION 1. Section one of the vehicle act, approved May 10, 1915, is hereby amended as follows:

SECTION 1. The words and phrases used in this act shall for the purposes of this act, unless the same be contrary to or inconsistent with the context, be construed as follows: (1) "motor vehicle" shall include all vehicles propelled otherwise than by muscular power, except trailers and such vehicles as run upon stationary rails or tracks; (2) "automobile" shall include all motor vehicles excepting motorcycles; (3) "motorcycle" shall include all motor vehicles designed to travel on not more than three wheels in contact with the ground, and of not exceeding ten horsepower, and of not exceeding the weight of five hundred pounds including provided, however, that any motor vehicle which shall be operated on the public highway drawing a trailer shall be deemed to be an automobile for all the purposes of this act; and provided, further, that for the purposes of this act a trailer shall be deemed to be any vehicle which is at any time drawn upon the public highway by a motor vehicle, excepting any implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, pushed or moved upon such highway; (4) "highway" shall include any public highway, county road, state highway or state road, public street, avenue, alley, park, parkway, driveway, square or place, bridge, viaduct, trestle, or any other territory or structure, whether public or private, designed, intended or used by or for the general public for the passage of vehicles, in any county, or incorporated city and county, city or town within the State of California; (5) "business district" shall mean the territory of any county or incorporated city and county, city or town, contiguous to a public highway, which is on the line of said highway mainly built up with structures devoted to business, provided, that the local authorities having charge of such highway shall have placed conspicuously thereon at the boundary lines of such business district, signs of sufficient size to be easily readable by a person using the highway, bearing the words "business district—slow down to fifteen miles an hour," and also an arrow pointing in the direction of said business district; (6) "closely built up" shall mean the territory of any county or incorporated city and county, city or town, contiguous to a public highway, which is on the line of said highway not mainly devoted to business, where for not less than a quarter of a mile the dwelling houses and business structures on such highway average less than one hundred feet apart; provided, that the local authorities having charge of such highway shall have placed conspicuously thereon at the boundary lines of such district signs of sufficient size to be easily readable by a person using the highway, bearing the words "speed limit twenty miles an hour," and also an arrow pointing in the direction of said closely built up district; (7) "local authorities" shall include all boards of supervisors, trustees or councils, commissions, committees, and other public officials of counties, incorporated cities and counties, cities or towns, or municipal or quasi-municipal corporations when such officials possess or exercise legislative or police powers; (8) "chauffeur" shall mean any person who operates an automobile in the transportation of persons and who receives any compensation for such service in wages, commission or otherwise, paid directly or indirectly, or who as owner or employee operates an automobile carrying passengers for hire; provided, however, that this definition shall not include manufacturers' agents, proprietors of garages and dealers, salesmen, mechanics, or demonstrators of automobiles in the ordinary course of their business; (9) the term "state" as used in this act, except where otherwise expressly provided, shall also include the territories, federal districts and insular possessions of the United States; (10) "nonresidents" shall mean residents of states or countries other than the State of California whose sojourn in this state, or whose occupation of their regular place of abode or business in this state, if any, covers a total period of less than three months in the calendar year; (11) "owner" shall include any person, firm, association, or corporation, having the lawful use or control, or the right to the use or control, of a vehicle, under a lease or otherwise, for a period of ten or more successive days; (12) "manufacturer" or "dealer" shall signify a person, firm, association, or corporation regularly in the business of having in his, its or their possession vehicles for sale or trade and for use and operation pursuant thereto, and shall be considered owners of vehicles manufactured or dealt in by them for the purposes of this act, prior to sale and delivery thereof, and of all vehicles in their possession and operated or driven by them or by their employees; provided, however, that anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, the determination of the motor vehicle department shall be final and conclusive upon the question whether or not an applicant for registration shall be a manufacturer or dealer within the meaning and intent of this act; (13) "garage" shall mean every place of business where motor vehicles are received for housing, storage or repair, for compensation; (14) "intersecting highway" shall mean any highway which joins another at an angle, whether or not it crosses the other; (15) "operator" shall mean any person other than a chauffeur who operates a motor vehicle and any person who operates, rides, drives or propels any vehicle other than a motor vehicle; (16) "person" shall include any corporation, association, copartnership, company, firm, or other aggregation of individuals; and whenever the term "person" is used in connection with the registration of a vehicle, it shall include any corporation, association, copartnership, company, firm, or other aggregation of individuals which owns or controls such vehicle as actual owner, or for the purpose of sale or for renting, whether as agent, salesman, or otherwise; (17) "department" as used in this act shall mean the motor vehicle department of California, acting directly or through its duly authorized agent; (18) "vehicle" shall include every wagon, hack, coach, carriage, omnibus, bicycle, tricycle, automobile, cyclo-car, motor-cycle, truck, trailer, traction engine, tractor, or other conveyance or contrivance for moving persons, animals or things, in whatever manner and by whatever force or power the same may be ridden, driven, propelled, drawn or moved, which is ridden, driven, propelled, drawn or moved on the public highway, including implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, propelled or moved on the public highway, and excepting only conveyances drawn or propelled by pedestrians, and railroad, street or interurban cars, engines and motors moving upon stationary rails or tracks; (19) the city and county of San Francisco shall be considered a county; (20) "net receipts" shall signify the balance remaining of the money paid to the department in conformity with the provisions of this act after the payment of all salaries, expenses and refunds incident to the administration and enforcement of this act; (21) "specially constructed" motor vehicle shall mean a motor vehicle which shall not have been originally constructed under a distinctive name, make, model or type by a generally recognized manufacturer of motor vehicles; provided, that in case of dispute the determination of said department as to the character of construction of any such motor vehicle shall be conclusive; (22) "reconstructed motor vehicle" shall mean a motor vehicle which shall have been assembled or constructed largely by means of essential parts, new or used, derived from other motor vehicles or makes of motor vehicles of various names, models or types, or which, if originally otherwise constructed, shall have been materially altered by the removal of essential parts or by the addition or substitution of essential parts, new or used, derived from other motor vehicles or makes of motor vehicles; provided, that for the purpose of this act the term "essential parts" shall include not only integral parts but also body parts, such as fenders, hood, cowl, and other parts the removal, alteration or substitution of which will tend to conceal the identity or substantially alter the appearance of the motor vehicle; and provided, further, that in case of dispute the determination of said department as to the character of such assembly, reconstruction or alteration shall be conclusive; (23) "imported motor vehicle" shall mean any motor vehicle which shall be brought into this state from another country or state otherwise than in the ordinary course of business by or through a manufacturer or dealer, and which has not been registered in this state except such motor vehicles, owned by nonresidents, as are provided for by section twenty-seven of this act; (24) "highway commission" shall mean the appointed members of the advisory board of the department of engineering of the State of California.

SEC. 2. Section three of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 3. Every owner of a motor vehicle which shall be operated or driven upon the public highways shall, for each motor vehicle owned, except as herein otherwise expressly provided, cause to be filed, by mail, or otherwise, with the department an application for registration on a blank to be furnished by said department for that purpose, containing, in addition to such other particulars as may be required by said department, a statement of the name and post-office address of the applicant, a description of such motor vehicle, including the name of the maker, the number, if any, affixed to the motor or engine by the maker, the character of the motive power, and the diameter of the cylinder bore and the number of cylinders; and with such application the applicant shall deposit the proper registration fee as provided in section seven of this act; provided, that for all the purposes of this act the horsepower of any motor vehicle, except electric or steam-driven vehicles, shall be determined by the formula commonly known as that of the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers (A. L. A. M.), being as follows: square the diameter of the cylinder in inches, multiply by the numbers of cylinders, and divide by two and five-tenths; provided, further, that for the purposes of this act the horsepower of any steam-driven motor vehicle shall be the horsepower rating fixed and advertised by the manufacturer thereof; provided, further, that in case the motor vehicle sought to be registered shall be a specially constructed or a reconstructed motor vehicle, that fact must be stated by the applicant in his application for registration and he shall furnish the department on demand such additional information relating to said motor vehicle as shall be satisfactory to the department before it may register such vehicle; and provided, further, that in case the motor vehicle sought to be registered shall be an imported motor vehicle, within the meaning of this act, that fact must be stated by the applicant in his application for registration, and he shall furnish the department on demand such additional information relating to said motor vehicle as shall be satisfactory to the department before it may register such vehicle, and in case such vehicle shall have been theretofore registered in any other state or country, the applicant shall with his original application for registration supply the department with full information relating to such former registration and shall surrender to the department any number plates, seals, certificates of registration or other evidences of such former registration as may be in the applicant's possession or control.

Every owner of a trailer or trailers which shall be drawn upon a public highway when any such trailer shall exceed one ton in weight shall cause to be filed by mail or otherwise, with the department, an application for a registration on a blank to be furnished by said department for that purpose, containing in addition to such other particulars as may be required by said department, a statement of the name and post-office address of the applicant, and with such application the applicant shall deposit the proper registration fee, as provided in section seven of this act.

Sec. 3. Section four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 4. Upon the receipt by the department of an application for registration of a motor vehicle or trailer or trailers accompanied by the fee required by section seven of this act, the department shall file such application and it shall be the duty of the applicant is entitled to registration of said vehicle or vehicles as the owner thereof within the meaning of this act, and if all fees theretofore payable to the department in connection with the registration, or any renewal thereof, of said vehicle or vehicles shall have been duly paid, shall alphabetically, and also numerically, register each motor vehicle or trailer or trailers with the name and post office of the owner, together with the facts stated in such application, in a book or index cards to be kept for the purpose, under a distinctive number assigned to each motor vehicle or trailer or trailers by the department, which book or index cards shall be open to inspection by the public during reasonable business hours. A full record of all motor vehicle registration shall be posted daily by the department upon a bulletin board so located so as to be easily accessible to the public, and no information relative to any such registrations shall be made public by any employee of the department in advance of such posting.

Sec. 4. Section five of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5. Upon the filing of such application and the payment of the fee provided in this act, the department shall upon registration assign to each motor vehicle or trailer or trailers a distinctive registration number. Such number so assigned shall be the number assigned to such motor vehicle at each succeeding registration thereof, so long as such motor vehicle shall be owned by the owner to whom the original assignment was made, and upon sale or transfer of such motor vehicle, said number may be canceled or may be reassigned as an original assignment to the same or another motor vehicle, at the option of said department, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained.

Sec. 5. Section six of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 6. Such registration shall be renewed annually in the same manner and upon payment of the same fee as provided for original registration, such renewal to take effect on the first day of January of each year. The seals and certificates of registration furnished by the said department as provided hereinafter shall be valid during the calendar year only in which they are furnished or issued.

Sec. 6. Section seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7. The following fees shall be paid to the department upon the registration of a vehicle in accordance with the provisions of this act and shall accompany the application hereinabove provided for: For the registration of every motorcycle, two dollars; for the registration of every automobile, except electric automobiles, the sum of forty cents for each horsepower, or major fraction thereof, according to the formula specified in section three of this act; for the registration of every motor vehicle equipped with other than pneumatic tires, and used for commercial purposes, weighing under four thousand pounds unladen, five dollars in addition to the fees provided herein for horsepower rating or for electric motor vehicles; for every such vehicle weighing four thousand pounds and over and less than six thousand pounds unladen, ten dollars in addition to the fees provided herein for horsepower rating or for electric motor vehicles; for every such vehicle, weighing six thousand pounds and over and less than ten thousand pounds unladen, fifteen dollars in addition to the fees provided herein for horsepower rating or for electric motor vehicles; for every such vehicle weighing ten thousand pounds and over unladen, twenty dollars in addition to the fees provided herein for horsepower rating or for electric motor vehicles; for the registration of every electric motor vehicle, five dollars; for the registration of motor vehicles owned by or under the control of a manufacturer of, or dealer in, motor vehicles, if such person operates upon the public highways not more than five automobiles, twenty-five dollars, and two dollars for every automobile in excess of five so operated, including the necessary number plates; for the registration of the motorcycles owned by or under the control of a manufacturer of, or dealer in motorcycles, and who does not operate upon the public highway more than five motorcycles, five dollars, and one dollar for every motorcycle in excess of five so operated, including the necessary number plates; for every registration number-plate for trailers, two dollars; for the original license of every operator, fifty cents; for the original license of every chauffeur, two dollars, and for each annual renewal thereof one dollar; for every additional number plate furnished to replace such plates as have been lost or mutilated or which are illegible, one dollar, which shall include seal; for every seal or registration certificate furnished to replace such as have been lost or mutilated or which are illegible, fifty cents.

Anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding, if application for the registration of a motor vehicle or for an original chauffeur's license is made during the period beginning on the first day of April and ending on the thirtieth day of June, in any year, three-fourths of the annual fee shall be paid; if application is made during the period beginning on the first day of July and ending on the thirtieth day of September, one-half of such annual fee; if application is made during the period beginning on the first day of October and ending on the thirty-first day of December, one-fourth of such annual fee.

SEC. 7. Section eight of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 8. The department shall furnish to every person whose motor vehicle or trailer or trailers shall be registered as aforesaid, on original registration, one number plate for motorcycles and trailers; and two number plates for automobiles, the same to have displayed upon them the registration number assigned to such vehicle, together with the abbreviation "Cal.", and to have space provided thereon to which may be attached each year the registration seal to be furnished by the department as hereinafter provided; provided, however, that number plates furnished for trailers and for such motor vehicles as are exempted by section two of this act from the payment of the fees in this act prescribed shall contain suitable distinguishing marks or symbols, and the numbers assigned in such cases shall run in different numerical series from the numbers assigned to other vehicles registered under the provisions of this act; and provided, further, anything to the contrary in this act notwithstanding, that it shall not be necessary to apply for registration of implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, moved or otherwise propelled upon the public highway, nor shall it be necessary for the department to assign any distinguishing numbers to such implements of husbandry or to furnish number plates for display thereon. Said department shall furnish with each number plate, and on each annual renewal of registration, a registration seal together with screws or other means of attachment to the number plate, the form and character of which seal shall be uniform for any one calendar year, such seal to be changed by the department as to design or color or both, from year to year. Said seal shall bear the identical number shown on the number plate to which it is to be attached and also the calendar year for which it is issued and it shall be valid only for such year. The department shall also furnish with each number plate for motorcycles and with each pair of number plates for automobiles, and on each annual renewal of registration, a certificate of registration which shall contain upon the face thereof the following data: The name of the registered owner of the motor vehicle, his post-office address, the make of the vehicle, the year model denoted by the manufacturer, the model or letter denoted by the manufacturer, if any, the engine or motor number, the registered horsepower, the registration number and the amount of annual registration fee, together with the date of issue of the certificate. In case of motorcycles, the manufacturer's serial number shall be stated in lieu of the engine number. Such certificate shall contain a blank space for the signature of the registered owner. The reverse side of said certificate shall contain forms (a) for notice to the department by the registered owner, in case of transfer of ownership, as hereinafter required, and (b) for application to the department by the transferee, in case of transfer of said motor vehicle, for registration thereof in his name, said application to be in the form of a joint statement to be signed by both transferor and transferee and to contain, in addition to such other particulars as may be required by said department, a statement of the post-office address of the transferee so applying for registration. Said certificate shall contain the identical registration number denoted on the number plate or plates and seal in connection with which such certificate is issued, and it shall be valid only for the calendar year in which it is issued. Said certificate shall be enclosed in a suitable container, to be furnished by the department, such container to have a frame of aluminum or other metal and to have a cover of isinglass or other transparent material, through which such certificate can be easily inspected, and with such container said department shall furnish screws or other suitable means of attachment to the motor vehicle. Said number plates, seals, certificates and containers shall be furnished by the department without further charge than the fees specified in section seven of this act, with transportation prepaid, and shall be of substantial character and suitable form and design, to be determined by the department.

Upon the transfer of ownership of any motor vehicle its registration shall expire and the person in whose name such vehicle is registered shall forthwith (a) file with the department a notice, upon the form furnished by the department and attached to the certificate of registration, containing the date of such transfer of ownership and the name and post-office address of the transferee, and (b) subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, return the registration number plate or plates and seal, transportation prepaid, to the department. In the case of such transfer of ownership of any motor vehicle or in case of loss of possession thereof, the registered owner, provided that he applies to the department within ten days after such transfer or loss of possession, may have assigned to another motor vehicle the registration number of the motor vehicle so transferred or lost; provided, further, that in such case of transfer and application for reassignment to another motor vehicle, the number plate or plates and seals may be retained for a period of ten days after such transfer, and if application for such reassignment shall have been made within said period they may be further retained until the department has either duly reassigned said number in accordance with said application or has refused said application for reassignment and has canceled said number and demanded surrender of said plate or plates and seals.

Upon the transfer of ownership of any motor vehicle, the person in whose name such vehicle is registered and the person to whom ownership of such vehicle is to be transferred shall forthwith join in a statement of said transfer indorsed upon the reverse side of the certificate of registration of said motor vehicle in the space provided for said purpose, which statement shall be signed by the transferor in the manner and form of his signature contained on the face of said certificate and which statement shall likewise be signed by the transferee, who shall also set forth below his signature his post-office address. Said statement shall constitute an application by the transferee for registration of said vehicle in his name. Said certificate so indorsed and bearing upon the reverse side thereof the signatures of the transferor and transferee, shall be forwarded by the transferor to the department together with the proper fee for registration required by section seven of this act. The department shall file said certificate so jointly indorsed by transferor and transferee and upon receipt of the proper fee as above provided the department, if satisfied of the genuineness and regularity of said transfer, shall register said motor vehicle in the name of said transferee and may cancel the former registration number or assign the same to the same or another motor vehicle, at the option of the department, subject to the other provisions of this act. Upon such registration the department shall issue and forward to the applicant without further charge than as provided in section seven of this act, a new registration certificate in the manner and form as hereinabove provided for original registration. Until said transferor has received said certificate of registration and has written his name upon the free space in the blank space provided for said purpose by the department, delivery of said motor vehicle shall be deemed not to have been made and title thereto shall be deemed not to have passed and said intended transfer shall be deemed to be incomplete and not to be valid or effective for any purpose, provided, that where such transfer is made to a manufacturer or dealer to whom has been assigned a general distinguishing number and who intends to resell or otherwise retransfer said vehicle a certificate of registration shall be furnished without charge to him. It shall be in a distinctive form and shall bear such manufacturer's or dealer's general distinguishing number; whereupon such manufacturer or dealer shall be entitled to display upon said vehicle number plates assigned to him by the department bearing said general distinguishing number; but upon sale or transfer of said vehicle by such manufacturer or dealer, each and every provision herein contained relative to the return of such certificate to the department with the joint statement of transferor and transferee indorsed thereon, as well as other provisions applicable upon transfer of motor vehicles, shall be complied with. In case of a transfer of a motor vehicle to such manufacturer or dealer without the removal therefrom by the transferee of the number plates and seals, the manufacturer or dealer shall forthwith deliver to the department, transportation prepaid, said number plates and seals. In case of transfer of ownership of a motor vehicle, registered under the provisions of this act, by operation of law, as upon inheritance, devise or bequest, order in bankruptcy or insolvency, execution sale, repossession upon default in performance of the terms of a lease or executory sales contract, or otherwise than by the voluntary act of the registered owner, the notice of transfer as well as the joint statement hereinabove provided for shall be signed by the executor, administrator, receiver, trustee, sheriff, or other representative or successor in interest of the registered owner in lieu of such owner, and the transferee's application for registration shall be accompanied by a statement of the special facts in the premises, provided that the department may in its discretion require from the transferee, before registering such motor vehicle, such additional information respecting such involuntary loss of ownership by the former registered owner as may be satisfactory to the department.

Anything to the contrary hereinabove notwithstanding, upon the transfer of ownership of any motor vehicle to a person not intending either to operate the same or to cause or permit the same to be operated upon the public highways and not intending to transfer such motor vehicle to another person, a statement by said transferee of such fact or intent shall accompany the application for registration, in which case no fee for registration need be paid by the applicant, but the registration number plates and seals, if not retained by the transferor, shall be forthwith forwarded, without demand, to the department, whereupon the department, if satisfied of the genuineness and regularity of said transfer and if satisfied of the facts stated in said application for registration, shall register, without any charge whatever, such motor vehicle in the name of said transferee and shall issue and forward to him a new registration certificate, in a distinctive form to be determined by the department; provided, that until said transferee has received said registration certificate delivery of said motor vehicle shall be deemed not to have been made, and title thereto shall be deemed not to have passed and said intended transfer shall be deemed to be incomplete and not to be valid or effective for any purpose; and provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to permit such motor vehicle to be operated upon the public highway under such distinctive certificate of registration last hereinabove provided for.

A person who transfers the ownership or loses possession of a motor vehicle registered in his name or removes such motor vehicle from the state, shall be entitled to a rebate bearing the same proportion to that portion of the fee theretofore paid by him, as the remaining quarters of the calendar year bear to that portion of the year for which said fee was paid; provided, that any such rebate shall not be paid excepting upon a certificate filed by the department with the state board of control, setting forth the facts; and provided, further, that such rebates shall be paid out of the motor vehicle fund.

If the department shall determine, at any time, that for any reason a motor vehicle or trailer is unsafe or is improperly equipped or is otherwise unfit to be operated, or that the applicant for registration thereof is not entitled as owner thereof to such registration, the department may refuse to register such vehicle and may, for a like reason, revoke any registration already acquired.

Sec. 8. Section nine of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 9. Every manufacturer of, or dealer in, motor vehicles may make application to the department, by mail or otherwise, upon a blank provided by the department, for a general distinguishing number or symbol, instead of registering each motor vehicle owned by him, and with such application he shall deposit the proper registration fee as provided in section seven of this act, and the department shall grant the application if satisfied of the facts stated in the application and shall issue to the applicant a certificate of registration containing the name and business address of the applicant and the general distinguishing number or symbol assigned to him, and made in such form and containing such further information as the department may determine; and every motor vehicle owned or controlled by such manufacturer or dealer shall be regarded as registered under such general distinguishing number or symbol until sold, or until let for hire, or until loaned for a period of more than ten successive days; provided, that whenever a manufacturer or dealer shall maintain a branch or subagency he shall apply for a separate registration for such branch or subagency and shall pay therefor the fee provided in section seven of this act for the registration of motor vehicles owned by or under the control of a manufacturer or dealer, and the determination of the department upon the question whether any establishment constitutes a branch or subagency within the intent of this act, shall be conclusive. The department shall furnish, without other charge than the fee specified in section seven of this act, with transportation charges prepaid, to every manufacturer of or dealer in automobiles or motorcycles applying therefor whose vehicles are registered in accordance with the provisions of this section, five pairs of automobile number plates or five single motorcycle number plates, of suitable design, together with the accompanying seals, the plates to have displayed upon them the registration number which is assigned to the motor vehicles of such manufacturer or dealer, with a different symbol on each pair of automobile number plates and on each single motorcycle plate. If the department shall determine at any time for due cause that any such manufacturer or dealer to whom the certificate of registration provided for in this section has been issued and to whom such general distinguishing number or symbol has been assigned has failed to comply with the requirements of this section hereinafter contained with reference to notices or reports of transfer of motor vehicles, or has caused or suffered, or is causing or suffering, the unlawful use of such certificate or number, the department may revoke said certificate of registration and recall and cancel said general distinguishing number or symbol, in which event said manufacturer or dealer, after notice of such action on part of the department, shall, without further demand, return to the department any and all number plates and seals that may have been furnished him by the department under said certificate so revoked; provided, that no manufacturer or dealer or any employee of such manufacturer or dealer, shall cause or permit the display, or other use, of any number plate, seal or certificate of registration which may have been furnished to such manufacturer or dealer under the general distinguishing number or symbol heretofore provided for, excepting upon motor vehicles owned by such manufacturer or dealer within the meaning and intent of this act; provided, further, that no person shall display, or otherwise use or have in his possession any number plate, seal or certificate of registration furnished by the department under a general manufacturer's or dealer's distinguishing number or symbol, except such manufacturer or dealer or his employees; and provided, further, that if the department, upon receiving from any manufacturer or dealer an application for the issuance for the ensuing calendar year of the certificate of registration and general distinguishing number or symbol provided for in this section, shall determine upon due cause that such manufacturer or dealer during the previous calendar year has failed to comply with the requirements of this section hereinafter contained respecting the filing of notices or reports of transfer of motor vehicles, or has caused or suffered, or is causing or suffering, the unlawful use of such certificate or number, the department may refuse such application.

When it shall become necessary for a manufacturer of, or dealer in, or consignee of, motor vehicles to move any vehicles owned by or consigned to him, not being registered under any of the provisions of this act, from any vessel, railroad depot, or warehouse, to the salesrooms or other place of business of such manufacturer or dealer, or to a warehouse or other place of storage, over the public highways, he may operate such vehicle, either under its own power or otherwise, over such public highways as are necessary for said purpose, without first registering said motor vehicle or affixing thereon any number plates issued to him under the general distinguishing number or styled lettering specified provided, however, that in such event he shall first obtain from the police authorities or marshal of the city or town in which said vessel, railroad depot or warehouse is situated, a written permit authorizing such operation; and there is hereby conferred upon police authorities, including town marshals, within the State of California, authority to issue such permits in proper cases as hereinafter provided.

Upon the transfer of any motor vehicle by a manufacturer or dealer, whether by sale, lease or otherwise, such motor vehicle not being registered under the provisions of section three hereof, such manufacturer or dealer shall, within three days after such transfer, file with the department, upon a blank to be furnished by the department, a notice or report containing the date of such transfer, a description of such motor vehicle and the name and post office of the purchaser, lessee or other transferee.

Upon the transfer of any automobile engine or motor, except a new engine or motor transferred with intent that the same be installed in a new automobile, and whether such transfer be made by a manufacturer or dealer or otherwise, and whether by sale, lease or otherwise, the transferor shall within three days after such transfer file with the department, upon a blank to be furnished by the department, a notice or report containing the date of such transfer and a description, together with the maker's number, of said engine or motor, the name and postoffice address of the purchaser, lessee or other transferee.

SEC. 9. Section ten of said act is hereby repealed.

SEC. 10. Section eleven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 11. Except as in this act otherwise provided, no person shall operate or drive, or cause to be operated or driven, a motor vehicle, or cause a trailer to be drawn by a motor vehicle, on the public highways unless such vehicle shall at all times have displayed the number plate or plates furnished for it as heretofore provided, together with registration seal or seals furnished by the department. In case of automobiles, each such vehicle shall display one number plate on the front and the other on the back thereof and said registration seals shall be securely attached to the number plates in the space provided thereon for that purpose. In case of motorcycles and trailers, but one number plate with registration seal so attached thereto, shall be required to be displayed and such number plate upon motorcycles and trailers shall be at the rear thereof. In all cases such number plates shall be securely fastened to the motor vehicle or trailer so as to prevent said plates from swinging, and at a minimum distance of sixteen inches from the ground. Nothing in this act shall be construed to require the display of any number plate on other than the rear trailer, when more than one trailer is drawn by a motor vehicle. No person shall attach to, or display on, such motor or other vehicle, any number plate or registration seal or certificate other than as assigned to it for the current year, or a fictitious, or altered number plate, seal or registration certificate, or a number plate, seal or registration certificate that shall have been canceled by the department. All letters, numbers, seals, printing, writing and other identification marks upon said plates, seals and certificates, shall be kept clear and distinct and free from grease, dust or other blurring matter, so that they shall be plainly visible at all times during daylight and under artificial light in the night time; provided, that in case any such plate, seal or certificate of registration, operator's license or chauffeur's license or badge shall be lost, mutilated or shall have become illegible, the person to whom such plate, seal, certificate, license or badge shall have been furnished shall immediately apply to the department for a duplicate thereof, accompanying his application with the fee specified in section seven of this act.

No person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle on the public highway unless such vehicle shall at all times carry in or upon it, subject to inspection by any peace officer, or employee of the department, the registration certificate furnished for it as hereinabove provided, which in case of an automobile shall be affixed in the container furnished by the department, in plain sight in the driver's compartment in plain sight affixed to said motorcycle, or in the tool bag or some other convenient receptacle attached to said motorcycle.

The registration fee required under this act to be paid upon a motor vehicle or trailer shall become delinquent in the case of any such vehicle forthwith upon the operation of the vehicle on the public highways without the registration fee required by this act first having been paid to the department, accompanied by the application for registration provided herein. It is hereby provided, in addition to any and all other penalties provided by this act, that if, at the expiration of thirty days after any registration fee becomes delinquent, such fee has not been paid and registration applied for, a penalty shall be added to the amount of such fee in an amount equal to twenty-five per cent of the fee required by section seven of this act, and that such fee, together with the amount of said penalty, shall be a lien upon the motor vehicle or trailer in regard to which said registration fee is delinquent, and the department shall have power and it is hereby made its duty to collect the said registration fee, together with the penalty, by seizure of such motor vehicle or trailer from the person in possession thereof, if any, and by sale thereof. The seizure and sale herein authorized shall be conducted and carried out by the department in the same manner as is provided by law for the seizure and sale of personal property by the county tax collector for the collection of taxes due on said personal property: provided, however, that in case of annual renewal of registration, where the applicants have in all things complied with the requirements of this act and have duly applied for such annual renewal of registration before the commencement of the ensuing calendar year, accompanying their applications with the proper fees for such registration, they shall be entitled to operate said vehicles during the months of January and February without displaying the registration seals or certificates of the current year, on condition that they have at all times displayed upon said vehicles the number plates assigned to said vehicles respectively together with the registration seals and certificates assigned thereto for the previous calendar year.

SEC. 11. Section thirteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 13. (a) Where there is not sufficient light within the lateral boundaries of the public highway to reveal all persons, vehicles, or other substantial objects within said boundaries for a distance of at least one hundred fifty feet, and at all times during the period from a half hour after sunset to a half hour before sunrise, every automobile while on the public highway shall carry at the front at least two lighted lamps showing white or yellow lights visible under normal atmospheric conditions at least five hundred feet in the direction toward which said automobile is faced and every such automobile and every trailer, at the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified, shall carry at the rear a lighted lamp exhibiting a red light plainly visible, under normal atmospheric conditions, for a distance of five hundred feet toward the rear and so constructed and placed that the number plate carried on the rear of such automobile or trailer shall be illuminated by a white light in such manner that the number thereon can be plainly distinguished under normal atmospheric conditions at a distance of not less than fifty feet toward the rear: provided, however, that where more than one trailer is attached to a motor vehicle, only the rear trailer shall be required to exhibit said light. At the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified all other vehicles, except motorcycles, bicycles and such vehicles as may be propelled by a pedestrian, shall carry one or more lighted lamps or lanterns so arranged that said vehicle shall be visible from every direction for a distance of not less than two hundred feet.

(b) At the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified, every motorcycle or bicycle while on the public highway shall carry a lighted lamp showing a white or yellow light visible under normal atmospheric conditions at least three hundred feet in the direction toward which such motorcycle or bicycle is faced, and shall also carry at the rear of such motorcycle or bicycle a lighted lamp exhibiting a red light plainly visible under normal atmospheric conditions for a distance of at least two hundred feet toward the rear.

(c) In any case where a motor or other vehicle shall be loaded with any material in such manner that any portion of such load extends toward the rear four feet or more beyond the rear of the bed or body of such vehicle, there shall be displayed at the extreme end of such load, at the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified, in addition to the ordinary rear or tail light hereinbefore required to be displayed on such vehicle a red light plainly visible under normal atmospheric conditions at least two hundred feet from the rear: provided, further, that at other times while such vehicle is upon the highway a red flag or cloth shall be displayed at the extreme rear end of said load, of suitable size to be plainly visible as a warning signal to persons operating vehicles approaching from the rear.

(d) At the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified the headlights of all motor vehicles upon the highway shall give sufficient light to reveal any person, vehicle or substantial object on the road directly ahead of such motor vehicle for a distance of at least one hundred fifty feet, and shall also give sufficient side illumination to reveal any person, vehicle or substantial object ten feet to the side of said motor vehicle at a point ten feet ahead of the lamps: provided, however, that such headlights shall be so constructed or arranged that no portion of the beam of reflected light when measured seventy-five feet or more ahead of said lamps shall rise to more than forty-two inches above the level surface on which the vehicle stands: provided, further, that the term "headlight" as used herein, shall denote any light, irrespective of its location upon the motor vehicle, the rays of which are projected forward, except sidelights of not to exceed four candlepower, and that the term "beam of reflected light," as used herein, shall denote the approximately parallel focalized rays gathered and projected by a reflector, lens or other device: and provided, further, anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding, that where there is sufficient light within the lateral boundaries of the public highway within any incorporated city, town or city and county, to reveal all persons, vehicles or substantial objects within said boundaries for a distance of one hundred fifty feet, no lights shall be required to be displayed on any vehicle while the same is not in operation, providing that the wheels of such standing vehicle nearest the sidewalk are located within six inches of such sidewalk.

SEC. 12. Section fifteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 15. (a) Other than on vehicles actually engaged at the time in construction or repair work on public highways, no tire on any motor or other vehicle operated on or over any public highway or bridge shall have on its periphery any block, stud, flange, cleat, ridge, bead or any other protuberance of metal or wood which projects beyond the tread or traction surface of the tire; but this section shall not be so construed as to prohibit the use of tire chains of reasonable proportions on motor vehicles when required for safety because of snow, ice or other conditions tending to cause such motor vehicle to slide or skid; provided, however, that traction engines or tractors the propulsive power of which is exerted not through wheels resting upon the ground but by means of a flexible band or chain, known as a movable track, may be operated upon the public highways with transverse corrugations upon the periphery of said movable tracks, on condition that a permit shall first have been obtained as hereinafter in this section provided.

(b) No motor or other vehicle shall be operated on or over any public highway or bridge, nor shall any object be moved over or upon any public highway or bridge on wheels, rollers, or otherwise, except when transported in or upon vehicles running exclusively on stationary rails or tracks, in excess of a total weight, including load, of thirty thousand pounds, when said motor or other vehicle or contrivance is equipped with four wheels running on the highway or in excess of a total weight, including load, of forty thousand pounds when said motor or other vehicle or contrivance shall be equipped with six wheels running on the highway and with three axles not less than ninety-six inches apart, without first obtaining a permit as hereinafter in this section provided.

(c) No motor or other vehicle or other object, or contrivance for moving loads, except as hereinafter otherwise provided, shall be operated or carried upon or over any public highway or bridge, the weight of which resting upon the surface of said highway or bridge exceeds eight hundred pounds upon any inch of width of tire, when said vehicle is equipped with tires made of other material than metal; and no motor or other vehicle, object, or contrivance for moving loads shall be operated or moved upon or over any public highway or bridge the weight of which resting upon the surface of said highway or bridge exceeds six hundred pounds upon any inch of width of tire, roller, wheel or other object supported on the surface thereof when such tires or the rolling surfaces of said rollers, wheels or other objects are made in whole or in part of metal, without first obtaining a permit as hereinafter in this section provided; provided, however, that traction engines or tractors the propulsive power of which is exerted not through wheels resting upon the ground but by means of a flexible band or chain known as a movable track, shall not be subject to the foregoing limitations upon permitted weights per inch of width of tire if the portions of the movable tracks in contact with the surface of the highway present plane surfaces; and provided further, that cities heretofore or hereafter organized under freeholders' charters may permit or prohibit the increase, beyond the maximum weight per inch of width of tire hereinabove prescribed, of the weight of loads carried within the limits of such cities in or upon metal-tired vehicles drawn by muscular power, but where any such city has not by proper and suitable ordinance or other regulation permitted or prohibited such increase of maximum weight of loads, the regulations and limitations prescribed by this act shall not apply.

(d) No motor vehicle shall be operated or driven over any public highway or bridge drawing or having attached thereto more than two trailers; provided, that all four-wheeled trailers excepting light camping trailers shall be equipped with suitable brakes.

(e) Anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, upon application in writing to the state department of engineering, said department of engineering in its discretion may issue a special permit to the owner or operator of any vehicle allowing heavier or wider loads than hereinabove in this section or elsewhere in this act permitted to be moved or carried over and on the public highways and bridges, or allowing more than two trailers to be drawn by a motor vehicle; and may also issue such special permit to increase the permissible weights per inch of width of tire and may also permit the use of corrugations on the periphery of the movable tracks of traction engines or tractors propelled not by wheels resting upon the ground but by flexible bands or chains. Such permits shall be in writing and they may limit the time of use and operation over the particular highways and bridges which may be traversed and may contain such special conditions and provisions and require such undertaking or other security as the said department of engineering shall deem to be necessary to protect the public highways and bridges from injury, or provide indemnity for any injury resulting from such operation. All such special permits shall be carried in the vehicles to which they refer and shall upon demand be open to the inspection of any peace officer, any authorized agent of the department of engineering or of the motor vehicle department, or any officer or employee charged with the care or protection of the public highways. It shall be unlawful for any person to violate, or to cause or permit to be violated, the limitations or conditions of such special permits and any such violation shall be deemed for all purposes to be a violation of the provisions of this act.

(f) Anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, the state department of engineering may in its discretion limit the maximum load to be carried over or on any public bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam, below the maximum established by law; provided, however, that in such event said department of engineering shall cause suitable signs to be erected and maintained, specifying such limitation of load, such signs to be placed at a distance of not less than one hundred feet nor more than one hundred fifty feet from the approaches to such bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam.

(g) Anything to the contrary in this act notwithstanding, the owner and the operator, driver or mover of any vehicle, object or contrivance over a public highway or bridge, shall be jointly and severally responsible for all damages which said highway or bridge may sustain as the result of so operating or driving or moving such vehicle and the amount of such damages may be recovered in an action at law by the authorities in control of such highway or bridge.

SEC. 13. Section seventeen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 17. No person who is to such extent under the influence of intoxicating liquor that he can not properly operate or drive a motor or other vehicle shall operate or drive a motor or other vehicle upon any public highway within this state.

SEC. 14. Section eighteen of said act is hereby repealed.

SEC. 15. Section twenty of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 20. (a) The driver or operator of any vehicle in or upon any public highway shall drive or operate such vehicle in a careful manner with due regard for the safety and convenience of pedestrians and of all other vehicles or traffic upon such highway, and wherever practicable shall travel on the right-hand side of such highway. Two vehicles which are passing each other in opposite directions shall have the right of way, and no other vehicle to the rear of either of such two vehicles shall pass or attempt to pass such two vehicles. On all occasions the driver or operator of any vehicle in or upon any public highway shall travel upon the right half of such highway unless the road ahead on the left-hand side is clear and unobstructed for at least one hundred yards ahead and in all cases while crossing an intersecting highway. For the purposes of this section and its subdivisions, an animal or animals attached to any conveyance shall, with such conveyance, be deemed to constitute one vehicle.

(b) Vehicles proceeding in opposite directions shall pass each other to the right, each giving to the other one-half the road as nearly as possible.

(c) Vehicles overtaking other vehicles proceeding in the same direction shall pass to the left thereof and shall not again drive to the right until reasonably clear of such overtaken vehicle.

(d) It shall be the duty of the driver, rider or operator of a vehicle about to be overtaken and passed to give way to the right in favor of the overtaking vehicle, on suitable and audible signal being given by or on behalf of the operator, driver or other person in charge and control of such overtaking vehicle if such overtaking vehicle be a motor vehicle.

(e) Excepting where controlled by such traffic ordinances or regulations enacted by local authorities as are permitted under this act the operator of a vehicle approaching an intersection of the public highway shall yield the right of way to a vehicle approaching such intersection from the right of such first named vehicle.

(f) It shall be the duty of the person operating or in charge of an overtaking vehicle to sound audible and suitable signal before passing a vehicle proceeding in the same direction.

(g) All vehicles approaching an intersection of a public highway, with the intention of turning thereat shall in turning to the right keep to the right of the center of such intersection, and in turning to the left shall run beyond the center of such intersection, passing to the right thereof, before turning such vehicle toward the left. For the purposes of this subdivision the "center of such intersection" shall be held to mean the meeting point of the medial lines of the two highways traversed by the vehicle making the turn.

(h) In all passing and overtaking such assistance shall be given by the occupants of each vehicle respectively to the other as the circumstances shall reasonably demand in order to obtain clearance and avoid accidents; every person having control or charge of any motor vehicle or other vehicle upon any public highway and approaching any vehicle drawn by a horse or horses, or any horse upon which any person is riding, shall operate, manage and control such motor vehicle or other vehicle in such manner as to exercise every reasonable precaution to prevent the frightening of any such horse or horses and to insure the safety and protection of any person riding or driving the same; and if such horse or horses appear frightened the person in control of such motor vehicle or other vehicle shall reduce its speed, and if requested by signal or otherwise by the driver or rider of such horse or horses shall not proceed further toward such animal or animals unless such movement be necessary to avoid accident or injury, until such animal or animals be under the control of the driver or rider thereof.

(i) The person in control of any vehicle moving slowly along and upon any public highway shall keep such vehicle as closely as practicable to the right-hand boundary of the highway, allowing more swiftly moving vehicles reasonably free passage to the left.

(j) The person in charge of any vehicle in or upon any public highway, before turning, stopping, or changing the course of such vehicle, and before turning such vehicle when starting the same, shall see first that there is sufficient space for such movement to be made in safety, and if the movement or operation of other vehicles may reasonably be affected by such turning, stopping or changing of course, shall give plainly visible or audible signal to the persons operating, driving, or in charge of such vehicles of his intention so to turn, stop, or change his course.

(k) In passing any railroad, interurban or street car while passengers are alighting from or boarding same, vehicles shall be operated or driven on the right hand side of such street car and at a rate of speed not exceeding ten miles an hour and shall be so operated or driven that no portion thereof or of any load thereon shall be within six feet of the running board or steps of such car and shall at all times be operated with due care and caution so that the safety of such passengers shall be assured; provided, however, that where local authorities have plainly marked upon the surface of the highway safety zones for the protection of such passengers, vehicles shall not, at any time, be operated or driven within such zones; provided, further, that said safety zones shall only be marked at street corners or at other regularly established stations or stopping places of such railroad, or interurban, or street cars, and shall not extend beyond seven feet toward the boundary of the highway from the outer rail of such railroad, interurban or street car line.

(l) Every motor vehicle when moving in defiles, canyons, or mountain passes where the curvature of the road or highway prevents a clear view for a distance of one hundred yards shall be held under control and not permitted to coast and the operator thereof in approaching curves shall give a warning of his going or other adequate signaling device.

(m) Police patrol wagons, police ambulances, fire patrols, fire engines and fire apparatus in all cases while being operated as such, shall have the right of way with due regard to the safety of the public, but this provision shall not protect the driver or operator of any such vehicle or his employer or principal from the consequence of the arbitrary exercise of this right or for injuries willfully inflicted.

(n) No person shall hitch or leave standing, or cause or permit to be hitched or left standing, any animal, or leave standing or cause or permit to be left standing, any vehicle, or stop or cause or permit to be stopped any animal or vehicle at any time upon the public highway within fifteen feet of any public fire hydrant located upon the public highway or sidewalk, unless such animal is under the charge of some person capable of driving the same or unless such vehicle is in the charge of some person capable of operating or driving the same.

(o) No motor or other vehicle as defined in this act shall be operated or driven on or over any public highway or bridge if the outside width of trail exceeds one hundred twelve inches or if the total outside width of the bed of said vehicle and any load thereon shall exceed one hundred two inches, nor shall any pleasure type automobile be operated on or over any public highway or bridge if any baggage, package, trunk, crate, box or other load carried thereon extends to the side more than eight inches beyond the running board of such automobile; provided, however, that any city now or hereafter organized under freeholders' charter may permit an increase beyond the maximum hereinbefore prescribed of the total outside width of the beds of vehicles and any loads thereon, where such vehicles are operated or driven and said loads are carried wholly within the limits of said city, but where any such city shall not by proper and suitable ordinance or other regulation permit such increased width, the regulations and limitations prescribed by this act shall apply; and provided, that the regulations and limitations prescribed by this act relative to the maximum widths of vehicles and their loads shall not apply to implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, propelled or moved upon the highway; and provided, further, that loads not exceeding ten feet in width of loosely-piled material not crated, baled, boxed, sacked or carried otherwise than loosely in bulk, may be carried upon vehicles on the highway; provided, that the extreme width of such vehicles, including any loading racks thereon, shall not exceed one hundred two inches, as hereinbefore prescribed.

(p) No person shall leave standing, or cause or permit to be left standing upon the main traveled portion, or any part thereof, of any public highway, a vehicle undergoing repair, or which has been stopped for the purpose of having repairs made thereon, or for the purpose of canping; provided, however, that this provision shall not apply to a vehicle which shall be disabled, while on such main traveled portion of the highway, in such manner and to such extent that it shall be impossible to avoid stopping such vehicle on said main traveled portion of the highway, and impracticable to remove the same therefrom until repairs shall have been made.

(q) The provisions of subdivisions (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (g), (i), (j), (k) of this section shall be applicable to the rider of every horse, mule or other riding animal ridden upon the public highway, to the end and effect that the same duties, rules and regulations imposed thereon upon the drivers or operators of vehicles upon the public highway, including the care to be exercised in driving or operating vehicles, the portion of the highway upon which they shall travel, the right of way as between vehicles passing or overtaking each other, or upon approaching intersections, the duty of giving way in favor of overtaking vehicles, the manner of turning at intersections and at other places upon the highway and of stopping or changing the course of the vehicles and the duties imposed upon operators or drivers of vehicles in passing railroad, interurban or street cars, shall be imposed, and they are hereby imposed, upon the riders of animals upon the public highways.

(r) No person owning, or controlling the possession of, any horse, cow, mule, ass, sheep, goat, hog or other live stock, shall voluntarily or negligently permit such animal to stray upon or remain unaccompanied upon the public highway, or shall permit the tether or any portion thereof to which such animal may be attached, to lie across or upon any public highway, and no person shall feed, pasture or camp any such live stock upon any public highway between the hours of sunset and sunrise.

SEC. 16. Section twenty-two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 22. (a) Any person operating or driving a motor or other vehicle on the public highways shall operate or drive the same in a careful and prudent manner and at a rate of speed not greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to the traffic and use of the highway, and no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or other vehicle on a public highway at such rate of speed as to endanger the life or limb of any person or the safety of any property; provided, that it shall be unlawful to operate or drive at a rate of speed in excess of thirty miles an hour; and provided, further, that in any event no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or other vehicle on any public highway where the territory contiguous thereto is closely built up, at a greater rate of speed than twenty miles an hour, or in the business district of any incorporated city and county, city or town, at a greater rate of speed than fifteen miles an hour, provided, further, that no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or other vehicle on any public highway at a greater rate of speed than fifteen miles an hour in approaching any steam, electric or other railway crossing at grade, or in approaching or traversing an intersecting highway, or crossing or intersection of highways, or in approaching or going around corners or curves in the highway, when in any of the foregoing cases the operator's or chauffeur's view of the road or railway traffic is obstructed, but anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or other vehicle on any public highway at a greater rate of speed than fifteen miles an hour in traversing any steam, electric or other railway crossing at grade; provided, further, that the board of supervisors of any county and city and county within this state, and the board of trustees, city council or other governing body of every municipality within this state, within six months after the passage of this act, shall place and thereafter maintain warning signs on every public highway approaching a crossing at grade of such highway and the tracks of any railway, at a reasonable distance, not less than three hundred feet, from such crossing, and on either side thereof. Such sign shall consist of a metal disc twenty-four inches in diameter, the field enameled white, with an enameled black border line one inch wide, and with an enameled black vertical and horizontal cross-line two and a half inches wide; the reverse side of such disc to be colored black. In each of the upper quarters shall appear in black enamel the letter "R," five inches high, three and three quarters inches wide, lines one inch stroke. Anyone defacing, injuring, knocking down or removing any such sign shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, further, that the maximum rate of speed over any bridge, dam, trestle, culvert, causeway or viaduct as well as the maximum rate of speed over any state highway or portion of state highway may be established by the state highway commission at less than the rate established by law, when in the judgment of said commission the safety of persons using the highway or the protection of the highway shall be promoted thereby, but whenever any such different rate of speed is so established by said commission, the commission shall cause to be erected suitable signs to mark the location and limits of the highway to which said different rate of speed shall apply, and such signs shall be placed at a distance of not less than one hundred feet or at a greater distance than one hundred fifty feet from the highway or portion of highway or from the approaches of any bridge, dam, trestle, culvert, causeway or viaduct with respect to which such different rate of speed may be so established. In the case of a bridge, dam, trestle, culvert, causeway or viaduct, such maximum rate of speed so established by said commission shall not be less than ten miles an hour, and in the case of any other highway or portion of highway, such maximum rate of speed so established shall not be less than fifteen miles an hour.

(b) No motor or other vehicle carrying a weight in excess of nine thousand pounds, including the vehicle, shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved on any public highway or bridge at a rate of speed greater than twenty-five miles an hour; no motor or other vehicle carrying a weight in excess of twelve thousand pounds, including the vehicle, shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved on any public highway or bridge at a rate of speed greater than fifteen miles an hour; no motor or other vehicle carrying a weight in excess of twenty-four thousand pounds, including the vehicle, shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved on any public highway or bridge at a rate of speed greater than ten miles an hour; provided, however, that no motor vehicle or trailer equipped with tires made wholly or partly of metal shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved on any public highway or bridge at a rate of speed greater than six miles an hour; provided, further, that any such motor vehicle or trailer, with tires made wholly or partly of metal, may be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved, subject to the other provisions of this act, up to ten miles an hour if be equipped with springs and if the rear wheels be not less than thirty-six inches in diameter, with a bearing surface of not less than eighteen inches; and provided, further, however, anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, that no motor or other vehicle constructed or otherwise adapted for carrying loads weighing four tons or more, exclusive of such vehicle, shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved upon the public highway, whether laden or unladen, at a rate of speed exceeding fifteen miles an hour; and provided further, that nothing contained in this subdivision shall apply to motor vehicles equipped with pneumatic tires.

(c) In case of any person arrested for violation of the provisions of this section, unless such person shall demand that he be taken forthwith before the most accessible magistrate, the arresting officer shall take the name and address of such person, and the number of his motor vehicle and notify him in writing to appear before a designated magistrate at a time and place to be specified in such writing at least five days subsequent to the date of such notice, and upon the promise in writing of such person to appear at such time and place, such officer shall forthwith release him from custody. Any person willfully violating such promise shall be guilty of a misdemeanor regardless of the disposition of the charge upon which he was originally arrested.

(d) Limitations as to the rate of speed herein fixed shall be exclusive of all other limitations fixed by any law of this state or any political subdivision thereof. Local authorities shall have no power to enact, enforce or maintain any ordinance, rule or regulation in any way in conflict with, contrary to or inconsistent with the provisions of this act, or of any section or other subdivision thereof, and no such ordinance, rule or regulation of said local authorities heretofore or hereafter enacted shall have any force or effect, excepting, however, that (1) such powers as are now or may hereafter be vested in local authorities to enact ordinances and regulations, applicable equally and generally to all vehicles and other users of the highways, and providing for traffic or crossing officers or semaphores, to bring about the orderly passage of vehicles and other users of the public highways on certain portions thereof, where the traffic is heavy and continuous, as well as (2) the powers now or hereafter vested in local authorities to license and to regulate the operation of vehicles offered to the public for hire, and to regulate the use of the highways for processions or assemblages, shall remain in full force and effect, and all ordinances, rules and regulations which may have been or which may be hereafter enacted in pursuance of such powers, shall remain in full force and effect; and provided further, that local authorities may by general rule, ordinance or regulation, exclude vehicles from any cemetery or ground used for the burial of the dead, or exclude vehicles used solely or principally for commercial purposes from any park or part of a park system, where such general rule, ordinance, or regulation is applicable equally and generally to all other vehicles used for the same purpose; provided, that at the entrance, or at each entrance if there be more than one, to such cemetery or park from which vehicles are so excluded, there shall have been posted a sign plainly legible from the middle of the public highway on which such cemetery or park opens, plainly indicating such exclusion and prohibition.

SEC. 17. Section twenty-three of said act is hereby repealed.

SEC. 18. Section twenty-four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 24. (a) It shall be unlawful for any person to operate or drive a motor vehicle upon the public highway unless licensed by the department as hereinafter provided; provided, however, that the requirements of this section shall not apply to the operators or drivers of any implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, propelled or moved on the public highway. Before operating a motor vehicle upon the public highway, application for a license to operate such vehicle shall be made by mail or otherwise to the department upon a blank to be prepared, and furnished on request, by said department. The fee specified in section seven of this act shall accompany the application. To each person shall be assigned some distinguishing number or mark and the department shall issue to the licensee a certificate in such form as the department shall determine; it shall contain the distinguishing number or mark assigned to the licensee, his name, age, place of residence, business address if any, and a brief description of the licensee for the purpose of identification, and such other information as the said department shall deem necessary. Every person licensed to operate motor vehicles as aforesaid, whether as a chauffeur or operator, shall indorse his usual signature in the space on the license certificate provided for the purpose, immediately upon the receipt of said certificate and his license shall not be valid until the certificate is so indorsed. Licenses, whether to chauffeurs or operators, shall be valid during the calendar year only in which issued. The department shall furnish to every chauffeur licensed a suitable metal badge with the distinguishing number assigned to him stamped thereon, without extra charge therefor, such badge to have stamped thereon the words "Registered Chauffeur No. _____, Cal." with the said license number and year of issue inserted therein. This badge shall thereafter be worn by such chauffeur, affixed to his clothing in a conspicuous place, at all times when he is operating or driving a motor vehicle upon the public highway, and the license certificate issued to each chauffeur or operator, under the provisions of this section, shall be carried by the licensee at all times when he is operating or driving a motor vehicle upon the public highway and shall be produced by him for inspection upon request by any peace officer. In case of the loss of such badge or certificate a duplicate will be issued by the department on the filing of an affidavit showing the fact of loss, and on payment of a fee of one dollar to the department in the case of a badge and fifty cents in case of a certificate. Duplicate license certificates shall be issued by the department to operators other than chauffeurs upon application therefor, whether in case of loss or otherwise, upon payment of a fee of twenty-five cents to the department. Applications for the annual renewal of licenses by chauffeurs shall be accompanied by the fee required by section seven of this act, but in case of operators no fee shall be required upon such renewal of license. No chauffeur's license or badge shall be issued to any applicant under the age of eighteen years; provided, that it shall be unlawful for any person to cause or knowingly to permit his or her child, ward or employee to operate or drive a motor vehicle upon the public highway, whether as a chauffeur or operator, without first having obtained such license as is hereinbefore specified; provided, that the application to the department of a minor to operate or drive a motor vehicle, whether as chauffeur or operator, shall not be granted by the department unless the parent or parents having the custody of such applicant or the guardian of such applicant shall have joined in said application by signing the same; and provided, further, that any negligence of a minor, so licensed, in operating or driving a motor vehicle upon the public highway, whether as chauffeur or operator, shall be imputed to the person or persons who shall have signed the application of such minor for said license, which person or persons shall be jointly and severally liable with such minor for any damages caused by such negligence.

SEC. 19. Section twenty-six of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 26. (a) No person shall use a fictitious name in applying for such chauffeur's or operator's license, nor shall any chauffeur or operator licensed as herein provided voluntarily permit any other person to possess or use his license certificate or badge; nor shall any person while operating or driving a motor vehicle use or possess any license certificate or badge belonging to another person.

(b) No person shall display or cause or permit to be displayed, or have in his possession, any canceled, revoked, suspended, altered or fictitious registration number plate, registration seal, registration certificate, operator's license certificate, chauffeur's license certificate or chauffeur's badge, as the same are respectively provided for in this act.

(c) No person shall knowingly buy, sell, receive, dispose of, conceal or have in his possession any motor vehicle from which the manufacturer's serial number or motor number or any other distinguishing number or identification mark has been removed, defaced, covered, altered or destroyed for the purpose of concealment or misrepresenting the identity of said motor vehicle.

SEC. 20. Section twenty-seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 27. No person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or cause a trailer to be drawn upon a public highway after the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, nor shall any owner of a motor vehicle or of any trailer permit such motor vehicle or trailer to be so operated, driven or drawn after said date, unless the requirements of this act relative to the registration of motor vehicles and trailers and to licensing of chauffeurs and operators shall have been in all respects complied with; provided, however, that a nonresident operator or chauffeur who has complied with the provisions of the country or state of his residence relative to the operation of motor vehicles and who, while operating a motor vehicle upon the highways of this state shall wear such badge and carry such license certificate as may have been assigned to him in the country or state of his residence, shall be exempt from license hereunder for a period not to exceed three months in any calendar year; and provided, further, that the provisions of this act relative to registration and the payment of the fees therefor and the display of registration number plates and seals shall not apply to a motor vehicle or trailer owned by a nonresident, other than a foreign corporation doing business in this state, who is only sojourning within this state; provided, that the registration number plate assigned and furnished for said motor vehicle or trailer for the current calendar year by the country or state of which such owner is a resident shall be displayed on such motor vehicle or trailer substantially as provided in this act for vehicles registered pursuant to the provisions hereof; provided, however, that a nonresident owner of a motor vehicle or trailer so registered in such other country or state shall, not later than twenty-four hours after commencing to operate said vehicle, or to cause or permit the same to be operated, on any public highway within this state, apply to the department for registration of such vehicle, said application to be made upon a form to be prepared and to be furnished on request by the department, and shall state in addition to such other matters as may be required by the department, the name and post office and residence address of the applicant, together with the registration number of said vehicle in the country or state in which the same shall be registered, which country or state shall be designated by the applicant in said application. Upon receipt of said application, the department, if satisfied of the facts stated therein, shall without charge to the applicant, register said motor vehicle or trailer and shall furnish to the applicant a registration certificate or device, of a distinctive form to be determined by the department, indicating that the holder thereof has complied with the requirements of this act and containing such other matter as may be deemed suitable by the department, which certificate or device shall be valid not to exceed three months from the date of its issuance, at the end of which period it shall be returned by said owner, transportation prepaid, to the department. In case of a motor vehicle, said certificate or device shall be carried, at all times while said motor vehicle is being operated or driven upon the public highways, or upon or upon said motor vehicle, in the manner required of resident owners with respect to registration certificates, and in case of a trailer, such certificate or device shall be displayed in such manner as the department shall determine. The department shall file said applications for registration by nonresident owners, and shall maintain index said applications and registrations, which files and index shall be open to inspection by the public during reasonable business hours.

SEC. 21. Section twenty-eight of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 28. It shall be unlawful for any person to drive or operate, or cause to be driven or operated, upon the public highway any motor vehicle not his own, whether with or without intent to steal the same, in the absence of the owner thereof and without such owner's consent; provided, such consent shall not be implied in any instance because of the fact that upon a previous occasion such owner had consented to the use of the same or another motor vehicle by such person. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than one month nor more than one year or in state prison for not less than one year nor more than ten years.

SEC. 22. Section thirty-two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 32. (a) Excepting as in this act otherwise provided, or where a different penalty is expressly fixed by this act, any person violating any of its provisions, or knowingly making a false statement or knowingly concealing a material fact or otherwise committing a fraud in an application for the registration of a vehicle, or in an application for an operator's or chauffeur's license, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, unless in this act otherwise provided, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(b) Immediately upon receipt by the department of information concerning the conviction of any person for the violation of section seventeen of this act, or concerning the third conviction within any calendar year of any person for the violation of section twenty-two of this act, the department shall transmit said information to the state highway commission, whereupon said highway commission, or any member thereof, shall fix a time and place for a hearing, and the person so convicted shall be served with a written notice, at least ten days prior to the date of said hearing, to appear and show cause, at such hearing, why his license to operate a motor vehicle upon the public highways should not be suspended or revoked. If upon such hearing it is determined that there is good and sufficient reason therefor, findings and an order shall be made by the commission or by the person or persons holding such hearing on behalf of the commission, to the effect that such license shall be revoked, or shall be suspended for a limited time to be determined by the commission, which findings and order shall be transmitted to the department, and the department shall thereupon forthwith revoke said license, or suspend the same, in accordance with said findings and order; provided, that in like manner said commission may, upon its own initiative or upon the sworn information of any person, in its discretion order the suspension or revocation of any operator's or chauffeur's license (1) if satisfied, upon such hearing as hereinbefore provided for, that such operator or chauffeur is a reckless driver or that he is an incompetent or unfit person to operate a motor vehicle because of a mental or physical infirmity or disability, or (2) when said operator or chauffeur shall have been directly concerned in an accident upon the public highway resulting in the death of any person.

If in any case the respondent shall fail to appear at the time and place fixed for any such hearing as is provided in this section, he shall be in default, and if in the opinion of the commission, or of the person or persons holding such hearing on behalf of the commission, there is sufficient reason therefor, the license of the respondent may be ordered revoked or suspended, whereupon the department shall upon notice of such order, revoke or suspend, as the case may be, such license.

Upon the suspension or revocation of any chauffeur's or operator's license, the department shall demand the surrender of the license certificate, and any duplicates thereof that may have been issued, and also the license badge, if any, and it shall be unlawful for any person whose license has been suspended or revoked as herein provided to fail or neglect forthwith to surrender to the department any such certificates or badge in his possession or under his control.

Said commission, or any member thereof, or any person authorized to hold the hearings hereinbefore provided for, may summon witnesses in behalf of the state and may administer oaths and take testimony, may cause depositions to be taken, and may order the production of books, papers, agreements and documents.

The fees for the attendance and travel of witnesses shall be the same as for witnesses before the superior court, and shall be paid by the state upon demand by the commission filed with the controller.

The supreme court, any district court of appeal or any superior court shall have jurisdiction, upon the application of the commission, or of the motor vehicle department to enforce all lawful orders of the commission under this section.

(c) In addition to any or all other punishments provided in this act and imposed by the court upon any person for violation of any of the provisions of this act, the court may, in its discretion, suspend an operator's or chauffeur's license for a period of not to exceed thirty days, in which case the court shall take up the license certificate of such person together with, in case of a chauffeur, the license badge, and shall forward them to the department.

(d) Upon the expiration of the period of suspension of any license as hereinbefore in this section provided for, the department shall return to the licensee his license certificate, or in its discretion may issue to him a new certificate, and such license shall be valid for the remainder of the current calendar year, subject to the other provisions of this act; and in like manner the department shall return to any chauffeur whose license badge may have been forwarded to the department upon suspension of his license, such license badge or issue to such licensee a new badge.

SEC. 23. Section thirty-three of said act is hereby repealed.

SEC. 24. Section thirty-four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 34. There is hereby created in the state treasury a fund which shall be known as the "motor vehicle fund." All moneys received by the department under any of the provisions of this act must be paid into the state treasury within twenty-four hours after the receipt thereof and shall be deposited to the credit of the motor vehicle fund, but if at any time such payment can not be made because of the intervention of a Sunday or a holiday, then such money shall be paid into the state treasury before twelve o'clock noon of the first business day following such Sunday or holiday: provided, however, that there is also hereby created in the state treasury a fund which shall be known as the "operators' license fund," and the moneys received by the department for operators' or chauffeurs' licenses shall not be credited to the motor vehicle fund but to the credit of said operators' license fund. One-half of the net receipts under this act except those credited to the operators' license fund shall be paid from the motor vehicle fund to the counties from which the moneys were received, as determined by the places of residence of the persons to whom the registration certificates are issued, and all such amounts so returned shall be paid into the road funds of the several counties receiving the same, and shall be expended by such counties exclusively in the construction and maintenance of roads, bridges and culverts in said counties respectively. In the event that any county has not established a road fund, its proportion of said net receipts shall be retained by the state until provision for such road fund has been made, and it shall then be paid over. In the months of January and July of each year the department shall make to the controller a report setting forth the gross and net receipts for the preceding six months, and thereafter the controller shall draw his warrants upon the motor vehicle fund in favor of the county treasurer of each county for the amount to which such county is entitled: provided, nevertheless, that the controller shall not draw such warrant in favor of any county which therefore shall not have established a road fund or which shall be delinquent in its annual report to the state department of engineering as hereinafter required. Of the moneys in said motor vehicle fund and in the operators' license fund, when such action has been authorized by the board of control, the department may draw, without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, sums not to exceed in the aggregate ten thousand dollars, said sums so drawn to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. At the close of each fiscal year, or at any other time upon demand of the board of control, the moneys so drawn must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control and by the controller. All moneys remaining in the motor vehicle fund and in the operators' license fund after the expenditures herein authorized, in addition to all sums that have been heretofore or that may be appropriated hereafter by the legislature for the same purpose, shall be expended under the direction of the state department of engineering for the maintenance and improvement of the state roads and highways under the jurisdiction of said department of engineering, and for the maintenance and improvement of roads and highways in state parks subject to the approval of the official or officials charged by law with the management and control of such parks, such moneys to be so drawn from said motor vehicle fund for the purpose of such maintenance and improvement upon warrants executed by the state controller upon demand made by the state department of engineering, and allowed and audited by the board of control. So much of the motor vehicle fund and of the operators' license fund as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to be expended by the department in carrying out the provisions of this act: provided, however, that there shall not be so expended out of the motor vehicle fund in any one year more than ten per cent of said fund; provided, further, that said operators' license fund, or so much thereof as shall be necessary, shall be expended in the office and clerical expense of registering operators and chauffeurs and in defraying the compensation and proper expenses of such employees of the department, in section thirty-seven of this act hereinafter particularly referred to, as shall be invested with the power and charged with the duties of peace officers in the enforcement of the provisions of this act throughout the state; and provided, further, that the board of supervisors of each county in the state shall make an annual report to the state department of engineering not later than the first day of March in each year, upon forms to be provided by the state department of engineering, showing the amount of moneys received out of the motor vehicle fund during the preceding calendar year and the disposition of said moneys, specifying in such detail as may be required by said department of engineering the roads, bridges and culverts constructed or maintained out of said moneys and the sums applied to the several items of such construction or maintenance; and provided, further, that whenever said report shall not have been duly filed in the manner and form hereby provided at or before the time hereinbefore specified, no further warrants shall be drawn upon the motor vehicle fund in favor of the county treasurer of such delinquent county until said report has been furnished.

Sec. 25. Section thirty-five of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 35. (a) All fines or forfeitures collected in cases of conviction for violation of any of the provisions of this act following arrests by any officer employed by an incorporated municipality, except a city and county, shall be paid to the treasurer of the county in which such municipality is situated and such moneys shall belong to the several counties, to be used by them, when authorized and permitted by law, in the discretion of the respective boards of supervisors in the construction, maintenance and improvement of roads, streets, bridges and culverts within the limits of the incorporated municipalities of said counties, and for no other purpose; provided, however, that when not so authorized or permitted by law to use such moneys for said purposes, said counties shall receive said moneys for the benefit of, and said moneys shall belong to, the several incorporated municipalities in said counties respectively, excepting as herein otherwise provided, and at quarterly intervals the supervisors shall apportion and pay over said moneys to said municipalities according to their population ascertained in the manner provided by law, which moneys shall be expended by such municipalities solely in the construction, maintenance and improvement of streets, bridges and culverts within the city limits along routes directly connecting interurban public highways entering such cities respectively; provided, however, anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, that no (1) incorporated city and county, (2) city of more than twenty-five thousand population, or (3) city operating under a freeholders charter and enforcing or seeking to enforce any ordinance, rule, or regulation in conflict with or covering the same or any part of the ground covered by this act, except as expressly permitted therein, shall be entitled to share in said moneys.

(b) Any and all other fines or forfeitures collected by or in any court for violation of any of the provisions of this act, whether by a justice of the peace, police court, city recorder's court, city justice of the peace, or otherwise, shall be paid to the treasurer of the county or incorporated city and county in which the court is held, and said moneys shall be used by the several counties and incorporated cities and counties solely in the construction, maintenance and improvement of roads, streets, bridges and culverts within their respective limits, and for no other purpose.

Sec. 26. Section thirty-seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 37. There is hereby created a department to be known as the motor vehicle department of California. The chief officer shall be known as the superintendent, who shall be a civil executive officer and shall be appointed by the governor and shall hold office at the pleasure of the governor. He shall within fifteen days from the time of notice of his appointment take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office and file the same in the office of the secretary of state and execute to the people of the state a bond in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars. He shall receive an annual salary of three thousand dollars to be paid monthly upon a warrant of the controller. He shall have the power to appoint one chief clerk, who, shall be a civil executive officer, at an annual salary of two thousand one hundred dollars; one cashier, at an annual salary of two thousand one hundred dollars; and, with the approval of the board of control, such additional employees as the proper and economical conduct of the business of the department may demand, and shall fix and prescribe their duties, compensation and term of employment; provided, that such employees shall include field deputies or inspectors, upon whom are hereby conferred, for the purposes of the enforcement of this act, the powers now or hereafter vested by law in peace officers, and who may exercise said powers in any portion of the state or of any political subdivision thereof, but solely in the enforcement of the provisions of this act. The cashier shall execute to the people of the state a bond in the penal sum of five thousand dollars. The salaries herein provided for shall be payable monthly, and the expenditures authorized by this act, shall be made upon the certificate of the superintendent of the department, allowed and audited by the board of control, and the warrant of the state controller.

SEC. 27. Section forty-two of said act is hereby repealed.

SEC. 28. There shall be printed two hundred and fifty thousand copies of said vehicle act, as amended by this act, which shall be distributed to the public on request, without charge, by the department.

SEC. 29. Excepting the provision of section eleven hereof requiring that the light displayed upon a trailer shall illuminate the number plate carried upon such trailer, each and all of the provisions of sections one, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-five, twenty-seven, twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this act, together with such provisions of section twenty-six of this act as relate to the salaries of the officers or employees of the department, and such other provisions of this act as relate to or require the preparation or purchase of forms and supplies, and other work incident to the registration of motor vehicles and trailers and the licensing of operators and chauffeurs, shall go into effect ninety days after the final adjournment of this session of the legislature, and the remainder of this act shall go into effect at midnight on the thirty-first day of December, in the year one thousand nine hundred seventeen.

Strike out the whole of said Senate Bill No. 470 after the words "The people of the State of California do enact as follows," commencing with the words "SECTION 1", on line 1, page 1, of said bill, and ending with the figures "1909", on line 19, page 15, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled, "An act to provide for the formation and establishment of boulevard districts; the construction, acquisition, maintenance, control and use of boulevards; defining the term boulevard; providing for the voting, issuing and selling of bonds, and the levying of taxes to pay for the acquisition, construction, maintenance and repair of such boulevards; providing for a boulevard commission to have charge of the affairs of boulevard districts, and the construction, maintenance and repair of boulevards, within such districts; providing for the election of such commission, their terms of office, and of elections to be held in such districts; and repealing an act entitled 'An act to provide for the formation of boulevard districts, and the construction, maintenance, and use of boulevards, and defining the term boulevard,' approved March 22, 1905, and the act amendatory thereof, approved April 15, 1909," approved May 1, 1911, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1. Any portion of a county not contained in a boulevard district under the provisions of this act, may be formed into a boulevard district, and when so formed shall be known and designated by the name and style of _____ boulevard district (using the name of the district) of _____ county (using the name of the county in which said district is located), and shall have the rights herein enumerated, and such as may hereafter be conferred by law.

SEC. 2. Section two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. A petition for the formation of such boulevard district (naming it) may be presented to the board of supervisors of the county wherein the district is proposed to be formed, which said petition shall be signed by not less than ten freeholders, owning land within the proposed district and shall contain:

(1) The boundaries of the proposed district and an estimate of the number of inhabitants residing therein;

(2) An estimate of the number of acres contained therein and the assessed value thereof and of the improvements thereon;

(3) A request that an election be called within said district for the purpose of determining the question of the formation of said boulevard district, for the construction and maintenance of a boulevard or boulevards therein under the provisions of this act.

There shall be filed with said board of supervisors at the time of the filing of the petition for the organization of said boulevard district with said board, a bond in the sum of not more than three hundred dollars, with two sufficient sureties, to be approved by said board, who shall each qualify in double the amount of said bond, conditioned that they will pay the expense and cost of said election in an amount not exceeding the amount mentioned in said bond, in case the proposition to organize said district shall be defeated at said election.

SEC. 3. Section three of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 3. Such petition must be presented at a regular meeting of said board of supervisors and they shall thereupon fix a time for hearing said petition, not less than twenty, nor more than sixty days after the date of presentation thereof, and shall publish a notice of the fact that such petition has been filed (referring to the same on file with the clerk of the board of supervisors for further particulars) and giving the time and place at which said petition will be heard, and directing all parties interested to appear at said time and place, and show cause, if any they have, why said petition should not be granted, which said notice shall be published at least once a week for two consecutive weeks in some newspaper published and circulated in said proposed district; provided, that if no newspaper be so published in said district, then said notice shall be so published in some newspaper published and circulated at the county seat of the county in which said proposed district is located.

SEC. 4. Section four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 4. Upon the day named for the hearing of said petition, the board of supervisors shall hear the same and any objections thereto and may adjourn such hearing from time to time, not more than sixty days in all. If the board find that lands have been improperly included, it may in fixing the final boundaries exclude from such district any lands which may have been so included, or the board may, as it deems for the best interests of such district, include any adjacent lands outside the boundaries described in said petition, either on petition of the owners of such lands, or upon notice of its intention to include such adjacent lands by publication once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published either in said district or at the county seat which notice shall refer to the petition for the formation of the district on file with the board of supervisors, shall describe the adjacent territory intended to be included within the proposed boundaries of said proposed district and shall direct all persons interested therein to appear at a specified time and place and show cause if any there be why said adjacent lands should not be so included. Upon the petition and evidence produced at such hearings the board shall determine and fix the boundaries of such district and must thereupon, by order, define and establish such boundaries.

SEC. 5. Section five of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5. The board of supervisors thereupon, and not later than thirty days after the establishment of said boundaries, as hereinbefore provided, shall by order, call an election to be held in such proposed boulevard district for the purpose of determining whether such district shall be formed. The order must fix the day of such election, which must be within sixty days from the date of the order, and must show the boundaries of the proposed district, and must state that at such election three persons who are to compose the boulevard commission will be voted for. This order shall be entered in the minutes of the board, and shall be conclusive evidence of the due presentation of a proper petition, and of the fact that each of the petitioners was, at the time of the signing and presentation of such petition, a freeholder owning land within the proposed district and that all other steps and actions requisite to and pertaining to the making of said order, including the hearing of said petition and establishment of the boundaries of said district, have been properly taken; notice of such election shall be given by posting a copy of such order for three successive weeks prior to the election, in three public places within the proposed district, and by publication of a copy of such order at least once a week for three successive weeks prior to the election in some newspaper published in the proposed district, if there be one, and if not, in some newspaper published at the county seat.

SEC. 6. Section six of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 6. The board of supervisors, at least fifteen days prior to the election, shall select one, and may select two, polling places within the proposed district, and make all suitable arrangements for the holding of such election. They must select and appoint, from among the qualified electors of the proposed boulevard district, one inspector and two judges of election in each polling place, who shall constitute the officers of said election and the election board. If none are so appointed or if any officer appointed does not attend at the opening of the polls on the morning of election, the electors present may appoint substitutes to fill the election board. The ballot shall contain the words "boulevard district, yes" and "boulevard district, no", and shall also make provision for voting for three commissioners of said district. At such election there shall be elected three persons for members of the boulevard commission to be known as commissioners. Such election, and all subsequent or other, elections in said district shall, except as herein otherwise expressly provided, be conducted as nearly as practicable in accordance with the general election laws of the state, except that the provisions of said laws as to the form of ballots and the making of nominations and the selection or appointment of officers of election, shall not apply, and that no irregularity or informality in conducting any election under this act, not substantially affecting adversely the legal rights of any citizen, as herein defined, shall invalidate or affect such election and no ballot at any such election shall be rejected because of any distinguishing mark or marks thereon. At such election pursuant to this act, every qualified elector, resident within the district as proposed or established, and who would be entitled on the date of the respective election to vote in said district at a general election, shall be entitled to vote at such election. The said officers of election must make return of the election to the board of supervisors of said county, which shall contain said returns as by law provided, and if a majority of the votes cast at such election shall be in favor of a boulevard district the board of supervisors shall make and cause to be entered in the minutes of said board an order that the boulevard district of the name, and with the boundaries theretofore established by said board (setting forth such boundaries), has been duly established, and shall declare the persons receiving respectively the highest number of votes for members of the boulevard commission, duly elected as said commissioners; and said order shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind and nature provided for by this act or by law, and of the existence and validity of the boulevard district. If a majority of the votes cast shall be against a boulevard district the board shall by order entered in its minutes so declare, and no other proceeding shall be taken in relation thereto until the expiration of six months from the date of the presentation of the petition to said board.

SEC. 7. Sections seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two, and twenty-three of said act, and all acts amendatory of said sections, or any thereof, are hereby repealed.

SEC. 8. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section seven and to read as follows:

SEC. 7. The officers of the district shall be three members of the boulevard commission, who shall be designated as commissioners, and their term of office shall be for four years and until their successors are elected and qualified, except that the term of one of the three commissioners elected at the first election in each district, to be selected by lot at their first meeting, shall be for only two years and until his successor is elected and qualified. No person shall be eligible to be or act as a commissioner who has not been a bona fide resident and freholder within the boundaries of the district for at least one year prior to his election or appointment. Any vacancy in the office of commissioner shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term by the board of supervisors of the county in which said district is located, but no member of the board of supervisors shall be eligible to membership on said commission, or to hold any position in connection therewith. Each commissioner shall give a bond to the boulevard district for the faithful performance of his duties in the sum of five thousand dollars, to be approved by a judge of the superior court of the county in which the district is located. The commissioners shall receive no compensation whatever either for general or special services.

SEC. 9. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section eight and to read as follows:

SEC. 8. An election shall be held in each boulevard district on the first Monday after the first Tuesday in March in the second year after the formation of the district, and in every alternate year thereafter, at which shall be elected a commissioner or commissioners in place of him or them whose term shall expire during such year. Not less than twenty days before the day of each such election the boulevard commission must give notice of said election by posting notice thereof in three public places in the boulevard district, which notice must specify the time and place of election, the hours during which the polls will be kept open, and the officers to be elected. They shall select one, and may select two polling places within the district; shall appoint one inspector and two judges of election in each polling place, and make all necessary and proper arrangements for holding the election. Said election officers shall constitute the election board. If no election officers are so appointed, or if any of those appointed are not present at the time of the opening of the polls, the electors present may appoint all, or any, of them so absent or not appointed and they shall conduct the election as if so appointed by said commission and present. The officers of the election must publicly canvass the votes immediately after the closing of the polls, and must make return of the election within twenty-four hours after the closing of the polls to the board of supervisors. Said board of supervisors at its first meeting after receiving said returns shall canvass the same and shall make, sign and deliver certificates of election to the person or persons elected.

SEC. 10. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section nine and to read as follows:

SEC. 9. The boulevard commission shall be the governing body of the district, and shall exercise all the powers thereof. At its first meeting or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, the commission shall choose one of its members as president, and another of its members as secretary. All contracts, deeds, warrants, releases, receipts and documents of every kind shall be signed in the name of the district by its president, and shall be countersigned by its secretary. The commission may hold such meetings, either in the day or in the evening, as may be convenient. In case of the absence or inability to act of the president or secretary, the board shall, by order entered upon its minutes, choose from its members a president pro tempore, or secretary pro tempore as the case may be. A majority of the members of the commission is a sufficient number to form a commission for the transaction of business, and every decision of a majority of the members forming such commission made when duly assembled, is valid as an act of said commission.

SEC. 11. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section ten and to read as follows:

SEC. 10. Every boulevard district formed under the provisions of this act shall have power to have and use a common seal, alterable at the pleasure of the boulevard commission; to sue and be sued by its name; to lay out, establish, construct, acquire and maintain one or more boulevards within the district, and for this purpose to acquire by purchase, gift, devise, condemnation proceedings or otherwise real and personal property and rights of way within the district, and to pay for and hold the same; to make and accept any and all contracts, deeds, releases and documents of any kind which shall be necessary or proper to the exercise of any of the powers of the district, and to direct the payment of all lawful claims and demands against it; to issue bonds as hereinafter provided, and to provide for the payment of the same and the interest thereon; and to cause to be levied taxes sufficient when directed by a vote of the people of the district for the construction, maintenance or repair of said boulevard, or boulevards, and all indebtedness of such district, and the running expenses of the district; to employ all necessary engineers, surveyors, agents and workmen to do the work on or in connection with the boulevard or boulevards in said district; and generally to do and perform any and all acts necessary or proper to the complete exercise and effect of any of its powers or the purposes for which it was formed.

SEC. 12. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section eleven and to read as follows:

SEC. 11. By the term "boulevard" as used herein is meant a highway of limited dedication and use, not less than thirty, and not more than one hundred feet in width, and upon, along, and over the portion or portions of which where the same is less than sixty feet in width no railroad, electric road, or street railroad shall, except upon a permit granted therefore by the board or body in control of such boulevard evidenced by an order entered in its minutes, be constructed or operated; and any easements granted or condemned for the building of said boulevard shall be so granted or condemned; provided, that nothing herein shall be deemed to apply to or as preventing or limiting the use of vehicles across said boulevard. Any boulevard constructed under this act may be constructed, in whole or in part, over, along, or upon any county road or public highway, or any part thereof, and the moneys belonging to such boulevard district may be expended in the improvement of such road or highway to conform to the width and general character of the balance of the boulevard.

SEC. 13. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section twelve and to read as follows:

SEC. 12. The boulevard commission shall, before the construction of any boulevard and before the calling of any election for the issuance of bonds, employ an engineer or engineers who shall make all necessary surveys, prepare a map or maps showing the location of the said proposed boulevard or boulevards, also showing a cross-section and profile of said proposed boulevard or boulevards, together with specifications for the construction thereof and estimates of the cost of acquiring rights of way therefor and of the cost of the construction thereof, which said surveys, maps, specifications and estimates, shall, upon the approval of the same by said commission, by order entered upon its minutes, be formally adopted by said commission and filed with its secretary and constitute the plan of said district for such proposed boulevard or boulevards.

SEC. 14. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section thirteen and to read as follows:

Sec. 13. At any time, and from time to time, after the adoption of a plan for a boulevard or boulevards, the boulevard commission may, by order entered in its minutes call an election for the purpose of determining whether bonds shall be issued for the acquisition of rights of way for, and the construction of, such boulevard or boulevards. Such order shall fix the day of the election and shall specify the amount of such bond issue, and shall state in explicit terms the purposes for which the money to be raised from the sale of such bonds shall be used, such purposes shall be confined to the acquisition of rights of way for and the construction of, a boulevard or boulevards. In such district, provided however, that any moneys so raised which shall remain on hand after such acquisition of rights of way and construction have been completed, may and shall be expended in the betterment and maintenance of said boulevard or boulevards. Notice of such election shall be given by posting a copy of such order in three prominent public places in the election in at least three public places within the district, and by publication of a copy thereof for at least once in each of three consecutive weeks prior to the election in some newspaper published within the district. If there be one, and if not, in some newspaper published at the nearest one of the nearest public place such district is located.

Sec. 15. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section fourteen, to read as follows:

Sec. 14. At any time prior to the day fixed for the election the commission shall select one, and may select two, polling places within the district, and shall and appoint from among the qualified electors within the district, one or more and two judges for each polling place to conduct the election, and to do all things necessary and proper in connection with the election. The judges shall count the votes, "bonds yes" and "bonds no." After the poll shall have been counted and the result announced by the commission the poll shall be taken up and delivered to the secretary of the boulevard commission with the election returns, and said commission shall, at its first meeting thereafter, canvass said returns and shall enter the result upon its minutes. Such poll shall be an absolute evidence of the fact and result of all votes polled at every time and nature provided by this act or by law, and of the facts stated in such entry. If at such election, not less than two-thirds of the vote shall be in favor of the issuance of bonds, the said commission shall have full power and authority to issue and sell said bonds as provided in the said act, and the commission as hereinbefore provided. If the result of the election be against the issuance of bonds no other election upon the question shall be called or held for six months after such election.

Sec. 16. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section fifteen, as follows:

Sec. 15. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be of such denomination as the boulevard commission may determine, except that no bond shall be of less denomination than one hundred dollars, nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars. Said bonds shall be payable in gold coin of the United States at the office of the county treasurer of the county wherein said district is situated, and shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum, which interest shall be payable semi-annually on the said coin. Not less than one-thirtieth part of the total issue of bonds shall be payable each year commencing not more than five years after the date of said bonds. Each bond shall be signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary of the boulevard commission, and said bonds shall be numbered consecutively in the order of maturity, and shall have coupons for interest attached, attested by the faithful signature of the secretary of said commission. The bonds may be sold by the boulevard commission in such manner and in such quantities as it may determine, but no bond may be sold for less than its face value. The proceeds of such sale shall be deposited with the county treasurer and shall be by him placed in the fund to be called the boulevard fund of the boulevard district (meaning it); the money in such fund shall be used for the purposes indicated in the order calling the election upon the question of the issuance of bonds.

Sec. 17. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section sixteen, to read as follows:

Sec. 16. The commission must at or before the first meeting of the board of supervisors in September of each year, furnish the supervisors and the auditor of the county wherein the district is situated, an estimate in writing of the amount of money needed for the purposes of the district for the ensuing fiscal year. The amount must be sufficient to pay all interest and principal of outstanding bonds of the district maturing during the ensuing fiscal year, and to pay the estimated cost of repairs and maintenance of the boulevard, or boulevards, and the running expenses of the district.

Sec. 18. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section seventeen, to read as follows:

Sec. 17. The board of supervisors of any county wherein is situated a boulevard district, must annually at the time of levying county taxes levy a tax to be known as the " (name of district) boulevard district tax," sufficient to raise the amount reported to them as herein, in section sixteen hereof, provided by the boulevard commission. The supervisors must determine the rate of such tax by deducting fifteen per cent for anticipated delinquencies from the total assessed value of the real property of the district within the county, as it appears on the assessment roll of the county, and dividing the sum reported by the boulevard commission as required to be raised by the remainder of such total assessed value. The tax so levied shall be computed and entered on the assessment roll by the county auditor, and if the supervisors fail to levy the tax as provided in the preceding section, then the auditor must do so. Such tax shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as county taxes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of said district, and the purposes herein specified. The provisions of the Political Code of this state prescribing the manner of levying and collecting taxes and the duties of the several county officers with respect thereto are, so far as they are applicable and not in conflict with the specific provisions of this act, hereby adopted and made a part hereof. Such officers shall be liable upon their several official bonds for the faithful discharge of the duties imposed upon them by this act. All moneys raised by taxation as herein provided shall belong to said district.

Sec. 19. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section eighteen, to read as follows:

Sec. 18. The treasury of the county wherein the district is situated shall be the repository of all the funds of the district. The treasurer of the county shall receive and receipt for the same, and shall place the same to the credit of the boulevard district. He shall be responsible upon his official bond for their safe-keeping and disbursement in the manner herein provided.

Sec. 20. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section nineteen, to read as follows:

Sec. 19. The following funds are hereby established to which the money belonging to the district, and raised by taxation as herein provided, shall be apportioned by the treasurer, to wit: bond fund, construction and maintenance fund, and district expense funds. The treasurer shall pay out the same only upon warrants of the boulevard commission, signed by the president and attested by the secretary, except that all bonds and coupons shall be paid on presentation by the county treasurer out of the bond fund without such warrant. The treasurer shall report in writing to the commissioners whenever requested by them or the secretary the amount of money in the various funds, the amounts of receipts since his last report and the amounts paid out.

Sec. 21. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section twenty and to read as follows:

Sec. 20. The boulevard commission shall, pursuant to an order entered in its minutes, advertise for bids for the construction of such boulevard or boulevards, either as a whole or in such sections as it may see fit, in accordance with the plan theretofore adopted and filed, as hereinabove provided, by said commission, by publishing a notice calling for such bids, at least once a week for two successive weeks in a weekly newspaper published within the boulevard district if such newspaper is published therein, otherwise in a newspaper published at the county seat of the county in which such district is located. Such notice shall refer to said order and said plan for further particulars. If the commission shall elect to receive separate bids for the construction of sections of said boulevard or boulevards, the said order shall describe the separate sections for which such separate bids are desired. The commission may also in its discretion advertise at the same time and in the same notice both for bids for the construction of such boulevard or boulevards as a whole and for bids for the construction of separate sections thereof. Every contract for doing any part of said work shall be let, after advertisement as herein provided, to the lowest responsible bidder, who shall, before the making of said contract, give a bond to the boulevard district for the faithful performance of his contract, with sureties satisfactory to said commission in an amount equal to at least fifty per cent of the amount of the contract price; provided, however, that the commission may make contracts, without advertisement, for any construction work on said boulevard the cost of which does not exceed one thousand dollars; and provided, further, that the commission may reject any or all bids and may thereupon readvertise for bids for doing any part or the whole of said work; or may do said work without letting any contract therefor when the amount of the work is less than one thousand dollars. Said commission may hire all necessary engineers, inspectors and superintendents to supervise the performance of contracts entered into by said commission, or to have charge of the doing of all work done without a contract.

Any order of said commission directing the advertisement or readvertisement for bids, as hereinabove provided, may alter the said plan for such boulevard or boulevards including the route of any portion or portions of any such boulevard or boulevards; provided, that no such change shall involve any material increase in the cost of construction of the portion or portions so altered or the cost of acquiring the rights of way therefor and any and all boulevard commissions are hereby given power and authority to make any such change or changes in any such plan or plans.

The commission may do any or all work of maintenance or repairs upon such boulevard, or boulevards, either with or without contract thereto, and with or without advertising for bids for contracts for such work of maintenance and repairs at its discretion.

Sec. 22. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section twenty-one, to read as follows:

Sec. 21. Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, the boulevard commission shall have and is hereby given power and authority at its option to make application to the department of engineering of the State of California or to the proper subdivision of said department, for the exercise of full jurisdiction or power subdivision thereof, as the case may be, of any or all property, public or otherwise, which said department or proper subdivision thereof, as the case may be, may have, or at any time hereafter, exercise or come into possession of, the maintenance, construction, maintenance or improvement of any boulevard or boulevards, or of any boulevard or boulevards, constructed or to be constructed, covered by the provisions of this act, including the preparation of plans, specifications and estimates for, and the handling and expenditure of bonds and district bonds, for the construction, maintenance or improvement, and such application to said department of engineering or subdivision thereof, shall be made in accordance with the provisions of the law as it now or may hereafter exist defining the powers, duties or jurisdiction of the department of engineering or subdivision thereof, in order to such transfer, and upon the granting of any such application by said department or subdivision thereof, the boulevard commission shall have full power to carry out the terms of such application on its part.

Sec. 23. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section twenty-two, to read as follows:

Sec. 22. Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, the boulevard commission shall have, and it is hereby given, full power and authority at its option to transfer and convey all the right, title and interest of the boulevard district in and to any boulevard or boulevards in such district, or of any complete construction thereof, to the county within which such district is situated, provided that the board of supervisors of such county consent to and accept such transfer and conveyance and agree thereafter to maintain such boulevard or boulevards as boulevards and as part of the county highway system of such county, and such of any boulevards so transferred and conveyed to be thereafter kept and maintained as such county as county boulevards without any further liability of responsibility incurred on the part of such district. But no such transfer or acceptance shall affect any bond or bonds theretofore issued by such district or the validity of such district thereunder.

Sec. 24. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section twenty-three, to read as follows:

Sec. 23. The district may at any time be dissolved upon the vote of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof at an election called by the board of supervisors upon the question of dissolution. Whenever a such election is held, the boulevard commission shall, by resolution, order that an election be held in the said district upon the question of dissolution of the district. Such election shall be held and conducted in the same manner as other elections of the district. Upon such dissolution, any property which may have been controlled by such boulevard district shall vest in the county, except that any such property lying within the boundaries of an incorporated city shall vest in such city, provided, however, that at the time of the election to dissolve such district there be any outstanding bonded indebtedness of such district, then, in such event, the vote to dissolve such district shall dissolve the same for all purposes, excepting only the levy and collection of taxes for the payment of such outstanding indebtedness of such district, and from the time such district is thus dissolved until such bonded indebtedness with the interest thereon is fully paid, satisfied and discharged, the board of supervisors of the county shall constitute ex officio the boulevard commission of such district. And it is hereby made obligatory upon such board to levy such taxes and perform such other acts as may be necessary in order to raise money for the payment of such indebtedness, and the interest thereon, as herein provided.

Sec. 25. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section twenty-five and to read as follows:

Sec. 25. Any and all boulevard districts heretofore established by order entered by any county board of supervisors under this act, and all amendments thereof or of any section or sections thereof, are hereby declared to be legally organized and existing and all the proceedings on the organization and formation of any and all such boulevard districts are hereby approved and in all respects declared valid, and all boulevard districts are subject to the provisions of this act so far as applicable.

Sec. 26. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section twenty-six and to read as follows:

Sec. 26. Any district formed hereunder, in order to determine the legality of its existence, may institute a proceeding therefor in the superior court of the county in which it was organized by filing with the clerk of said county a complaint setting forth the name of the district, its exterior boundaries, the date of its organization and a prayer that it be adjudged a legal boulevard district formed under the provisions of this act. The summons in such proceeding shall be addressed generally to all persons interested in said district or in any of the lands therein contained, and shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the said county. Within thirty days after the last publication thereof any person interested may appear and answer said complaint, in which case said answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the district. If no answer shall be filed within said time the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If an answer be filed the court shall proceed as in other civil cases. Said proceeding is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the State of California.

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, and ordered to print, engrossment, and third reading.

Sec. 764. The board of trustees of such city shall have power

1. To pass ordinances not in conflict with the constitution and laws of this state, or of the United States.

2. To purchase, lease, or receive such real estate and personal property as may be necessary or proper for municipal purposes, and to control, dispose of, and convey the same for the benefit of the city; provided, that they shall not have any power to sell or convey any portion of any water front, but may rent such water front for a term not exceeding ten years for the purpose of erecting bath houses thereon.

3. To contract for supplying the said city with water, and gas, and electric lights or other lights for municipal purposes, to purchase, lease, construct or otherwise acquire water works, electric plants, and gas works or plants or any of same, and all machinery, conductors, lands, appliances and all other things needed therefor, and to supply said city with, and to sell to the inhabitants of said city, gas, electric light or other light, and heat, and power; provided, that no such purchase or lease shall be made unless the question of accepting such property is submitted to the voters of such city in the same manner as other propositions, at a general or special municipal election, and a majority of the electors voting at such election shall vote in favor of such proposition.

4. To establish, build and repair bridges; to establish, lay out, alter, keep open, open, improve and repair streets, sidewalks, alleys, squares, and other public highways and places within the city, and to drain, sprinkle, oil, and light the same; to remove all obstructions therefrom; to establish the grades thereof; to grade, pave, macadamize, gravel and curb the same in whole or in part, and to construct gutters, culverts, sidewalks, and crosswalks therein, or upon any part thereof; to cause to be planted, set out, and cultivated, shade trees therein; and generally to manage and control all such highways and places.

5. To establish, construct and maintain drains and sewers, and to provide by ordinance for a general system of sewers, and the expense of building and maintaining the same.

6. To provide fire engines and all other necessary or proper apparatus for the prevention and extinguishment of fires.

7. To impose and collect from every male inhabitant between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, an annual street poll tax, not exceeding two dollars, and no other road poll tax shall be collected within the limits of such city; provided, that any member of a volunteer fire company in such city shall be exempt from such tax.

8. To impose and collect an annual license, not exceeding two dollars on every dog owned or harbored within the limits of the city.

9. To levy and collect annually a property tax, which shall be apportioned as follows: For the general fund not exceeding sixty cents on each one hundred dollars; for school fund, not exceeding thirty cents on each one hundred dollars; for sewer fund, not exceeding twenty-five cents on each one hundred dollars; for other purposes for any one year for all purposes to which such funds are applicable shall not exceed one dollar on each one hundred dollars of the assessed value of all real and personal property within such city.

10. To license, for purposes of regulation and revenue, all and every kind of business, including the sale of intoxicating liquors, authorized by law and transacted or carried on in such city, and all shows, exhibitions, and lawful games carried on therein; to fix the rates of licenses upon the same; and to provide for the collection of the same by suit or otherwise.

11. To improve the rivers and streams flowing through such city, or adjoining the same; to widen, straighten, and deepen the channels thereof, and to remove obstructions therefrom; to improve the water front of the city, and to construct and maintain embankments and other works to protect such city from overflows.

12. To erect and maintain buildings for municipal purposes.

13. To permit, under such restrictions as they may deem proper, the laying of railroad tracks and the running of cars drawn by horses, steam, electricity, or other power thereon, and the laying of gas or water pipes in the public streets, and to construct and maintain, and to permit the construction and maintenance of telephone, telegraph and electric light lines therein.

14. In its discretion to divide the city by ordinance, into a convenient number of wards, not exceeding five, to fix the boundaries thereof, and to change the same from time to time, provided, that no change in the boundaries of any ward shall be made within sixty days next before the date of said general municipal election; and within twenty months after the same shall have been established or altered. Whenever such city shall be divided into wards, the board of trustees shall designate by ordinance the number of trustees to be elected from each ward, apportioning the same in proportion to the population of such ward; and thereafter the trustees so designated shall be elected by the qualified electors residing in said ward, or in the general vote of the whole city, as may be designated in such ordinance.

15. To appoint and remove such policemen and such other subordinate officers as they may deem proper, and to fix their duties and compensation.

16. To impose fines, penalties, and forfeitures for any and all violations of ordinances, and for any breach or violation of any ordinance to fix the penalty by fine or imprisonment, or both, but no such fine shall exceed three hundred dollars, nor the term of such imprisonment exceed three months.

17. To cause all persons imprisoned for violation of any ordinance to labor on the streets, or other property or works within the city.

18. To establish fire limits, and the same to alter at pleasure; to regulate or prevent the erection of wooden or other buildings or structures of combustible materials; to regulate the construction of all buildings, shacks, awnings, signs, or any structure of a dangerous or unsafe character; to provide by regulation for the prevention and summary removal of all filth and garbage in the streets, shacks, alleys, backyards or public grounds of such city, or elsewhere therein; to regulate in private the storage of gunpowder and combustible or explosive materials of every kind and nature within the city limits, and to prescribe the limits in which the same may be kept or stored.

19. To do and perform any and all other acts and things necessary and proper to carry out the provisions of this chapter, and to exert and enforce within the limits of such city all other local, police, sanitary, and other regulations as do not conflict with general laws.

20. To levy and collect a property tax in addition to that now authorized by law for the purpose of improving, repairing, and maintaining any and all streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks of said municipality, which have heretofore been accepted by said municipality, under and pursuant to the provisions of any street improvement act, providing for the acceptance of streets by said municipality, which such tax shall not exceed thirty cents on each one hundred dollars of the assessed value of all real and personal property within such municipality.
